MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

Before the court is the United States’ Motion for Default Judgment, filed June 10, 2015. After careful consideration of the motion, appendix, record, and applicable law, the court grants the United States’ Motion for Default Judgment.

I. Background

The United States (“Plaintiff” or “United States”) filed Plaintiff’s Complaint (“Complaint”) on February 27, 2015, against Mark A. Dossey (“Defendant” or “Dossey”). This action arises from the failure of Dossey to make the required payments on a loan he obtained in May 1995. The loan was disbursed for $2,625 and $3,803 on August 18, 1995, through November 1, 1995, at a variable rate of interest to be established annually by the Department of Education. The loan obligation was guaranteed by Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation and then reinsured by the Department of Education under the loan guaranty programs authorized under Title IV-B of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, 20 U.S.C. 1071 et seq. (34 C.F.R. Part 682). After demand of payment by the United States, Dossey defaulted on the loan on August 28, 2002.

Dossey was served with a copy of the summons and Complaint on May 7, 2015. Defendant was required to answer or otherwise respond to the Complaint by May 28, 2015, 21 days after service of the summons and Complaint. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 12. To this date, Dossey has not answered or otherwise responded to the Complaint.

On June 4, 2015, the United States requested the clerk of court to enter a default against Dossey, and the clerk entered default against Dossey the same day. Plaintiff now requests the court to enter a default judgment against Dossey and award it damages and applicable interest as a result of his default.

II. Discussion

A party is entitled to entry of a default by the clerk of the court if the opposing party fails to plead or otherwise defend as required by law. Fed. R. Civ. P. 55(a). Under Rule 55(a), a default must be entered before the court may enter a default judgment. Id.; New York Life Ins. Co. v. Brown, 84 F.3d 137, 141 (5th Cir. 1996). The clerk of court has entered a default against Dossey. The court also finds, based upon the information in the record, that Defendant is not a minor, incompetent person, or member of the United States military.

Dossey, by failing to answer or otherwise respond to Plaintiff's Complaint, has admitted the well-pleaded allegations of the Complaint and is precluded from contesting the established facts on appeal. Nishimatsu Constr. Co. v. Houston Nat'l Bank, 515 F.2d 1200, 1206 (5th Cir. 1975) (citations omitted). Based on the well-pleaded allegations of Plaintiff's Complaint, which the court accepts as true, and the record in this action, the court determines that Dossey is in default and that the United States is entitled to a default judgment and appropriate damages.

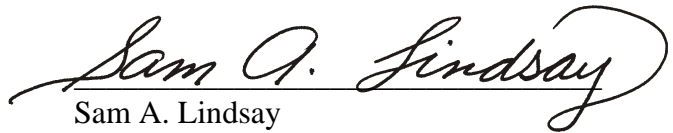

Based on the record, the total amount that Dossey owed the United States as of September 9, 2014, was $15,588.15 ($10,328.69 in principal and $5,259.46 in interest). Interest accrues on the principal at the rate of 3.13% per annum, or a per diem rate of $.89. The number of days from September 9, 2014, to June 30, 2015, is 294, which results in additional interest in the amount of $261.66. Therefore, the total amount of judgment to which the United States is entitled is $15,849.81.

III. Conclusion

For the reasons herein stated, the court grants the United States' Motion for Default Judgment, and Plaintiff is entitled to and shall recover from Defendant the amount of $15,849.81. The court will enter judgment by separate document, as required by Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 58, in the amount stated in favor of the United States.

It is so ordered this 30th day of June, 2015.

United States District Judge
