Dear Tim,

Thank you very much for alerting us to this! I looked into the problem and it appears that some of your message had been caught by our email system's spam filters. I am unsure what caused this but am having the technical team look into it. I was able to pull a list of all your emails and verify that any missed notices have now been removed. I sincerely apologize for this; I don't know what would have caused this to happen. I would like to again invite you to the Content Verification Program, which will greatly increase response time and eliminate the need for email notifications.

YouTube's Content Verification Tool provides an easy-to-use interface where content owners may request removal of infringing content by using check boxes and "select all" functions. After you have submitted a short, one page form in order to verify your identity, this system automatically provides the proper DMCA notification that we need in order to remove your content. This is the fastest way to ensure removal of content from the site - 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

All a content owner needs to do to participate in the program and gain access to this tool is complete and submit to YouTube a short form that can be found here:

http://youtube.com/t/copyright_program

Once your application has been submitted, we will follow up by providing you with a tutorial and login information to get you started and on your way!

We are committed to working in cooperation with content owners to keep infringing content off of the YouTube site! Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Justin
The YouTube Team

Dear Sirs,

The below clips are still online!

I sent an email on the 24th April requesting their removal.

Please remove immediately.

Regards,

Tim
