RE: Eolas Technologies Incorporated v. Adobe Systems, Inc., et. al; Civil Action
No. 6:09-CV-00446-LED; United District Court of Texas; Eastern District.
Google Instant Infringement Chart

Dear Chris:

Please see the attached infringement chart for Google Instant. As far as we have been able to determine, Google recently added this functionality to its web site, and certainly did so after the date of Eolas' initial infringement contentions. See <http://www.google.com/instant/> ("Google Instant is a new search enhancement that shows results as you type."). See also <http://technolog.msnbc.msn.com/news/2010/09/08/5069614-google-instant-speeds-up-search>. Accordingly we have produced the attached infringement chart for Google Instant and provided it to you as quickly as possible.

We intend to move the Court for leave to supplement our infringement contentions to include the Google Instant chart attached hereto. Please let us know at your earliest convenience if you oppose, and, if so, on what basis.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thank you,

Matt Rappaport
