SECOND DEFENSE

93. The Complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted.

THIRD DEFENSE

94. CFG has not infringed, either directly or indirectly, any valid and/or enforceable claim of United States Patent No. 5,910,988.

FOURTH DEFENSE

95. CFG has not infringed, either directly or indirectly, any valid and/or enforceable claim of United States Patent No. 6,032,137.

FIFTH DEFENSE

96. CFG has not infringed, either directly or indirectly, any valid and/or enforceable claim of United States Patent No. 5,265,007.

SIXTH DEFENSE

97. CFG has not infringed, either directly or indirectly, any valid and/or enforceable claim of United States Patent No. 5,717,868.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

98. United States Patent No. 5,265,007 (“the ‘007 patent”) is invalid and/or unenforceable for failure to comply with one or more provisions of the patent laws and regulations of the United States set forth in Title 35 of the United States Code, including, but not limited to, 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103, 112, and 116.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

99. United States Patent No. 5,717,868 (“the ‘868 patent”) is invalid and/or unenforceable for failure to comply with one or more provisions of the patent laws and regulations of the United States set forth in Title 35 of the United States Code, including, but not limited to, 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103, and 112.

NINTH DEFENSE

100. United States Patent No. 5,910,988 (“the ‘988 patent”) is invalid for failure to comply with one or more provisions of the patent laws and regulations of the United States set forth in Title 35 of the United States Code, including, but not limited to, 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103, and 112.

TENTH DEFENSE

101. United States Patent No. 6,032,137 (“the ‘137 patent”) is invalid for failure to comply with one or more provisions of the patent laws and regulations of the United States set forth in Title 35 of the United States Code, including, but not limited to, 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103, and 112.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

102. On information and belief, the ‘988 patent and the ‘137 patent are unenforceable for the reasons that the applicant, agent, assignee, or other persons involved in prosecution of the applications giving rise to the '988 and '137 patents committed inequitable conduct.

103. During prosecution of the '988 patent, the Applicant who filed the application giving rise to the '988 patent filed a Petition to Make Special and Accelerate Examination ("the '988 Petition to Make Special") on October 23, 1998.
104. During prosecution of the '137 patent, the Applicant who filed the application giving rise to the '137 patent filed a Petition to Make Special and Accelerate Examination ("the '137 Petition to Make Special") on February 16, 1999.
105. A material misrepresentation was made about U.S. Patent No. 4,264,808 ("the '808 patent") in both the '988 Petition to Make Special and the '137 Petition to Make Special.
106. It was stated to the USPTO in the '988 Petition to Make Special that the '808 patent "does not teach or disclose a communication network for the transmission of transactional data within or between one or more data access subsystems and at least one data processing subsystem." This statement is false or materially misleading. A similar misrepresentation was made about the '808 patent in the '137 Petition to Make Special.
107. The '808 patent teaches a communication network for the transmission of transactional data, data access subsystems and at least one data processing subsystem.

108. On information and belief, the named inventor, the assignee, his attorney, or other persons associated with the filing and prosecution of the applications that led to the issuance of the '988 and '137 patents knowingly misrepresented the '808 patent with an intent to deceive the USPTO.
109. A material misrepresentation was made about U.S. Patent No. 5,647,017 ("the '017 patent") in both the '988 Petition to Make Special and the '137 Petition to Make Special.
110. It was stated to the USPTO in the '988 Petition to Make Special that the '017 patent "does not include any form of data management subsystem for maintaining various forms of captured data, such as biometric data or smart card data...." This statement is false or materially misleading. A similar misrepresentation about the '017 patent was made in the '137 Petition to Make Special.
111. The '017 patent teaches a data management system for the capture and verification of biometric information, including biometric information other than signatures.
112. On information and belief, the named inventor, the assignee, his attorney, or other persons associated with the filing and prosecution of the applications that led to the issuance of the '988 and '137 patents knowingly misrepresented the '017 patent with an intent to deceive the USPTO.
113. A material misrepresentation was made about U.S. Patent No. 5,657,389 ("the '389 patent") in both the '988 Petition to Make Special and the '137 Petition to Make Special. It was stated to the USPTO in the '988 Petition to Make Special that the '389 patent does not describe a device that includes "any form of arrangement for capturing and sending paper transaction data nor does it include any means for processing, sending, verifying and storing any paper transaction data." This statement is false or materially misleading. A similar misrepresentation was made about the '389 patent in the '137 Petition to Make Special.

