

- (3) Prior to filing any further discovery motions in this case, the parties must hold a discovery conference either by telephone or in person and attempt to resolve the discovery dispute without the Court's intervention. Email communication or communication via written letters will not suffice.
- (4) The Court will not consider any further discovery motions in this case unless the moving party attaches to the motion an affidavit of counsel setting forth: (a) the date, time, and place of the discovery conference, as well as the names of each person participating in the conference; (b) the issues addressed at the discovery conference; and (c) the steps taken after the discovery conference to resolve the discovery dispute without Court intervention.
- (5) If after a review of the affidavit the Court finds that the moving party did not undertake a good faith effort to resolve the dispute and did not provide the opposing side a reasonable opportunity to resolve a discovery related issue prior to filing a motion, the Court will summarily deny the motion with prejudice.
