1 (In open court; jury panel not present)
2 THE COURT: Good morning.
3 THE CLERK: David Shaw Nicholls v. Tufenkian
4 Import/Export Ventures, Inc., et al. Will the plaintiff give 5 their appearance.
6 MR. MOSKIN: Jonathan Moskin of the firm White & Case
7 for the plaintiff, David Shaw Nicholls.
8 THE CLERK: Will the defense counsel give their 9 appearance.
10 MR. CLARIDA: Robert Clarida of Cowan Liebowitz &
11 Latman. With me at defense counsel table is Jay Sanders of 12 Cowan Liebowitz & Latman, and the defendant. We represent the 13 defendant James Tufenkian and Tufenkian Import/Export Ventures.
14 THE COURT: All right. Good morning. Mr. Moskin, who 15 is joining you at counsel table?
16 MR. MOSKIN: This is David Shaw Nicholls. And 17 apparently they were held up in traffic; a paralegal will be 18 arriving momentarily with some boxes. His name is Jason Shaw.
19 THE COURT: All right.
20 MR. MOSKIN: He is in the building.
21 THE COURT: If he will be sitting at counsel table, I
22 will introduce him as well during voir dire.
23 So I will be introducing counsel and the parties to 24 the jury, and when I introduce you, after I've introduced the 25 team for each side, I would like you to stand up and face the
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

1 jurors and turn around and face the prospective jurors who will
2 be in the rear of the courtroom, just so we can make sure that
3 nobody recognizes you or knows you.
4 This case is on for trial. Are the parties ready to 5 proceed?
6 MR. MOSKIN: The plaintiff is ready, your Honor.
7 MR. CLARIDA: Defendants are ready to proceed, your 8 Honor.
9 THE COURT: I said on Friday at the final pretrial
10 conference that I was going to consider further the arguments
11 that were advanced by the plaintiff in connection with the 12 plaintiff's motion to amend the complaint to assert a punitive
13 damages claim against the defendants, and I am prepared to rule 14 on that matter at this time.
15 The plaintiff, David Shaw Nicholls, moves for leave to 16 amend his complaint in this copyright action to allege a claim
17 for punitive damages. Defendants, Tufenkian Import/Export
18 Ventures, Inc., and James Tufenkian, collectively defendants,
19 oppose plaintiff's request, arguing that as a matter of law,
20 punitive damages are not available for copyright infringement
21 actions.
22 Plaintiff alleges that defendants infringed his
23 registered copyright design, in violation of federal copyright
24 law. The Copyright Act provides his sole remedy. See 17
25 U.S.C. Section 504. See also Sony Corporation of America v.
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

1 Universal City Studios, Inc., 464 U.S. 417, 431 (1984). There,
2 the Supreme Court held, "The remedies for infringement are only
3 those prescribed by Congress," quoting from Thompson v.
4 Hubbard, 131 U.S. 123, 151 (1889) -- an oldy but a goody.

5 The Copyright Act provides for (1) recovery of the 6 copyright owner's actual damages and any additional profits of 7 the infringer, or (2) statutory damages. 17 U.S.C. Section
8 504. The Copyright Act contains no provision for punitive
9 damages. A.G. v. Paramount Communications, Inc., 114 F.3d 395,
10 396-97 (2d Cir. 1997) ("Punitive damages are not available
11 under the Copyright Act.") And Eboler v. Golden, 714 F.2d 211, 12 213 (2d Cir. 1983) ("Punitive damages are not available in 13 statutory copyright infringement actions.")

14 Indeed, recently, the Second Circuit noted, I quote,
15 "As a general rule, punitive damages are not awarded in a 16 statutory copyright infringement action. The purpose of 17 punitive damages, to punish and prevent malicious conduct, is 18 generally achieved under the Copyright Act through the 19 provisions of 17 U.S.C. Section 504(c)(2), which allow 20 increases to an award of statutory damages in cases of willful
21 infringement. That is On Davis v. The Gap, Inc., 246 F.3d 152, 22 172 (2d Cir. 2001).

23 While the Court's language leaves open the possibility
24 of punitive damages in cases where the "general rule" may not 25 apply, this Court's survey of cases indicates that only the

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

49DANIC1

1 general rule applies to this action. Further, as my colleague,
2 Judge Lynch, has noted, the Second Circuit's suggestion that 3 punitive damages might be available in some circumstances is 4 dicta because in On Davis, the plaintiff failed to show willful
5 infringement, and so the issue of punitive damages was purely 6 hypothetical. See, e.g., Leutwyler v. Royal Hashemite Court of 7 Jordan, 184 F.Supp.2d 303, 308 (S.D.N.Y. 2001).

8 Even though punitive damages have been awarded in some 9 common law copyright infringement actions as a matter of state
10 law, such a common law claim has been preempted by the 11 Copyright Act of 1976. Eboler, 714 F.2d at 213, citing 17
12 U.S.C. Section 301.

13 Plaintiff cites to a recent decision by District Judge
14 Stanton, Blanch v. Koons, 03 Civ. 8026 (S.D.N.Y. 2004), to 15 argue that courts in the Southern District are beginning to 16 recognize that punitive damages may be awarded in copyright
17 actions. However, for the reasons that I have noted above, I
18 believe that Blanch is contrary to existing precedent, and 19 therefore I decline to adopt it.

20 For the foregoing reasons, plaintiff's motion is 21 denied.

22 Now, are there any issues that counsel want to take up
23 at this time?

24 MR. MOSKIN: Not that I'm aware of, your Honor.

25 MR. CLARIDA: Your Honor, there was also a motion

49DANIC1

1 regarding the third-party materials that defendants had 2 proposed to introduce, and plaintiff had moved in limine to 3 preclude those.

4 THE COURT: Yes. And I think that that is going to 5 have to await the plaintiff's efforts to establish their 6 relevance as this trial unfolds. So you can lodge your 7 objection at the time that they are offered and we will take it
8 up at that time, likely out of the presence of the jury.

9 In terms of your schedules, currently, it is my plan
10 that when we conclude today at 5 o'clock, we can take a few 11 minutes with counsel and have a charging conference so that 12 both attorneys are clear as to precisely what charge the Court
13 will deliver to the jury in preparing your summations. And 14 that is in the event that we conclude the taking of evidence 15 early enough tomorrow to allow for both sides to complete their 16 summations.

17 I will not have summations tomorrow if they cannot be 18 completed together. All right. And just by way of planning so 19 that you can think about this, I adhere to the custom, which is 20 that the plaintiff will go first in summation, the defendant
21 will follow up, and then the plaintiff will have a short 22 rebuttal.

23 Now, the other day I asked you to think about how long 24 your openings are going to be and how much time you would like.
25 Mr. Moskin?

49DANIC1

1 MR. MOSKIN: Yes. I would anticipate no more than 15
2 or 20 minutes for an opening.

3 THE COURT: Mr. Clarida?

4 MR. CLARIDA: Your Honor, I anticipate about 25
5 minutes for an opening.

6 THE COURT: All right. I will limit each of you to no
7 more than 25 minutes. And so when you've got just a couple of 8 minutes left, I will let you know and ask you to begin to 9 conclude your opening statement. But I will do that at about 10 the three-minute mark, when you have about three minutes left.

11 Are there any other issues that counsel want to raise?
12 Yes.

13 MR. MOSKIN: I will just note one quick point. I
14 handed up to your clerk this morning and gave to Mr. Clarida a
15 brief on the issue, which I think is the only substantive issue
16 that will need to be addressed, or at least the main
17 substantive issue.

18 THE COURT: Right. Now that punitive damages is off
19 the table, I think the originality question is the only 20 substantive question where the parties are at odds as to what 21 the charge should be, correct?

22 MR. MOSKIN: I think that's right.

23 THE COURT: All right. And I'll get a chance to take 24 a look at that either now or during lunch. We can take it up

25 at 5 o'clock.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

49DANIC1

1 There are three juries being selected this morning.
2 Only one of them is a criminal case. Criminal cases go first.
3 This is a small venire that we need. We should have some 4 jurors up here in about ten minutes or so.

5 So, having said that, unless you have any other
6 question you want to raise at this juncture, why don't you take 7 a break and be back in the courtroom about 10:25. We should be 8 ready to go at that point.

9 MR. MOSKIN: Let me just clarify; you had instructed 10 us, I believe, on Friday to place the exhibit books under the 11 jurors' chairs before they arrive, I believe?

12 THE COURT: No.

13 MR. MOSKIN: After they have been impaneled.

14 THE COURT: After we impanel them, then you will get 15 that opportunity. Otherwise people -- you know, we'll have 16 personal injury actions starting because people are tripping
17 over things in the jury box.

18 MR. MOSKIN: I was thinking somewhat the same thing.

19 THE COURT: OK. We want to just -- this is a 20 copyright case. That's it. We don't want it to spin off into 21 anything else.

22 I'll see you all at 10:25. And why don't we, for the 23 moment, take these charts and just stack them together against 24 the wall. You could put them out before your opening. But 25 this is only a two-day trial. We don't want to scare anybody.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

9

49DANIC1

1 So I am going to suggest that we do that.

2 And off the record.

3 (Discussion held off the record)

4 THE COURT: 10:30, all right. So you have a chance
5 for a cup of coffee. I will see you at 10:30.

6 (Jury selection)

7 THE COURT: I think we are ready to go on the record
8 at this time.

9 Is this jury of eight persons acceptable to the 10 plaintiff, David Shaw Nicholls?

11 MR. MOSKIN: Yes, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: And is this jury of eight persons
13 acceptable to the defendants, Tufenkian Import/Export Ventures, 14 Inc., and James Tufenkian?

15 MR. CLARIDA: It is, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Very well. All right. Please administer
17 the oath to the jury.

18 (A jury of eight was sworn)

19 THE COURT: Good afternoon, members of the jury. This 20 case is now officially on trial. And now that you've been 21 sworn as jurors in this case, I want to briefly tell you
22 something about your duties as jurors and give you some 23 instructions. And when I'm done giving you some preliminary

24 instructions, which will take about 15 minutes, we're going to 25 violate my own rule about recessing for lunch at 1 o'clock. We
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

10

49DANIC2

1 are going to recess for lunch early, and we are going to start
2 earlier this afternoon so that you will hear the opening
3 statements of the attorneys after lunch, as opposed to on an 4 empty stomach. And we will proceed right to a witness after 5 opening statements have been delivered. By the time you leave
6 this courthouse this afternoon at 5 o'clock, you will be deep
7 into this case. So for now, let me give you a few instructions
8 about what you can expect. At the end of the trial, I will 9 give you much more detailed instructions, and those 10 instructions will control your deliberations in this case.

11 Now, at the end of the presentation of the evidence 12 and my final charge to you on the law, it will be your duty to 13 decide from the evidence what the facts are and then apply
14 those facts to the law. In doing so, you must follow the law
15 as I give it to you. Remember, you are the sole judges of the 16 facts. You must not take anything I may say or do during the 17 course of trial as indicating what your verdict should be.
18 Don't be influenced by my taking notes. What I write down may 19 have nothing to do with the trial or with what you will be 20 concerned with at the trial.

21 You will decide what the facts are from the evidence
22 that will be presented here in this courtroom. The evidence 23 will consist of the testimony of the witnesses, documents, and 24 other things that are received into evidence as exhibits, and 25 any facts on which the lawyers agree to stipulate.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

11

49DANIC2

1 There are two kinds of evidence: direct and
2 circumstantial evidence. Direct evidence is testimony by a
3 witness about what that witness saw or heard or did.
4 Circumstantial evidence is indirect evidence. That is, it's 5 proof of one or more facts from which you can find another
6 fact. You may consider both direct and circumstantial evidence
7 in deciding this case. The law permits you to give equal
8 weight to both or to none. It's up to you to decide how much
9 weight if any to give to any evidence in this case.

10 At times during the trial I may sustain objections to 11 questions that are asked. When that happens, I will not permit
12 the witness to answer, or if the witness has already answered, 13 I will strike the witness's testimony from the record and 14 direct you to dismiss it from your minds.

15 In reaching your decision, you may not draw any 16 inference from an unanswered question, nor may you consider in 17 your deliberations testimony that I have ordered stricken from 18 the record. The law requires that your decision be made solely 19 upon the evidence before you.

20 The items that I exclude from evidence and from your 21 consideration are excluded because they are not legally
22 admissible as evidence. The law does not, however, require you

23 to accept all of the evidence that I do admit. In determining 24 what evidence you will accept, you must make your only 25 valuation of the testimony given by each of the witnesses and
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

12

49DANIC2

1 of the documents presented to you and determine the weight if 2 any you choose to give to each witness's testimony or to an
3 exhibit.

4 There is no magical formula by which you should 5 evaluate testimony or exhibits. At this time, suffice it to 6 say that you bring with you to this courtroom all of the 7 experience and background of your lives. Do not leave your 8 common sense outside the courtroom. Use it in your 9 deliberations. The same types of tests that you use in your 10 everyday dealings are the tests that you can apply in your 11 deliberations.

12 Now, remember what's not evidence. The questions and 13 objections of the attorneys are not evidence, and neither is 14 the testimony I instruct you to disregard. The statements and 15 arguments of the attorneys during any part of the trial are 16 also not evidence. Further, anything you may see or hear when 17 court is not in session, even if what you see or hear is said
18 or done by one of the parties or by one of the witnesses, it is 19 not evidence. Only what is admitted into evidence here when 20 court is in session and all of the parties and the jurors are 21 present is competent evidence.

22 I also want to caution you about certain principles
23 governing your conduct as jurors in this case. First, do not 24 talk to each other about this case or about anyone who has 25 anything to do with it until the end of the case, when you go
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

13

49DANIC2

1 to the jury room to decide upon your verdict. Second, do not
2 talk with anyone else about this case or with anyone who has 3 anything to do with it, until after the trial has ended and you
4 have been discharged as jurors by me. Anyone else includes
5 members of your family and friends. You may tell them that you
6 are a juror in a civil case, but please do not tell them
7 anything about it until you have been discharged by me. Third,
8 do not let anyone talk to you about the case or about anyone
9 who has anything to do with it. If someone should try to talk
10 to you, please report it to me immediately through my deputy,
11 Mr. Pugliese. And don't tell any other juror about it.
12 Fourth, don't read any news stories or articles or look on the 13 Internet about this case. Don't do any research or any 14 investigation on your own. Anything that you need to know in 15 this case will be presented here in open court by the very 16 capable counsel who represent the parties.

17 I want to give you a word about trial procedure. In 18 this case, first the plaintiff will make an opening statement,
19 which is simply an outline to help you understand the evidence
20 as it is presented. Then the defendants' attorneys will make 21 an opening statement. Opening statements are neither evidence

22 nor arguments. After the opening statements are completed, the 23 plaintiff will then present his witnesses, and counsel for the 24 defendants may cross-examine them. Following the plaintiff's 25 case, the defendants will present a case. The plaintiffs will

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

14

49DANIC2

1 have the opportunity to cross-examine any witnesses testifying
2 for the defendants. After all the evidence is in in this case,
3 the attorneys will present their closing arguments to summarize
4 and interpret the evidence. Following these closing arguments,
5 which are not evidence, I will instruct you on the law. After 6 that, you will retire to deliberate on your verdict, which will 7 be based on the evidence put before you.

8 Now, I permit jurors to take notes if they want during 9 the course of a trial, and notepads and pens will be provided
10 to you at the expense of the courts. But you don't have to 11 take notes. Notes are just an aid to your own recollections.
12 The court reporter in this case is outstanding and takes down
13 everything that is said here in court and will read it back to 14 you during your deliberations, any portion of the testimony
15 that you may ask for.

16 So please be careful if you do take notes, because it
17 presents the further problem that in taking notes, you may be 18 distracted from something important that's happening right up
19 here on the witness stand. That's what a trial is all about.

20 For those of you who don't take notes, don't be 21 influenced by those who do. Rely on your own recollections.
22 And don't be influenced by the fact that another juror has 23 taken notes. Notes are not evidence, and are by no means a 24 complete outline of the proceedings or even a list of the 25 highlights of the trial.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

15

49DANIC2

1 Now, as I've said earlier, this is a relatively small,
2 at least it seems like that to me, courthouse. And you may see
3 the parties, or counsel. If you do, please don't have any 4 contact with them. And if you happen to step into an elevator
5 and they're in the elevator and they step out, it's not because 6 they're being rude. It's because they want to avoid any 7 contact with you.

8 To that end, to the extent that any of you wish to 9 have lunch in a government cafeteria, you are not to have your 10 lunch in this building. You are not to go on the eighth floor
11 of this building, because counsel and the parties will be using 12 the eighth-floor cafeteria here. There is a cafeteria across 13 the street in the other courthouse at 40 Foley Square, directly 14 across the street, on the fifth floor. You can go there if you
15 have an abiding desire to have food from a government
16 cafeteria. They are both fine cafeterias.

17 Now, my deputy is going to get some contact
18 information from you for a few minutes in the jury room. We 19 are going to resume with the trial of this case at 1:45 this 20 afternoon, so I know it breaks the rule that I said we take

21 lunch from 1 to 2:15, but there is simply no point in not 22 taking lunch now so we can move through the trial in an 23 efficient way.

24 It's a magnificent day outside. Walk around. Just 25 don't talk about the case or think about it. And be back here
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

16

49DANIC2

1 in the jury room ready to go at 1:45, because we can't start
2 without you, and we want to all start at 1:45. The lawyers and 3 the parties are all raring to go. And it's a short but 4 fascinating little trial that you are about to embark on that 5 is of great importance to the parties and the Court.

6 Have a great lunch. Please recess the jury.

7 (The jury left the courtroom)

8 THE COURT: Are there any issues that counsel want to 9 raise at this juncture?

10 MR. MOSKIN: Plaintiff has none.

11 MR. CLARIDA: No, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: All right. I will see you all at 1:45.

13 Be ready to go at that time. We will be moving the podium into 14 the middle of the jury box, in front of it, and you are free to 15 move about the courtroom.

16 Let me just say that a couple of pet peeves of mine
17 are, when the oath is administered to a witness, all counsel
18 should be seated. Then I will acknowledge you and you can go
19 to the podium. If you have an objection, please stand and say
20 that you have an objection. And don't make speaking
21 objections. If you want to give me a shorthand, you can give 22 it to me. If I'm not understanding what the objection is, I
23 will bring you up to the sidebar. Please try to keep sidebars
24 to an absolute minimum by raising issues with me before the 25 jury comes in.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

17

49DANIC2

1 I like lawyers when they're questioning a witness to 2 stand behind the podium and speak into the microphone so that
3 everyone can hear them. You are free to approach a witness
4 with a document at any time, to show the witness, without
5 asking permission of the Court. But when you're questioning a
6 witness, you should be questioning the witness from the podium.

7 All right. I will see you at 1:45. Have a good
8 lunch.

13 (Jury not present)

14 THE COURT: We are waiting for one juror, Juror No. 7, 15 Ms. Deweese, who of course lives the closest to the courthouse.
16 She is now here.

17 Mr. Clarida, will you be giving the opening for the 18 defendant?

19 MR. CLARIDA: Yes, I will, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Fine. Just a reminder: 25 minutes is the 21 cutoff. Take the time to make it shorter. With about three 22 minutes left in your time, I will let you know that you should 23 begin to wrap it up.

24 (Jury present)

25 THE COURT: Good afternoon, members of the jury.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

49DANIC3

1 JURORS: Good afternoon.

2 THE COURT: That sounds rather weak. You should be
3 thoroughly fortified by now. And almost all of you were here
4 at the designated time. Please make the effort to be here when 5 we say we're going to start, because as a result we have lost
6 five minutes. There are a lot of people involved in this case.
7 There is no reason for anyone not to be here at the appointed 8 hour.

