 Subject: FAPL opportunity / Bullet points

*Why do the deal?*

- First global sports YT deal with world's biggest and most recognized sporting league
- Great new content flow for YouTube, resonating across many geographies
- Prime content with which we can test and improve advertising in various geographies
- Already very popular content on YT...

*Major issues*

- Google becomes a premium, exclusive rights owner
  - Direct competition with Media Partners
  - Likely to be seen as bold move in the world press
  - Very different from other deals where we are a licensee
- Content sub-licensing business is not core Google skills
  - Significant sub-licensing deals required to drive value, particularly in mobile

*Proposed deal terms*

Rights: Exclusive Worldwide rights (excl. UK & Ireland)

Term: 3 years

License fee: Flat fee payable in 3 equal installments (pre-payment of 6% of successful bid required before entering contract negotiations)

→ Estimate License Fee: between 5 to 10% of the International TV rights (£2=0m over 3 years)

600001-00922380

Highly Confidential

Can bid on either (or both) of: Internet Package / Mobile Package

Internet Package:

- individual match highlights, round reviews, archive footage and themed packages across every game week
- 608 clips per year delivered in steady flow

Deadline: Feb 16th at noon
