Al Rockoff x Obey Clothing

As many of you know Shepard collaborated with photographer Al Rockoff for his Duality of Humanity series this past year. Al is very protective of his work and it is rarely offered for display or for sale so this was a very special opportunity.

For Fall 09 we are introducing a series of shirts featuring Rockoff's photography and Shepard's illustrations as well as a military style M65 jacket. These are available for both men and women. We're honored to be able to work with Rockoff and very proud to bring you this collection. We hope you enjoy it.

About Al Rockoff

Al Rockoff is an American photojournalist made famous by his coverage of the Vietnam War and of the Khmer Rouge's takeover of Phnom Penh, Cambodia's capital. He was also portrayed in the Academy Award winning film The Killing Fields, although he has never been happy with his portrayal.

Rockoff was known to take tremendous risks to get his pictures at a time when any foreign journalist falling into Khmer Rouge hands could expect execution. In October 1974, he was badly wounded by shrapnel in an attack near the strategic city of Kompong Chnang, and technically 'died' for several minutes before his heart was revived by a Swedish Red Cross team. In April 1975, Rockoff was one of five US newsmen to remain in Phnom Penh when the US embassy launched a helicopter evacuation of its staff. On the morning of Phnom Penh's fall, he was visiting the Preah Keth Melea hospital with New York Times reporter Sydney Schanberg and Jon Swain of the Sunday Times when they were arrested by a furious company of teenage Khmer Rouge soldiers. Only the intervention of Schanberg's assistant Dith Pran saved their lives.