9 Now we are going to proceed to the first phase in any 10 trial. That is opening statements. Remember what I told you.
11 Opening statements are not evidence or argument. They are just 12 an outline of what the lawyers think is going to be proved 13 during the course of this trial. It's just an introduction.
14 And members of the jury, with that in mind, I ask that at this 15 time you give your undivided attention to Jonathan E. Moskin, 16 Esq., as he delivers his opening statement on behalf of the 17 plaintiff, David Shaw Nicholls.

18 MR. MOSKIN: Thank you, your Honor.

19 And thank you, ladies and gentlemen of the jury. We 20 appreciate that you all have other important things to do.
21 This case is of course very important to my client. And we do
22 appreciate being able to indulge your time to get your reasoned
23 opinion as to the proper outcome of the case.

24 This is a case at least, if I can't promise you high

Opening - Mr. Moskin

1 die in the end, no one's going to jail, there won't be, I don't 2 expect, any emotional breakdowns on the witness stand -- at 3 least it can offer you something that is very intuitively
4 appealing and easily accessible subject matter, and I think
5 kind of fun, in that it's a copyright case involving some 6 interesting rug designs. And what you will be doing is looking 7 at those rug designs and giving us your opinion about those 8 designs and whether they are too similar.

9 There are three designs in issue. I put up on a board
10 a blow-up or picture of my client's design, or one of the color
11 ways in which the design is done. It is entitled the Prado,
12 and it was created by David Shaw Nicholls in approximately 1997
13 or 1998 over a period of time.

14 We have also -- some of these rugs are very large, and 15 we would probably cover the entire courtroom. We have brought 16 in sections of the rugs so you can see what they actually look
17 like. So this, for example, is one.

18 THE COURT: And members of the jury, you can stand up

19 if you want to see this rug that Mr. Moskin is displaying.
20 MR. MOSKIN: And as you can imagine, proportionately,
21 extending this to the full side of this would be a very large
22 rug. Here, too, is another sample, just a part of the rug so
23 you can get some sense, a good sense, of what it actually looks 24 like.

25 Now, dates are going to be very important in this
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Moskin

1 case. First, let's start with a little history. My client,
2 David Shaw Nicholls, you will learn, has been a designer for 20
3 years. As I mentioned, he created this Prado design in 1997 or 4 1998. So I'm going to make a few notes for you on the board.

5 Now, at the time he created this design, Mr. Nicholls
6 and Mr. Tufenkian were engaged together in a business venture.
7 Mr. Tufenkian, who has a very large manufacturing operation,
8 was making rugs for Mr. Nicholls. That relationship began in 9 1996. So we start in 1996.

10 That relationship continued until April of 2000, when,
11 as unfortunately often happens, the relationship ended up in a 12 litigation. We don't intend to retry that case here. In many 13 ways it doesn't really matter what happened. If either party
14 wishes to raise some of the facts, maybe they will. But what 15 most matters is, the business relationship ended in the year
16 2000, in April 2000.

17 Now, the Prado rug already existed, all though
18 Mr. Tufenkian's company never manufactured any of the Prado
19 rugs for Mr. Nicholls. The timing here gets very interesting
20 because, in May of 2000, the New York Times, in the Sunday
21 magazine, had an article about a very well-known, two very 22 well-known names, Philip Johnson and Blanchette Rockefeller.
23 The Rockefeller name you all know. Philip Johnson designed a
24 townhouse for Mr. Rockefeller and used some of Mr. Nicholls'
25 rugs, the Prado rugs, in that townhouse. That was featured in

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

21

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Moskin

1 The New York Times in May of 2000. So fairly prominent 2 publicity.

3 The following month, in June, some more publicity.
4 Mr. Nicholls distributed approximately 3,000 postcards showing
5 the Prado rug. And although he didn't know it at the time,
6 just a month or two later, although Mr. Nicholls didn't know it
7 at the time, just a month or two later, Mr. Tufenkian created
8 the accused design, in July or August, the Eclipse.

9 Now, as I say, Mr. Nicholls did not know about this 10 until somewhat later. In fact, it was not until December of 11 2003 that Mr. Nicholls, reading a magazine, I believe it was 12 entitled Elle Decor, to which he subscribes, saw the following,
13 which is Mr. Tufenkian's Total Eclipse, a modification of the 14 earlier Eclipse. And we're not contending in this case that 15 these are exact copies. Obviously anyone can look at those and 16 see they are somewhat different. And the Judge will instruct 17 you at the end of the case as to what is the proper law and how

18 you are supposed to evaluate these and how much similarity is 19 too great. Nor are we contending that Mr. Nicholls invented
20 the circle. However, what you will see in this case is that --
21 and I guarantee you this -- is that there are no other designs
22 that will be shown that look remotely like either of these two.
23 The timing and the similarities are just too suspicious to be 24 explained in any other way than that this was copied. Again, 25 we don't intend to show, nor do we have to show, that it was an

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

22

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Moskin

1 exact copy, just that he copied too much. And, again, the 2 Judge will explain what that means later.

3 You also will not hear any evidence or a direct
4 admission by Mr. Tufenkian that, yes, I copied this. In fact,
5 they are going to take, I understand, the very opposite
6 position, that the similarities are mere happenstance. But as 7 the Judge explained, there are different kinds of evidence. He 8 explained already to you, there are different kinds of 9 evidence. There is direct evidence and circumstantial
10 evidence. And we believe the circumstances are such, the 11 timing and the similarities, as well as the absence of anything 12 else that looks remotely like these designs, that under the 13 circumstances, point to only one conclusion.

14 A word about what will happen. There is a question
15 that has been raised in this case whether this date, the 1997
16 to 1998 date, is accurate, whether in fact the Prado was 17 created then. So we will at the beginning. After Mr. Nicholls
18 has a chance to be introduced to you so you know a little bit
19 about his history as a designer, we will show you some evidence
20 or intend to show you evidence about the history and confirming 21 the timing of the creation of the design.

22 We will also show you fairly extensive records
23 concerning the creation of the Prado, how it evolved, specific 24 drawings that Mr. Nicholls created and sketches he made, and 25 you will see, I expect, that the work didn't simply begin as a

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Moskin

1 finished product of a grid of circles of a specific size in the 2 proportional spacing you see there. They began in a very
3 different type of spacing. And the process, the original
4 creation process, was an evolutionary one until he arrived at 5 this image.

6 In the end, we will also then show you, before the 7 end, we will show you the development of the, not only the 8 Total Eclipse design, the one accused design, but the original
9 one that was created in June of 2000.

10 This is a computer rendering, which we hope, which we 11 expect to offer into evidence, which is the skeleton, as it
12 were, for the Total Eclipse design -- excuse me -- for the 13 original Eclipse design. I apologize. And what we contend and 14 hope to show is that all Mr. Tufenkian did was, he took my 15 client's Prado design and added a few vertical elements to the 16 otherwise predominantly horizontal array of circles with a

17 specific proportionate spacing and a specific size, with 18 framing elements -- not a full frame, for those of you who are 19 traditional -- accustomed to buying oriental rugs, but modest 20 framing elements that pick up the same sort of theme that was 21 used in the Prado.

22 Again, I can be very brief, and I'm going to wrap up
23 in a moment. What we are not claiming, we are not claiming 24 that Mr. Nicholls invented the circle. But you will find, I
25 think, conspicuous more by its absence than by anything else,

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

24

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Moskin

1 that there simply are not circles in anything resembling this
2 sort of an array, and certainly not with this sort of bisection
3 with parts cut off and in contrasting colors, in the carpet
4 world or, really, any other part of the design world.

5 What is original about the design and what I believe
6 you will ultimately, I hope you will ultimately conclude is 7 something that's shared by all three of the designs is a
8 similar array of circles in a certain proportionate spacing,
9 with these virtually identical bisections or cutting off of 10 parts of the circle in a predominantly horizontal way, with 11 contrasting colors to accentuate that difference. And again
12 it's something that just, it hasn't been done in the design
13 world.

14 We will, in conclusion, offer evidence of 15 Mr. Tufenkian's sales and ask that you consider an award of the 16 profits that Mr. Tufenkian earned from those sales, of the 17 Eclipse and the total Eclipse.

18 And that is all I have for my opening statement.
19 Thank you.

20 THE COURT: Members of the jury, at this time I would 21 ask that you give your undivided attention to Robert W.
22 Clarida, as he delivers his opening statement on behalf of the 23 defendants, Tufenkian Import/Export Ventures, Inc., doing
24 business as Tufenkian Carpets, and James Tufenkian.

25 MR. CLARIDA: Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen of
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 the jury. I'm Robert Clarida, and I represent the defendants
2 in this case -- and that's James Tufenkian; he is seated at 3 counsel table in the back -- and his company, Tufenkian
4 Import/Export Ventures, Inc. You have an opportunity and an 5 obligation here today to resolve the dispute between James
6 Tufenkian and the plaintiff in this case, Mr. Shaw Nicholls.
7 The dispute, in a nutshell, as Mr. Moskin just told you, is 8 whether either of the Tufenkian rugs, which are the Eclipse and 9 the Total Eclipse, in the center and the right as you're 10 looking at them, whether either of those two rugs is so similar 11 to the Prado design by David Shaw Nicholls, on the left as 12 you're looking at it there, that James Tufenkian shouldn't be 13 allowed to sell his rugs under the copyright law of the United 14 States.

15 Mr. Moskin didn't show you an actual photograph of the 16 Total Eclipse rug. He showed you a line drawing, a skeleton

17 line drawing. What we're talking about in this case are rugs,
18 and that is a photograph of the Eclipse rug that was designed 19 in 2000, at the time that all of this activity was going on 20 that Mr. Moskin alluded to.

21 Now, Mr. Moskin also didn't indicate that these rugs
22 come in various color ways. They all come in different
23 combinations of colors. They are referred to as color ways.
24 So you can't really limit yourself to thinking about rugs in a
25 particular color, because these rugs could come in any variety

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

26

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 of colors, and the colors may or may not be significant in a
2 given case.

3 But to answer the question about similarity, whether 4 the rugs at issue here are similar enough, all you really need
5 is your own good eyes and your own common sense and the 6 evidence that we're going to present to you in this case. You
7 will hear testimony from Mr. Shawn Nicholls and from James 8 Tufenkian about the way these rugs were created, when they were 9 created, where they were created, based on what they were 10 created. The evidence will prove to you first that James
11 Tufenkian never saw Mr. Shaw Nicholls' design until shortly
12 before he got hit with this lawsuit, and certainly not before
13 he designed either the Eclipse or the Total Eclipse. So he 14 couldn't possibly have copied Mr. Shaw Nicholls' design. The 15 evidence is clear he didn't see it.

16 But more than that, as you can tell from the evidence
17 with your own good eyes and common sense, the rugs just aren't 18 similar enough. So there can be no violation of the copyright
19 law, period. Similarity, and the particular type of similarity
20 that you see in these rugs, is far and away the most important
21 thing you have to decide.

22 Now, it's not my privilege to explain the law to you.
23 Judge Pauley will do that just before you begin deliberating.
24 But your own good eyes and common sense will tell you that some 25 of the similarities between these rugs are not the sort of

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

27

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 thing that a court or a jury should spend much time on. What
2 do I mean by that? Well, the Tufenkian rug and the Nicholls
3 rug are rectangles. Does that mean that one of them was copied
4 from the other? Of course not. And why not? Because nobody
5 owns the idea of a rectangle-shaped rug. But the claim being 6 made by Mr. Nicholls here isn't really that much different.
7 Because his rug has a grid of circles and Mr. Tufenkian's rugs
8 both have grid of circles, or so the plaintiff says, James 9 Tufenkian is somehow breaking the law. Now, it must be 10 Mr. Nicholls' claim, because that's the only thing that these 11 rugs share. The evidence will show you that James Tufenkian
12 has every right to use a grid of circles in his rug. And the 13 evidence will also show you that there are all sorts of other
14 designs out there with circles arranged in a grid pattern. So

15 Mr. Shaw Nicholls no more owns that idea than he owns the idea
16 of a rug in the shape of a rectangle.

17 Now, I'm going to be talking a lot about a grid of 18 circles. What do I mean by that? I just want to draw quickly
19 on the board over here. By "a grid of circles," what I mean 20 is, if you take this as the outline of a rug, you've got 21 circles here, here, here, here, here, here, and however large
22 you want to make that repeat. What I mean is circles arranged
23 in straight rows and straight columns, such you that might 24 imagine that you could draw a grid through them like this. You 25 would just have the circles placed on a grid, straight rows and

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

28

49DANIC3

Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 straight columns. Imagine a tic tac toe board with every space
2 filled in with an O. That's what I'm talking about with a grid
3 of circles.

4 Now coming back to the rugs at issue here, is there a
5 resemblance, some resemblance, between the Prado design and the 6 two James Tufenkian designs? Yes, there is. But the Court
7 will instruct you that that's not enough. It's not the test
8 for copyright infringement. There is a resemblance because 9 both rugs have circles. But the evidence will show you that 10 that's an idea. Mr. Moskin himself told you that they are not
11 claiming to have invented the circle. There is resemblance
12 because the circles are lined up in rows and columns. But,
13 again, there is no monopoly in that for Mr. Shaw Nicholls.
14 Arranging things generally in a straight-line pattern is an 15 idea. There is a resemblance finally because the circles have 16 horizontal sections of contrasting colors. And I want to pay
17 particular attention to that, because I think that's a very 18 important part of this case.

19 If I may just walk back to the boards, you will notice
20 that there is a different approach to the horizontal color
21 changes in these rugs. In the Shaw Nicholls design, it's just 22 a portion of the circle itself that appears in a different
23 color. I call it a dipped circle because it's a circle, if you
24 imagine the circle as a cookie, you dip it into a cup of coffee
25 or some chocolate frosting, you end up with a discoloration on

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

29

49DANIC3

Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 part of the circle. What you see going on in the Tufenkian
2 designs is really different. It's really shading. It's the 3 placement of a strip of color that goes over both the circles
4 and the background. And it changes the coloration both in the 5 circles and the background. It's as if there were strips of 6 translucent fabric placed over the design and not simply a
7 discoloration on one part of the design. So that's a very,
8 very important distinction to make.

9 So what does the claim here boil down to? Well, the 10 evidence paints only one picture really. Mr. Shaw Nicholls is 11 attempting to claim circles arranged in a straight line with 12 horizontal color contrast as his own private design vocabulary.
13 And he basically says that in the complaint in this case. He

14 claims, in a complaint filed in this action, that until he came 15 along, there were no circles in oriental carpet design. Well,
16 the rug in this courtroom has circles. And they're even in a 17 grid pattern, for that matter. James Tufenkian, as you will 18 see from the evidence, had circles on his designs for years,
19 long before Mr. Nicholls came along and tried to lock them up
20 by asserting this claim here.

21 The evidence will also show you that other people, 22 besides Mr. Tufenkian and Mr. Nicholls, have used grids of 23 circles too, in lots of designs. You can buy an Andy Warhol
24 rug with horizontally shaded circles arranged in a grid. I
25 will show that to you. But Andy Warhol doesn't own the idea

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

30

49DANIC3

Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 either. You can find rugs by a Scandinavian designer named
2 Verner Panton that have all sorts of shaded and dipped circles
3 arranged in a grid pattern. I will show those to you also.
4 But Verner Panton doesn't own the idea, and neither does 5 Mr. Shawn Nicholls. Neither does Mr. Tufenkian. Now, all of 6 this doesn't mean that Mr. Shawn Nicholls hasn't created a
7 protectable design. Truly he has.

8 In addition to these ideas, that are not protectable,
9 like shaded circles in a grid, Mr. Nicholls will also tell you
10 that he made dozens, maybe hundreds of creative decisions to 11 give the Prado design the exact look that it has. And he did.
12 He chose the exact size of the various elements, the precise
13 spacing, the exact shape, the placement, the relationship
14 between the round forms and the border. But the evidence is 15 clear that none of those creative decisions were copied by 16 James Tufenkian. I will map that all out for you and show you
17 how James Tufenkian's rugs are different, in every one of those 18 respects.

19 So in James Tufenkian's rugs, the ideas may 20 coincidentally be similar, just as Mr. Nicholls' designs may 21 coincidentally be similar to Andy Warhol's or Verner Panton's,
22 but you can see for yourself the specific creative expression
23 in these rugs is different, in every respect.

24 So let's start with the round elements. I like to 25 just go back here and walk through some of these differences.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

31

49DANIC3

Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 In James Tufenkian's rugs, the evidence will show you that,
2 first, these round elements are not circles, or at least not
3 consistently circles. They are very irregular oval sort of 4 shapes. These are very precise circles, geometrically correct.
5 On both the Eclipse and the Total Eclipse there are a variety
6 of round forms. We may be calling them circles for shorthand
7 in the course of this trial. They're not all circles. In fact
8 very few of them are circles. Certainly none of them are true
9 circles.

10 Also very visible to any eye is the size of the 11 circles relative to the rug as a whole. They are more than 12 twice as large on the Tufenkian rug as they are on the Nicholls

13 rug. If you do the math, you can compare the surface area of 14 this circle with the surface area of the rug as a whole. You
15 will find out that it's about one 23rd of the entire surface
16 area of the rug on the Tufenkian rug, and it's about one 50th
17 on the Nicholls' rug. It's twice as big relative to the size
18 of the rug as a whole. And also, going along with that, is the 19 fact that you have 20 here on this design, with a border and 20 lots of space in between. You have 12 in this design, and no
21 border and very little space in between. So the circles are 22 occupying a lot larger parts of the surface area of the rug.

23 Also, the spacing is very different in these two rugs,
24 the spacing of the round elements. It's very precise here and 25 it's very even row to row and column to column. It is not so

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

32

49DANIC3

Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 on the Tufenkian rug. On the Tufenkian, if you take a look,
2 you will see that this column is further from the center than 3 this column is. And that's intentional. This column is a
4 little closer into the center. This column is a little bit
5 further away. Same on the Total Eclipse.

6 Also, the spacing horizontal and vertical is very 7 different. The Tufenkian rug, the spacing across, left to 8 right, is wider than is the spacing up and down. And it's just 9 the opposite on the Nicholls rug. You have much more space
10 here than you do here. So you have a wider space going 11 vertically than you do horizontally. And, as I already alluded 12 to, it's the definition of the circles. It's the crispness of 13 the edge. It's the sharp focus that these are in in the 14 foreground design, as opposed to the Tufenkian rug, which 15 presents them behind this sort of gauzy scrim of translucent
16 color bars that are overlaid on top of the circles. These are 17 sort of like little decorative plates hanging on a wall. What 18 you have in the Tufenkian design is something much more 19 complicated than that, where you have the circles sort of 20 obscured by these other things that are lying on top of them.

21 So that's it for the round forms. The color contrasts
22 again, as we talked about, they are very different just in 23 terms of the way they're brought about, this with a sort of a 24 shading by an overlay of a contrasting color, this by a sort of 25 a discoloration of part of the circle itself. We've talked

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

33

49DANIC3

Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 about that.

2 But the way you can see that most clearly is to pay
3 attention to the fact that the color change here stops with the 4 outline of the circle. It doesn't continue across here. And 5 if you look at what's going on here, the color, the 6 discoloration actually goes across both the background and the 7 circle and changes the background color as well as changing the 8 circle. It doesn't just stop as part of the discoloration of 9 the circle itself. It's another layer of dimension on the 10 design.

