

EXHIBIT Z

176-PAGE TRADE PAPERBACK COLLECTING #13-15!!

SPECIAL NEW SECTION WITH OVER THIRTY EXTRA PIECES OF NEW KIRBY ART

SPECIAL ISSUES: SUPERNATURAL, THOR, & SCIENCE FICTION THEMES!

MULTIPLE KIRBY INTERVIEWS

INTERVIEWS & CONTRIBUTIONS BY: DICK AYERS, CHIC STONE, WALT SIMONSON, AL WILLIAMSON, & MIKE THIBODEAUX PLUS A NEW INTRODUCTION BY STEVE BISSETTE!

UNPUBLISHED ART INCLUDING PUBLISHED PAGES BEFORE THEY WERE INKED FROM:

CAPTAIN AMERICA, JIMMY OLSEN, NEW GODS, PRISONER, THOR, THE DEMON AND MUCH MORE!!

1999 EISNER AWARDS NOMINEE FOR BEST COMIC RELATED PUBLICATION

FULLY AUTHORIZED BY THE KIRBY ESTATE

THE COLLECTED

JACK KIRBY

VOLUME THREE COLLECTOR

K 00978

Thor TM and © Marvel Characters, Inc. • Artwork © Jack Kirby.

THE COLLECTED
JACK KIRBY
VOLUME THREE COLLECTOR

CELEBRATING THE LIFE AND CAREER OF THE KING!

THE COLLECTED JACK KIRBY COLLECTOR, VOLUME THREE

A TWOMORROWS PUBLISHING PRODUCTION IN ASSOCIATION WITH THE KIRBY ESTATE EDITED BY JOHN MORROW
DESIGN & LAYOUT BY JOHN & PAMELA MORROW PROOFREADING BY RICHARD HOWELL COVER COLOR BY TOM ZIUKO
CONTRIBUTORS JIM AMASH D. BRUCE BERRY STEVE BISSETTE DAVID HAMILTON RICHARD KOLKMAN
BRIAN PEARCE STEVE ROBERTSON STEVE RUDE MIKE THIBODEAUX SPECIAL THANKS TO: MARK EVAMIER
RANDY HOPPE RICHARD HOWELL ROBERT KATZ MARTY LASICK MARK PACELLA MIKE THIBODEAUX TOM ZIUKO
THE CONTRIBUTORS FROM TJKC #13-15 & OF COURSE THE KIRBY ESTATE FOR THEIR CONTINUING SUPPORT OF OUR EFFORTS

This volume reprints issues #13-15 of The Jack Kirby Collector, plus new material
© 1999 TwoMorrows Publishing, 1812 Park Drive, Raleigh, NC 27605, USA. 919-833-8092
First printing • Printed in Canada

DEDICATED TO:

The thousands of devoted Kirby fans, whose support and encouragement turned The Jack Kirby Collector from its humble beginnings into a magazine worthy of Jack's memory. We couldn't do it without you!

COPYRIGHTS:

Absorbing Man, Ajak, Arishem, Balder, Barney Bates, Boomerang, Captain America, Celestials, Colossus, Crystal, Deviants, Devil Dinosaur, Diablo, Don Blake, Dr. Damian, Dr. Doom, Elektro, Enchantress, Eternals, Fandral, Galactus, Giant-Man, Googam, Goom, Green Thing, Haag, Heimdall, Henry Pym, Him, Hogan, Hulk, Ikaris, Iron Man, Jane Foster, KarniMa, Kro, Laufey, Loki, Mangog, Margo Damian, Monolith, Monster in the Iron Mask, Mr. Machine/Machine Man/X-51, Mr. Porgia, Mummy, New Seed, Odin, Pandora, Plunderer, Rawhide Kid, Recorder, Red Skull, Replicus, Sazzik the Sorcerer, Sentry, Sharon Carter, Sif, Silver Surfer, Spider-Man, Sporr, Sserpo, Stone Men From Saturn, Surtur, Tagar, Ter-For, The Leader, The Monster, The Spider, Thermal Man, Thing, Thor, Thorr, 2001: A Space Odyssey, Ulik, Vision, Volstagg, Wasp, Watcher, Wrecker, Xemnu the Titan, Zarko The Tomorrow Man, Zuras TM & © Marvel Characters, Inc.