114. The '389 patent teaches, among other things, a check scanner for capturing and sending paper transaction data.

115. On information and belief, the named inventor, the assignee, his attorney, or other persons associated with the filing and prosecution of the applications that led to the issuance of the '988 and '137 patents knowingly misrepresented the '389 patent with an intent to deceive the USPTO.

116. A material misrepresentation was made about U.S. Patent No. 5,506,691 ("the '691 patent") in the '137 Petition to Make Special. It was stated to the USPTO in the '137 Petition to Make Special that the '691 patent "is essentially limited to a device that will capture and store image data and does not include any sort of network or data sharing when the data is encrypted and encrypted data communications between subsystems." This statement is false or materially misleading. The '691 patent teaches a system employing a network to share data.

117. On information and belief, the named inventor, the assignee, his attorney, or other persons associated with the filing and prosecution of the applications that led to the issuance of the '137 patent knowingly misrepresented the '691 patent with an intent to deceive the USPTO.

118. A material misrepresentation was made about U.S. Patent No. 5,602,933 ("the '933 patent") in the '137 Petition to Make Special.

119. It was stated to the USPTO in the '137 Petition to Make Special that the '933 patent does not describe "any form of internetworking and encrypted data communication between subsystems." This statement is false or materially misleading.

120. The '933 patent teaches a system employing a network to communicate data between subsystems.

121. On information and belief, the named inventor, the assignee, his attorney, or other persons associated with the filing and prosecution of the applications that led to the issuance of the '137 patent knowingly misrepresented the '933 patent with an intent to deceive the USPTO.

122. A material misrepresentation was made about U.S. Patent No. 5,602,936 ("the '936 patent") in the '137 Petition to Make Special.

123. It was stated to the USPTO in the '137 Petition to Make Special that the '936 patent does not describe "any form of internetworking sharing of image information." This statement is false or materially misleading. The '936 patent teaches the internetworking sharing of image information.

124. On information and belief, the named inventor, the assignee, his attorney, or other persons associated with the filing and prosecution of the applications that led to the issuance of the '137 patent knowingly misrepresented the '936 patent with an intent to deceive the USPTO.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

125. DataTreasury's claim is barred under the doctrine of laches.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

126. DataTreasury is not entitled to injunctive relief because the balancing of the equities favors CFG.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

127. DataTreasury is not entitled to lost profits as a measure of damages.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

128. DataTreasury, or persons on DataTreasury's behalf, making, offering for sale or selling the alleged invention/patented article(s) and service(s) failed to give reasonable notice to the public by fixing or marking, or both, the invention/patented article(s) and service(s) in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 287.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

129. Plaintiff is not entitled to recovery because some or all of the accused activities are covered by 28 U.S.C. § 1498(a).

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

130. At least part of DataTreasury's remedy for CFG's allegedly infringing use complained of in the Complaint "shall be by action against the United States in the United States Court of Federal Claims for the recovery of [its] reasonable and entire compensation for such use" pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1498(a).

131. As the result of the operation of 28 U.S.C. § 1498(a), Plaintiff has failed to name an indispensable party.

WHEREFORE, CFG respectfully requests that the Court dismiss the First Amended Complaint with prejudice, enter judgment in CFG's favor, and award to CFG the costs, including reasonable attorney's fees, it incurred in responding to the First Amended Complaint.

COUNTERCLAIMS

1. This Court has subject-matter jurisdiction over the following Counterclaims under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338(a).

44. A material misrepresentation was made about the '808 patent in the '137 Petition to Make Special.
45. It was stated to the USPTO in the '988 Petition to Make Special that the '808 patent “does not teach or disclose a communication network for the transmission of transactional data within or between one or more data access subsystems and at least one data processing subsystem.” This statement is false or materially misleading. A similar misrepresentation was made about the ‘808 patent in the ‘137 Petition to Make Special.

