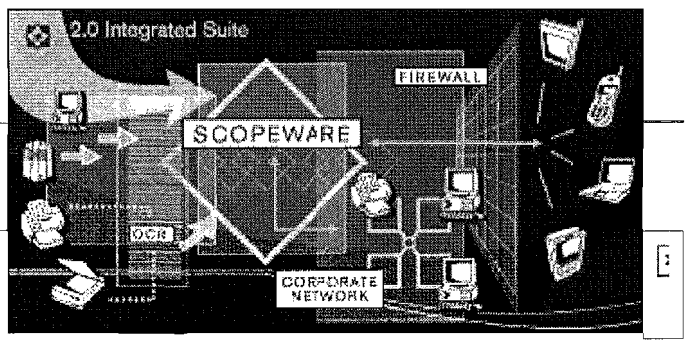
Scopeware 2.0 Integrated Suite

Scopeware 2.0 Integrated Suite is a complete information management solution that provides real-time wireline and wireless access to works-in-progress, legacy network information and scanned paper-based documents, email and email attachments, calendaring and collaboration tools, and more.



scopeware™
2.0 Integrated Suite

Provide secure access to information with document-based permissioning. Maximize the value of your information by putting information in the hands of the people who need it now. Old information, new information — where you want it, when you need it.

Scopeware 2.0 Integrated Suite puts the features of the powerful Scopeware modules at your organization's fingertips. Powered by patented revolutionary information storage, and access technology, Scopeware 2.0 Integrated Suite captures, indexes, and makes available all of the digital and paper-based information stored within your organization. Users can search for information based on document title, document content, when the document was created, document type, and more — AND they can access the information from their desktop, laptop, PDA, or WAP phone.

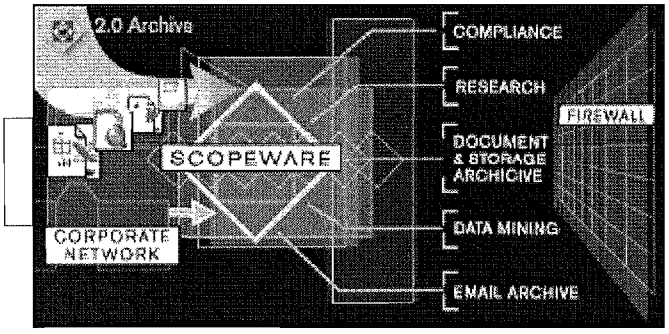
Scopeware 2.0 Archive

Scopeware 2.0 Archive is an archival and research tool that brings the organizational benefits of Scopeware to vast repositories of business critical information. With a read-only interface, Scopeware 2.0 Archive transforms any collection of email, archived electronic information, documents, proprietary data feeds, or custom business systems into digital reference libraries.



scopeware™
2.0 Archive

Putting previously created information in the hands of the people who need it today. Unleash the power of legacy information in your company.

Scopeware 2.0 Archive is perfect for compliance, research, sales force management, forms processing, and LAN directory monitoring. Powered by patented revolutionary information storage and access technology, Scopeware 2.0 Archive captures, indexes, and makes available information stored within your organization. Users can search for information based on document title, document content, when the document was created, document type, and more. Furthermore, streams of information can be refined, allowing users to zero in on the document or documents that they need — all of this without once leaving their desk.
