HEART ATTACK GRILL®

Taste Worth Dying For!®

Journalists, students, bloggers, and other members of the media are granted permission to freely use the following photos. All we ask is that you respect the hard work and talent of the photographers who've put so much of themselves into capturing the essence of the Heart Attack Grill®, by maintaining the copyright tags and crediting them whenever possible.

Those producing radio or television programs may download and freely use our official theme song, Heart Attack Burger, provided they respect the copyright of the songwriter, Gilbert Bass, and give him credit in the production wherever possible.

The following is for open distribution:

The Heart Attack Grill® is a hospital themed restaurant in Chandler Arizona, which has become internationally famous for embracing and promoting an unhealthy diet of incredibly large hamburgers. Customers are referred to as "patients," orders as "prescriptions," and the waitresses as "nurses."

The menu includes the Single Bypass Burger®, Double Bypass Burger®, Triple Bypass Burger®, and the Quadruple Bypass Burger®, ranging from half a pound to two pounds of beef. Also on the menu are "Flatliner Fries" (cooked in pure lard), no filter cigarettes, hard liquor, beer, and full sugar coke.

HAG--000103

The menu names imply coronary artery bypass surgery, and refer to the danger of developing atherosclerosis from the food's high proportion of saturated fat and excessive caloric content. The Quadruple Bypass Burger[®] has been quoted at around 8,000 calories!

One of the restaurants most celebrated (and widely publicized) gimmicks is the free wheelchair service provided to those "patients" who successfully finish the Triple or Quadruple Bypass Burger[®]. Amidst a flurry of photography from tourist bystanders the "patients" are pushed in a wheelchair out to their cars by the nurse of their choice.

Founded in December of 2005 by Dr. Jon, a non AMA recognized physician. He has been glorified as the freedom fighting arch enemy of political correctness by some, and demonized as a charlatan "nutritional pornographer" by others, Dr. Jon can be found each day, at the griddle, actually flipping hamburgers in his white doctor's lab coat and stethoscope.

The restaurant has found itself in a continual state of self defense against various activist groups and branches of state government. Most notable was a very public threat closure from the Arizona Attorney General's in late 2006.

The controversy hit a crescendo when Dr. Jon was arrested after having attempted to open a live fire hose on a group of picketing nurses. Rush Limbaugh, Geraldo Rivera, and major networks from over sixty countries went live with the story, in a non-stop media frenzy that lasted for months on end.

A compromise was finally reached when Dr. Jon put a disclaimer on his website stating, "The use of the word 'nurse' above is only intended as a parody. None of the women pictured on our website actually have any medical training, nor do they attempt to provide any real medical services. It should be made clear that the Heart Attack Grill[®] and all its employees do not offer any therapeutic treatments".

Despite the obvious animosity between the Heart Attack Grill[®], and various Nursing Associations, Dr. Jon has always taken time in each and every television interview to point out that we are absolutely in the midst of a severe global nurse shortage. "It's a real crisis!" says Dr. Jon, "Each one of us has a duty to help. I view my part is to draw attention to the problem by playing the role of the villain".

One may question whether Dr. Jon's kind words are sincere, considering the underlying motive that everyone can plainly see... money! No matter which side of the debate the general public finds itself, one thing is certain, upon visiting Arizona they all seem to make the pilgrimage for a burger and fries at what is perhaps the worlds most politically incorrect restaurant!

The future of the restaurant, according to Dr. Jon, lies in its ability to successfully transition into a diet center. With sights set firmly upon competing head to head with established weight loss giants such as Jenny Craig[®], Nutri-System[®], and Weight Watchers[®], he pays little attention to nay saying critics.

According to Dr. Jon, "The new Heart Attack Grill[®] Diet Centers will offer the American public something that no other program has ever been able to do... a diet program that you actually enjoy and can stick with for a lifetime!" He did though conveniently fail to mention just how long the "lifetime" of the clients might be.

Dr. Jon's most recent fitness book, the Heart Attack Grill[®] Diet, which teaches readers how to "Eat, Drink, and Smoke their way to Better Health", has not been well received due to its actual advocating of cigarettes, hard liquor, and fornication with girls of a barely legal age.

Dr. Jon and his Naughty Heart Attack Nurses are available for special events and other media appearances. You may contact media@heartattackgrill.com for further information.

Q: I can't find the phone number anywhere. How do I call HAG?

A: We don't have a phone. Come on down to the Grill and let's talk over a burger.

Q: Has anyone ever survived a Quadruple Bypass Burger®?

A: We perform several Quadruple Bypass procedures each day, but only few people have actually finished the entire burger.

Q: What the fastest time that anyone has ever eaten a Quadruple Bypass Burger®?

A: Joey Chestnut devoured the Quadruple Bypass Burger® in only 1 minute and 47 seconds!

Q: Why don't you carry diet coke?

A: Next question.

Q: I was told that the Heart Attack Grill invented a new dance craze which is sweeping the nation. Is that true?

A: Yes it is. We call it the "Heart Attack Burger"

Q: Is Dr. Jon really a doctor?

A: Despite not being recognized by the American Medical Association, Dr. Jon continually labors in the pursuit of new medical breakthroughs. He urges all not to ignore the achievements of medical community's maverick fringes.

Q: Do you franchise?

A: No.

Q: What are the all time top ten all time greatest HAG moments?

A: There have been a lot of GREAT moments! Check back next week for the complete list of shenanigans.

Q: What really goes on at Sponge Bath Sunday.

A: We can't tell you, but we promise that you'll get squeaky clean!

Q: How can I find out more about what goes on at the Grill.

A: Join the Angus Club.

Q: I've been told that Dr. Jon and the Italian male model Fabio are really one in the same person. Is that true??

A: That's possible, we've never seen them together in the same room.