Asmodon, Batman, Brooklyn, Count Dragoon, Darkseid, DC Thor, Demon, Desaad, Dr. Fate, Farley Fairfax, Four-Armed Terror, Glenda Mark, Goody Rickels, Green Lantern, Guardian, Harry Matthews, Hunger Dogs, Infinity Man, Jason Blood, Jimmy Olsen, Kobra, Lonar, Losers, Lupek, Merlin, Mr. Miracle, New Gods, Newsboy Legion, Orion, Pisces, Randu Singh, Reincarnators, Richard Dragon, Kung-Fu Fighter, Sandman, Sandy, Soul Love, Stone Sentinels of Giant Island, Superman, Toxl, Wonder Woman TM & © DC Comics Inc.

Black Magic, Starman Zero, Strange World of Your Dreams and all associated characters are © Joe Simon & Jack Kirby

Bat-Guy, Blackmass, Bloody Marrien, Captain Victory, Danny Martin, Dr. Royer, Future Morn, General Hascomb, Genie, Holly Martin, Klavus, Leader Guy, Ronin Rocketeers, Silver Star, Sky Masters, Solar Legion, SPQR, Tarin © Jack Kirby

Race For The Moon © Harvey Comics • Honeycomb Kids © General Mills • Rincon and all associated characters © Genesis West • The Prisoner is TM ITV • Thundarr TM & © Ruby-Spears, Inc. • Thunderground is a trademark of SEGA • Dr. Wonder is © Old Town Publishing • Prince Valiant is © King Features Syndicate

All artwork is © Jack Kirby unless otherwise noted • All editorial matter is © the respective authors

SUBMIT SOMETHING, AND GET FREE ISSUES OF THE JACK KIRBY COLLECTOR!

The Jack Kirby Collector is a not-for-profit publication, put together with submissions from Jack's fans around the world. We don't pay for submissions, but if we print art or articles you submit, we'll send you a free copy of that issue or extend your subscription by one issue. So get creative, and get writing! And as always, send us copies of your Kirby art!

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES:

Submit artwork in one of these forms:

- 1) Clear color or black-&-white photocopies.
- 2) Scanned images - 300ppi IBM or Macintosh.
- 3) Originals (carefully packed and insured).

Submit articles in one of these forms:

- 1) Typed or laser printed pages.
- 2) E-mail to: twomorrows@aol.com
- 3) An ASCII file, IBM or Macintosh format.
- 4) Photocopies of previously printed articles OK.

We'll pay return postage and insurance for originals - please write or call first.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ALPHABETICAL INDEX OF NEW KIRBY ART IN THIS VOLUME

Introduction by Steve Bissette	4
Foreword by Jim Amash	7
New Portfolio Section	8
Late-Breaking Kirby News!	26
THE JACK KIRBY COLLECTOR #13
(Supernatural issue)	28
The Kirby Files (an overview of Jack's occult themes)	30
The Golden Age Vision (a look at S&K's supernatural hero)	33
Monsters from Tales of Suspense (relive Jack's greatest Monster yarns)	37
Were They Prototypes? (one collector's concerns about dealers)	41
Dick Ayers Interview (the veteran Kirby inker speaks)	42
The Demon (Jack's DC horror book explored)	46
The Monster of Moraggia (an unpublished 1969 Kirby horror story from Chamber of Darkness #4)	50
Speak of the Devil (the oft-maligned Devil Dinosaur)	55
Young Werewolves In Love! (delve into that old Black Magic)	56
Kirby & Gibson Interview (Jack meets the creator of The Shadow )	60
The Secret Origin of the Hulk? (Scott Shaw! gives us his theory)	65
Spirit World (secrets of Jack's b&w DC magazine)	66
Kirby's Monster Mash (a review of Jimmy Olsen #142-143)	69
Spotlight on: Kirby Costumes (here's a few we bet you've never seen)	70
An Audience With The King (a fan's dual encounters with Jack)	72
Jack's Back? (do you believe in reincarnation?)	74
Contest Winners!	74
Collector Comments	75
THE JACK KIRBY COLLECTOR #14
(Thor issue)	78
The Journey Cosmic (an overview of Jack's Thor)	80
"Real" Tales of Asgard (a look at the ancient Norse legends)	84
Evolution of Thor & the Stone Men (they didn't start in 1962)	86
Chic Stone Speaks (the classic Marvel inker interviewed)	89
A Provenance of JIM Art (which pages still exist?)	92
A Lesson In Kirby Magic (Jack and the NYPD)	93
Jack Kirby: Prisoner of Gravity (a '92 Kirby TV interview transcribed)	94

