Johnny, Doug, and Dave,

Thanks for taking the time to speak with us yesterday. We understand that, without conceding any deficiencies in your clients' initial patent disclosures, you are willing to address the issues raised in my June 27 letter. We appreciate that. We look forward to receiving documents substantiating plaintiffs' ownership of the patents in suit on or before August 13, and to receiving additional information clarifying your infringement contentions by July 17. We anticipate you'll send that additional information in the form of supplemental initial patent disclosures, which is the format we would prefer. If you provide the information in a different format, we'll evaluate it at that time and let you know if we have concerns.

We also understand that plaintiffs are not asserting infringement of claim 39 of the '819 patent.

Regards,
Liz
