Hauntworld - America's Best Haunted Houses
 Review by: Hauntworld Magazine

Eerie corners and horrific scenes of blood curdling fright await all who enter their local haunted houses during the 2009 Halloween season now become bigger than anyone could have ever imagined with some haunted attractions bigger than entire football fields and costing in produce. The haunted house industry is a multi-million dollar industry with major vendors like Scarefactory, Distortions, Ghost Ride and provide innovative animations, special effects, costumes, and products. This is an evolved industry from simple blood and guts scares to a top dollar Hollywood horror movie experience.

Haunted attractions have gotten so big that most major attraction owners no longer need to hold full time jobs to make ends meet. They job and now work year round on their haunted houses, pushing the boundaries to make America scream. In this day and age of high tech and interactive entertainment, the Halloween Attraction industry has had to take its game to new FRIGHTS! For decades America celeb pumpkins, taking their kids trick-or-treating, or taking in a Hollywood horror movie to get their scream on. Today things have changed. A house is NOW the traditional way to celebrate the Halloween season. Sure parents still take their kids trick-or-treating, but adults who w the haunted house industry blossomed 10 or 15 years ago are still visiting haunted houses today, along with a new generation of haunte-

Haunted Houses have more guest attendance than ever before to the tune of over ONE BILLION DOLLARS. In comparison, Hollywood annually. Yet the Halloween Attractions industry, in only one month can gross 1/9 that of the movie industry's annual intake. WOW! As the Halloween Attraction industry also includes corn mazes, pumpkin patches, hayrides, amusement parks and even zoos that celebrate and attractions.

Scream seekers want LIVE action. They want to feel the sensations of being stalked or being terrified. They want to literally feel fear as and experience it live. No horror movie, no roller coaster, nothing you could experience could replace the sensations you will experience haunted house!

Every season Hauntworld Magazine and Hauntworld.com (the World's #1 Halloween and Haunted House website providing haunt-seeker comprehensive haunt directory on the web) produces a top 13 list to find some of the best haunted houses in America. Make no mistake are not the only scary haunted houses in America. There are haunts we have not yet experienced or discovered, but our lists change ev about new haunted houses near you! We rely on our users and guests of our website to point us to new haunted houses and Halloween perhaps we've never seen nor heard of prior. Others could be new haunts preparing for their first year of fear. If you know about an awt near you TELL US, WRITE US, we want to know what makes your local haunted house one of America's best haunted attractions. We can find a haunted house NEAR YOU, not necessarily ones simply listed on our annual Hauntworld Top 13 Lists.

Use Hauntworld.com to shop by state for haunted houses near you. The home page, interactive map of North America will assist you to haunted attractions from haunted hayrides, haunted woods, haunted trails, haunted mazes, corn mazes, and more!! Now we present you with our annual guide to some of America's Best Haunted Attractions 2009!

If you know of a haunted house we should review and rate for our 2009 list feel free to email us. Lastly remember this is NOT the only way to make sure you visit a local haunted house near you by using our Haunt Directory located on the Front page of www.Hauntworld.com.