Some Observations on Thor (Marvel's answer to Superman?)	96
Journey Into Mystery #101 Pencils (a key issue, before inks!)	98
Ominous Prophecies (how Thor connects to New Gods)	103
Pros & Cons of Vince Colletta (fans' views of a much-maligned inker)	104
Kirby As Artistic Craftsman (a study of Kirby's Thor energy)	106
The Gods & Jack Kirby (a Christian's religious view of Thor)	109
Walt Simonson Interviewed	111
New Gods For Old (Jack learned from Thor's mistakes)	116
End Of An Era (the original version of Thor #169)	118
Now You've Done It, Kirby! (how JIM #117 affected a fan's life)	123
Collector Comments	124
THE JACK KIRBY COLLECTOR #15
(Sci-Fi issue)	127
The Great Kirby Sci-Fi Concepts (an overview of Jack's 1960s-'70s ideas)	130
Let's Visit! By Shel Dorf (Shel speaks to Jack in this obscure 1975 interview)	136
Starman Zero & Tiger 21 (how good was Jack's unused comic strip proposal of the late 1940s?)	138
Solar Legion (Kirby's forgotten heroes of the 1940s)	140
Kirby, Physics & Harvey Comics (how Hugo Gernsback started Jack on a Race For The Moon)	141
Interview with Al Williamson (the EC Comics legend discusses Jack, Wally Wood, and sci-fi)	142
Silver Surfer Graphic Novel (the ultimate cosmic disappointment?)	146
The Story Behind Sky Masters (Jack's behind-the-scenes legal battle examined in-depth)	147
Two-page spread: Eternals #4 Pencils	152
Kirby's New History Of The World (the Eternals explored)	154
The Man Beyond The Machine (a critical look at Machine Man )	160
Kirby's Space Oddity (Houston, we've got a problem...)	163
Jack Kirby's Infinite & Beyond (an examination of the 2001 comic)	164
Interview With Mike Thibodeaux (Jack's friend and inker speaks)	166
Captain Victory & Pacific Comics (Steve Schanes tells how they both came to be)	173
Collector Comments	174

BOOK	PAGE
Amazing Adventures
#6 splash page	5
Captain America
#103, page 9 pencils	8
#103, page 10 pencils	9
#210, page 16 pencils	16
#210, page 17 pencils	16
Demon
#1, page 5 pencils	4
Eternals
#4, page 5 pencils	18
#4, page 6 pencils	19
Kobra
#1 unused (inked by Jim Amash)	7
Machine Man
#6, page 6 pencils	17
#6, page 7 pencils	17
New Gods Reprint Series
#6, page 6 pencils	25
#6, page 8 pencils	25
Our Fighting Forces
#159, page 10 pencils	15
#159, page 11 pencils	15
The Prisoner
page 13 pencils	21
page 14 pencils	21
Richard Dragon, Kung-Fu Fighter
#3, page 3 pencils	14
#3, page 5 pencils	14
Soul Love ("Diary of the Disappointed Doll")
page 2 (inked by Tony DeZuniga)	11
page 3 (inked by Tony DeZuniga)	11
page 4 (inked by Tony DeZuniga)	12
page 5 (inked by Tony DeZuniga)	12
Superman's Pal, Jimmy Olsen
#139, page 3 pencils	13
#139, page 16 pencils	13
Tales To Astonish
#31 splash page	1
Thor
#166, page 12 pencils	10
2001: A Space Odyssey
page 46 pencils	20
ILLUSTRATIONS	PAGE
Future Mom animation concept	24
Leader animation concept	24
Thundarr Newspaper Strip pencils	22-23

Front cover inks: Jack Kirby
(originally done for the Marvelmania Thor poster)

Back cover inks: Steve Bissette

Cover color: Tom Ziuko

THE MONSTER OF MORAGGIA

Examining Marvel's revisions to Jack's story for Chamber of Darkness #4, by Jon B. Cooke

(Editor's Note: I suggest you read the penciled story on the following pages BEFORE you read this article, to keep from spoiling Jack's surprise ending!)

What set out to be a standard article — a sidebar, really — on Jack Kirby's pair of stories for Chamber of Darkness #4 and #5, an interesting mystery unravelled. During an interview that mostly concerned Spirit World, I asked Mark Evanier, longtime Kirby associate, what he knew about those tales. Here the article really begins.

Evanier told a story (one he will elaborate on in his forthcoming biography of the King) that related one of several events that might have led Jack to quit Marvel Comics in 1970. When Evanier and Steve Sherman visited Jack in Irvine, California during the summer of '69, Jack told his guests that "he wrote a story that he was in love with," Evanier said, "that Roz thought was the best story that he had ever done, and he sent this thing off, and he was very proud of it. He got back a call from some editorial assistant, whose name to this day is unknown, that was very rude, telling him how he felt he should rewrite his story. 'We don't like it this way... change this, change this...' and Jack took the eraser and just destroyed this story he loved, and turned it into the version that they wanted."