46. The ‘808 patent teaches a communication network for the transmission of transactional data, data access subsystems, and at least one data processing subsystem.
47. On information and belief, the named inventor, the assignee, his attorney, or other persons associated with the filing and prosecution of the applications that led to the issuance of the ‘988 and ‘137 patents knowingly misrepresented the ‘808 patent with an intent to deceive the USPTO.
48. A material misrepresentation was made about U.S. Patent No. 5,647,017 (“the ‘017 patent”) in the ‘988 Petition to Make Special.
49. A material misrepresentation was made about the ‘017 patent in the ‘137 Petition to Make Special.
50. It was stated to the USPTO in the ‘988 Petition to Make Special that the ‘017 patent “does not include any form of data management subsystem for maintaining various forms of captured data, such as biometric data or smart card data....” This statement is false or materially misleading. A similar misrepresentation about the ‘017 patent was made in the ‘137 Petition to Make Special.
51. The ‘017 patent teaches a data management system for the capture and verification of biometric information, including biometric information other than signatures.

52. On information and belief, the named inventor, the assignee, his attorney, or other persons associated with the filing and prosecution of the applications that led to the issuance of the '988 and '137 patents knowingly misrepresented the '017 patent with an intent to deceive the USPTO.
53. A material misrepresentation was made about U.S. Patent No. 5,657,389 ("the '389 patent") in the '988 Petition to Make Special.
54. A material misrepresentation was made about the '389 patent in the '137 Petition to Make Special.
55. It was stated to the USPTO in the '988 Petition to Make Special that the '389 patent does not describe a device that includes "any form of arrangement for capturing and sending paper transaction data nor does it include any means for processing, sending, verifying, and storing any paper transaction data." This statement is false or materially misleading. A similar misrepresentation was made about the '389 patent in the '137 Petition to Make Special.
56. The '389 patent teaches, among other things, a check scanner for capturing and sending paper transaction data.
57. On information and belief, the named inventor, the assignee, his attorney, or other persons associated with the filing and prosecution of the applications that led to the issuance of the '988 and '137 patents knowingly misrepresented the '389 patent with an intent to deceive the USPTO.
58. A material misrepresentation was made about U.S. Patent No. 5,506,691 ("the '691 patent") in the '137 Petition to Make Special.

59. It was stated to the USPTO in the '137 Petition to Make Special that the '691 patent "is essentially limited to a device that will capture and store image data and does not include any sort of network or data sharing when the data is encrypted and encrypted data communications between subsystems." This statement is false or materially misleading.
60. The '691 patent teaches a system employing a network to share data.
61. On information and belief, the named inventor, the assignee, his attorney, or other persons associated with the filing and prosecution of the applications that led to the issuance of the '137 patent knowingly misrepresented the '691 patent with an intent to deceive the USPTO.
62. A material misrepresentation was made about U.S. Patent No. 5,602,933 ("the '933 patent") in the '137 Petition to Make Special.
63. It was stated to the USPTO in the '137 Petition to Make Special that the '933 patent does not describe "any form of internetworking and encrypted data communication between subsystems." This statement is false or materially misleading.
64. The '933 patent teaches a system employing a network to communicate data between subsystems.
65. On information and belief, the named inventor, the assignee, his attorney, or other persons associated with the filing and prosecution of the applications that led to the issuance of the '137 patent knowingly misrepresented the '933 patent with an intent to deceive the USPTO.

66. A material misrepresentation was made about U.S. Patent No. 5,602,936 (“the ‘936 patent”) in the ‘137 Petition to Make Special.
67. It was stated to the USPTO in the ‘137 Petition to Make Special that the ‘936 patent does not describe “any form of internetworking sharing of image information.” This statement is false or materially misleading.
68. The ‘936 patent teaches the internetworking sharing of image information.
69. On information and belief, the named inventor, the assignee, his attorney, or other persons associated with the filing and prosecution of the applications that led to the issuance of the ‘137 patent knowingly misrepresented the ‘936 patent with an intent to deceive the USPTO.
