Dear Mr. Onufrak:

My name is Jason Schneider. I am an attorney in Atlanta, Georgia. I acted as local counsel for the law firm of Wolk and Genter in the case of Taylor vs. Teledyne.

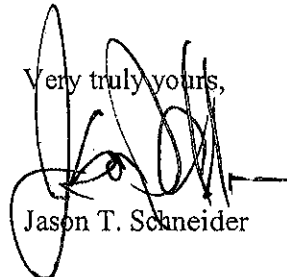

Arthur Wolk sent me your clients' article claiming that the Taylor clients' claims were compromised so Mr. Wolk could get a critical discovery order vacated. That article and its implications are entirely false.

I attended the mediation along with Richard Genter. Mr. Wolk was not present or consulted by phone during the mediation. Nor was he involved in discovery in that case to my knowledge except for a conference call with the court regarding a discovery dispute between the parties.

A settlement was reached and concluded with a release and the clients never indicated to me they were dissatisfied with the outcome. It was only after the settlement had been agreed to, that Mr. Wolk asked for a one week delay to ask the court to vacate the order. There is no question in my mind that the settlements reached were completely separate from any request to vacate the discovery order. The settlements reached were also well in excess of any sums offered at the mediation. Therefore, to say "it appears" that the clients' interests were somehow compromised to get the discovery order vacated is wrong.

Arthur asked me to write this letter to put you and your clients on notice that what they said is false and it continues to be false on the Overlawyered website. What your clients' article means is I allowed this to happen, and I can assure you and your clients that they are wrong.

My name was on that docket and all they had to do was call me and I could have dispelled their notion before it ever made it to print. They, to this day, have never contacted me to get the facts straight.

Very truly yours,

Jason T. Schneider