11 Also, these color contrasts are in the same placement

12 each row. These are exactly the same. Every circle here has 13 about the bottom fifth or the top fifth exhibiting this 14 horizontal color contrast. And it's the same for every circle.
15 It's the same proportion. And it's a regular alternation.
16 This one has the top shaded. This one has the bottom with the 17 discoloration. This one has the top. This one has the bottom.
18 It's a regular alternation. And there is one per circle, one
19 per row.

20 What you have in the Eclipse and Total Eclipse is very 21 different than that. You may have three. You may have two.
22 You may have one. It changes from row to row. There is no
23 regular alternation. It's much more freeform, much looser.
24 Even in the Total Eclipse, this row has three. This has two.
25 This has three that occur in different places than those three.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

34

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 So they're not sitting the circles in the same places. And 2 they're not alternating regularly top to bottom the way they do
3 in the Nicholls design.

4 Finally what I would like to show you in the design
5 here is the border, the frame, because you will see what
6 happens in the Tufenkian rugs, there is no border, there is no
7 frame. The circles bleed right out of the design. What's 8 happening in the Nicholls' rug, the circles get out here pretty
9 close to the edge of the design, but there is this clear frame
10 on the left and the right and the top and the bottom that 11 constrains what's going on inside the field of the rug and does 12 in fact create a very strong border or a well-defined border on 13 the rugs.

14 And finally, I would just like to show you that the 15 top line of circles in the Nicholls rug are cut off. They 16 don't continue on up. And that's a very strong sort of 17 asymmetry that's clearly visible in the Nicholls rug that's not 18 visible in the Tufenkian rug. There is a strong asymmetry that 19 is visible in the Tufenkian rug, particularly in the Eclipse,
20 which is the original design, the 2000 design, which is this 21 area right here, which throws the whole design very much off
22 kilter. The very asymmetrical top to bottom and left to right, 23 unlike the Nicholls design there, this asymmetry is a very 24 striking departure from this rug, and if in fact as Mr. Moskin
25 claims, this is the rug that was copied from the Nicholls, I

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

35

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 think it's not a copy that is anything that any one of us would
2 recognize as taking the heart and soul of the Nicholls design.

3 So when you get past the general ideas and you filter
4 out those general ideas, circles in a grid, and you look at the 5 actual detail and the expression in the parties' designs, there
6 is just no similarity at all. In every particular, James 7 Tufenkian has made different expressive choices as to the 8 detail. And it's important for you to know that the 9 similarities that are at any level are not the result of 10 copying. James Tufenkian created his rug independently. The 11 evidence will show you that he did not see the Prado design

12 until long after he had made his works and just shortly before
13 this lawsuit commenced when plaintiff contacted him at the end
14 of 2003. James Tufenkian certainly never saw the Prado before
15 he designed the Eclipse or the Total Eclipse. The testimony
16 will prove that he wasn't sent one of those postcards you heard
17 about. He didn't see The New York Times article that you heard 18 about, regarding the Blanchette Rockefeller apartment. He 19 certainly didn't see it out in the marketplace, because 20 Mr. Nicholls sells about three or four Prado rugs a year, by 21 his own testimony. That's the testimony I expect he will give 22 you here. So it's not out there on the marketplace such that 23 James Tufenkian would have bumped into it in the course of his 24 travels in the rug business.

25 So the third-party material that I will be introducing
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 to you is very, very important to show you that, to the extent
2 that there is any similarity at all between these rugs, it is 3 no more similarity than you will find between any two other
4 rugs featuring circles arranged in a grid pattern. And James
5 Tufenkian was doing that before Mr. Nicholls came along, as 6 were a number of other designers.

7 Finally, in conclusion, I would just like to touch on 8 the issue of damages very briefly, because the evidence will 9 show you, when we get to talking about the amount of money at 10 stake in this case, that essentially there isn't any. The 11 documents and the testimony will show you that James Tufenkian
12 and his company have so far made not one dollar of net profit
13 in the sale of the Eclipse and the Total Eclipse. You will 14 hear testimony from the chief financial officer of Tufenkian's 15 company about all the costs that are implicated in making these 16 rugs and getting them to the market. Those costs are very 17 substantial. They include the material cost of making the 18 rugs, of course. But they also include shipping them halfway
19 across the world, from Nepal, where they are made, here to New 20 York. They include the share of overhead for all the staff and 21 the facilities of the Tufenkian company, to bring those rugs
22 over and put them into showrooms. It includes advertising
23 expenses. It includes the cost of investing in inventory so
24 customers don't have to wait six months when they order a rug.
25 And when you do the math, and the testimony will walk you

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 through all of that math, all those costs are, so far, greater
2 than the revenue that Tufenkian has brought in from selling
3 these two designs.

4 So Tufenkian hasn't seen any gains from this. And 5 maybe more importantly, Mr. Nicholls hasn't been harmed. As I
6 said, I think he will testify that he sells about three or four
7 Prado rugs a year and hasn't seen any falloff since the Eclipse
8 and Total Eclipse came onto the market. Which makes perfect 9 sense when you consider how dissimilar the rugs are in

10 appearance, especially to the sort of sophisticated purchasers
11 who represent the market for Mr. Nicholls' designs.

12 The evidence will show you that this whole lawsuit, I
13 think you will agree, has nothing to do with any real harm to 14 Mr. Nicholls' market for his designs. So there can be no doubt
15 that when you have heard and seen all the evidence in this case
16 and you have filtered it all through your own good eyes and 17 common sense, you will come to the following conclusion:
18 First, the James Tufenkian rugs are not similar to the Nicholls
19 rug in any legally meaningful way. Second, James Tufenkian
20 didn't see the Prado design before he created his two designs.
21 Third, James Tufenkian didn't copy the Prado design. Fourth,
22 Tufenkian has made no net profits from the sale of the Eclipse
23 and the Total Eclipse. And, sixth, Mr. Nicholls has not been 24 harmed by the sale of the Eclipse and the Total Eclipse.

25 I thank you in advance for your patience and I look

49DANIC3 Opening - Mr. Clarida

1 forward to presenting you with the evidence in this case.

2 THE COURT: Members of the jury, we have concluded
3 opening statements in this case. Remember my warning to you
4 earlier that opening statements are not evidence. But we're 5 going to turn to the evidence in this case right now. And 6 since the burden is on the plaintiff, plaintiffs go first in 7 every case. So Mr. Moskin, at this time would the plaintiff
8 please call his first witness.

9 MR. MOSKIN: Yes. Plaintiff calls David Shaw
10 Nicholls.

11 If I may, your Honor, may we also distribute binders,
12 exhibit binders, to the Court and to the jurors?

13 THE COURT: Yes, you may.

14 Members of the jury, you can take these binders and 15 put them under your chair or hold them on your lap. Don't turn
16 and leaf through them. I will tell you when you can look at a
17 particular exhibit in the binder.

18 DAVID SHAW NICHOLLS,
19 the plaintiff herein,
20 having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

21 THE COURT: You may inquire, Mr. Moskin.

22 MR. MOSKIN: Thank you, your Honor.

1 A. I'm a designer. I, for 20 years I've been involved in the,
2 specifically the high end of the market. Designing unique
3 items in the home furnishings sector is my specialty. I'm an 4 architect in Europe, unlicensed in the United States. But for 5 20 years I've been concentrating largely on the innovative end
6 of the design frontier. So I've always been concerned and 7 hired to come up with new and innovative products that would 8 actually drive the market forward.

9 So in a nutshell I'm on the cusp of the design
10 business. And I operate a design company that specializes in 11 the design and manufacture and production of area rugs. That's 12 what takes up most of my time.

13 Q. When did you begin designing area rugs?

14 A. My first rugs were designed approximately ten years ago. I
15 came from Milan, in Europe, 15 years ago. I've been resident 16 in New York City for 15 years. I trained in Scotland at the 17 Glasgow School of Art. And then I trained in Milan, at an 18 academy called the Domus Academy. And I set up the rug company
19 ten years ago, here in New York City.

20 I think that answers the question.

21 Q. Thank you. Have you received any awards for your design
22 work?

23 A. Well, I was always involved in very competitive high-end
24 design environments. The awards I've received specifically for 25 the carpet, the carpets I have designed, are a Roscoe Award,

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

40

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 which is given by Interior Design Magazine, which was given to 2 me for my secret collection of flat-weave rugs. Again, these 3 awards are given really for originality.

4 I also received an award in 1997 -- the Roscoe Award
5 was, I believe, in 1994 or 1995. And as soon as I started the 6 rug business, we were always, as I say, very concerned about 7 being new and innovative because that really was the only way
8 we could succeed in business, by having something that was 9 unique. Following that, in 1997, I received an award from the 10 International Contemporary Furniture Fair here in New York for 11 the best of area rugs displayed there. And that was for my 12 body of work and area rug designs.

13 Q. Have you been the subject of any publicity?

14 A. I got my first article published in House & Garden Magazine
15 when I was 16 years of age, when I had a furniture design
16 business. I have been quite extensively publicized for my 17 design work. I should say I've probably been in over 100 to 18 150 magazines. I've actually brought photocopies of all the 19 articles with me today for your perusal. Extensively in the 20 United States, I should say most of the shelter magazines that 21 you are familiar with. In Italy the market was interesting 22 because most of the consumers were familiar with the names of 23 the designers of the furniture. But here in the United States
24 it tends to be the -- not so familiar with the names of the 25 designers as the companies that produce them and market them.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

41

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 But my own work, yes, I've been published extensively.
2 Elle Decor, Metropolis Magazine, House & Garden. I've been
3 published in Japan. I've been published in, all over Europe.
4 And as I say it's -- there's various spheres of my work. The 5 office I worked in Milan was very graphic -- we had a very
6 strong graphics design department. We also had a product
7 design department. And I was involved in the architectural 8 department and the graphics design department.

9 So the look of something for me has always been of 10 prime importance, not just the fact that it has to function and 11 it has to perform, but my success, however modest, has been 12 driven by the need and the enjoyment, if you will, of being 13 innovative.
14 Q. I'd like to -- we may come back and talk about some more of 15 your -- some of the publicity. But I would like to focus 16 the --
17 A. I could sit and rattle off a hundred magazines, but I hope
18 the books show some of them. If they don't, as I say, I have 19 those here.
20 Q. We may come back for a little of that later on, but I'd 21 like to focus very quickly on the Prado design. And if I may 22 show you what has been identified as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 and 23 ask if you can identify that for us.
24 A. This is a certificate from the United States Copyright
25 Office. The number is described as VAU524-511 for the Prado

1 rug designed by myself. And it contains a color image of the 2 design and one of the size points, which is an 8 by 10. And
3 that's a black-and-white line drawing. And some other -- seal
4 on the back page. And also there is a copy of the certificate
5 with some description of the product. It also outlines the 6 date of origination, which is 1998.
7 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Plaintiff's Exhibit

9 THE COURT: Any objection?
10 MR. CLARIDA: No objection.

19 THE COURT: You may publish it to the jury.

2 A. Yes.
3 Q. You see there's an asterisk and the date 1998?
4 A. Yes. Well, that -- sorry.
5 Q. Do you know why that date appears there with an asterisk?
6 A. Yes. The date appears with an asterisk because in our

7 infinitely efficiency in the administrative department, we 8 forgot to fill that in when it was submitted to the Patent
9 Office, my secretary, and then it was later filled in after we 10 verified the origination date as a result of a phone call, a
11 contact we received from the Patent Office.

12 Q. Have you brought with you any samples of what the Prado rug
13 actually looks like?

14 A. Yes. I have brought construction samples.

15 THE WITNESS: Can I walk around? Is that allowed?

16 THE COURT: Yes. You can step down.

17 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

18 A. When you make area rugs, very often you produce what are 19 called strikeoff samples. These are scaled pieces of the 20 actual carpet. They don't represent the entire rug, but this 21 is a vehicle for communicating to your customer the size and 22 shape and style of the motifs. It's presented alongside a 23 full-size illustration of the rug. But this will give an 24 excellent example of the pile height and any type of coloring
25 involved in these samples.

1 Q. Before you go any further, I think we need to identify
2 these as exhibits. If we can identify them as exhibits,
3 Plaintiff's Exhibits 2, 3, and 4, so you can refer to them as 4 such.

5 A. These rugs are made in Kathmandu.

6 THE COURT: Perhaps, before we go further, are you
7 going to offer these in evidence?

8 MR. MOSKIN: I will.

9 THE COURT: Any objection?

10 MR. CLARIDA: No objection, your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Plaintiff's Exhibits 2, 3, and 4 are 12 received in evidence.

13 (Plaintiff's Exhibits 2, 3, and 4 received in 14 evidence)

15 A. These three samples represent two of the color ways that my 16 company offers. They also represent, I believe, a 9 by 12
17 full-size rug. The two qualities illustrated are 100-knot
18 quality and, respectively, 60-knot quality.

19 This is the -- we call this the Ermine color way, and 20 this is called you are Tawny color way. In fact, for Philip 21 Johnson, this design was the one that he selected for the 22 Rockefeller home.

23 Q. When you say "this one," which one are you referring to?

24 THE COURT: Right. For the sake of the record,
25 Mr. Nicholls, I'm going to ask you, when you can, to refer to

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

1 the particular sample by its exhibit number.

2 THE WITNESS: Oh, OK. Excuse me.

3 A. Exhibit No. 4 is the rug that was illustrated -- which was 4 featured in The New York Times article. And that's one of a
5 series of color ways we do. You did see on the drawing one

6 color way. We have, I believe, six color ways, as standard
7 production color ways of this particular design.
8 The design is also produced in 6 by 9 size, 8 by 10, 9
9 by 12, and 10 by 14. Now, it's important that you understand
10 that the amount of elements in these different sizes can vary
11 with the size of the rug. But to be quite accurate about it,
12 these are 9 by 12 corner samples. So you would have to make 13 comparison, if you will, to the full-size drawing in order to 14 understand the general look of the item.
15 They are also labeled on the back. We have a Nicholls
16 label on our products, which are sewn on at the factory,
17 actually. And then we have our own branded name. And the tag
18 usually accompanies the piece and describes the size, the 19 quality of the item, and may or may not display a price point.
20 Q. Mr. Nicholls, first I would like to show you what has been 21 identified as Exhibit 46.
22 If I may, if I can first show you what has been marked
23 as Exhibit 46, can you tell me what that is?
24 A. Yes. This is the label we affix to each and every item we 25 make. It has the name Nicholls. It has a copyright symbol

1 that is attached to our products. And it's unique to our
2 company. It's our brand identity. It's affixed, as I say, at 3 the factory where we produce these carpets.
4 MR. MOSKIN: Your Honor, I would like to offer Exhibit
5 46 into evidence and publish that to the jury.
6 THE COURT: Any objection?
7 MR. CLARIDA: No objection, your Honor.
8 THE COURT: Plaintiff's Exhibit 46 is received in
9 evidence.
10 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 46 received in evidence)
11 A. And it clearly states, excuse me, that the copy -- it
12 clearly states in English "copyright of David Shaw Nicholls, 13 all rights reserved." I think I'm legally supposed to mention
14 that.
15 Q. I would also like to show you Exhibit 44 and ask you if you
16 can identify that.
17 A. Exhibit 44 is a direct print from our Web site, which 18 actually features the Prado rug as the home page, front page.
19 The Prado rug, for us, is a very important design to the extent
20 that it is a, what we consider to be a very high-profile design
21 for our company. And this page in fact is a direct printout
22 from the Web site showing three alternate color ways that we

3 offered them in evidence and I have received them in evidence.
4 I'll tell you when to turn to an exhibit.
5 Q. And if you would please just identify these exhibits for 6 us.
7 A. OK. Well, Exhibit 5 are computer renderings that we
8 produce in our company of a design which I called Rio, and it
9 features circles. Exhibit 6 are a series of sketches done by 10 myself as an evolution of the design process. Exhibit 7 is

1 Q. And now if you would, Mr. Nicholls, if you could explain
2 the relevance, if any, of these designs on these pages to the 3 development of the product.

4 A. Yes. The Prado design was developed by my company for --
5 we had a very successful design. And it's actually, it's still 6 a high -- a desirable design for us, which is the Maui design.
7 Q. If it would help, should we, can you identify the Maui
8 design.
9 A. Sure. The Maui design was one of the first Tibetan carpets
10 I designed.
11 Q. First of all, if you can identify what the Exhibit 14 is.
12 A. Exhibit 14 is a photocopy of a Maui design, and this 13 particular one is a runner, size 3 by 12. And again it has our 14 copyright symbol on it.
15 MR. MOSKIN: May I offer Exhibit 14 into evidence?

1 The process of development from the Maui, I was under
2 pressure in my company by myself to come up with another good
3 design that would follow on the heels of the Maui design. And 4 the way I went about that was, I tried to define certain 5 elements of the design that I felt were important and at the 6 same time understand a direction I could go in to retain what I
7 felt were important parts and then bring something new to the 8 table.

9 The Maui design -- can I draw on this board here, just 10 to illustrate it?

11 MR. MOSKIN: You're asking the Judge. If it's all
12 right with the Judge, it's all right with me.

13 THE COURT: OK.

14 A. Because the Maui design had these circles of two different
15 colors. This is a runner proportion. Clearly in an area rug
16 it would be a rectangle, as Mr. Clarida refers to. But we 17 actually do runners as well and rectangular rugs. So the shape
18 of the defined perimeter doesn't always lend itself to the true
19 design content that you, the process you go through.

20 But anyway, when I was designing the Maui rug, one of 21 the details of it was the fact that it had these scroll
22 elements in it. And the scroll element actually was a very 23 strong design statement. And what I was trying to do, if I was 24 going to come up with something that was quite different from 25 that, was remove the scroll entirely from the design. And then

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

51

49DANIC3

Nicholls - direct

1 I was reduced to doing a very simple graphic, which I called
2 the Rio design.

3 Now, I made some samples of this design, but it
4 wasn't --

5 Q. What are you referring to now?

6 A. The Rio design.

7 Q. What exhibit number?

8 A. This is Exhibit 5.

9 Now, the Rio design is like the Maui, if you take out
10 the scrolls and you take out some of the framing elements.

11 So getting back to basics, I was reduced with a series
12 of circles on a rug. Now, that was just simply not important
13 enough as a design detail. And because we are in the business
14 of trying to come up with something that's totally innovative 15 and interesting and important, the idea was, what do you do 16 with a group of circles in order to give it some sort of 17 sensibility? Well, the Exhibit 6 and Exhibit 7 will take you 18 through a design development process that in fact led to the 19 creation of the Prado design. And it's a very carefully
20 orchestrated process. This isn't, I don't grab designs out of 21 the sky. And I don't grab them out of the media. They come
22 from a design process as a professional I've been doing for 20
23 years.

24 So the sequences of the process of development led to 25 the Prado design that you see on the board. And hopefully I

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

52

49DANIC3

Nicholls - direct

1 can illustrate how that process happened so that it wasn't
2 merely haphazard.

3 Q. Well, can you explain to us how, starting with Exhibit 5,
4 how the array of circles changed, looking at the presentation
5 of circles on the page, first page, and how it changes from 6 the -- over the next ensuing pages?

7 A. Well, the first element I tried to do was arrange the 8 circles themselves in a manner that gave them a certain 9 dynamic.

10 Q. What are you referring to now?

11 A. Well, when I refer to -- I'm using as an example -- I --
12 it's an 8 by 10 Rio design and it came out of Exhibit, gosh,
13 very bad at this -- Exhibit 5, which is a collection of size
14 points of the Rio design.

