Blades of Glory Trailer

January 17th, 2007 Rustycat

Nothing like a brand new Will Ferrell and Jon Heder movie to start your day.

In 2002, two rival Olympic ice skaters were stripped of their gold medals and permanently banned from men's single competition. Presently, however, they've found a loophole that will allow them to qualify as a pairs team.

hey kids! yes today is the big day when the much hyped film blades of glory opens in theaters - the film does look totally hilarious and i love the cast yet to be honest the promotional push for this film has been a little overboard (just like for 'snakes on a plane') i hope all the marketing efforts pay off! (it'll probably nab the top box office spot this weekend) anyways the other day i got a package which turned out to be a box of cereal custom made for the film called flakies - made with 110% passion! (scans are below) i did think this was quite clever and a really fun way to generate some buzz for the film plus i should probably eat breakfast more often so i'm also taking it as a sign from the universe! popbytes over & out for now...xxoo!

Blades Of Glory: Funny, In A Squirmy Way?

I had heard of the upcoming film Blades of Glory but all I had seen of it was the image on the left. It stars Will Ferrell, who was great in Eif and Anchorman: The Legend of Ron Burgundy (sorry, I just couldn't get through Tallegoya Nights) and Jon Heder who was so great in Napoleon Dynamite. (I swear I can never recognize Heder in movies!) I knew it had something to do with ice skating and that was it.

I just watched the trailer, and it looks like it will be one of those movies that will make you laugh and squirm in your seat at the same time. :) The concept of the movie is that these guys are the first male/male pair in figure skating history.

And they're not gay.
