	7	that discussed?		7	Q. There came a time when Amazon did move to
	8	MR. BUTERMAN: Objection to form.		8	agency with certain publishers; am I right?
	9	A. Again, because I was informed by counsel		9	A. Yes, that's correct.
13:31:46	10	about the serious legal issues involved in the agency	13:34:26	10	Q. They did so with Macmillan on February 5;
	11	proposal, in my mind the business and legal issues are		11	am I right?
	12	inextricable, and that's the reason we asked I		12	A. I don't remember the specific date but
	13	believe they joined the meeting. I was they told		13	that time frame sounds correct.
	14	me it was appropriate for them to join the meeting,		14	Q. HarperCollins on February 23?
13:32:01	15	and we sought their advice during the discussion.	13:34:37	15	A. The same answer.
	16	Q. I'm sorry, who told you it was appropriate		16	Q. Simon & Schuster on March 23?

But nothing during the 2010 time period when you're negotiating these agency deals? A. No, I did not. Q. All right. Did anybody at the publisher in connection with negotiating the agency deals mention the type of contract that they may have had with Apple? A. In my experience publishers didn't often or ever I can't recall them talking about Apple specifically. Based upon what I was reading in the press at the time and indirect intimations of publishers, sometimes I got the sense that their negotiations with us were being driven by their Apple contracts but I I can't point to anything specifically. 	14:14:32 14:14:44	4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21	 them to stay on the terms we had been, under which we had been doing business. Q. Did you personally communicate that to anybody at Macmillan? A. I am sure I did. I don't remember specific conversations but and it was you know, things were moving very quickly.