That version was "The Monster," a seven-page horror short from Chamber Of Darkness #4, April, 1970. As printed, it is an unremarkable tale of ugly, misunderstood Andreas Flec (the "Monster"), an arrogant Eastern European nobleman, whose mysterious ways and contemptuous treatment of neighboring villagers provoke the lethal wrath of the townsfolk seeking justice for a perceived abomination.

Kirby historian Greg Theakston was contacted in hopes of tracking down photocopies of the unaltered story, and while they couldn't be found, he remembered seeing copies in the '70s. "This was one of the best horror jobs I had ever seen him do," Theakston said, "and yet completely corrupted in print." In comparing photocopies to the published version, Theakston opined, "It seems remarkable to me that [Marvel] put so much effort into changing what amounted to a perfectly fine story — there's no reason why it couldn't have run as it was." He suggested contacting Marie Severin who worked in the production department at Marvel during the affair, and was cover artist for COD #4.

A serendipitous chain of events then took rapid succession: Severin discovered original photocopies, along with her cover designs, and very kindly shared them with TJKC, adding pragmatically that "I was and am in awe of Jack Kirby, but even he was subject to changes and re-writes." It was then discovered that Mike Thibodeaux was in possession of four pages from the published story and he graciously loaned the originals to TJKC for examination. The differences in the stories were devastating. The sheer inventiveness was diluted out of Jack's original, its grandiose action reduced to parlor room gunplay, and the finale seemed half-hearted. There was evidence of major revisions, and the final boards showed it. Entire pages were discarded, panels cut and rearranged, and remnants of original pencils could be detected under redrawn panels.

Jack's original submission confirms that Stan Lee was intended to dialogue the story, hopefully with "a touch of less standard pontifical oration" as Jack's margin note requests. (Jack apparently plotted the initial story since he had to explain to Stan that they were the witches). After being rejected, Jack got the art back and made changes, erasing most panels and rearranging others, even cutting up his art boards. Stan apparently was responsible for the replotting, since the final art's original — but pasted over — credit box lists Stan Lee as "plotter." But curiously, Jack did do the dialogue on this version, as proven by his handwriting in the balloons, and his erasing the original margin notes.

But the meddling didn't end there; someone at Marvel redraw the faces of the Monster and the mannequin. The revised pencils were then inked by John Verpoorten, and lettered with Jack's dialogue. This begs the question: Why were the faces redrawn? According to one of Severin's initial (but rejected) cover designs, the Monster's face is shown as Jack's "Hunchy" version but depicts a scene from the Lee-plotted story of the character walking through the village. (Could the face change have come about in fear of a Comics Code Authority rejection—or was the Monster's face too similar to another Marvel hunchback character, the CCA-approved villain from the Fantastic Four Annuals, Quasimodo?)

With the final revision, someone changed Jack's already-lettered dialogue in places, and whited out details on the Monster's face. Changes are not rare in the comics industry. (Severin mentioned one X-Men cover that was recolored five times.) But what ultimately concerns us, as Evanier said, is that Marvel transformed "a story that Jack was very proud of... into something he thought was lousy." Subjectively, many might agree that Jack's original was better and this chain of events may indicate more about a strained relationship between collaborators, rather than a substandard comics story.

Our investigation, as gratifying as it is to uncover past mysteries of Jack's career, was not without poignancy. In the original's final panel, the narrating "witches" (reminiscent of the EC horror comics

(continued on page 28)

Here are Marie Severin's two attempts at a Chamber of Darkness #4 cover layout based on Jack's story, and her final cover inked by Bill Everett. Marie comments, "There are many stories that have been redrawn, replotted, etc. We made time for these things and Stan was the boss, and he must have been doing something right. So many people have no idea how much there is to produce a comic, and it was possible then for the editor (in this case Stan) to control his product from plot to coloring—and he also was and is a pro."

TWO STRANGE FIGURES STAY INSISTENT THAT
CONVULGE UP THE WEIRD EVENTS IN THE LIVES OF MEN

(Editor's Note: I obscured Jack's bottom margin notes on this page, so they wouldn't spoil the surprise ending. The notes are shown on page 28.)

