Re: The SCO Group v. Novell, Inc.
Case No. 2:04CV00139

Dear Judge Stewart:

Mindful of the Court's admonition that the parties seek to avoid unnecessary "surprises" in connection with the upcoming trial in the above-referenced case, we are writing to inform the Court that Novell will be holding its 24th annual "Brainshare" technical conference at the Salt Palace Convention Center in Salt Lake City on March 21-25, 2010—during the course of the scheduled trial. Brainshare is one of the largest and most respected technical conferences in the world. It is expected that more than 4,000 registrants will be attending the conference, at which Novell and various business partners will make some 250 different presentations.

We have advised SCO's counsel of the foregoing.

Sincerely,
