Renee, I'm very glad you called about the business license for Izzy Poco.

As we discussed, the application contains completely different information than what seems to be current or pertinent, so a new application is definitely needed. A renewal of that application is therefore not possible and I have included a new application form.

We also discussed that remodeling work has been done to create a 'Subway' restaurant, which is not allowed under our ordinance. A typical 'Subway' restaurant is considered a 'formula restaurant' under our zoning ordinance. I have included language from our ordinance that defines and prohibits 'formula restaurants'.

Before I can issue a license for that building, anything that has been installed for 'Subway', such as décor, menus, 'Subway' specific food preparation equipment or any other thing that represents or is required by 'Subway' must be removed. Otherwise the physical evidence of a 'Subway' in the building will preclude me from issuing a license.

Again, I appreciate your cooperative attitude very much.
