The petitioner, Kenneth Ray (“Petitioner”), proceeding pro se, brings this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254 for habeas relief.¹ Petitioner is an inmate at Broad River Correctional Institution, a facility of the South Carolina Department of Corrections (SCDC), and files this action in forma pauperis under 28 U.S.C. § 1915. Petitioner has filed a previous § 2254 petition in this Court, which was dismissed on summary judgment, C/A 8:05-00763-HMH-BHH. This petition is successive, and is presented without an order from the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals authorizing this Court to consider a successive petition. This petition is therefore subject to summary dismissal.

Standard of Review

Under established local procedure in this judicial district, a careful review has been made of the pro se petition filed in this case. The review was conducted pursuant to the procedural provisions of the Rules Governing Habeas Corpus Cases Under Section 2254 and the Anti-Terrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act (AEDPA) of 1996, and in light of the following precedents: Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25 (1992); Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 324-25 (1989); Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519 (1972); Nasim v. Warden, Maryland House of Correction, 64 F.3d 951 (4th Cir. 1995); Todd v. Baskerville, 712 F.2d 70 (4th Cir. 1983); Boyce v. Alizaduh, 595 F.2d 948 (4th Cir. 1979). This Court is required to construe pro se petitions liberally. Such pro se petitions are held to a less stringent standard than those drafted by attorneys, see Gordon v. Leeke, 574 F.2d 1147, 1151 (4th Cir. 1978), and a federal district court is charged with liberally construing a petition filed by a pro se litigant to allow the development of a potentially meritorious case. See Hughes v. Rowe, 449 U.S. 5, 9 (1980); Cruz v. Beto, 405 U.S. 319 (1972). Even under this less stringent standard, however, the petition submitted in the above-captioned case is subject to summary dismissal. The requirement of liberal construction does not mean that the Court can ignore a clear failure in the pleading to allege facts which set forth a claim currently cognizable in a federal district court. See Weller v. Department of Social Servs., 901 F.2d 387 (4th Cir. 1990).

Background and Discussion

With respect to his conviction and sentence, a petitioner's sole federal remedy is a writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 or 28 U.S.C. § 2254, which can be sought only after a petitioner has exhausted his state court remedies. See 28 U.S.C. § 2254(b); Picard v. Connor, 404 U.S. 270 (1971); and Braden v. 30th Judicial Circuit Court, 410 U.S. 484, 490-491 (1973)(exhaustion required under 28 U.S.C. § 2241). Although it is possible that Petitioner has exhausted his state court remedies, his petition is successive.

As noted above, Petitioner has filed a prior § 2254 habeas corpus action in this Court. This Court may take judicial notice of Petitioner's prior § 2254 case. See Aloe

Creme Laboratories, Inc. v. Francine Co., 425 F.2d 1295, 1296 (5th Cir. 1970).

Petitioner's prior § 2254 case was dismissed based on an analysis of the merits.

See C/A 8:05-00763-HMH-BHH, Report and Recommendation of January 11, 2006 and Order of February 27, 2006 adopting the Report and Recommendation.

Therefore, this petition is successive. The previous petition raised grounds including ineffective assistance of trial counsel, ineffective assistance of appellate counsel, and a complaint that the grounds in his Application for Post-Conviction Relief (PCR) were not fully addressed by the PCR judge in his dismissal. The grounds presented in the instant petition (ineffective assistance of appellate counsel, subject matter jurisdiction, and violations of the Sixth and Fourteenth Amendments) appear to overlap somewhat with those in the former case. Regardless of whether they have been presented before, however, they cannot be presented in this successive petition. "A claim presented in a second or successive habeas corpus application under section 2254 that was presented in a prior application shall be dismissed" 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(1). And "[a] claim presented in a second or successive habeas corpus application under section 2254 that was not presented in a prior application shall be dismissed" unless an exception applies.² Petitioner has presented no arguments that relate to any of the statutory exceptions.

² An exception applies if:

28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(2)(A) the applicant shows that the claim relies on a new rule of constitutional law, made retroactive to cases on collateral review by the Supreme Court, that was previously unavailable; or
(B)(i) the factual predicate for the claim could not have been discovered previously through the exercise of due diligence; and
(ii) the facts underlying the claim, if proven and viewed in light of the evidence as a whole, would be sufficient to establish by clear and convincing evidence that, but for constitutional error, no reasonable factfinder would have found the applicant guilty of the underlying offense.

The “AEDPA does not define ‘second or successive’”. US v. Orozco-Ramirez, 211 F.3d 862, 867 (5th Cir. 2000). The standard for determining whether a petition is successive appears in Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S. 473, 485-489 (to qualify as “successive” petition, prior petition must have been adjudicated on the merits). See Harvey v. Horan, 278 F.3d 370 (4th Cir. 2002) (dismissal of a habeas petition for procedural default is a dismissal on the merits for purposes of determining whether a habeas petition is successive). While a dismissal for failure to exhaust administrative remedies is not an adjudication “on the merits,” as discussed in Slack, the previous case was in fact dismissed based on a detailed discussion of the merits of each of the grounds presented. See C/A 8:05-00763-HMH-BHH, Report and Recommendation of January 11, 2006 and Order of February 27, 2006 adopting the Report and Recommendation.

As a result, the § 2254 petition in the above-captioned case is subject to dismissal under Rule 9 of the Section 2254 Rules.³ Miller v. Bordenkircher, 764 F.2d 245, 248-250 & nn. 3-5 (4th Cir. 1985). See also McClesky v. Zant, 499 U.S. 467, 113 L.Ed.2d 517, 111 S.Ct. 1454, 1467-1472 (1991); Section 106 of the AEDPA, Public Law 104-132, 110 U.S.Stat. 1214; Bennett v. Angelone, 92 F.3d 1336 (4th Cir. 1996); and Armstead v. Parke, 930 F. Supp. 1285 (N.D.Ind. 1996).

Conclusion

Accordingly, it is recommended that the § 2254 petition in the above-captioned case be dismissed without prejudice as a successive § 2254 petition under Rule 9 of the Section

³ Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases in the United States District Courts, Rule 9, Second or Successive Petitions: “Before presenting a second or successive petition, the petitioner must obtain an order from the appropriate court of appeals authorizing the district court to consider the petition as required by 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(3) and (4).”

2254 Rules, without requiring the respondents to file a return. See Allen v. Perini, 424 F.2d 134, 141 (6th Cir.)(federal district courts have duty to screen habeas corpus petitions and eliminate burden placed on respondents caused by ordering an unnecessary answer or return); and Toney v. Gammon, 79 F.3d 693, 697 (8th Cir. 1996) (a petition may be summarily dismissed if the record clearly indicates that petitioner's claims are either barred from review or without merit); and the Anti-Terrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996. Petitioner's attention is directed to the important notice on the following page.
