

Vote All the Way Down the Ballot

Now that straight-ticket voting is not an option, how should we talk about voting?

Most Texas voters will cast their first ballot non-straight-ticket voting on November 3, 2020.

Slogans

Toplines

Focus on voting and completing their ballot

Don't get caught up in educating voters that there is no straight-ticket voting. Instead, stress the importance of voting for Democrats in every single race. Stress that it is not only our duty to vote, we must also complete our ballot.

Promote MyTexasVotes.com

Texans can learn more about voting, find their polling place, print their Democratic ballot, register to vote, report any challenges while voting, and so much more at MyTexasVotes.com -- our online hub for expanding and protecting the vote. We must amplify efforts to reach voters who may be unfamiliar with their voting options. Encourage Texans to make their voting plan.

Encourage voters who can vote by mail to vote by mail

Remind voters that voting is easy. Promote voting early. While we know losing straight-ticket voting will impact voting lines, stay away from language that might make a voter stay home because they don't want to wait. We want voters to be excited about voting. "We're going to have a record turnout in 2020 and turn Texas Blue! Good Democrats get their ballot at home, take their time to mark all the Democrats from President to the Courthouse, and mail it in long before voting in person begins. Good Democrats don't take a place in line or in a polling booth that could be occupied by a casual voter who won't wait!"

Remember Voters already -- and frequently -- vote without straight-ticket

33% of Texas voters did not use straight-ticket in 2018. Primary and primary runoffs do not have a straight-ticket option. Local, nonpartisan elections do not have a straight-ticket option. Most voters who have moved to Texas from another state never had straight-ticket voting. Focus on voting and why voting for Democrats is important.

The straight-ticket voting option does not necessarily affect ballot drop-off.

People drop off the ballot for various reasons. Example: In 2018, there was 2.5% dropoff and in 2014, there was a 19.5% dropoff. Both years had straight-ticket voting.

Be Positive

It's our job to talk with them about voting all the way down the ballot, our Democratic values, and their voting options. We expect record-breaking turnout in 2020. It's important to start conversations now and get people invested in our movement.

New Voting Experience

New Machines

A significant number of counties (and all of the biggest counties except Harris) will have new touch screen and paper trail machines. Voting a complete ballot on these machines will be much quicker than using machines with dials. It's faster to vote, faster to review and make corrections (no paging back through the entire ballot).

Solutions

Strong Voter Expansion and Protection Programs

The Texas Democratic Party is committed to expanding and protecting the vote through several programs: registering voters; maintaining MyTexasVotes.com, our voter information hub; helping hundreds of thousands of Democrats vote by mail; and launching our biggest voter protection effort ever.

Texas Democrats will meet this opportunity with big organizing on the ground — chasing voter registration forms sent to new Texas residents, knocking on the doors of Texans who need to get registered, partnering with organizations doing high school and college campus organizing, and developing and fostering a culture of registration amongst Texas residents across the state.

In 2020, we will send more than 1,500,000 vote-by-mail applications to help increase the Texas vote — more than ever before. The Texas Democratic Party runs the most comprehensive, Democratic, statewide vote-by-mail program for seniors and disabled voters. In partnership with county parties and Democratic campaigns, over the past three cycles, the Texas Democratic Party has nearly tripled the number of Democratic votes by mail.

On January 1st, 2020 we'll go live with a year-round hotline to answer any voter's question and triage any voter suppression attempt during the primary and the November election.

We're teaming up with Democratic lawyers and allies to file lawsuits to block voter suppression or intimidations as they happen. And every occasion of voter suppression or intimidation will be noted and filed away for future legal challenges and court cases around redistricting.
