This matter is before the Court for consideration of Plaintiff’s objections to the Report and Recommendation (“R & R”) of United States Magistrate Judge Kaymani D. West.¹ See ECF Nos. 13 & 15. The Magistrate Judge recommends summarily dismissing Plaintiff’s pro se complaint without prejudice. R & R at p. 7.

Standard of Review

The Magistrate Judge makes only a recommendation to the Court. The Magistrate Judge’s recommendation has no presumptive weight, and the responsibility to make a final determination remains with the Court. Mathews v. Weber, 423 U.S. 261, 270–71 (1976). The Court must conduct a de novo review of those portions of the R & R to which specific objections are made, and it may accept, reject, or modify, in whole or in part, the recommendation of the Magistrate Judge or recommit the matter with instructions. 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(b).

The Court must engage in a de novo review of every portion of the Magistrate Judge’s report to which objections have been filed. Id. However, the Court need not conduct a de novo review when a party makes only “general and conclusory objections that do not direct the [C]ourt to a specific error in the [M]agistrate [Judge]’s proposed findings and recommendations.” Orpiano v. Johnson, 687 F.2d 44, 47 (4th Cir. 1982). In the absence of specific objections to the R & R, the Court reviews only for clear error, Diamond v. Colonial Life & Acc. Ins. Co., 416 F.3d 310, 315 (4th Cir. 2005), and the Court need not give any explanation for adopting the Magistrate Judge’s recommendation. Camby v. Davis, 718 F.2d 198, 199–200 (4th Cir. 1983).

Discussion²

Plaintiff, proceeding pro se, has filed a complaint seeking to sue his former employer’s law firm for alleged defamation stemming from his state workers’ compensation action. See ECF No. 1. The Magistrate Judge recommends summarily dismissing Plaintiff’s complaint for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. See R & R at pp. 3–7. Specifically, the Magistrate Judge concludes there is neither diversity nor federal question jurisdiction over this action. See id.; see generally 28 U.S.C. § 1331 (federal question jurisdiction); 28 U.S.C. § 1332 (diversity jurisdiction).

Plaintiff has filed objections, but he does not specifically object to the Magistrate Judge’s conclusion that this Court lacks subject matter jurisdiction over this action. See Diamond & Camby, supra (stating that absent a specific objection, the Court need only review the R & R for clear error and need not give reasons for adopting it). Instead, Plaintiff rehashes and supplements the allegations in his complaint. Plaintiff’s objections provide no basis for this Court to deviate from the Magistrate Judge’s recommended disposition, and therefore the Court will adopt the R & R.

² The R & R thoroughly summarizes the factual and procedural background of this case, as well as the applicable legal standards.

Conclusion

For the foregoing reasons, the Court adopts and incorporates by reference the R & R [ECF No. 13] of the Magistrate Judge. Accordingly, the Court DISMISSES Plaintiff's complaint *without prejudice*³ and without issuance and service of process.⁴

IT IS SO ORDERED.

³ See S. Walk at Broadlands Homeowner's Ass'n, Inc. v. OpenBand at Broadlands, LLC, 713 F.3d 175, 185 (4th Cir. 2013) (“[D]ismissals for lack of jurisdiction should be without prejudice because the court, having determined that it lacks jurisdiction over the action, is incapable of reaching a disposition on the merits of the underlying claims.” (alteration in original) (citation omitted)).

⁴ In the Court's view, Plaintiff cannot cure the defects in his complaint by mere amendment. See Goode v. Cent. Virginia Legal Aid Soc'y, Inc., 807 F.3d 619, 623 (4th Cir. 2015). The Court therefore declines to automatically give Plaintiff leave to amend.
