WHAT IS THE CHROMIUM PC ABOUT?

The ChromiumPC Blog is dedicated to answering any questions related to the release of the world's first "stateless" desktop or all-in-one PC to be released in 2011. The ChromiumPC is a small, solid state PC about 4 inches cubed. It comes in a standard "Chrome" finish and can be customized. The Chromium PC comes with a universal mounting bracket so you can mount it on the back of any standard monitor, or even hook it up to your flat screen TV. The Chromium PC will be essential hardware for the evolution of Cloud Computing.
