Lt. Mays,

We provide you a free widget to embed the map in to your website. Here is an example of how we did it with Fort Myers P.D.: <http://www.fmpolice.com/Crime/CrimeMapReports/tabid/156/Default.aspx>

To get it started there is a signup page on our website, our terms of service are located at the bottom of the signup page. That is our contract. Here is the link of the signup page: <http://crimereports.com/lea/register>

After signing up our client services rep will give you a call to set up integration. It is a very quick process and we should have you set up in a couple hours. Feel free to call me with any questions.

Sincerely, Peter

Peter,

Please forward me any contracts or other needed documents for us to proceed. A PO has been assigned (#CP091009cm amount $1,188.00) for billing. Let's start the project..

One more question, I believe I noted as affirmative in earlier information. Can the map be embedded in our webpage?

There would be no charge to reconfigure the system. Any maintenance we do is free. We can have you up and running at any time. October 1 would be great. It literally takes just a couple hours to get you setup. We can bill you annually as well. We offer you a free 30 day trial of our service and we can get that started any time you want.

Peter,

One additional question if I may. If we would decide to go with the software, is there a charge if we change our current CAD RMS vendor thus needing to reconfigure the system? Is there an additional charge for initial setup? Additionally if I were to commit, can we be billed annually and up and running say by October 1.

Lt. Mays,

PE 000360

We have a small piece of software that will sit on either someone's computer that has an ODBC connection to the server or the server, which ever you prefer. That piece of software has a query that calls to the server each night, at the time you specify, to pull down certain pieces of information that you want to display on our website. This is usually crime type, date, time, identifier, and anything else you wish. Our integration engineer will help you decide on those pieces of information during integration. It pulls that information down to our CrimeReports publisher and then the publisher pushes the information to our website, so we don't keep any direct connections to your server, we keep it very secure that way. The publisher does this each night and it is automated so once we have done the integration you don't need to do anything else. We will watch your data and if, for some reason, it hasn't uploaded in a few days we will contact you to get the data feed back up and running. It is usually as simple as the computer was turned off or the password for the computer changed. We can get it fixed quickly for you. You do have complete control of the data so you will have access to an admin tool where you can delete or change crimes or stop certain crimes from being uploaded. We can also do this for you, you can just give us a call.

I am here at anytime to answer any questions you may have.

Sincerely, Peter

Mr. Allen,

*I took time to review the product today. I do like the interface and note it's similarity crimemapping.com
I do like to look and feel of the product, however I did not catch the data for the maps (automated or manual entry) is acquired?*