15 Q. Is there a number at the bottom of that page, DSN?

16 A. Yes. It says DSN000050. And already I was starting to try
17 to lay the circles out in such a way that there was an element
18 of unique composition to it. When you look at the Prado
19 design, which I'm going to refer to no. 44, you will see that 20 the circles started to be placed in a very regularly spaced
21 idiom. This is not haphazard. Now, now, I suppose
22 Mr. Tufenkian and his counsel can say, oh, well ours is an inch
23 this way and an inch that way. But there's a very lengthy 24 design process that causes you to start to arrange elements in 25 a specific way. And then when you start by setting the circles

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

53

49DANIC3

Nicholls - direct

1 and you continue to develop details within the design, that's

2 when you start to establish the uniqueness of the product. And
3 it's that uniqueness that I will show you that makes that Prado
4 design, other than the Eclipse, unique on the market. And the 5 decisions that go into it -- and also in relation to the 6 manufacturing process, because there is a manufacture -- in the 7 manufacturing process of Tibetan carpets, there is an inner 8 quality to the fact they're handmade. And that is something 9 that can be recognized, from a design standpoint, to give 10 uniqueness to what might normally be considered a mundane
11 circle.

12 Now, these are not tufted rugs. And tufted, by the 13 way, is a process that compromises the beauty of a hand-knotted
14 carpet. So the very idea that you're going to make circles and 15 you're going to incorporate a quality as a consideration in the 16 design process is very, very important.

17 So the process of design development that I went 18 through -- and don't forget at that time I was supplying 19 designs to the Tufenkian company. The Maui designs were still 20 being made when I started the Prado design. And when our Prado
21 went on the market, there was nothing like it.

22 Well, anyway, I could go on, but I should stick to the 23 thing.

24 Q. If you could go on to explain how the Rio evolved into 25 what's now the Prado.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

54

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 A. Well, the Rio design, the circles started to get bisected
2 in a horizontal manner. In the computer, when you're designing
3 on the computer and you're laying down what are in fact just 4 black-and white images, you can do what's called cloning and 5 you can take the area and then you can pass it down, and very 6 quickly you have the opportunity to experiment with design.
7 And the way the Prado design was developed was, I had this Rio
8 model in the computer. Granted, there was maybe four circles
9 there, excuse me, if you want to do that. But the fact was 10 when you're working with a computer and you freeze this area,
11 you actually clone it, and then you take it down and you
12 reproduce it down here, it's actually -- it is like an overlay.
13 The process is like an overlay, the way that the Tufenkian
14 company -- lawyer described that overlay, because it really 15 does happen in the computer. But what I ended up with was an 16 opportunity where, by doing that overlay, I could darken an 17 entire part of the circle.

18 Now, at the same time, I could start to come up with 19 something that was unique. So going through an evolution
20 process -- this, by the way, from start to finish from the Rio
21 to the Prado, it's weeks of design work, sampling, sending to 22 the factory to get samples in. The creative process can be 23 very fast. But you have to make sure that the product can also 24 be simultaneously be being produced.

25 Now, it was important for us to try to get the circles

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 round, because I wanted that feeling of roundness. The 2 interesting thing about his rugs is, they start -- the circles
3 started to get rounder and rounder. So the first time when I
4 ever made circles in a carpet they came in like egg shapes.
5 And I have pictures here to show that. So when you see his 6 pictures of egg-shaped circles and how that was a pattern of 7 beautiful design, it's very strange how they started to get 8 perfectly round and then they started to get rounder and 9 rounder. And then the idea of the overlay suddenly disappeared
10 and then we ended up with something that was much more gridlike
11 and the composition was much simpler and more straightforward.
12 Q. Can you explain to us what we're looking at, Plaintiff's
13 Exhibit 5, the last three pages of it, which are numbered
14 DSN00054, 0055, and 56.

15 A. Sorry. Just bear with me here. 52 -- what were the 16 numbers again?

17 Q. 54 to 56.

18 A. All right. 54. Too many numbers here, John.

19 This is a handsome -- DSN0054 is a hand drawing by 20 myself, which actually shows how I was working with the Maui
21 design and I removed the scrolls and then I started playing 22 with the overlap. That's one of my -- that's a photocopy of an 23 original sketch that I was doing when I was taking the Maui
24 design and going through a synthesis of the process to try and 25 take out the scrolls and see how I could come up with a new

1 composition, because our company, that Maui design was quite
2 special for us as an icon of the firm. And I was quite 3 determined to try and retain the strength of that imagery but 4 at the same time be innovative in how I developed this new 5 design. So that's our sketch by myself.

6 Q. If I can interrupt, what are the notes that appear on the 7 right hand there?

8 A. The notes that appear, it says "Maui 1998, shade contrast
9 creating repeat with planning." These are words I used. So
10 the contrast was important and the planned repeat of the way
11 these overlays took place. And I wrote "Maui, no scrolls."
12 And at the top there is the same colors as the flat-weaves to 13 start with. And my flat-weaves are earth tones. We're also 14 known quite well for earth-tone carpets. And my first 15 production of the Prado design were earth-tone carpets because 16 that's a very large -- when you do modern rugs and you can 17 incorporate nice earth tones and camel tones and wheat tones,
18 the appeal is enlarged. But then people were -- I was also 19 recognizing the fact that we need -- we had a body of 20 strong-colored rugs as well that we were developing. So -- and 21 the other note on the left says something about Sharmacher and 22 Patterson Flim Morton, because I was in the D&D building in New 23 York at that time.

24 Q. How about the next page, DSN0055, still part of Exhibit 5.

25 A. DSN55, these are a series of pictures from our showroom

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 which show our flat-weave collection and various circular
2 motifs that were quite a strong part of that collection. And I
3 was playing with the idea of how to break up these circles and 4 fashion them into a repeat of interest. And I can't read my
5 own writing here. "What about circles without the scrolls?" I
6 was obviously trying really hard to get rid of those scrolls.
7 And then there are some notes at the bottom of the names of the 8 design. Because I wanted to name the collection after a museum
9 and I wrote "MOMA, Tate, Guggenheim, Louvre, Prado." And I
10 figured the best one I could get away with was Prado. So
11 that's where the name Prado came from.

12 And that's what this is, this huge paper.

13 Q. If you could turn to Exhibit 6 and explain to us what we're 14 looking at there.

15 A. Exhibit 6 is, that's the Rio template and these are pencil
16 drawings, overlays on the template, and my attempt to try and 17 bring a stronger design element to what otherwise was obviously 18 just a repeat of circles. And it's a 6 by 9 size. And the 19 reason it says there are three rows of circles as opposed to 20 five or six or ten, is because that's a 6 by 9 scale design.

21 So when you start seeing pictures of rugs in some of 22 the five circles or eight circles, very often the rug itself,
23 the size of it, and the proportion of those circles, is 24 important. But the idea that there are six circles on this and 25 you're constantly seeing numerous circles appearing on my rugs

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

49DANIC4 Nicholls - direct

1 is very often in relation to the overall size of the carpet
2 itself.

3 Q. Were you considering leaving the center portion of the 4 rug --

5 A. Yeah, well --

6 Q. -- empty, without circles?

7 A. Yes. In this particular one, the idea was, well, maybe I
8 should capture an area of blank field and give that 9 centerpiece, which looked rather empty without it, a different
10 color, a different overlay. It didn't fly. I didn't really, I
11 didn't go in that direction. But at that time, yes.

12 Q. And how about the next page, 59, what are we looking at 13 there?

14 A. 59 is a page printed from our Web site of this earth Salim
15 design. And this is my, again, drawing over the design with 16 scrolls to try and understand the relationship of those 17 scrolls. I'm not sure of the time frame here, whether this was 18 prior or after the number 58, but it's around about the same
19 time. And the idea of the overlays and the important
20 relationship between some sort of balance between the darkness
21 and the lightness on those circles. And the illustration at 22 the bottom is, again, a further development of the design
23 process to try and somehow define better how these circles
24 could be bisected.

25 Q. How about Exhibit 7? Can you explain what we're looking at

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

49DANIC4 Nicholls - direct

1 there? Exhibit 7 is pages DSN292 through 298.
2 A. I'm sorry, what were those numbers, the DSN numbers?
3 Q. 292 to 298.
4 A. Well, I have 293 in my hand, which actually appears to be 5 my original, which is another attempt to try to break up these 6 circles in such a way that the design becomes interesting. It
7 was -- I was still trying to figure out what the best
8 proportion between the circles was, and I was getting the 9 feeling that there had to be an overall grid of circles, as 10 opposed to lines of circles with this space in the middle. So,
11 in other words, the general field of the carpet was composed of 12 the circular elements and their bisections.
13 Q. You -- we --
14 A. There's 296 also, which is a sketch on the Rio design.
15 Again, it's part of the -- it shows clearly how the Maui 3 by 9
16 rug -- I'm looking at no. 296 -- how the Maui rug could -- I
17 was just trying to understand the graphic strength of the Maui
18 design and see how, through a design process, through 19 development, I could somehow rework the use of the circle
20 motifs and the overlaps.
21 Q. Did any of your earlier, completed rug designs influence
22 the creation of the Prado?
23 A. Well, the Sikri collection, which is in fact featured in 24 no. 55, which are those pictures --
25 Q. No. 55, which is page 55, which is part of --

1 A. DSN0055.
2 Q. Which is part of Exhibit 55, right?
3 A. Yes. Well, those designs predominantly were flat-weaves
4 with circular motifs, very challenging to manufacture. That's 5 what I received the award, the Sikri, that was what I received
6 the award from Interior Design Magazine for. The Roscoe Award
7 was for that collection. And that was a strong influence in 8 the design of the Prado.
9 Q. I would like to show you what have been marked as Exhibits
10 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 15, 16, and 17. And if you would just 11 first quickly identify them so we can see if they can be 12 offered in evidence, before you explain what they are.
13 A. Exhibit 8 is my very first collection of rugs that we 14 attempted to make in a hand-knotted quality. And this 15 collection is dated 1995. And the names are Provence, 16 Palominova, Biaritz, and Luxor. And the design Biaritz was the 17 forerunner for the Maui design.
18 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibit 8 in
19 evidence.
20 MR. CLARIDA: No objection.
21 MR. MOSKIN: And I would like to request that members

3 A. And the design Biaritz is the one in the lower right-hand
4 corner which shows the arrangement of the circles with the 5 scroll detail set in place.

6 Q. Can you explain to us, what is Exhibit 9.

7 A. Exhibit 9 is a computer printout of one of our flat-weave
8 designs which is called Vegas, and it's a very good example of 9 the flat-weave collection, which, the flat-weave collection
10 consists of about 20 patterns, of which about 18 deal with 11 various ways of composing circular motifs within frames and 12 thereby sections and the relationship between the cut parts and 13 the remaining sections.

14 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibit 9 in

16 MR. CLARIDA: No objection.

17 THE COURT: Plaintiff's Exhibit 9 is received in

19 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 9 received in evidence)

20 MR. MOSKIN: And ask if the jury can refer now to 21 Exhibit 9.

22 THE COURT: Yes.

23 A. Exhibit 9 also has a lot of color information on it. Those 24 numbers refer to shades of color. It's quite a technical 25 endeavor.

1 Q. You have referred to -- you have used the term
2 "flat-weave." What do you mean by that?

3 A. A flat-weave is an area rug that's woven in such a way that
4 there is no cut pile. The terms that one tends to be familiar
5 with are kilim, dhurrie, that type of quality.

6 Q. Those are types of flat-weaves?

7 A. Yes. And we call these flat-weaves because we try to take 8 extra care to make sure that they are as tightly woven as 9 possible, the clarity of the designs is as sharp as possible,
10 and hopefully that the circles will be as round as possible,
11 and that the composition will be clean.

12 Q. How does that differ from, you've said cut pile? Is that 13 what you used?

14 A. Yes, a cut pile. A Tibetan product is an example of what I
15 would term a cut-pile rug, where the wool is knotted and then 16 is cut in a certain way to actually fluff up the fibers of the 17 wool, which then of course results in a carpet with pile.

18 The flat-weave product, the yarn is not cut and 19 definitely not plumed up, and in fact the yarn itself was woven
20 quite tightly, and by knotting it, it gives, as I say, more of 21 a fabric quality to the final product.

22 Q. When did you create the Vegas design, Exhibit 9?

23 A. The Vegas design was created around about 1994, 1995.

24 Q. How about the next design?
25 A. Perhaps even prior to that. We were basically in business

1 for about two years when the flat-weave collection was put on
2 the market. So --
3 Q. How about the next design, the Ravenna? Can you tell us --
4 A. The Ravenna design is also a flat-weave design. And that 5 was one of the first flat-weaves we did. This drawing is dated
6 1994. Again, it's a computer rendering. And this particular
7 size, I believe, is the 6 by 9 size, this illustrated.
8 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibit 10 in
9 evidence.
10 MR. CLARIDA: No objection.
11 THE COURT: Plaintiff's Exhibit 10 is received in 12 evidence, and you may publish it to the jury.
13 MR. MOSKIN: The jury.
14 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 10 received in evidence)
15 Q. Can you identify for us Exhibit 11.
16 A. Well, Exhibit 11 is actually the same design and is wrongly
17 named. It should -- it says "Portico," and the Portico design
18 is not -- this is not the Portico design. So we have a typo
19 here or the wrong image. But this is very clearly another 20 image of the Ravenna. So the Portico, which is which is -- is 21 not reflected on this page.
22 Q. All right. Well, let's pass on to Exhibit 12.
23 A. Exhibit 12 is the Sikri collection, which is the flat-weave
24 collection for which I received the Roscoe design award.
25 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibit 12 into

3 THE COURT: Plaintiff's Exhibit 12 is received in

5 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 12 received in evidence)
6 Q. When was this created?
7 A. That would be 1993 or 1994. And those are, you know, this
8 particular flat-weave collection, the Sikri collection, we, I
9 should say we produced after being in business about a year and 10 a half, two years. So around about 1992, 1993, in the design 11 stage. Bearing in mind, there is -- time goes into the 12 development for the launch.
13 MR. MOSKIN: I'm sorry. Did I offer 12 in evidence?
14 THE COURT: You did.
15 MR. MOSKIN: I did. Thank you, your Honor. And I
16 would ask that the jury be permitted to look at it.
17 THE COURT: Yes. Members of the jury can turn to the

19 MR. MOSKIN: Thank you, your Honor.
20 Q. Can you identify for us what's been marked as Exhibit 13?
21 A. Exhibit 13, this consists of two sheets of paper, and this 22 is the Umbria collection, which consists of six designs. And

23 in fact the Portico design is collectively shown here. So we 24 have the Portico, Trigger, Ravenna, Domino, and Caprillo

15 obviously is a round rug with circles inside it.

1 A. Exhibit 16 is the Constantinople design, one of the first
2 Tibetan products that we developed. And this particular rug
3 was made by Tufenkian. And this is a, I believe, a 6 by 9,
4 which is termed as a 5 foot 6, 8 foot 6 size rug.

5 THE COURT: You refer to it as a Tibetan product.

6 THE WITNESS: Yes.

7 THE COURT: What do you mean by that?

8 THE WITNESS: In 1959, the Tibetan people for the most 9 part were annexed out of the country of Tibet and settled in 10 cath man due. And the techniques and processes they brought 11 with them were first developed in the country of Tibet and 12 so -- and the wool itself is Tibetan wool if it's coined as a 13 proper Tibetan carpet. It's actually made in the country of 14 Kathmandu, by for the most part refugees from Nepal. And as we 15 know, the Dali Lama went to India to get away from the Chinese
16 takeover. But as a Tibetan product, it's a specific knot.
17 It's a specific construction technique. And the dying
18 techniques and the finishing techniques are synonymous with the 19 Tibetan process. And as I say for the most part it's made by 20 Tibetan refugees, even although it's not usually made in the 21 country of Tibet, which is a neighboring country.

22 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibit 16 in

2 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 16 received in evidence)
3 BY MR. MOSKIN:
4 Q. And Exhibit 17, could you go through that for us.
5 A. Exhibit 17 is the Argyle design, which is very similar to 6 the Constantinople, only the colors in the Argyle design are 7 very bright, blues, greens, reds, and the Constantinople design
8 is very earth-toned, browns, and honey wheats, softer hues.
9 These photocopies unfortunately don't represent the color 10 values, but they do represent in quite clear detail the 11 experiments of how to break up -- in fact, these were not 12 circles. These were oval shapes. And specifically that was 13 the notion of that design. But the idea of course was how to 14 break up the shape.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

1 do these relate in any way in your mind to the Prado design?
2 A. What you see, through all these sheets of paper and all
3 these various designs, is the growth of a body of work which 4 spans for the better part of six or seven years of work. All
5 of these designs, by the way, are done by myself, personally.
6 I don't -- I don't hire outside designers to interpret my 7 sketches. These are all developed by myself.
8 But what it perhaps will show is a development of 9 thought, a signature development of the style and work of my 10 operation, of my company. And we make our design process very 11 seriously. That's why we strive to go through enough
12 experimentation to hopefully at the end of the day come up with 13 something that is absolutely special to our company. Otherwise
14 we don't stand a chance out there. The day other products
15 start looking like mine, I'm finished, completely. That's why
16 it's -- I'm hellbent on making sure that there is a unique
17 quality and a unique look to these products. And hopefully 18 what this example shows is a consistent strain of thought and a 19 development of a body of work, because that's really what this 20 should reveal, that there was an evolution of a design

21 process -- and products, by the way -- at the end of the day.
22 These aren't just sketches for the fun of it. These are actual 23 products that go on the market.

24 But that's what I would like to think is revealed in 25 this, a development of thought and work, which of course leads

1 up to the Prado design, which is why we're all here, because 2 the Prado design is the most recent example of how this process
3 developed from our Sikri collection back in 1994, to the 4 present day.

5 Q. Do you have any, does your company have any records when 6 this, the design process was completed for the Prado?

7 A. We certainly do. And the -- I'm asking because I'm 8 hopeful, I'll submit, that that -- I'm certain we'll -- yes, we 9 do, is the answer.

10 Q. I'd like to show you what have been marked as Exhibits 18
11 and 19 and ask you if you can identify these.

12 A. Exhibit 18 and 19 are printouts from our Macintosh
13 computer, the computers that are used in the design lab. And 14 Exhibit 18 shows, under a file called "Tech Drawings," a list 15 of the various designs that were part of our portfolio of 16 product. And the Prado design is shown at the bottom of page 17 1. And in fact the file has been opened up to reveal various 18 custom versions and some standard versions of the Prado design.

19 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer --

20 A. And it's dated November 6, 2002, the date this was printed

7 well.

8 THE COURT: Yes. You can turn to the tab marked 18.

9 Q. And perhaps you can explain so the jury can follow along
10 where you find the earlier or earliest references to the Prado.

11 A. Well, I'm looking at Exhibit 18, under, as I say, tag
12 drawings, the Prado -- these are folders obviously containing 13 the drawings, and the Prado folder is at the bottom, and it has 14 been opened up, and the size and some description of the 15 designs. These little logos represent the actual design file
16 itself. And then in the "date modified" column is the date
17 when that rug was worked on for the last time. And I'm drawing
18 attention then to approximately the middle of the page, and I
19 see --

20 Q. The middle of which page?
21 A. Page 3. And if I want to scrutinize it, I see 8 by 10
22 1998, Prado October 21. I see 12 by 16 Prado, October 21, 23 1998. And then I see various designs coming in in September of 24 '99, and then so on and so forth, 2000, 2001, 2002. So that's 25 tabbed as page 3 on Exhibit 18.

5 Q. So can you, just look at this page in this computer file,
6 how many sales does this refer to, or rugs produced does this 7 refer to?

