-----x
Defendant ISAK ISAKOV, M.D. by his counsel, BRIAN E. LEE of IVONE, DEVINE & JENSEN, LLP, hereby propounds to the plaintiff the following hereby propounds to the above-named plaintiff, the following written Interrogatories, pursuant to Rule 33 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Local Rule 33.3 of the United States District Court for the Southern District of the State of New York.

Each reference to "state" shall be deemed to mean to respond "in full detail."

INSTRUCTIONS

All responses to Interrogatories (1) are to be provided in detail and precisely by you and your representatives, based on documents, information, or other knowledge in your possession, custody, control or awareness; (2) are to be served within 30 days after service of the Interrogatories, on defendant's counsel, BRIAN E. LEE, IVONE, DEVINE & JENSEN, LLP, 2001 Marcus Avenue, Lake Success, New York 11042.

The Interrogatories are to be answered fully (Rule 33[a]) in writing under oath. Where knowledge or information in your possession is requested, such requests include any "information as is available to the party" (Rule 33[a]) such as information possessed by their directors, officers, employees, representatives, other agents, and attorneys, except to the extent protected by attorney, client privilege, or applicable work product privilege.

You are further advised of your duty to supplement your answers as provided under Rule 26, particularly "if the party obtains information . . . that the response was incorrect when made, or . . . is no longer true" (Rule 26[e][2]). If you obtain subsequent information indicating that an answer to the Interrogatories was incorrect when made, or that an answer, although correct when made is no longer correct, your answers must be amended or changed accordingly.

Note that (1) "an interrogatory otherwise proper is not necessarily objectionable merely because an answer to the interrogatory involves an opinion or contention that relates to fact or the application of law to fact" (Rule 33[b]); and (2) "it is not ground for objection that the information sought will be inadmissible at the trial if the information sought appears reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence (Rule 26[b][1]).

DEFINITIONS

The following terms herein are used with the following definitions:

The terms "plaintiff" or "plaintiffs," "you" and "your," when used herein, refer to plaintiffs in this action.

The term "defendant" when used herein, refers to the defendant in this action and various divisions thereof.

The term "identify," when used herein in connection with natural persons, means to state their full names, titles, and job descriptions, if applicable, and their present or last known business addresses and (except in connection with plaintiffs or their officers and directors) the home addresses and telephone numbers. The term "identify" when used herein in connection with corporate entities, means to state the corporate name and date and place of incorporation and its principal place of business and each of its other present business addresses.

The term "identify", when used herein in connection with documents, means in connection with an interrogatory, to describe the documents, setting forth their dates, titles, authors and sources, parties and addresses, and substance thereof, with such reasonable particularity as is sufficient for a specific demand for production. In connection with an interrogatory, if a document is no longer in your possession, custody, or control, but otherwise would have been identified in response to any interrogatory, "identify" and "state" shall also mean to state whether such document is missing or lost, destroyed, transferred to others, or otherwise disposed of; to describe the surrounding circumstances, any authorization, and the approximate date of such disposition; and to identify if known the present location and custodian of such document, or the persons who would know the present location and custodian of such document.

The term "document(s)," as used herein, means without limitation the following items, whether printed or recorded or otherwise preserved: agreements, communications, correspondence, memoranda, summaries or records of telephone conversations, other recordings made on digital or other audiotapes, summaries or records of personal conversations, diaries, graphs and charts, plans and drawings, photographs, audio recordings, any marginal comments appearing in any document, and all other writings and data compilations from which information can be obtained, including every draft or copy of a document that is not identical thereto or that contains any notation whatever. If preserved in computer memory or disks or similar form, such item shall be translated by plaintiff into reasonable useable form on paper, or a CD or DVD. disk may be provided which is compatible with WordPerfect. All documents produced hereunder shall be organized and labeled to correspond with the categories in the request (Rule 34[b]).

The term "person(s)," when used herein, refers to any natural person or artificial person (including partnership, corporation, unincorporated association, governmental body, or other legally cognizable entity).

The term "or", when used herein, should not be read as to eliminate any part of the interrogatory or request, but whenever applicable and broader should be read to mean "and". For example; "data or printouts" should be read as "data and printouts" if both can be provided.

The term "communication(s)," when used herein, refers to any oral utterance made, heard or overheard, whether in person or by telephone or otherwise, as well as every document in every other mode of intentionally conveyed meaning.

The term "including," when used herein, means including but not limited to.
