ORDER

08 Civ. 1034 (SAS)

SHIRA A. SCHEINDLIN, U.S.D.J.:

Floyd et al v. The City of New York Et al

On September 1, 2009, this Court ordered Defendants to produce to

Doc. 79

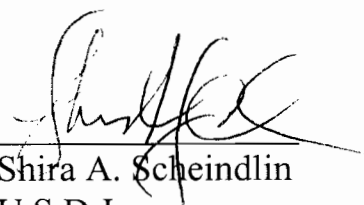

Plaintiffs: (a) all data, including reports and/or summaries and the entire electronic record generated by Defendants as a result of the use of the RAND software; or (b) an affidavit of a person who has knowledge of the technical issues associated with producing such materials describing why it would be unduly burdensome for Defendants to produce the material.

Defendants produced a declaration from Thomas Tigh, the president of SuperiorGlacier, Inc., stating that, in summary, "it will likely be very expensive to produce a redacted copy of the RAND NYPD Internal Benchmark report, and particularly so if the hyperlink functionality is to be retained.” He also stated that he had “recently become aware of the possibility of other programmatic solutions. However, additional details are not available at this time and any such solution would require further research and the cost of programming time and tools.” This demonstrates that he does not have the requisite technical knowledge. Plaintiffs argue that this declaration is insufficient and does not meet Defendants’ obligation to submit a statement from a “person who has knowledge of the technical issues.” Accordingly, all parties have agreed to the Court’s appointment of a neutral expert to determine whether producing the requested materials would be unduly burdensome.

It is hereby ordered that FTI Consulting is appointed as the neutral expert. FTI has agreed to a rate of $300 per hour, the cost of which shall be borne by Defendants, subject to reallocation by the Court after receipt of the report. FTI may consult with any party or the expert retained by any party. Adam Cohen of FTI is the contact person on this assignment. He can be reached at <Adam.Cohen@FTIConsulting.com>.