8 A. I would say there must be about 40 there.

17 this is a different one. And I'm saying that because it's in a

19 Q. It's different computer data.

20 A. Yes, different computer database.

21 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibit 19 in

3 Q. Can you now, now that the jury can follow along with you,
4 can you identify where you see references to the Prado?

5 A. Yes. There is a reference to the Prado just about two 6 inches from the foot of the page. And it says "Prado tech
7 drawings." And it shows different sizes, different -- of the 8 Prado design. And in fact it shows them dated October 21, 9 1998.

10 Q. And again, do these --

11 A. This constitutes rugs -- this constitutes rugs that would 12 be being produced, that is correct.

13 Q. Thank you. You're anticipating my next question.

14 THE COURT: Mr. Moskin, is this an appropriate place
15 to take our mid afternoon recess?

16 MR. MOSKIN: That would be fine.

17 THE COURT: All right. Members of the jury, we will 18 take a mid afternoon recess now. It's going to be a short

19 recess. There are some refreshments waiting for you in the 20 jury room. Please don't leave the jury room because we're 21 going to be reconvening in ten minutes.

22 Leave your binders on your chairs, but take your

24 Please recess the jury.

1 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Nicholls can step down.
2 Any issues that counsel want to raise?

3 MR. MOSKIN: Not I.

4 MR. CLARIDA: Your Honor, just in terms of the 5 procedure for admitting documents into evidence, I have a
6 number of things that I know are third-party materials and I
7 know we're going to be dealing with those one at a time. I'm 8 just wondering if I can explain to you what my proposed 9 relevance is so we can deal with that before having to do it in 10 front of the jury.

11 THE COURT: All right. How much longer do you have on 13 MR. MOSKIN: Perhaps 45 minutes?

14 THE COURT: All right. I will hear you in a couple of 16 MR. CLARIDA: OK. Thank you, your Honor.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

74

49DANIC4 Nicholls - direct

1 third-party evidence that we propose to introduce, I understand
2 there is a challenge from Mr. Moskin on the grounds of 3 relevance and I just thought it might be expeditious to resolve
4 at least some of that so that we don't have to stop and have 5 objections every time we want to introduce an exhibit.

6 As I noted in our trial brief, I believe these 7 third-party examples are relevant to show several things.
8 First, they are relevant to show that this arrangement of 9 circles in a grid is familiar in the industry. It's the same
10 familiar circle design. Copyright doesn't attach to it. I
11 think they are relevant to show this.

12 Also, a good many of these predate Mr. Nicholls'
13 designs. And I think it's fair to ask him if he saw them and 14 considered them when he made his design decisions in connection
15 with the Prado.

16 So for those reasons I think we can clear up the 17 relevance issue and I can just simply ask, as Mr. Moskin has

18 been doing, can you turn to exhibit such and such and we can 19 proceed that way.

20 MR. MOSKIN: We have already laid out in our motion in 21 limine reasons why these are apparently not relevant, including 22 in particular that in deposition testimony when they had an 23 opportunity to show Mr. Nicholls most of these designs, there
24 are, well maybe half of them -- in the last week I've gotten 25 another ten or so new designs they pulled off the Internet more

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

49DANIC4 Nicholls - direct

1 recently. But the ten that he was shown at his deposition and 2 that were produced in discovery he had never seen and they
3 didn't influence him. Likewise, Mr. Tufenkian, I in turn
4 showed the same exhibits to him, and he said they didn't 5 influence his design at all.

6 I can't obviously say for certain -- and we discussed
7 in your Honor's robing room on Friday -- that one of the 8 witnesses -- that Mr. Nicholls might not now say, you know,
9 particularly some of these new designs, that, yes, I've seen
10 that one before. But as far as -- and if they influenced his 11 design making, then I can understand they might be able to 12 establish a basis of relevance. But as far as scenes of the 13 fair is concerned, there is no indication that these are widely
14 sold, that any of them were made -- these were all pulled off
15 the Internet very recently -- that these were sold in any 16 quantity, that they are known widely. They have no broader 17 meaning than a piece of paper. I could go up to, just as 18 Mr. Clarida did in his opening statement, go up to the board
19 and draw a bunch of circles on a piece of paper. Those 20 exhibits have no broader relevance than that. If they are 21 admitted, I think there should probably be an instruction to 22 the jury that they shouldn't be considered for anything more 23 than something that may or may not have influenced one of the 24 designers here. But they clearly, they have no expert in the 25 case. And the paralegal who pulled them off the Internet is

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

76

49DANIC4 Nicholls - direct

1 not competent to testify that these have any greater
2 significance in the design world than anything else you can
3 pull off the Internet.

4 THE COURT: At the end of the day, Mr. Clarida, you
5 can show these exhibits and confront the plaintiff on 6 cross-examination, but if he says that he never saw them and 7 they didn't influence him, how are they relevant?

8 MR. CLARIDA: They are relevant to two things, your 9 Honor. They are, one, relevant to rebut the inference of 10 copying by Mr. Tufenkian, because if other people are out there
11 doing grids of circles, they didn't all copy from Mr. Nicholls.
12 That is probative of the fact that Mr. Tufenkian didn't copy it
13 from Mr. Nicholls either. It is possible to arrive at this 14 design independently. And these designs show that.

15 THE COURT: All right. But that's something that may 16 come through on Mr. Tufenkian's examination, not Mr. Nicholls'.

17 Right?

18 MR. CLARIDA: Well, that's correct, your Honor.

19 MR. MOSKIN: And I asked Mr. Tufenkian at his 20 deposition -- maybe I'll offer inconsistent testimony now. He 21 identified seven or eight works, all produced by his company,
22 that he said were his sole and exclusive design influences.
23 And I showed him again the other use -- the ones that had been 24 produced at that time in discovery, and he confirmed those had 25 not influenced his design making at all.

1 MR. CLARIDA: Your Honor, in Mr. Moskin's opening, he
2 promised to the jury, I guarantee you, you will see no other
3 designs that look even remotely like Mr. Nicholls's designs. I
4 want to show the jury he's wrong about that. There are other
5 designs that look like Mr. Nicholls' designs, and they don't 6 come from James Tufenkian.

7 MR. MOSKIN: When I made that statement I was 8 cognizant of the fact that some of these might come in, and I
9 don't believe any of them are remotely like it. That's a jury
10 issue.

11 MR. CLARIDA: The jury is entitled to make up its mind
12 as to whether they do or don't look like it.

13 THE COURT: That might be. But I don't see how you're 14 going to get them in through Mr. Nicholls, on your 15 cross-examination of Mr. Nicholls, unless Mr. Nicholls says
16 that he saw one or more of these designs. If he says he saw 17 one or more of them, you will get them in, through 18 Mr. Nicholls. Otherwise you will have to figure out another
19 way to get them into evidence.

20 All right. I want to press ahead at this moment. We

2 Mr. Nicholls.

3 You may proceed.

4 DIRECT EXAMINATION (Cont'd)

5 BY MR. MOSKIN:

6 Q. Mr. Nicholls, I'd like to show you what have been marked as 7 Plaintiff's Exhibits 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 28, 30, 31,
8 and 32, and ask if you can please identify these.

9 A. Exhibit 20 is an invoice from my company to an architect
10 called Mitch Mixon, and it's for a 12 by 15 Hiran rug and a 14
11 by 18 Prado rug.

12 Q. If I may, just so the jury -- to move this along --

13 MR. MOSKIN: If I can offer that into evidence, before 14 you continue.

15 A. All right. Sorry.

16 MR. CLARIDA: No objection.
17 THE COURT: Plaintiff's Exhibit 20 is received in
18 evidence.
19 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 20 received in evidence)
20 THE COURT: Members of the jury, you can turn to the 21 tab marked 20.
22 Q. I apologize for interrupting. If you could explain.
23 A. Well, it's an invoice. It's for a Hiran, standard rug.
24 And a 14 by 18 Prado standard. And the total price for the two 25 carpets is $24,000. And the deposit received was 16,000. The

1 remaining balance, 8,000. And it's dated 12/23/99.
2 Q. It's dated 12/23/1999. How much prior to that date, if at 3 all, would the rug, the Prado rug, have to have been created?
4 A. Well, for a 14 by 18 Prado -- this was, I believe, a
5 100-knot rug judging by the price -- it would be anywhere from 6 six months to eight months to nine months, minimum of eight
7 months, in fact. That's a very large rug.
8 Q. So when would that place this?
9 A. Well, if it's dated 12/23, we can assume that at least it
10 was ordered in the previous March, because this is dated -- 11 this is actually written for to collect the balance. So we 12 could assume the rug has been produced and is now ready to 13 ship.
14 Q. So it would have been in March 1998.
15 A. That is correct. March 1998 would have been the 16 manufacturing time of that item.
17 THE COURT: Hold on one moment. I'm confused. The 18 invoice says December 23, '99.
19 THE WITNESS: Yes.
20 THE COURT: I thought I heard you say eight months to 21 produce the rug.
22 THE WITNESS: About eight months, yes.
23 THE COURT: Wouldn't that be March of '99, not March 24 of '98?
25 THE WITNESS: You're correct. I am mistaken. It

1 would be March of '98. That is correct. Excuse me.
2 THE COURT: That's all right.
3 A. Yes. Minimum eight months to make the rug. Yes, indeed.
4 Figuring something like that, March of 1999.
5 Q. Can you identify Exhibit 21.
6 A. Exhibit 21 is a printout from our database of inventory and 7 it shows that an 8 by 10 Prado standard rug is in stock. It's 8 identified as rug no. 159172.
9 THE COURT: Hold on. Instead of reading from 10 documents that are not in evidence, I think the best way --
11 THE WITNESS: Oh, I'm sorry.
12 THE COURT: -- to do this is, just tell us in a word
13 or two what the document is. I suspect that Mr. Moskin is then 14 going to offer the document in evidence.

15 THE WITNESS: OK. Sorry.
16 THE COURT: There is likely not going to be an 17 objection. And then we can have the jury turn to it and you 18 can tell us what we're looking at.
19 MR. MOSKIN: That would be terrific. Thank you, your 20 Honor.
21 THE COURT: Let's all take a breath and see if we can
22 do it that way. So it's a computer printout.
23 THE WITNESS: It's a computer printout.
24 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibit 21 in

4 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 21 received in evidence)
5 THE COURT: And members of the jury, you can turn to 6 21.
7 Now, tell us what we're looking at.
8 THE WITNESS: We're looking at a printout from my 9 database of inventory. And we have in stock an 8 by 10 Tibetan
10 carpet. And the reason I can say it's in stock is because it's 11 been inspected and graded as an A quality. And the date of 12 this inventory is 6/7/2000 order date. Sorry, 6/15/1999. I
13 apologize. It's received, the rug was received at 6/15/1999.
14 And along the information at the bottom, our database
15 calculates the price of the item, which has a net selling price
16 of $7,200 and 80 square feet.
17 Q. Can you explain the reference in the upper right-hand
18 corner to the Miami showroom?
19 A. Yes. Well, this means that the rug was actually in our 20 Miami showroom at that time. If the location, if it was at the 21 factory in -- it's manufactured in Kathmandu, it would say the 22 factory that it was at. So it was located in the Miami
23 showroom. And it's graded an A.
24 Q. Did Mr. Tufenkian sell any rugs in the area of your Miami
25 showroom?

1 A. Yes, he did. To my knowledge he actually sold rugs to a
2 store across the road, which was -- which I believe was called
3 Carpet Creations. And they were actually 25 feet from my front
4 door. He was a dealer of Tibetan carpets at the same time as 5 this Prado was in the showroom.
6 Q. Can you identify for us, briefly, Exhibit 22.
7 A. It's a purchase order.
8 Q. From your company?
9 A. Yes. It's a purchase order -- actually, no, it's a
10 purchase order from Jackie Miller Interiors, Incorporated.
11 Q. To your company.
12 A. To my company.
13 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibit 22 in

14 evidence.

18 received. Members of the jury, you can turn to tab 22.

19 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 22 received in evidence)

20 Q. Now can you tell us what it references.

21 A. It's a purchase order from Jackie Miller Interiors in 22 Atlanta, Georgia, addressed to my company in the D&D building,
23 and it's an order for a 12 by 16 Prado rug. And the unit price
24 is $17,250. Greg was the salesperson at Nicholls. It's our

1 receipt of the 50 percent deposit in the amount of $8,625.

2 And the date -- it's hard for me to see here, but it
3 looks like 1/12/01.

4 Q. Based on that date, if that's right, do you know when this 5 rug would have been made?

6 A. Yes. This rug -- well, it's a 12 by 16. It's at least an 7 eight-month lead time.

8 Q. So that would mean the rug would have been created when?

9 A. Well, sometimes eight months prior to '01. So 1/1/01 puts 10 us into '00 March or April.

11 Q. Can you identify for us what's been marked as Exhibit 23.

12 A. This is an invoice from my company. Our letterhead has 13 been stapled over by the designer's business card.

14 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibit 23 in

16 MR. CLARIDA: No objections.

17 THE COURT: Plaintiff's Exhibit 23 is received in
18 evidence.

19 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 23 received in evidence)

20 Q. Can you tell us what this references.

21 A. This references a 10 by 14 Prado rug. And this was 22 probably a 60-knot item, because it's $8,750 net. And the date
23 on this invoice is October 14, 1999. And I see that this is a 24 bill for the balance of the payment, because it says "for 25 approval, paid security deposit 10/13/1999." So, and Toby

2 charge here for padding for the rug, because we very often ship
3 the rug with the pad and install it.

4 Q. Can you tell us when this rug would have been created,
5 first created.

6 A. This rug, for a 10 by 14, 60-knot, four, five months prior 7 to that date.

8 Q. Before October 1999.

9 A. That is correct.

10 Q. Can you identify for us what's been marked as Exhibit 24.

11 A. This is a sales proposal from -- to Matt Brosius, from my 12 company.

13 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibit, Exhibit

15 MR. CLARIDA: No objection.

16 THE COURT: Plaintiff's Exhibit 24 is received in 17 evidence. And members of the jury, you can turn to the tab.
18 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 24 received in evidence)

19 Q. What's the date of this?

20 A. The date of this is 11/3/2000. And it's for a 14 feet by 21 18 feet Prado 80-knot rug. I should just say that we make the 22 rug in three qualities: 60 knot, 80 knot, and 100 knot, 60
23 knot being the least expensive quality and 100 knot being the 24 more expensive quality. And this 14 by 18 Prado cost this 25 architect $22,900.

4 and who the customers were, which is on the client end user on 5 the right.

6 Q. Dave, before you go on --

7 A. Oh, I'm sorry.

9 MR. CLARIDA: No objection.

14 Tawny 6 by 9, 80-knot Tibetan showed to Ms. Laurie Tanner. And 15 this is -- these were orders placed on 12/15/00.

16 Q. How much prior to this date, December 15, 2000, would that 17 rug have been made?

18 A. Well, it says "orders placed on 12/15/00." I want to be 19 totally frank with you, and I'm not sure when that order would 20 have been placed. I can only say that the rug was in existence
21 at this point, because it goes into inventory after it's -- it
22 gets a tag number after it gets inspected.

23 Q. Can you identify for us Exhibit 26.

7 MR. CLARIDA: I said no objection, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Oh, I'm sorry. Forgive me. All right.
9 Plaintiff's Exhibit 26 is received in evidence.

10 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 26 received in evidence)

11 Q. And could you explain for us what is shown here.

12 A. It's a sales proposal, and it's for a standard Prado 100
13 knot 12 by 16. And it's a request for the balance for this 14 rug. And that balance amount is $8,625. It shows a lead time
15 of 18 to 22 weeks. And that's a 12 by 16 100-knot carpet. So
16 that's about right. Four and a half, five months, four, three,
17 five -- yes, about four and a half to five months, minimum,
18 production time.

19 THE COURT: Forgive me for a second, but what is the 20 difference between Plaintiff's Exhibit 26, which is a sales
21 proposal, for someone in Chattanooga, Tennessee, and Exhibit
22 22, which is the purchase order for the same rug? Or did this

6 THE COURT: It's not two different sales.

7 THE WITNESS: I would guess it's the same sale, yes.

8 Q. Can you identify for us what's been marked as Exhibit 28?

9 THE WITNESS: But I might be wrong.

10 A. I'm sorry. 28?

16 THE COURT: Plaintiff's Exhibit 28 is received in

20 A. Yes. This outlines a current production schedule of rugs,
21 and run no. 143 -- sorry -- 140, order no. 125001, references a
22 Prado Ermine, and the carpet number is G9688, size 13 feet 4
23 inches by 17, 6. That would more than likely mean that that's 24 the finished size of the rug, because we tended to measure the

2 Which means that this rug was complete, with an estimated
3 delivery date of 15/5/00. And the reason it's written 15/5 is 4 because over there the day goes before the month and the year.

5 Q. So the delivery date was May 15, 2000?

6 A. That's correct. Which means the rug would have been made a
7 good seven or eight months prior to that.

8 Q. If you could identify for us what is shown as Exhibit 30.

9 A. Exhibit 30 is a handwritten document interior to my

2 were currently in inventory as of that date.
3 Q. The last, those are the last two listed on the page?
4 A. On page 1, that is correct.
5 Q. I see where it says "Prado." Underneath it it says "Nile."
6 Is that also a Prado rug?
7 A. Oh, I'm sorry. That's my error. It's not a Prado rug.
8 No. Nile is a completely different design.
9 Q. So it's just the one --
10 A. It's just the one Prado rug, yes.
11 Q. Now, this series of exhibit, the last, can you identify for 12 us what's been marked as Exhibit 31?
13 A. It appears to be a new order statement to a factory from my 14 company.
15 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibit 31 in
16 evidence.
17 MR. CLARIDA: No objection.
18 THE COURT: All right. Plaintiff's Exhibit 31 is 19 received in evidence.
20 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 31 received in evidence)
21 MR. MOSKIN: I take it the jury may now look at that;
22 is that correct?
23 THE COURT: Yes. Members of the jury can turn to tab

1 its date?
2 A. Yes. This was a document that would be prepared for the 3 salespeople so they could know very quickly what's available
4 for sale, because this lists unsold goods. And we see at the 5 bottom there is a Prado and there's a 2 by 2 strikeoff sample,
6 a 3 -- one 3 by 12, one 6 by 9, one 8 by 10, one 9 by 12,
7 and -- I'm sorry. Yes, one 9 by 12, and zero 10 by 14s.
8 Q. Those sizes, are those referenced some other page?
9 A. Those sizes are different production sizes.

10 Q. The line across the top of the page, is that where you're 11 reading, referring to?
12 A. Yes. I'm sorry. The sizes refers to, yes, the actual size 13 of the carpets. The quantity is in a vertical column. And the 14 tick marks, I'm not sure, but they are probably just someone 15 double-checking the inventory to make sure they're there.
16 Q. So all told, how many Prado rugs does this indicate you
17 have in inventory as of --
18 A. Well --
19 Q. Let me finish the question. -- as of February 16, 2000?
20 A. Two strikeoff samples and then one, two, three, four, four 21 Prado rugs. As of February 16, 2000.
22 Q. You heard Mr. Clarida say in his opening statement that you
23 had sold about three or four Prado rugs a year, since 1998 or 24 '99? Is that correct?
25 A. I did hear him say that. And I'm a wee bit embarrassed
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

1 about that because it's absolutely -- it's not true. And I
2 spoke out of turn in the deposition, without thinking and
3 without looking at the records. So that was my error in the 4 deposition. We've sold significantly more. After I went back
5 to the office, I looked at the records to see how many we had 6 sold. Unfortunately as the creative guy as well as the 7 so-called businessman, I seem to spend more time in the 8 creative department. But these are accurate invoicing and 9 inventory statements.
10 Q. Has there been any publicity for the product?
11 A. The Prado rug, as we mentioned earlier, the first most 12 significant publicity was when it was selected by Philip 13 Johnson's office, the architect in New York, for a redo of the 14 Blanchette Rockefeller townhouse in midtown Manhattan. And in 15 fact the rug was the centerpiece for that design project. And,
16 yes, it was featured in The New York Times, over three pages,
17 one large picture and then some other detail shots for the 18 different arrangements.
19 Q. I would like to show you what's been marked as Plaintiff's 20 Exhibits 35 and 36 and ask just if you can quickly identify 21 them before we show them to the jury.
22 A. Yes. This is a capsulation of the article that was 23 featured in The New York Times magazine. This is the Prado rug
24 centerpiece.
25 Q. Which number are you referring to?

