Re: Dector, et al. v. RCI PLBG, Inc., et al., Civil Action No. 17-cv-2269

Your Honor,

Judgment-Creditors in the above-captioned matter, by and through counsel, write the Court to request the Court stay the deadline for Judgment-Creditors to file their motion for successor liability, which is due on March 15, 2024. After months of not responding to judgment debt discovery and attempts to speak telephonically, Judgment-Debtors Robert Dimiceli answered undersigned counsel's telephone call on March 14, 2024, which telephone call was made in anticipation of filing a motion to compel responses. On the telephone call, Dimiceli indicated that he intends to respond to the requests. As such, Judgment-Creditors request that the Court stay the deadline for the motion for successor liability until Dimiceli responds to judgment-debt discovery or again ceases communicating. Should Dimiceli fail to meaningfully participate, Judgment-Creditors will seek to file a motion to compel responses.

Respectfully submitted,

SLATER SLATER SCHULMAN LLP

Geoffrey A. Kalender, Esq.
