content distributed on AtomFilms prior to appearing on the homepage of AddictingClips. While a TOS violation report typically qualifies the type of violation (e.g. copyright, pornography, excessive violence, etc.), all clearances are conducted in relatively similar manner, paying particular attention to potential third-party intellectual property infringement. Users are notified of such violations (and, if deemed to be infringing copyright or against our TOS, the subsequent removal of the offending content), and in the case of suspected intellectual property infringement, is provided with Company's Counter Notice of Copyright Infringement.
