
IN THE UNITED STATES COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF UTAH
CENTRAL DIVISION

TERESA VALENCIA

Plaintiff,

vs.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Defendant.

ORDER DISMISSING PLAINTIFF'S
§ 2255 MOTION

Case No. 2:06-CV-00328 PGC

This matter is before the court on plaintiff Teresa Valencia's motion under § 2255 to vacate, set aside, or correct sentence. Generally, the movant must file her § 2255 motion within one year from the date of final judgment of conviction.¹ Ms. Valencia's judgment of conviction was completed on August 19, 2003. Her § 2255 motion was not filed until two-and-a-half years later, on April 18, 2006. While there are recognized exceptions,² Ms. Valencia has failed to demonstrate that any of those exceptions should apply in her case. Based on her failure to timely file this motion, the court hereby DISMISSES her § 2255 motion (#1) and DENIES her motion to appoint counsel because the court dismisses her case (#3).

¹28 U.S.C. § 2255.

²See 28 U.S.C. § 2255 (listing three exceptions to the general rule).

The court also notes that to the extent that Ms. Valencia's motion is premised upon the Supreme Court's holding announced in United States v. Booker,³ her motion would nonetheless be dismissed regardless of the required certification based on this court's prior ruling in Rucker v. United States.⁴ Post-Booker, the Tenth Circuit held that Blakely v. Washington,⁵ the prequel to Booker, "did not announce a watershed rule of criminal procedure that would apply retroactively to initial § 2255 motions."⁶ The Seventh Circuit has also held that Booker does not apply retroactively to initial § 2255 motions,⁷ and the Tenth Circuit cited this opinion in its decision in United States v. Prince.⁸ Indeed, neither Apprendi v. United States,⁹ Booker or Blakely announced new rules of constitutional law made retroactive by the Supreme Court to collateral review.¹⁰ Therefore, should Ms. Valencia later attempt to convince the court that the exception listed in 28 U.S.C. § 2255 applies to his case ("the date on which the right asserted was initially recognized by the Supreme Court, if that right has been newly recognized by the Supreme Court and made retroactively applicable to cases on collateral review"), such an argument would be futile.

⁴382 F. Supp. 2d 1288 (D. Utah 2005).

⁵542 U.S. 296 (2004).

⁶*United States v. Price*, 400 F.3d 844, 849 (10th Cir. 2005).

⁷*McReynolds v. United States*, 397 F.3d 479, 481 (7th Cir. 2005).

⁸400 F.3d at 849.

⁹530 U.S. 466 (2000).

¹⁰*See United States v. Bellamy*, 411 F.3d 1182, 1188 (10th Cir. 2005); Price, 400 F.3d at 849; United States v. Mora, 293 F.3d 1213, 1219 (10th Cir. 2002).

The court DISMISSES Ms. Valencia's motion (#1) and DENIES her motion to appoint counsel because the court dismisses her case. The court directs the Clerk's Office to close this case.

DATED this 20th day of April, 2006.
