Amy --

This memorializes our notes and conversation yesterday morning. Please let me know if you have any changes or additions. With the exception of certain specified areas (and of course the motions to compel), we hope that we are close to resolving the disputes.

1. GPS and EMG presentations -- You state that you have searched them and are in the process of producing them -- hopefully by the end of this week. On this score, we note that there do not appear to have been many financial executive-level presentations included in the productions over the last week, and we hope that they will be coming ASAP.
2. Other presentations -- We disagree that you do not have to search for other executive-level presentations. We believe that this is fairly captured within our pending motion to compel. If you disagree and would like us to bring another motion on this point, we can do so.
3. Board of Directors minutes and presentations -- You plan to produce the minutes this week, and presentations shortly thereafter. We are quite concerned on the time it will take to produce these.
4. We are agreed that you will search the business lead of the subset of acquisitions by name of the company, project codename, and any abbreviations, stock symbols, etc.
5. See my prior email regarding financial documents.
6. We tentatively agreed (subject to your client's approval) to search Mr. Chen's files for the agreed search string "(patent or intellectual property or ip) . . . , etc." and bizdev@google.com and competitors@google.com. We expressed concern about getting the files in sufficient time for the deposition. We also agreed that categories of withheld material for privilege was acceptable. Please confirm that such a search is acceptable and is taking place.
7. Yes, it was the August 6 email. Jeremy Brandon sent today another confirmatory email on this related point to make sure we have all of the wiki-type documents involving design or code related to AdWords and AdSense.

8. The discussion of the email addresses turned into a discussion of searching the corporate development/business development/patent groups (or any other groups dealing with buying patents or companies) for our clients in a narrow search term. You were hopeful that your client would agree. Please let us know by tomorrow.

9. Applied Semantics Legacy documents -- We asked for the same narrowly-targeted search on the Applied Semantics legacy documents for our clients. We suggested that they search 3-4 people who were there at the beginning and the founders of the company, such as Elbaz. Please let us know ASAP on this point.