1 A. I'm sorry. 36.
2 Q. And what is 35?
3 A. 35 is the front cover of the magazine, the New York Sunday
4 times, and actual photocopies of the article in its more
5 extended form. And it makes reference to the rug by David Shaw
6 Nicholls.
7 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibits 35 into
8 evidence.

9 A. In fact it makes reference to Prado rug by David Shaw
10 Nicholls.
11 THE COURT: Any objection?
12 MR. CLARIDA: No objection.
13 THE COURT: All right. Plaintiff's Exhibits 35 and 36
14 is received in evidence. Members of the jury, you can turn to 15 those tabs.
16 (Plaintiff's Exhibits 35 and 36 received in evidence)
17 A. To answer your question fully, it was also featured in 18 other design magazines at the same time: Interior Design
19 Magazine. And we also advertised the rug in some trade
20 journals, which I have the copies of here also. One of them
21 being the Alt Spec catalogue. And it was featured in an Elle
22 Decor advertising that we did.
23 Q. Did you make any use of Plaintiff's Exhibit 36, your 24 company?
25 A. Yes. We made extensive use of this. This is a format we

1 use. It's a very strong marketing tool for our company. And 2 largely it gets sent to architects and designers throughout the
3 United States and in Europe. And we've printed ten thousand --
4 I believe we printed about 10,000 of these individual sheets,
5 of which several thousand would be sent out to various design
6 firms, interior design firms and architectural firms all over,
7 as I say, the United States.
8 Q. Do you know how it was that Mr. Johnson came, Philip
9 Johnson came to select your rug to use in his interior design?
10 A. Yes. Our rug was actually on show in the D&D building in 11 New York City. That's on 58th Street and Third Avenue. And in 12 fact we had a feature on the Prado rug in the window of the 13 sixth floor, between the showrooms of Holly Hunt and Donghia.
14 And the Prado rug was shown in that window for three months.
15 And this actual picture was featured with the Prado. It's a 16 very strong, very good way of endorsing the look and value of 17 the design.
18 Q. My question is, how did Philip Johnson come to select the 19 rug in the first place?
20 A. Oh, because his -- the people from his office came into the 21 D&D building, and he had heard about us and he wanted to see
22 the rugs.
23 Q. Mr. Nicholls, I'm showing you what's been marked as

3 A. Exhibit 29 is a picture of an interior --
4 THE COURT: Why don't we do it this way. Is there
5 going to be any objection to any of these exhibits?
6 MR. CLARIDA: No, there won't, your Honor.
7 THE COURT: All right. Plaintiff's Exhibits 29, 37,

8 38, 39, and 47, are received in evidence.
9 MR. MOSKIN: 48 and 49 as well?
10 THE COURT: 48 and 49. Received in evidence.
11 (Plaintiff's Exhibits 29, 37, 38, 39, 47, 48, and 49
12 received in evidence)
13 THE COURT: Members of the jury, as the witness refers
14 to these exhibits, you can turn to those tabs.
15 MR. MOSKIN: Thank you, your Honor.
16 THE COURT: So let's start with 29.
17 A. 29 is a picture of an interior design by an architect
18 called Mitch Nixon, who was listed there later in the billing
19 of my company, and this shows a very large Prado rug. I guess
20 this has to be about 20 feet by 16 feet. It was featured in a
21 full-page article in the Architectural Digest magazine.
22 Q. If you look at Exhibit 37, can you explain to us what that 23 is.
24 A. Exhibit 37 is a sheet of similar format as the style, the 25 Philip Johnson article in The New York Times. This is a job
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

1 that was featured in Architectural Digest of our flat-weave
2 collection. That was the Hiran rug at the bottom, and this was
3 the forerunner of our flat-weave collection. And basically it
4 was a very extensive article that we compressed into one page.
5 So we have the Domino design, the Salim design, and 6 the Hiran design.
7 Q. Can you explain for us what is shown in Exhibit 38.
8 A. Exhibit 38 is a page from Interior Design Magazine dated
10 Q. And let's skip over 39 for a moment and go to Exhibit 40.
11 Excuse me, Exhibit 47.
12 A. 47.
13 Q. Yes.
14 A. OK.
15 Q. And what is Exhibit 47?
16 A. 47 is -- are copies of a trade book that was distributed
17 throughout the United States and Europe, and outside the United 18 States also, and it was called Alt Spec. And in this book, my 19 company advertised two pages of our various designs, and 20 attached here is a page of the Tufenkian company's designs at 21 that time. And in fact he took, as I best recall, two pages,
22 two or three pages. And so the pages of the -- the page which 23 is numbered 215 at the bottom is the Tufenkian ad for his 24 Tibetan carpets that he was currently marketing at that time.
25 Page 218 and 219 respectfully show my rugs that I was

1 featuring at that time, and included on page 219 is a portion
2 of one of the Prado designs, which actually is represented on 3 the floor in front of you.
4 And then last page, 224, shows the current marketing
5 designs of the Tufenkian company.
6 And I would like to add, I believe there was quite an

7 extensive circulation of this book. I would believe there was 8 about 10,000 books circulated throughout the United States of 9 America.
10 Q. Who does that get circulated to, to your knowledge?
11 A. It was circulated to architectural -- architects,
12 designers, and interior designers, professionals in the field
13 throughout the United States. It was designed as a trade-only 14 publication, and quite well done also.
15 Q. Can you identify also for us what's been marked as Exhibit
16 48.
17 A. 48 is the front cover of Elle Decor magazine, a magazine
18 that we are featured in regularly, editorialized, and that we 19 also advertise in from time to time. And the page attached to 20 the front cover is a page we advertised -- we took out
21 advertisement in, and -- that shows our New York showroom, our 22 Miami showroom, and a picture of the Prado rug, bottom
23 right-hand corner.
24 Q. And Exhibit 49.
25 A. I should also probably call attention to what issue this

1 was. I'm looking for a date, but I don't see one.
2 Q. Is the date -- is there a delivery date on that?
3 A. Oh, excuse me, November 2001 is the circulation date.
4 I just want to point out that that ad was more than 5 likely prepared four months prior to the publication of the 6 magazine. And so not only did we have to have the rugs
7 installed, but we had to have quite a sophisticated format for 8 sending to the magazine to generate the ad in the first place.
9 Q. Can you identify for us Exhibit 49.
10 A. Exhibit 49 is another variation of the Prado design in 11 terms of color. That's the Jacob Javitz show in New York City, 12 which we participated in, and it's actually sponsored by 13 Architectural Digest. And we take a very nice, big booth at 14 that show. And for three days it's to the trade, and the 15 fourth day it's open to the general public. Their attendance
16 runs into the, I should say they have about 26, 27 thousand
17 people to visit that trade show from all over the United 18 States, but primarily the northeast corner. And we actually 19 displayed the Prado there in its entirety, a 14 by 18 rug. And 20 we actually sold that rug at that show, I'm pleased to say.
21 And all these pages show our booth and the various 22 designs we were presenting at the show. And as I say, this was 23 dated October, November 2000.
24 Q. Without offering into evidence the vast number of amount of 25 publicity that you described early on about yourself, can you

1 explain what, at least the one that's shown here, Exhibit 39,
2 is.
3 A. Exhibit 39 is, it's from a design magazine. I think it was 4 product design or -- oh, it's Contract Design, excuse me. It's 5 Contract Design Magazine. And it was an interview they

6 conducted with me back in 1994. And it's quite a -- it's quite 7 a good eye opener, if you will, to the style of the working of 8 my company and the way we were attempting to come up with a 9 very unique look for our products. And in fact it discusses in 10 some detail the circles and the problems associated with making 11 circular carpet -- circles in carpets and the various tones and 12 dyes and the design techniques which I employed. So this was 13 an interview I gave to that magazine in October 1994. And the 14 circulation of these magazines varies from anywhere from 5,000
15 to 200,000, in the United States. These are largely trade
16 magazines.

17 Q. I would like to show you what have been marked as Exhibits
18 42 and 43.

19 A. Exhibit 42 is a postcard of a Prado design. And we 20 printed, I understand, 3,000 of these cards. And I think we 21 have about 20 left. And the remainder would have been sent out
22 to architects and designers.

8 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 42 received in evidence)

9 Q. Can you identify Exhibit 43 for us.

10 A. Yes. Exhibit 43 is the order for these postcards. And the 11 order was -- well, we ordered 3,000, and the date was on or 12 around June of the year 2000. And I see the Fedex here, air 13 bill, it says May 30, 2000. And so the Fedex document is 14 basically the material for purchasing the cards. And Exhibit
15 42 is the actual card in question.

16 Q. When did you begin sending out the card, Exhibit 42?

17 A. We sent it out immediately we get it.

18 Q. And so that would have been when?

19 A. That would have been the middle of the year, around about 20 June 2000.

21 And as I say, we sent about, I should say, about 20, 22 2900 of those cards. We've got a few left.

23 Q. Do you still have in front of you Exhibit 44, which is a

3 Q. Is your Web site also a form of publicity for you?

4 A. Our Web site I would consider to say is the most

5 informative, useful selling tool that we have.
6 Q. Why do you say that?
7 A. Well, because we put a lot of work into it to give the 8 client a clear idea of what the rugs actually look like. And 9 for area rugs in particular, it's an excellent medium, because 10 you can have the opportunity to zoom in on details of the rug,
11 see the texture, the quality, different sizes, colors, location
12 charts. It's a very extensive marketing tool for us. We use
13 it, we basically link up with our client base with our Web

8 Q. As of January 1999, did your company list the Prado
9 anywhere on its price list?
10 A. Yes, we did. We listed it under Indo-Nepalese carding.
11 Q. Where is that on this page?
12 A. It's actually -- it's under Tibetan rugs and it's in the 13 fourth corner, fourth corner down. And I believe it's design
14 no. 118, is listed.
15 Q. Have you ever had any business relationship with the 16 defendant -- defendants -- Tufenkian Import/Export and James 17 Tufenkian?
18 A. Yes, I have.
19 Q. Can you explain what was that relationship.
20 A. In essence, he manufactured Tibetan carpets for my company
21 without any rights of -- any design rights being transferred.
22 Q. He simply manufactured the rugs --

5 Q. Let me offer you Exhibit 50 and see if you can identify 6 that.
7 A. This is a manufacturing agreement -- oh, yes, I can.
8 Sorry, I can identify this. It's a manufacturing agreement.

19 Q. Where do you find that?
20 A. I find that on page 3, which is the date it was signed by 21 James Tufenkian and myself.
22 Q. Do you recall when the relationship, the business
23 relationship with Mr. Tufenkian ended?

1 MR. MOSKIN: Your Honor, to save I little time, I
2 believe we stated in our pretrial order the date the 3 relationship ended, in 2001.
4 THE WITNESS: That's about right, yes. 2000, yes.
5 THE COURT: So members of the jury, counsel stipulate
6 that the relationship ended at a certain time. You can accept 7 that as a fact.
8 A. Is that September of 2000?
9 Q. April 2000.
10 A. April 2000.
11 Q. Can you describe, without going into great detail, how the 12 relationship ended.
13 A. It ended in a lawsuit. And it ended as basically James 14 Tufenkian retaining ownership of inventory of my designs. And 15 we had some pricing issues and billing issues. And we ended up
16 on a very adversarial basis, to put it mildly. It was not a
17 happy ending.
18 Q. Have you had any business dealings with Mr. Tufenkian since 19 April 2000?
20 A. No.
21 Q. In the years of your relationship, business relationship 22 with Mr. Tufenkian, were you aware that he was making or 23 selling any rugs that looked anything like your Prado design?
24 A. I was aware he was making no rugs that would look like my 25 Prado design.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

104

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 Q. How did you know that?
2 A. Well, I'm -- I consider myself pretty knowledgeable in the

3 field, in fact very knowledgeable, I would say. And I was 4 certainly familiar with Mr. Tufenkian's production at that 5 time, bearing in mind one of the interesting factors of our 6 working together was the fact I would do rugs that wouldn't 7 compete with his program, because he had quite a healthy
8 production of traditional designs. In fact, I think he would 9 admit to the fact that was the backbone of his business, the 10 recoloring of traditional oriental patterns.

11 Q. When you say traditional, can you explain what you mean?

12 A. Well, these are designs based upon old designs, I would 13 call them, traditional designs of Persian and Chinese origin,
14 Iranian origin, and what many manufacturers do is, they take 15 these established old designs, and they recolor them and retune
16 them, and basically make them new, make them afresh. That, I
17 don't -- and I certainly don't mean to talk for his company,
18 but at that time the impression I got from his business was 19 that the backbone of his business was his antique-looking rugs, 20 if you will, although he -- and then he did have an offshoot of 21 that where he produced nontraditional designs, where he hired 22 designers to do that.

23 It was quite an important part of our relationship, in 24 fact it was a very important part, that the designs that I
25 would be developing would bear no resemblance to his

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

105

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 whatsoever. That would clearly have been a conflict of us
2 doing any business together. And so when I was developing my 3 designs and having him make them, it was on the understanding
4 that there would be nothing like it in his portfolio. And so
5 I -- and part of the relationship depended upon me handing him
6 my designs, my design work, and my colors.

7 Q. Other than Mr. Tufenkian and the design world at large, are 8 you aware of anyone else that makes, that has made any rugs in 9 any way, or other designs, in any way resembling your Prado
10 design?

11 A. No.

12 Q. Did you in creating the Prado design, as you testified to 13 earlier, refer to any designs of parties other than yourself?

14 A. None. And as a rule in my company we don't do that. I've 15 said it and I'll say it again. It's a very, very critical
16 component of any success of my company. When you charge a 17 fortune for a carpet, it has to have something unique and 18 special about it. Who is going to spend $20,000 on a rug if 19 some guy down the road is going to make it for 14 and make 300
20 of them, by changing it slightly?

21 Q. Can you tell us what you considered to be original about 22 your Prado design.

23 A. Some people think that the design process of a simple item
24 is effortless, but it's actually more difficult to design
25 something that's very simple in appearance than it is to design

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

106

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 something that's extremely complicated. It challenges the

2 designer very much, because of course you have to try to embody
3 very subtle themes, underlying the surface. To simply come up
4 with a graphic and call it successful and try to market it at 5 the high end of the market, it wouldn't hold any substance.

6 And the one common denominator to all of our productions was,
7 we sold very expensive products. That was just the way it was.

8 So in order to do that, we had to come up with designs
9 which were unique. The Prado design, for my company, is 10 currently a design which in fact is a synthesis of many works
11 we've done, but it's completely new and completely original to 12 my company. The way the ellipses form and the way the circles
13 come together, it's a key component in a profound design sense,
14 but let me tell you in simple English, if someone lifts an Elle 15 Decor magazine and sees a picture of the Prado rug and they
16 make an association with my firm, they say, that's a David Shaw
17 Nicholls Prado. And we, we depend on that instant
18 understanding in order to be in business.

19 So if someone comes along and manages to plagiarize or 20 copy our image, we lose very quickly, because the authenticity
21 and the originality of the appearance of the rug is very 22 important. Never mind the fact that there's a very clever and 23 careful scaling process that goes on, and balance.

24 My background is architecture. And people will say,
25 and if you read the article that was done in the interview, my

1 experience as an architect was such that scaling and proportion
2 were very important. Because to give any volume credence to 3 contemporary rugs, it's a very big challenge. So the scaling,
4 the proportion, and the coming together of the elements has to 5 either be done with tremendous sense of skill and proportion,
6 or in fact it just doesn't work. It just falls flat.

7 The Prado rug, I'll give you some other examples, most 8 oriental rugs have between 10 and 30 colors in them. Most of 9 my rugs have between 4 and 6. The variation of the colors in a
10 Tibetan rug are created by what we call an abrash, and I'm sure
11 that Mr. Tufenkian's company will continue to belabor that 12 point. But it is a very, very beautiful component. But it
13 doesn't conflict the fact that the shapes themselves and the 14 overall design has to be carefully tuned to work.

15 The idea of the Prado looking the way it does is 16 extremely important in its simpler sense, not in a complicated
17 sense, in the simpler sense. But it just so happens the 18 creative process to produce a simple design that has volume is 19 very difficult.

20 So all the elements that you see in the Prado design
21 that may or may not 100 percent be reflected in the Eclipse
22 series of designs produced by Tufenkian, do understand that the 23 look of the Prado, as I hope you will see yourselves from the 24 images you're going to see, is unique. And understand that in 25 my business, the uniqueness is very important. Or I'm out of 1 business, immediately.

2 Q. You testified a moment ago that while you were working with 3 Mr. Tufenkian, you were not aware that he sold anything like 4 the Prado.

5 A. That's correct.

6 Q. Did there come a time when that changed, when you learned
7 something different?

8 A. Well, the way I -- the way it changed is when I got a
9 delivery of an Elle Decor magazine and I saw the Eclipse rug,
10 or the Total Eclipse. I'm not sure.

11 Q. Let me show you Exhibit' and ask you if that is the Elle 12 Decor magazine you were referring to.

13 A. This is the magazine, which ironically is the same magazine
14 that we advertise in too. So Elle Decor, David Shaw Nicholls, 15 Prado; Elle Decor, the launch of the Tufenkian Eclipse.

16 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer in evidence Exhibit
17 52.

18 THE COURT: Any objection?

19 MR. CLARIDA: No objection.

20 A. So I -- this is when --

21 THE COURT: Hold on.

22 THE WITNESS: Sorry.

23 THE COURT: Plaintiff's Exhibit 52 is received in

1 Q. Can you tell me what -- this, Exhibit 52, it seems to be
2 addressed to you. Is that right, the cover?

3 A. Yes, it does, that's correct.

4 Q. How did you receive this?

5 A. In the mail.

6 Q. Do you subscribe to Elle Decor?

7 A. I subscribe to the magazine, that's correct.

8 Q. Did your opinion, after reviewing this magazine when it
9 came in the mail, did your opinion --

10 A. Well, I --

11 Q. Let me finish the question.

12 A. Sorry.

13 Q. -- opinion that Mr. Tufenkian or Tufenkian Import/Export
14 was not selling anything similar to the Prado, did that change?

15 A. Well, it changed when I saw this magazine, and I was 16 flabbergasted.

17 Q. What about it caused you to be flabbergasted?

18 A. The instant look of the rug, and I thought, that's my 19 Prado. And not only me, I'm pleased to say. A lot of other 20 people thought it was and a lot of other people, I'm not 21 pleased to say, thought it looked like the Prado.

