

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

---

JOHN LOPEZ,

Plaintiff,

v.

PAUL CHAPPIUS, JR., et al.,

Defendants.

---

DECISION & ORDER

17-CV-6305EAW

On May 15, 2017, pro se plaintiff John Lopez (“plaintiff”) commenced this action against the defendants pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983, alleging that defendants violated his First Amendment rights during his earlier incarceration at the Elmira Correctional Facility. (Docket ## 1, 8). Currently pending before this Court is plaintiff’s motion seeking appointment of counsel. (Docket # 20).

It is well-settled that there is no constitutional right to appointed counsel in civil cases. Although the court may appoint counsel to assist indigent litigants pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e), see, e.g., Sears, Roebuck and Co. v. Charles W. Sears Real Estate, Inc., 865 F.2d 22, 23 (2d Cir. 1988), such assignment of counsel is clearly within the judge’s discretion. In re Martin-Trigona, 737 F.2d 1254 (2d Cir. 1984). The factors to be considered in deciding whether or not to assign counsel include the following:

1. Whether the indigent’s claims seem likely to be of substance;
2. Whether the indigent is able to investigate the crucial facts concerning his claim;

3. Whether conflicting evidence implicating the need for cross-examination will be the major proof presented to the fact finder;
4. Whether the legal issues involved are complex; and
5. Whether there are any special reasons why appointment of counsel would be more likely to lead to a just determination.

Hendricks v. Coughlin, 114 F.3d 390, 392 (2d Cir. 1997); see also Hodge v. Police Officers, 802 F.2d 58 (2d Cir. 1986).

The Court must consider carefully the issue of appointment of counsel because “every assignment of a volunteer lawyer to an undeserving client deprives society of a volunteer lawyer available for a deserving cause.” Cooper v. A. Sargenti Co., Inc., 877 F.2d 170, 172 (2d Cir. 1989). Therefore, the Court must first look to the “likelihood of merit” of the underlying dispute, Hendricks v. Coughlin, 114 F.3d at 392; Cooper v. A. Sargenti Co., Inc., 877 F.2d at 174, and “even though a claim may not be characterized as frivolous, counsel should not be appointed in a case where the merits of the . . . claim are thin and his chances of prevailing are therefore poor.” Carmona v. United States Bureau of Prisons, 243 F.3d 629, 632 (2d Cir. 2001) (denying counsel on appeal where petitioner’s appeal was not frivolous but nevertheless appeared to have little merit).

The Court has reviewed the facts presented herein in light of the factors required by law and finds, pursuant to the standards promulgated by Hendricks, 114 F.3d at 392, and Hodge v. Police Officers, 802 F.2d at 58, that the appointment of counsel is not necessary at this time. As stated above, a plaintiff seeking the appointment of counsel must demonstrate a likelihood of success on the merits. See id. Plaintiff has not done so at this stage. Moreover, the legal issues in this case do not appear to be complex.

Plaintiff maintains that appointment of counsel is warranted in this case because COVID-related restrictions at his facility have inhibited his ability to conduct legal research. (Docket # 20). Nevertheless, COVID-related restrictions are not alone “a sufficient basis upon which to grant pro bono counsel.” Steele v. United States, 2021 WL 465360, *3 (S.D.N.Y. 2021). In any event, despite the alleged difficulties posed by COVID-related restrictions, plaintiff has demonstrated a continued ability to litigate this case on his own, including filing a memorandum of law complete with citation to legal authority in opposition to defendants’ motion to dismiss. (Docket # 18).

On this record, plaintiff’s request for the appointment of counsel (Docket # 20) is DENIED without prejudice at this time. It is the plaintiff’s responsibility to retain an attorney or press forward with this lawsuit pro se. 28 U.S.C. § 1654.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