SIGN OF DEATH

WANT TO END THREATS OF MONSIEUR

GETS GET HIM
NOW
CAP HIS TERR
PARK

I SAW HIM -- HE HAS ROOM NUMBER
116 TRANKERS WITH TOOLS OF THE DEVIL

WHATS MORE HE HOLDS PASSOVER WAS SERVED HIM AS SLAVES --

WE'VE FOUND A WAY TO GET BY HIS ELECTRIC FENCES--
WE MUST STRIKE TONIGHT

I'LL LIVE HERE AS I ALWAYS
BANG STINGS CHILDHOOD-- I DON'T NEED THEIR ATTENTION

THEY'LL RUN LIKE THEY ALWAYS DO --

OH IF
ROOF
OF GAVE I'LL SEE
LIFE
LIFE OF
FOR CHIEF
AT THE CAMP

AM I NOT FROM THE ABILITY--
WITH THE BEST OF EDUCATION FROM PRIVATE TUTORS

QUICK -- GET THEM -- YOU
MOVE SO SLOW -- DO I
HAVE TO CORRECT YOU!

NOW I HAVE KNOWLEDGE--
I BUILD THINGS -- TO KEEP MY
FROM BEING EMPTY

NOW FOR A TASTE OF BEAUTY-- WIFE CARS ABOUT
OUTSIDE WORLD

NOT VILLAGERS HAVE PUE UNDER-

NOW TO BRISK DOWN
FRONT MIND. AND END MONSTER

NOW TO BRISAKE DOWN
FRONT DOOR AND BRIG MOUNTAIN
CARRIAGE

I'LL SETTING THIS--
FOR GOOD--PREPARE
HE GOTTS ONE-OF US-

OUT WILL BEARS HAVE FOR UNDER
CARRIAGES AND ARE OPENING GATE
BY NEUTRALIZING ELECTRICAL UNITS

HE'LL MURDER THE LOT
OF US

THAT'S
THE
IS!
HE KNOWS
KNOW
WE GOT GAIN
THIS TIME

AREN'T YOU JUST BEAUTIFUL-- GOT THEM MOVING A BIT TOO
SLOW-- AND THE PAPER MOVE-- IT'S STILL A LITTLE OFF KEY

MENT ALREADY AT WINDOW-- HARRIED AT SIGHT-- BUT
GLASS IS TOO THICK TO SEE
WITH GLOBE

HOW OFTEN MUST I USE THIS ON YOU-- CAN'T YOU EVER LEARN TO PLEASE ME

FASTER FASTER
YOU
HEARD
ME
I'LL TELL YOU WHEN TO STOP

LUNCH IS HIT... HE FALLS--

NOW TO FREE HIS SLINGS FROM HIS BULL

THIS IS FIRST TIME IN MANY YEARS WHO OUTSIDERS HAVE COME HERE

TOO LATE LOOK HE KILLED HIS PALS ONUP 54

HURRY WAS JUST A LONELY GUY AND ANG F TO AM HIM

AND THIS IS NOT TORTURE INSTRUMENT IT'S REGULATED THERE

MYSTERY IS RECOVERED SHALL WE UNRAVE NOW?

OUR TALE IS TOLD--

hosts and the then-current trend to have artists narrate tales of terror — all the rage in COD and its sister comic, Tower of Shadows, are unhooded to reveal—surprise!—a cigar-chomping Kirby and his partner, Stan Lee. The team's appearance hearkens back to happier days of their visits in the pages of Fantastic Four, etc. and shows equal collaborators sharing a story of inspired horror. Obliterated from the final version, what remains in the final panel is an empty, steaming pot on a barren hill.

And, after all, wasn't the true essence of Jack's original story about a creator, however misshapen, who reveled in his art and simply wanted to be left alone, to create things "to keep my life from being empty," but who tragically would not be left in solitude by outside, ignorant forces?

There is little doubt it took more than Marvel's gerrymandering of this single story to force Jack to quit the House of Ideas. "It was," Evanier said, "an example of one of the many fights he had." Combined with his reluctance to share new characters, and evidence of similar, arbitrary interference with other Marvel stories, there appears a pattern that might prompt anyone, at the peak of their artistic abilities, to seek another outlet that just might be more appreciative. ①②

FOLLOW ME, MEN! THIS TIME WE'VE CAUGHT THE MONSTER--HOLDING PRISONER SOME POOR GIRL HE HAS CAPTURED!

F...ER ALL

FOLLOW ME, MEN! THIS TIME WE'VE CAUGHT THE MONSTER IN HIS TRAFFIC WITH THE EVIL ONE HIMSELF!

F...ER ALL

FROM PINE RISES PAGES OF THE MONSTER OF MORAGGA (THE TWO WITCHES ARE IN THE SAME) THE CLIMAX IN SURPRISE ENDING. THIS MAY BE THE STORY OF THE SURPRISE ENDING POSITION CHARTER--

(top) The left panel shows published dialogue, and the right shows Jack's original wording, which was whited-out and reticeted.

(bottom) The original art for page 5 of the published version contained a surprise. Two of Jack's original pencil panels were preserved under the bottom, pasted-down panel!