22 MR. CLARIDA: Objection.

23 A. And -- so...

24 THE COURT: Pardon me?

25 A. So I first saw it in the magazine that was delivered and I

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 was flabbergasted.
2 Q. What about this made you think it was similar to the Prado?
3 A. Well, there were certain design decisions made in the 4 creation of this rug that were extremely similar to the look of 5 the Prado. More than mere coincidence.
6 Q. What --
7 A. There's nothing else like this on the market that looks 8 like this.
9 Q. Can you identify what about it made you think that?
10 A. Well, the way the circles are dissected, the way the shapes
11 are laid out, the spacing and the proportion of the circles,
12 the fact that it is a rug which features circular motifs of a 13 certain boldness, a certain directness. In fact, if you take 14 my Prado rug and you sit it down on that flat floor and you cut
15 off the ends of it, believe me it would be almost like a 100
16 percent match.
17 Now, we can get carried away with dissections and 18 fractions of dissections and everything else, but our clients,
19 my clients, looking at this, are saying, what did you do, sell
20 the design to Tufenkian again?
21 Q. Did anybody actually say that to you?
22 A. Yes. And in fact it went to the showroom, and they called 23 me up.
24 Q. Who was that?
25 A. And he said, I didn't know you gave the Prado design to

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 Tufenkian. I said, I didn't. He said, well, it doesn't look
2 as good as yours because it's all messed up a bit, but it looks
3 just like it. Who said that? Architects.
4 Q. You say --
5 A. Well, John Beckman was one architect that said this. But I
6 obviously have my store. I have -- I don't have a huge dealer
7 network. But we have one in San Francisco. He called me up
8 and he said the same thing.
9 MR. CLARIDA: Your Honor, is this hearsay testimony?
10 THE COURT: Sustained.
11 A. In San Francisco.
12 THE COURT: Hold on. Members of the jury, this is 13 hearsay. You are not to consider it, what somebody else said
14 out of court. It's only what's said in court that's evidence 15 in this case.
16 Q. What did you do in response to seeing this Total Eclipse
17 design in the Elle Decor magazine, Exhibit 52?
18 A. I wrote a letter to his stores, and to him. Actually, the 19 letter was addressed to James Tufenkian, and I cc'd it to his 20 stores.
21 Q. Did you subsequently come to find that he was also selling
22 a product called Eclipse?
23 A. Yes. I subsequently did. I went on his Web site. And at 24 that time he had the Eclipse and the Total Eclipse. But for 25 some reason it's disappeared from his Web site now. I think

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 there's only one there now. But at one time there was an 2 Eclipse and a Total Eclipse on his Web site.

3 Q. I would like to show you what's been marked as Exhibit 54
4 and ask if you can identify that.

5 A. Well, this is the Eclipse rug, which I understand is his 6 first forerunner, where he has these rectangular pieces
7 superimposed over the design.

8 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to offer Exhibit 54 in
9 evidence.

10 MR. CLARIDA: No objection.

11 THE COURT: Plaintiff's Exhibit 54 is received in
12 evidence.

13 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 54 received in evidence)

14 THE COURT: And members of the jury, you can turn in 15 your binders to tab 54.

16 Q. Do you believe any of these resemble your Prado design?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. Can you tell me which ones and why?

19 A. Well, I think all of these resemble the Prado design in 20 that they show a boldness of the circular motif and a certain
21 scaling proportion and relationship to one another. In no
22 uncertain terms, this rug says, I'm a rug with round motifs
23 with certain intersections. And the depth and the beauty is 24 created by the way the circles are broken up.

25 I will say the one thing I find a bit clumsy about
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 these designs are the rectangular overlays, because they tend
2 to make the design clumsy and confusing. But the similarities
3 are the very careful choice of tones that highlight the circles
4 and what one might call a background or a foreground. But the 5 play that carefully defines in no uncertain terms, this is an 6 area rug that says, we have circular motifs, there's 7 relationships between those circles, we have shaded areas that 8 show there's a sincere intelligence to this design, it shows a
9 distinct relationship. This isn't casual work. Don't let you
10 try and convince me this is casual. It's not. Absolutely 11 intentional, Mr. Clarida. There's nothing accidental about the 12 design process.

13 THE COURT: Mr. Nicholls --

14 THE WITNESS: I'm sorry.

15 THE COURT: -- you are not to direct comments --

16 THE WITNESS: Sorry, I apologize.

17 THE COURT: -- to defense counsel. All right?

18 THE WITNESS: I'm sorry. I apologize to the Court.

19 THE COURT: It's not proper. I won't allow it.

20 THE WITNESS: Sorry. I apologize to Mr. Clarida.

21 Q. Mr. Nicholls, can you identify what's been marked as 22 Plaintiff's Exhibit 56.

23 A. Yes. This is a picture of the Total Eclipse design, as 24 being manufactured by Tufenkian.

25 Q. Where did you first see these?
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

114

49DANIC3 Nicholls - direct

1 A. Well, I first saw the Total Eclipse design in the magazine,
2 as we've seen. And I believe I saw the rest of these on the 3 Web site subsequent to that. Some of them are more of them.

4 Q. And do you believe these are similar to your Prado design?

5 A. Yes, I do. And I would venture as far as to say there's a
6 greater clear similarity in the absence of the overlays.

7 Q. Which overlays?

8 A. Well, in the Eclipse design, I was the first production --

9 Q. Exhibit 54?

10 A. Exhibit 54. -- there is a clear intent to try to create 11 almost vertical intersections on the circles, to break up, if 12 you will, the specific composition of the circles. And then 13 with the Eclipse design, there is an asserted effort to take 14 out, to omit those elements and make it less confusing to the 15 eye, and much more straightforward, much more elementary, so 16 much so that the circular motifs are restricted, dare I say, to 17 a horizontal direction rather than this going in different 18 directions.

19 Also, there is a symmetry to this design. In other
20 words, from left to right, there are no vertical breaks
21 whatsoever. It runs clear left to right.

22 So I see this as a synthesis basically of the design.
23 And I think that is close, closer, to the Prado design, simply 24 by virtue of its lack of rectangular elements that were 25 superimposed.

1 Q. Do you know, from personal knowledge, whether Mr. Tufenkian
2 or anyone at his company directly copied your Prado design in 3 creating either the Eclipse or the Total Eclipse?

4 A. I have no direct knowledge of that situation. I will only
5 repeat that I sent out my letter, and my postcards, I think, to 6 many carpet dealers in the United States, as well as the 7 architects and designers. And our Web site is obviously 8 totally accessible. But I have no specific knowledge of his 9 accessibility.

10 Q. Do you know of any other way that Mr. Tufenkian would have 11 had access to either seeing or having described to him the 12 contents of your Prado design?

13 A. Well, his distribution dealer network is quite extensive,
14 and I would be very surprised if, in his extensive marketing,
15 that he doesn't get feedback from his dealers about what's out
16 there and what's popular, what's in demand. And I will say at 17 that point we did have a very active marketing situation. So I
18 would be surprised if he didn't get some sort of knowledge
19 about what is good -- what designs are going on.

20 And we run a public face as a company. People used to 21 say to me, Why do you put your designs on the Internet? You're 22 only advertising them to be copied. Well, if you don't show
23 them, you don't get them out there. And so it's a decision you

24 just have to take. But it's a very public domain, the 25 Internet.

1 Q. How about the New York Times article? Do you think that
2 may have had any effect?

3 A. Well, I'm not sure what the circulation of the Sunday New 4 York Times is. But I should say it's in wide circulation. And 5 it was an extensive article. So, again, it's an opportunity
6 that the design would be reviewed, yes. And of course with the 7 trade shows we did and the editorial press that we got 8 featured.

9 I should say we probably sent out about 20,000
10 documents featuring the Prado design, physically, between 11 postcards and -- oh, and the poster as well, which we've 12 forgotten to mention. We printed 20,000 posters including the 13 Prado design in them.

14 Q. How about when you worked -- your relationship with 15 Mr. Tufenkian and Tufenkian Import/Export ended when? I think 16 we already established that, April 2000. Do you recall whether 17 you showed it to him or he had any opportunity to have seen it
18 at the time you were working together?

19 A. I only know that at the time we were working together there
20 were designs passed back and forth that were being developed.
21 And designs were discussed and passed back and forth. I have 22 no specific recollection of a discussion centering on the Prado
23 design. But there certainly were designs passed back and 24 forth.

1 Mr. Nicholls.

2 THE COURT: All right. Members of the jury, it's
3 nearly 5 o'clock. We're going to recess now until tomorrow
4 morning. I see no reason for defense counsel to start his 5 cross-examination for two or three minutes, only to have to sit 6 down.

7 So I want you to keep an open mind, members of the 8 jury. Come to no conclusions about this case. Don't discuss
9 this case among yourselves or with anyone else overnight. I
10 can only imagine that when you go home tonight, inquiring minds
11 at home are going to want to know what you've been doing all 12 day. And when you tell them that you've been impaneled as 13 jurors in a case in the Southern District of New York, they're 14 all going to want to know the details. And inquiring minds
15 always have opinions, about everything.

16 The fact of the matter is that you folks took an oath
17 not to have any opinion about this matter until such time as 18 all the evidence is in, you've heard the closing arguments of 19 counsel, my instructions on the law, and you've retired to the 20 jury room to begin your deliberations. So there is no good
21 that can come from any discussions at home. You'll have plenty
22 of time to talk about this case after it's over. Please don't 23 discuss it at home.

24 Now, we want to start tomorrow morning at 9:30. If 25 you are all here before 9:30, we will start before 9:30.

1 Refreshments will be waiting for you in the jury room tomorrow
2 morning. The jury room will be open before 9 o'clock for
3 anyone who arrives early. They may wind up with the cinnamon
4 raisin bagel. I don't know. But there are incentives for you
5 to get here early. Whether you get here early or not, make 6 sure that you're here and ready to go at 9:30, because we will 7 all be ready to go. And tomorrow is likely going to be a full
8 day here. And maybe, any of you who felt a little chilly today
9 should bring a sweater. All right.

10 Have a great evening and a safe trip home. Please
11 recess the jury.

12 (The jury left the courtroom)

13 THE COURT: All right, Mr. Nicholls, you can step 14 down, sir.

18 including the proposed charge. All right. See you in five 19 minutes.

21 (Jury not present)

22 THE COURT: First, I have a draft charge that I am
23 going to circulate to you now. My law clerk will distribute 24 copies. And I will go over the changes in it with you in a
25 moment. But I want to make a couple of observations about the

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

119

49DANIC3

1 conduct of this trial up to the present time, so that you will
2 be guided tomorrow.

3 First of all, when counsel and the parties are seated
4 in the well of the courtroom, they are not to react to anything
5 that is said from the witness stand or the podium. During 6 Mr. Clarida's opening statement, the plaintiff and his counsel
7 were visibly reacting to Mr. Clarida's statements that there
8 were no damages in this case. There are other instances where 9 the defendant reacted to something that the plaintiff said from 10 the stand. That has got to stop.

11 Second, I told you before we started the trial that 12 one of my pet peeves is that any lawyer who has an objection is 13 to stand up. Mr. Clarida, you have not stood up once. And 14 maybe if you had stood up and objected, the jury wouldn't have 15 listened to all that hearsay, which was pure hearsay by the 16 plaintiff about what other people told him about what they saw 17 in San Francisco and other places.

18 I'm going to tell you right now that if you don't 19 start standing and objecting, if you mutter the word "object"
20 from the counsel table in some low breath, I'm going to direct 21 the court reporter to strike it from the record, for your

22 failure to follow simple rules that will make this trial go
23 much easier, because by your failure to object, the plaintiff
24 and his counsel were obviously emboldened to just go on a grand 25 voyage of hearsay for a page and a half. I was wondering when

(212) 805-0300

120

49DANIC3

1 the defendant was going to object.

2 Now, lastly, you folks told me, as recently as last
3 Friday, that this case was going to be tried in one day or two.
4 But you were actually, Mr. Moskin, shading it toward one day of 5 testimony, and before the trial started, you informed my clerk
6 that you expected the direct of Mr. Nicholls to be about an 7 hour and a half.

8 Well, Mr. Nicholls was on all afternoon. Even at the 9 recess when I asked you how long you were going to be, how much
10 more you had with Mr. Nicholls, you said approximately 45
11 minutes. An hour and 20 minutes later, you concluded your 12 examination. If that's the pace that is being set, we are 13 going to have enormous problems in this case. I have a Markman
14 hearing scheduled in this courtroom for Wednesday morning. I
15 anticipated that the jury was going to be deliberating at that 16 time. Lawyers from some of the largest firms in the United 17 States want to come in here and set up all kinds of equipment
18 for this Markman hearing. That's problem number one.

19 Problem number two is, I told the jury that this case
20 is likely to be in their capable hands tomorrow or Wednesday
21 morning at the outside. Some of them have expressed concern
22 about Rosh Hashanah, which comes up later this week, as you
23 well know.

24 Finally, if we don't finish this case on the 25 appropriate schedule, there is going to be quite a gap, because

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

121

49DANIC3

1 we have a number of observant people on the jury who are going
2 to want to be home for Rosh Hashanah, which will truncate the 3 time, and I am going to be out of the district next week from 4 Monday through Wednesday on court business.

5 So I don't know if that will spur you all to be 6 thinking about what you're doing. I'm trying to do everything
7 I can to streamline the proceedings so that we won't have any 8 delays in your presentation of proof.

9 Now, let me review with you the proposed charge. I
10 guess before I do, one more comment on the Tufenkian motion or 11 application with respect to these exhibits from third parties.
12 I don't see how you're going to get them in through 13 Mr. Tufenkian if he says, as he testified a short time ago,
14 that he has never seen -- that is, Mr. Nicholls -- has never 15 seen anything that even resembles his design. That was his 16 testimony. The fact of the matter is that those other exhibits
17 are certainly relevant if you can get them in. I don't know
18 how you get them in. That's up to you. But when a witness
19 says that there is nothing out there, I read all the magazines,
20 I see all the literature that's in the marketplace, and there

21 is nothing out there like what I've done, the defendant should 22 be able to come back and show that maybe there is something out
23 there. But how you get these third-party materials in is 24 something that I will have to wait to see.

25 Now, on the proposed jury charge, I've gone through.
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

122

49DANIC3

1 You got the revised charge. But let me tell you what I did.
2 First of all, on page 39, the paragraph that begins "the burden
3 of proof lies with the plaintiff," the plaintiffs propose that
4 the elements allegedly copied by defendants from the Prado
5 design were not original to Mr. Nicholls and the defendants
6 sought the language "were not original to the Prado." My view
7 is that this case is about Prado and not about elements that
8 Mr. Nicholls borrowed from earlier works of his own. And so
9 the language that -- I have adopted the defendants' request 10 there, at page 39.

11 Now, at page 40, with respect to originality, I have 12 reviewed the submissions. I decline to give the defendants'
13 proposal on originality in the first paragraph where the 14 defendants proposed to add "where an author's work resembles 15 numerous other works on the market" and goes on from there. I
16 am declining to give that, because I don't think that that 17 accurately represents the law.

18 However, in the final paragraph, I have made some 19 modifications to that portion of the language proposed by the 20 defendant. I have depersonalized it. So instead of referring 21 to Mr. Nicholls' decision in this case, I think an accurate
22 statement of the law is to say, "Furthermore, an author's 23 decision to embody the design in a medium, such as a carpet,
24 rather than some other medium of expression, does not make the 25 design original. It is the design element itself which must be

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

123

1 original."

2 At page 41 of the proposed charge that you submitted,
3 I have adopted defendants' proposed addition in the first
4 paragraph on the grounds that the copyright protection only
5 extends to new elements, and so borrowing from earlier designs
6 is not what's protected here. So "if you find that 7 Mr. Nicholls' Prado involves variations that he copied from 8 preexisting works, including his own prior works or works of 9 others or works in the public domain, then copyright protection
10 extends only to the elements of Mr. Nicholls' Prado that are 11 original to the Prado design or to the uniqueness of the 12 combination of preexisting and/or original elements that are 13 incorporated in the Prado design."

14 Then continuing, in the next paragraph I've adopted
15 the defendants' proposed language there as well for the same
16 reason: "Where an author's work is copied from previous work, 17 including his own prior works, there is no precise rule as to 18 how much must have originated from the author him or herself."
19 No, "There is no precise rule as to how much must have

20 originated in the registered work, in order for the author to 21 claim copyright protection."

22 Yes. Let me read that again. "When an author's work
23 is copied from previous works, including his own prior work, 24 there is no precise rule as to how much must have originated in 25 the registered work in order for the author to claim copyright

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

124

1 protection."

2 Then, at page 42, copying, essential elements, here
3 again, I am adopting the defendants' proposal to add the 4 language "or from his own prior work." In the paragraph that 5 begins "that defendant copied or took only those portions of 6 Mr. Nicholls' work, if any, which were not original with the 7 Prado design -- that is, portions which Mr. Nicholls had in 8 turn copied or taken from somebody else or from his own prior 9 work -- then the defendants are not liable for copyright
10 infringement of the Prado design."

11 Then, on the subject of similarity, page 45, I decline 12 to give the charge proposed by the defendant, namely, that "if 13 the Nicholls and Tufenkian works are similar not only to each
14 other but to a number of other works on the market, that 15 similarity would be relatively unlikely to support an inference
16 that Tufenkian copied from Mr. Nicholls."

17 And turning to page 47, the defendants proposed an 18 additional charge. I think that the charge as proposed by the 19 defendant is too strong. But I agree with the defendant that 20 the thought behind it is one that is appropriate. And so I
21 have modified the defendants' proposed charge to say, "If there
22 is copying of more than a de minimis amount of protected
23 expression from the Prado design, you must determine the 24 similarity between the Tufenkian designs and the Prado with 25 respect to the copied expression. You must ask whether the two

1 works look alike so that a discerning observer would overlook
2 the differences and regard the works as the same. Where the 3 amount of plaintiff's originality is slight, infringement is 4 established only by very close copying."

5 Now, does anyone have any comment on that charge in 6 particular? I guess we can work backwards from there.

7 Obviously, I have stricken the punitive damages claim.
8 Does anyone wish to be heard?

9 MR. MOSKIN: Yes, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: All right.

11 MR. MOSKIN: It may be that this is a -- I have a 12 concern about this final charge, but it may be, the final 13 charge that we're looking at on page 47, and it may be because 14 you have adopted this charge because of reasons that related to 15 the earlier charges as well, so maybe I will, if it makes 16 sense, I perhaps will refer to make a broader statement.

17 THE COURT: Go ahead. That's fine.

18 MR. MOSKIN: I would like to refer to your Honor's own

19 decision in Tufenkian Import/Export v. Einstein Moomjy.

20 THE COURT: A different case than this case.

21 MR. MOSKIN: Clearly. And, in fact, in very important
22 respects. In that case, Mr. Tufenkian acknowledged, and there
23 was no dispute, that his work, in which he claimed originality, 24 was derived from public-domain works, which he reorganized and 25 modified in some slight ways. In that case, it was

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

49DANIC3

1 appropriate, I believe, to apply a discerning-observer test,
2 where, it seems to me, it begs the question here. And the way
3 in which it may ultimately beg the question here relates to 4 your Honor's earlier determination as to some of the earlier
5 charges, that originality can be undermined by the plaintiff's
6 own prior works.

7 The position we have taken in the case, I believe, is 8 the correct position, is that, included in the brief we 9 submitted this morning, there is no authority that would apply
10 essentially a patent law standard of novelty to the copyright
11 context. The defendants have cited one case in which there
12 was -- in addressing an issue of jurisdiction, the court
13 focused on whether the plaintiff had properly identified a 14 prior work in registering what was determined by the court not 15 even to be a derivative work. That case did not hold that the 16 plaintiff's own -- the copyright owner's own prior original 17 designs could be determined to establish the lack of 18 originality of a later design. I am not aware that plaintiff
19 has cited any case to that effect in the patent law. Of course
20 of plaintiff's own invention or an inventor's own prior 21 invention can invalidate a later invention. It can deprive it
22 of novelty. But originality means it's original to the 23 plaintiff. And again, I think there is just an absence of 24 authority that plaintiff has cited, and I'm not aware of any,
25 that would support a conclusion that originality, which is a

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

127

49DANIC3

1 very simple concept -- it means nothing more than the plaintiff
2 didn't copy it from someone else -- to say that the plaintiff
3 is copying from himself is to turn that whole notion on its 4 end.

