Blades of Glory Trailer

Check out the first trailer for the new film Blades of Glory, starring Will Ferrell (my favorite!) and Jon Heder (the Napoleon Dynamite guy). I actually laughed out loud at some parts of this trailer. Truly, Will Ferrell can do no wrong in my book.

BLADES OF GLORY Trailer

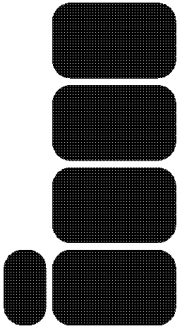

Sometimes I have to be prodded, gently nudged you might say, before I can bothered to post a trailer. I am so fed up with hype and marketing that I had toyed with the idea of going trailer-free for one whole year, but had to squash that when I realized my timing for showing up to movie theaters would never be that perfect. Anyway, I was sent an e-mail prompting me to check out the trailer for the next Will Ferrell comedy, Blades of Glory. He stars with Jon Heder as a disgraced figure skater who is forced to pair up with his most hated rival in order to compete again. I personally waited for Talladega Nights to hit DVD, but I can honestly say I thought it was pretty funny. I normally think redneck humor is hysterical anyway, but this new one could leave me, dare I say, cold? Before you accuse Jon Heder of playing Napoleon Dynamite again, ask yourself whether Jon Heder is actually cast to play the role of... Jon Heder. The dude might be just that nutty.

Home page feature with new batch of Chazz "Thoughts of Glory," included as part of site's review of the film

Blades of Glory clips online

Filmstalker has some clips from Blades of Glory, the new Will Ferrell and Jon Heder comedy set in the world of male figure skating, a strange world indeed.

Two Olympic skaters are stripped of their medals and permanently banned from men's single skating in competition after they fought on the ice. Now they have a great idea to return to competition, in the doubles competition.

I'm not a big Ferrell fan, but there's something strangely silly about this that I just can't shake off, perhaps the current trend of interest with the whole ice skating world on reality TV, who knows.

Regardless I have some clips for you from the film. Have a look and tell me what you think...

Blades of Glory clips and review

I have some new clips for Blades of Glory which feature more thoughts from Chazz Michael Michaels (aka Will Ferrell), one of the lead skaters. There's also a review online which reflects some of the clips.

You can see the clips in the main article, but the review is quite strong and boils down to:

How many times can you watch a guy touch awkwardly touch another guy or hit him the balls, anyway?...In fact, how many times can you watch Will Ferrell in a movie where his character is the self-proclaimed legend of some sport, watch him screw it up, and then try to rebuild himself to his former glory...Ferrell's next movie is about him being an NBA great...

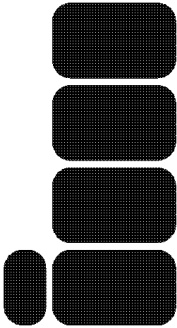

Oh dear, not so good at all. Although there is some strong advice from the review over at Newsline from Corey Spring.

Stay midway through the end credits to see a bonus scene with Nick Swardson, who plays a stalker of Jon Heder's character.

Well, onto the clips...

If you haven't seen the recently released trailer for the upcoming "Blades of Glory" movie, make sure you downloaded it in HD here.

Is there really anything with more of a potential of hilarity than a movie about 2 male figure skaters and features an all-star cast that includes Will Ferrell, Jon Heder, Will Arnett, Amy Poehler, and Nick Swardson? I think not.

Will Ferrell Autographed "Blades of Glory" Poster

When rival figure skaters Chazz Michael Michaels and Jimmy MacElroy go ballistic in an embarrassing, no-holds-barred fight at the World Championships, they are stripped of their gold medals and banned from the sport for life. Now, three-and-a-half years on, they've found a loophole that will allow them to compete: if they can put aside their differences, they can skate together—in pairs' figure skating.

Glide Magazine is proud to giveaway to one reader a cast-autographed "Blades of Glory" poster

Two male figure skaters were stripped of their Olympic medals and banned from figure skating competition back at the 2002 Winter Games. They have reluctantly found a loophole in the rules that will allow them to team up and become a pairs team to try and win back their skating greatness.

Check out the trailer here for Real Media, here in Windows Media, or here on YouTube.

The film is scheduled for release in theatres on March 30, 2007.

Feb. 20, 2007

For purely selfish reasons, I wasn't behind Will Ferrell's latest movie, BLADES OF GLORY, a while back. Mostly because they shot the film in my backyard and yet joblo.com wasn't invited to the set. I realize that no other fansites were invited either, but like I said, it was a selfish thought, as I'd have loved to meet Mr. Ferrell in real life. That said, I visited the set of the friggin' FOUNTAIN when it shot in Montreal, so what the shit am I complaining about? What a baby! Aaaaanyway, when the BLADES trailer hit the Net a few weeks ago, I changed my tune, and have to say that I was SOLD pretty much the whole way through, but even moreso, after Ferrell's funny take on the Black Eyed Peas "The Humps" ("No one knows what it means, but it's provocative.")

Today, joblo.com received an exclusive clip from the film with the word "tits" in it. I'm not sure why joblo.com always gets picked for these clips featuring either hot girls or foul language, but I for one... AM ALL FOR IT!! The clip only lasts about 6 seconds, so don't get too excited, but it's funny, at least, to me. The film is set for release on March 30th.
