THIS MATTER is before the Court on its own motion following the filing of the Government’s Motion to Dismiss. (Doc. No. 5). The Court notifies Petitioner that, in accordance with Roseboro v. Garrison, 528 F.2d 309 (4th Cir. 1975), Petitioner has a right to respond to the Government’s motion to dismiss.¹ The Court also advises Petitioner that failure to respond may result in dismissal of the petition.

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED that:

1. Petitioner shall respond to the pending Motion to Dismiss, (Doc. No. 5), no later than fourteen (14) days from entry of this Order. Failure to file a timely and persuasive response will likely lead to the dismissal of this action.