5 THE COURT: But he is not, the plaintiff is not suing
6 for copyright infringement of the earlier designs.

7 MR. MOSKIN: Correct.

8 THE COURT: He is suing for copyright infringement on 9 the Prado design.

10 MR. MOSKIN: Yes. I don't know in what respects
11 plaintiff means to show -- or, excuse me -- defendant,
12 defendants intend to show that his prior works somehow make 13 unoriginal the Prado design. There are substantial differences
14 between and among them. But it seems to me they are not 15 forbidden from making -- showing that some design elements were 16 in the public domain or were created by someone else. It
17 needn't follow that simply -- these were -- for example, some

18 of these designs showed a series of circles on a grid in a 19 certain proportion. If Mr. Nicholls was the first in the 20 carpet world or in the design world, as far as this record will 21 show, to have arranged circles, as one design element among 22 others -- and none of these consists solely of circles on a
23 grid -- but if he was the first to do that, then that in itself
24 doesn't make unoriginal the use of the -- of a similar design
25 motif in the Prado design. It is still original to him. He is

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

128

49DANIC3

1 the originator of it. That is, I think, the very definition or 2 meaning of originality in the copyright law, as distinct from 3 the patent law.

4 And we began this morning by saying the Copyright Act
5 is delimited by the four corners of the statute. If you care
6 to look at the patent statute, that, in section -- that 7 expressly provides that an inventor's own prior inventions can 8 invalidate a new invention, if they have been published -- if 9 they are more than a year before the filing of the patent
10 application. There is no similar analogue, or anything
11 remotely resembling in the Copyright Act. And frankly, I would 12 defer to Mr. Clarida if he can cite any case that has ever said
13 explicitly that what is original to an author becomes 14 unoriginal simply because he uses that same motif in a later
15 work. We could for example, and a way to work around this, we 16 could say, we could offer in evidence all of his registrations
17 for these earlier designs. And almost every one of them is 18 registered. Those are still original. Your Honor's decision
19 would in effect put those in a sort of nether world of being,
20 for purposes of this lawsuit, in the public domain. We are not 21 claiming that this is a derivative work based on the Portico or 22 the Ravenna or the Maui. There are substantial differences
23 from that. And in the Well-Made Toys v. Gotha case, the court
24 explains that, "What does it mean for something to be a 25 derivative work? It has to be so close that, were it not for

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

129

1 authorization, it would be an infringement."

2 None of those works are, I submit, so close to the 3 Prado design to be an infringement. And, again, I believe this 4 instruction works to the great disadvantage of Mr. Nicholls in 5 effect as a matter of law ruling that what he may have created
6 is no longer his creation. If plaintiff can show it was not
7 his creation, of course they are free to do that. But they, I
8 don't believe they will be able to do that in this case.

9 THE COURT: If Tufenkian said that he copied from the 10 prior works, then that would be OK?

11 MR. MOSKIN: No. We would sue him for infringement of 12 those prior works. But he doesn't contend, nor on the face of 13 it is there any reason to believe, that the accused Eclipse and 14 Total Eclipse designs were copied from, for example, the Maui
15 or Ravenna or Portico. There is not, I don't, in my own 16 assessment, there is not substantial similarity between the 17 Eclipse and the Maui, Ravenna, Portico, and so on. In an 18 appropriate case, if it seemed, if we had had a good-faith

19 basis to allege that, we could have alleged that. The fact 20 that we didn't allege that, with Rule 11 perhaps being the 21 outward delimiting constraint -- I don't believe we had a
22 good-faith basis to allege it -- that doesn't, I believe that 23 shouldn't deprive of protectable status or originality design
24 motifs that are indeed original to Mr. Nicholls. And, again, I
25 don't believe there is any authority. And I note the jury

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

130

49DANIC3

1 instructions on those specific points don't refer to any case
2 law. And defendants in their briefing on the subject have not
3 referred to any case law that would support such a conclusion,
4 which is really a patent law concept, not a copyright concept.

5 THE COURT: Mr. Clarida, what do you have to say?

6 MR. CLARIDA: Well, your Honor, this is fundamentally 7 a copyright question. It is not about patent law at all. And 8 it's about the fundamental copyright principle that the 9 registration of copyright in a work pertains only to the new 10 matter in that work. And just as in Tufenkian I, whether the 11 original matter is public domain material, whether it comes 12 from a third party, whether it comes from the plaintiff's own
13 work, a later work incorporating copyrightable expression from 14 the earlier work does not extend the copyright in that earlier
15 work. And that's exactly what Mr. Nicholls is arguing here, is 16 that he can cover his entire life's work with one copyright
17 registration. And that's simply not provided for in the 18 copyright statute. The result that we have asked for here and 19 that your Honor has incorporated in the jury charge is exactly 20 the same as Judge Buchwald found in the IMS case, namely, if 21 you don't mention a Spec 6A, your registration doesn't cover
22 it. Mr. Nicholls had a chance to declare all his earlier works
23 in Spec 6A. He didn't do that. So whatever is original in 24 those works and carried over to the Prado is not covered by the 25 Prado registration. Otherwise every registration would just

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

131

49DANIC3

1 keep getting more and more powerful as you incorporate more and
2 more works into it. And there is simply no basis in the 3 copyright law for finding that.

4 And the point that we're trying to make here, your
5 Honor, and that I think is now correctly reflected in jury
6 instructions, is that Mr. Nicholls here is arguing, Mr. Moskin
7 is arguing, that Prado is not a derivative work. And we have 8 to ask why is it not a derivative work of the Ravenna or the 9 Portico or the Salim or the Bridgehampton? Why is it not a 10 derivative work? Because all it's done is some circles and 11 squares in a grid with some horizontal color shading. And if 12 it's not enough to make the Prado an infringement of those 13 earlier works, it's not enough to make the Eclipse an 14 infringement of the Prado.

15 So I think your Honor is exactly right in making the 16 decision significance and instructing the jury in this way.

17 Because this is exactly the point of the third-party evidence
18 as well. This is not original to the Prado. And a suit for 19 copyright infringement of the Prado design is not an 20 appropriate forum for saying, oh, but you're taking elements
21 that originated in some earlier design.

22 A copyright doesn't extend to Mr. Nicholls. It
23 extends to a work. That's the argument that I made in my 24 brief. And that's exactly what the IMS case is about.

25 Also, in the IMS case, it's interesting -- and I was
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

132

49DANIC3

1 one of the litigants in that case, and I am still stinging from
2 that case. I remember it very well. The two works at issue
3 were both works by the same party. It was one version of a
4 database and then a year later there was an update of the 5 database. Only the second one was registered. And Judge
6 Buchwald held, correctly I think, that only the new material in 7 that second work was covered. And therefore, your Honor, I
8 think the charge as you have drafted it is correct on those 9 points.

10 MR. MOSKIN: Again, I don't believe there is any case
11 law to support Mr. Clarida's position. I would like to address 12 the IMS case. But, first, the specific substantive point we 13 are addressing here was directly decided by the Second Circuit,
14 not by a parallel Southern District court, which would not be 15 binding on your Honor. But in the Streetwise v. Van Dam case,
16 the Second Circuit said, "On the contrary, because Streetwise 17 is the owner of the copyright of both the derivative and 18 preexisting work, a registration certificate relating to the 19 derivative work in this circumstance will suffice to permit it
20 to maintain an action for infringement based on defendants'
21 infringement of the preexisting work." So the registration --
22 and that's directly from the Second Circuit, in exactly the 23 same way. Mr. Nicholls' registration of the Prado design gives 24 him -- incorporates every right that he would have had even if 25 those earlier works were the source of -- this would be a

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

133

49DANIC3

1 derivative work based on that. You don't have to look any 2 further than Streetwise v. Van Dam.

3 In IMS, the question was --

4 THE COURT: But didn't Streetwise involve a derivative
5 work?

6 MR. MOSKIN: It did.

7 THE COURT: There is no claim here of a derivative
8 work, is there?

9 MR. MOSKIN: Well, that's what Mr. Clarida is saying.
10 You should find that the Prado -- this is his whole argument, I
11 believe. The Prado should be considered a derivative work
12 based on all these earlier designs of Mr. Nicholls. And if you
13 accept his own premise, then under Streetwise you have to 14 conclude that the registration certificate for the Prado covers

15 everything in the Prado, including earlier works from which it
16 was derived. What was at issue in the IMS case was something 17 very different. The court said that the 2002 -- whatever the 18 facts may have been I don't know. Mr. Clarida knows. But what 19 motivated the judge to write the decision, what he expressed in 20 the decision, was that between 2002 and 2003, this underlying 21 database that was published on the Internet had changed, so
22 much so that it was no longer the same work. The plaintiff 23 only had a registration for the 2003 work. The Court had an 24 opportunity to review the subject matter in detail and found
25 the 2003 work was not the same as the 2002 work. It didn't

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

134

1 cover what was copied in 2002.

2 And the critical difference between these two cases
3 is, our allegation is that Mr. Tufenkian copied the product and 4 nothing else. In the IMS case, the plaintiff charged that the 5 defendant copied a 2002 work, for which it didn't own a
6 registration, and the 2003 work for which it did was different.
7 So substantively, the Court could not find that it was the same
8 work.

9 On those facts, as the Court explained it, that makes
10 perfect sense. Just the same way, if Mr. Nicholls was to claim
11 that the Ravenna design was copied by Eclipse or Total Eclipse
12 but he didn't have a registration for the Ravenna, he couldn't 13 then come in with a registration for the Prado -- assuming that 14 things are rather different because if the Prado would look so
15 different -- and sue on that, saying it was a derivative work.
16 You would have to show that the registered -- it's a 17 jurisdictional question under the statute to show that it's the 18 work that was copied.

19 But as far as capturing the prior design elements,
20 Streetwise resolved that conclusively, I believe, in the 21 language I just quoted, that because Streetwise is the owner of 22 the copyright of both the derivative and the preexisting work, 23 the registration certificate relating to the derivative work in 24 this circumstance will suffice to permit it to maintain an 25 action for infringement, based on defendant's copying of the

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

135

49DANIC3

1 preexisting work.

2 So even if they did copy from the Ravenna or Portico
3 or whatever it may be, and even if you did conclude that the 4 Prado was a derivative work, under Streetwise, the registration
5 for the certificate for the Prado captures everything that was 6 derived from those prior works. And Mr. Nicholls' own original
7 contributions to his own earlier works does not in any way
8 limit or undermine the originality of the Prado.

9 MR. CLARIDA: Well, your Honor, if I may just address
10 the Streetwise point briefly. In Streetwise there was a 11 disclosure in Space 6A of the preexisting material. And that's 12 exactly the distinction that IMS makes. It says, this is not 13 like Streetwise where there is a disclosure in Space 6A, where 14 you don't disclose you don't cover.

15 THE COURT: I'm going to go back tonight and I'm going 16 to read these cases again. All right. I take it that the 17 point that you have addressed, Mr. Moskin, earlier, is 18 addressed to all of the things that I have done with the 19 charge. Is that correct?

20 MR. MOSKIN: Well, it would be -- the changes, I
21 think, were on pages 42 -- 41, 42, and -- that may have been -- 22 those were, I think, the only two places where your 23 instructions would permit an inference that Mr. Nicholls' own
24 prior original designs might limit his rights in his later
25 original designs. And to the extent it bears on the last

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

136

49DANIC3

1 instruction we were discussing on page 47, my point would be
2 that, unless there is some evidence that these design elements
3 we're claiming are original were -- that copyright in them is 4 weak -- and I don't think there is any basis for that, because 5 Mr. Nicholls' testimony is that this was all original to him.
6 He didn't -- look, obviously no one would say he owns the 7 circle, just as a composer composing a symphony doesn't own the 8 individual notes. But the overall design, we contend, was 9 wholly original to him. He wasn't looking at any outside
10 influences. And so with that in mind, an ordinary observer
11 test is, I believe, the appropriate test, not a discerning
12 observer test.

13 So that's how those two interrelate.

14 THE COURT: All right. I'll take a look at it
15 overnight.

16 Is there anything else with respect to the charge?

17 MR. CLARIDA: Just one, your Honor. The two proposed
18 additions that the defendant made cited to the Mattell v.
19 Goldberger case about the presence of third-party material as 20 rebutting an inference of copying, I'm just -- I'm not clear
21 what the Court's rationale for disagreeing with that statement
22 of law is. These are quotations from the Mattell Goldberger
23 case. That was the charge on -- the proposed charge at page 40
24 and 45. I believe the pagination is the same in the actual 25 charge.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

137

49DANIC3

1 THE COURT: My reason behind that is that in the 2 Second Circuit a work only need be independently created and
3 have some creativity. The level of creativity needed is really
4 quite low. So that's why I didn't think that your proposal on 5 page 40, citing the Mattell case, was proper. But I will go
6 back and take a look at that again tonight.

7 Anything else?

8 MR. MOSKIN: Nothing, your Honor.

9 MR. CLARIDA: One other. This is not about the 10 charge, your Honor. Is this time to address other matters?

11 THE COURT: It is. Because I want to get to the 12 larger question for a moment of where this trial is going.

13 MR. CLARIDA: Well, then perhaps this question is a 14 segue. We had told you earlier today during voir dire about 15 this other witness, Elizabeth Artinian, who we might want to 16 call for about ten minutes. She is a person who had worked 17 with Mr. Tufenkian in Armenia when he designed the Eclipse. We 18 found out on Wednesday of last week that she was in New York.
19 And I told Mr. Moskin on Thursday morning that we wanted to 20 call her if at all possible, and I offered to make her
21 available for a deposition. We've been going back and forth
22 about when that deposition would take place. We have offered
23 again to make her available this evening. And Mr. Moskin
24 informed me this afternoon that he is going to object to our 25 calling that witness.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

138

49DANIC3

1 THE COURT: You are objecting to her?

2 MR. MOSKIN: Yes. She was never identified on the 3 pretrial order.

4 THE COURT: Why wasn't she included in the pretrial
5 order?

6 MR. CLARIDA: We didn't know she was in New York, your 7 Honor. She had been in Armenia at the time of the depositions
8 in the spring. And I didn't know she was in New York until 9 Wednesday evening of last week, which was after the pretrial
10 order went in.

11 THE COURT: Why didn't you raise this at the final
12 pretrial conference last Friday?

13 MR. CLARIDA: Because I had spoken to Mr. Moskin
14 beforehand, before the conference, and he said we could work
15 out perhaps a deposition on Monday night. And so we were 16 prepared to take him up on that.

17 MR. MOSKIN: I suggested that it was a possibility. I
18 hope I didn't create the impression that I had agreed -- the 19 real -- one of the real problems of course is timing. There's 20 a lot else that needs to be done tonight. And frankly, if 21 there were more time, I wouldn't object. It's really just the 22 crunch of trying to get this done. I am not accusing 23 plaintiff -- excuse me -- defendants of trying to engage in 24 sharp practice or anything. It's just -- it just creates a 25 great inconvenience at this late hour to introduce a new

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

139

49DANIC3

1 witness, whose name came up in earlier -- in the deposition of 2 Mr. Tufenkian months ago, but we have heard nothing about this
3 person, who, as we understood, was living outside the country
4 and wouldn't be available for a deposition.

5 THE COURT: But did Mr. Clarida discuss with you last 6 week before the final pretrial conference that this witness was 7 around?

8 MR. MOSKIN: Yes. He mentioned it, and I said I would 9 see if we could accommodate his request. But I have a concern
10 that we won't be able to do that.

11 THE COURT: What's the prejudice?

12 MR. MOSKIN: Just that I don't know what she will 13 testify to, and I haven't had a chance to examine her
14 beforehand.

15 THE COURT: Why don't you take her deposition for a
16 half hour tomorrow morning, and then we will see whether there
17 is any real prejudice here? Ordinarily I would say that if a 18 witness weren't disclosed in a joint pretrial order, the 19 witness is out. But apparently the witness was disclosed prior 20 to the final pretrial conference and prior to the time that I
21 signed off on the joint pretrial order, which I did at the 22 conclusion of the conference last Friday. So it sounds in part 23 that the hardship of having to do it in the midst of trial is 24 self-created, if everybody was aware of it before the final 25 pretrial conference. But on the question of prejudice, if

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

140

49DANIC3

1 this -- why don't you take her deposition tomorrow morning for 2 a half hour.

3 MR. MOSKIN: I'm not certain if I can get a reporter,
4 among other things, available, on such short notice.

5 THE COURT: I'm sure you can get a reporter. If you
6 can't get a reporter, take her deposition during lunch for a
7 half hour. Her testimony is going to be ten minutes. What is 8 she going to testify to?

9 MR. CLARIDA: She is going to testify to the way she 10 worked with Mr. Tufenkian in creating the design. She was 11 actually the computer operator that Mr. Tufenkian worked with 12 in Armenia when he created the Eclipse design.

13 MR. MOSKIN: I'm not, frankly, given the time, the 14 diversion this will be, this is very last-minute. It's not as 15 if Mr. Clarida raised this a week before the pretrial
16 conference. I think it was the day before. And there was no
17 decision. I am not also sure that she has anything relevant 18 to -- which may go to prejudice. But she was simply the 19 computer operator who was doing what Mr. Tufenkian told. So I 20 don't know -- I'm loath to devote the time now to depose her if 21 it's not critical.

22 THE COURT: The defendant wants to call the witness.
23 The wooden rule that because the witness wasn't disclosed in 24 the pretrial order is a rule that I could rely upon, that some 25 of my colleagues would rely upon, and just be done with it.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

1 But she is here, she happens to be here, I guess quite by 2 accident. Trials are supposed to be the search for truth. If
3 he waited until today to drop her name on you, I would have no
4 sympathy for him, for the defendant. But the fact of the 5 matter is, he didn't wait. He told you when he found out. The 6 fact that it's been in limbo is something that I fault both of 7 you for not raising it with the Court last Friday. But I think
8 you should make arrangements and take a short deposition. But 9 I'll tell you, Mr. Clarida, it's to be around Mr. Moskin's 10 schedule. And it is at Mr. Moskin's office if he decides he 11 wants to do it tonight. Not that he has to go to your office.

12 MR. CLARIDA: That's very well, your Honor.
13 THE COURT: Or you could do it at 8 o'clock tomorrow
14 morning in his office if that's what he wants. It's a half
15 hour. If you want to do it here, you have to let me know later
16 tonight and we will make arrangements for a room someplace in 17 the courthouse, because you can't use the jury room.
18 MR. MOSKIN: That, I think, would be the only 19 practicable way to do it, would be to do it here so we don't 20 have to be away from the court if we do it tomorrow.
21 THE COURT: Fine. We will get a -- I will get Judge
22 Chin's jury room if he is not on trial. We will have a jury
23 room for you tomorrow morning. You can call us. We will let

4 MR. CLARIDA: No, your Honor.
5 MR. MOSKIN: Nothing, your Honor.
6 THE COURT: All right. Are we going to finish the 10 MR. CLARIDA: An hour.

11 THE COURT: How long will your direct be of 13 MR. CLARIDA: An hour and a half perhaps.

14 THE COURT: I am concerned that we won't get to -- we

17 recess a little tomorrow and make up for some time. I want to 18 charge this jury no later than Wednesday morning, consistent
19 with a fair trial. We will have to see how the rest of this 20 case plays out.
21 All right. Have a good night.
22 MR. MOSKIN: Thank you.
23 MR. CLARIDA: Thank you, your Honor.
