EXHIBIT 21

Thank you for asking about Dublin. We have lots of things to do and see in our immediate area. You may want to start by touring our Dublin Dr Pepper plant and museum. They actually do bottling several days a week using all the old equipment. The tour is wonderful even if they are not bottling that day. They have great snacks, sandwiches and Dr Pepper specialty drinks. They have lots of t-shirts and other items to peruse through. You can contact them at www.dublindrpepper.com

We also have two museums. "The Dublin Historical Museum" on Blackjack Street. It is a hands on museum that even we Dubliners enjoy return visits to see what is new. They are open every afternoon from 1 to 5 p.m., 7 days a week except holidays.

Next door on Blackjack is the "Rodeo Heritage Museum" which celebrates the Dublin World Championship Rodeo that was owned in part by Gene Autrey back in the 40's and 50's. Call to check on their hours. (254) 445-0200. Across the street is the Wright Historical Park which features a century old grist mill, log cabin and syrup mill.

Coming soon will be the Ben Hogan Museum at the corner of Blackjack and Grafton. Ben Hogan was one of the greatest golfers in the world and this will be the only stand alone museum of it type to honor him.

North of town is an artisan cheese factory (www.Veldhuizencheese.com) which is certainly worth a visit. Check on their website to be sure when they will be touring.

Worthington Gardens is just outside of town heading south. Here you can pick your own fruits and vegetables or just purchase fresh produce from them. They are closed during the winter but worth the trip in the spring and summer. 254 879-2400.

Next to our library is the Veterans Memorial honoring all members of our armed forces from Dublin. Many of the names are from the civil war. This is definitely worth taking a minute of your time.

There are lots of unusual shopping opportunities in town as well as within walking distance of Dr Pepper. One can park near the plant and walk to most of the downtown shops and restaurants.

Lunch possibilities for a large group will probably be limited to Granny Clark's which has a wonderful buffet. I would suggest avoiding the lunch hour at noon and either go early or later as this is a popular spot and is crowded at noon. Perhaps you could call 254 445-3444 and let them know when you are coming. There is also The Buckboard Restaurant across the street that is non-smoking with wonderful food selections. 254 445-4107.

Dublin has many restored Victorian homes as well as Craftsman bungalow homes. We have a driving tour brochure that shows their locations and their history. Stop by our office at 111 S. Patrick and we will give you maps and brochures to help with your day in Dublin.

If there is anything else that we can help you with be sure to call us! 254 445-3422.
