Re: Diane von Furstenberg Studio, LP v. Forever 21, Inc. et al., 07 Civ. 2413 (VM)

Dear Judge Marrero:

Plaintiff/Counterclaim-Defendant Diane von Furstenberg Studio, LP and Defendants/Counterclaim-Plaintiffs Forever 21, Inc., Forever 21 Retail, Inc., Forever 21 Logistics, LLC, Forever 21 Capital Holdings, LLC, Forever 21 Investments, LLC and Forever 21 International Holdings, Inc. (collectively, "Parties") in the above-referenced matter had advised the Court on September 6, 2007 that Parties had settled in principle and anticipated sending a notice of dismissal within thirty (30) days. Accordingly, on September 7, 2007, the Court conditionally discontinued the action for thirty (30) days without prejudice. On October 5, 2007, Parties sought and were granted an extension of the conditional discontinuance for an additional two weeks until October 22, 2007.

The Parties now jointly request that the Court extend its conditional discontinuance for an additional two weeks, until November 5, 2007, during which time the Parties expect to finalize settlement and within which time Parties anticipate sending the Court a notice of dismissal. Parties are confident that is the final extension of the conditional discontinuance they will be requesting.
