Dear Sirs and Mesdames:

We write to advise that this firm represents J.D. Salinger individually and as trustee of the J.D. Salinger Literary Trust. We intend to proceed to the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York tomorrow, Monday, June 1, 2009, seeking, by order to show cause, a preliminary injunction enjoining and restraining the manufacture, sale, publication, distribution, advertisement and/or other dissemination of a book entitled 60 Years Later: Coming Through the Rye. We are not seeking on this application a temporary restraining order. We will however ask the judge assigned to this case tomorrow, if he or she is available, to make the preliminary injunction returnable at the earliest possible date after effectuation of service, so that the court may promptly consider and issue a preliminary injunction. We are required to give you notice that we are proceeding by order to show cause. Please advise as to the names of your attorneys in New York, if any. If you have attorneys or representatives who intend to appear and oppose our application tomorrow and care to identify them to us, we will advise them when we are ready to proceed to court.

Please contact the undersigned by return email if you have any questions.

Sincerely yours,

Marcia B. Paul
