INTRODUCTION

WHO THIS GUIDE IS INTENDED TO ASSIST: This guide is designed to assist you if (i) you want to file a lawsuit in federal court or you have an active role, either as a plaintiff or defendant, in a case that you or someone else has filed already in federal court, and (ii) you have elected to proceed without the assistance of a trained and licensed attorney.

SOME BASIC DEFINITIONS: Plaintiffs and defendants in court cases generally are referred to as the "parties" or "litigants." The plaintiff asserts a claim or right protected by law against the defendant; the defendant denies the claim or right, and the court determines whether the asserted claims or rights have merit. The great majority of litigants who appear in this court are represented by an attorney who has been trained in the law and is familiar with the applicable court rules and procedures. Parties of litigants who are not represented by licensed attorneys, who elect to represent themselves, generally are referred to as pro se parties or pro se litigants. Likewise, plaintiffs or defendants who represent themselves generally are referred to as pro se plaintiffs or pro se defendants.

HOW THIS GUIDE SHOULD HELP YOU: This guide will not answer all your questions about what you need to do to represent yourself effectively as a pro se litigant. The guide outlines the basic steps that are required to properly file an action, or lawsuit, with this court. It also provides some general guidance on the next steps in the process of litigating the action once you have filed it with the clerk of court. However, you are responsible for learning about and following the procedures that govern the court process. Although the staff of the clerk's office can provide pro se litigants with general information concerning court rules and procedures, they are forbidden, as a matter of law, from providing legal advice, from interpreting and applying court rules, or otherwise participating, directly or indirectly, in any action.

A WORD OF ADVICE: Self-representation carries certain responsibilities and risks that pro se litigants should be aware of before they proceed. The court encourages all individuals who are thinking about pro se or self-representation to carefully review the risks associated with self-representation and to inform themselves of the potential consequences.

WARNING: Rule 11 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure prohibits the filing of lawsuits that are clearly frivolous or filed only to harass someone. If after reviewing your complaint, the court determines that you have filed a lawsuit for an improper or clearly unnecessary purpose, the judge may impose sanctions against you, including ordering you to pay a fine to the court or pay the legal fees of the person or persons against whom you filed the lawsuit.

SECTION I: IMPORTANT ISSUES YOU SHOULD CONSIDER BEFORE DECIDING TO REPRESENT YOURSELF IN THIS COURT

A. IS THIS COURT THE APPROPRIATE COURT TO HEAR YOUR DISPUTE?

The United States District Court for the District of Utah is one of 94 trial courts in the federal court system. Federal courts can only hear limited kinds of cases. As is the case in all of the federal courts, this court is authorized only to hear disputes that fall into the following four categories:

1. Those that deal with a question involving the United States Constitution;
2. Those that involve questions of federal -- as opposed to state -- law;
3. Those that involve the United States of America as a party, whether plaintiff or defendant; and,
4. Those that involve a dispute among residents of different states with an amount in controversy over $75,000.

If your complaint does not fall under any of these categories, you cannot file it here.

B. IS THERE AN ALTERNATIVE TO APPEARING PRO SE (REPRESENTING YOURSELF) THAT IS AFFORDABLE?

Most people who file and pursue litigation in the federal court employ a licensed attorney who practices law, has appeared in court, and is familiar with the rules of procedure that govern court process. If you would prefer to have an attorney to represent you, but you are unable to afford one that charges high hourly rates, you should consider contacting the Utah State Bar Association's Lawyer Referral Service (telephone number (801) 531-9075) whose staff can explain the various options for obtaining and paying for legal services.

There are other affordable options for legal assistance, including legal aid societies and legal services, that can assist you to obtain the services of an attorney at a reduced cost. You also may want to call the Utah State Bar Association for information about its Tuesday Night Bar, a program where attorneys voluntarily provide limited legal consultation without charge.

If you cannot find an attorney to represent you, you have the right to pursue your claims in the court by appearing without representation or pro se, a Latin phrase that means "for yourself ". Bear in mind that as a pro se litigant, you are representing only yourself and presenting only your own claims or defenses. Under the law, you cannot speak for another person, a company, or other entity such as a club or association that includes other individuals. When you appear pro se, you must follow the same rules and procedures that licensed attorneys who practice in this court must follow. Generally, judges hold pro se litigants to the same standards of professional responsibility as trained attorneys.

C. IF YOU PLAN TO REPRESENT YOURSELF, WHERE CAN YOU GO TO REVIEW THIS COURT'S RULES OF PROCEDURE AND APPLICABLE FEDERAL LAWS?

As a pro se litigant, you should be familiar with the appropriate sets of federal rules of procedure. These rules set forth the general procedural requirements for litigating cases in all federal courts. As a pro se litigant in a civil case, you should be familiar with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and the Federal Rules of Evidence. If you are a pro se defendant in a criminal case, you should familiarize yourself with the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure and Federal Rules of Evidence. Federal laws are located in the United States Code, which is abbreviated as "U.S.C." These rules and laws are available for review at several law libraries in the Salt Lake metropolitan area, as listed below. You should contact them by telephone to determine the hours they are open to the public.

1. The Utah State Law Library located in the Scott M. Matheson Courthouse, 450 S. State Street, room W-13, (801) 238-7990;
2. The University of Utah college Law Library located on University Street at approximately 300 South on the University of Utah campus; and
3. The U.S. Courts Law Library located on the fifth floor of the Orrin G. Hatch United States Courthouse at 351 South West Temple, room 5.200 in downtown Salt Lake City.

Most counties have law books available. Call your county library to inquire about the location of those books. Also, Brigham Young University's law school, located on the Brigham Young University campus in Provo, Utah, has a law library open to the public.

As a pro se litigant, you also should be familiar with the District Court Rules of Practice, a set of rules commonly referred to as local rules that apply specifically to court proceedings in this court. The local rules include General Rules, Civil Rules, Criminal Rules and Bankruptcy Rules. The libraries listed above have copies of the court's local rules available for review.

The clerk's office also accepts prepaid orders for the rules; there are no shipping or handling charges. For information, you should call (801) 524-6100. The local rules are also available on the Internet at www.utd.uscourts.gov.

D. ARE THERE CERTAIN TYPES OF CASES IN WHICH LITIGANTS TYPICALLY REPRESENT THEMSELVES?

As noted earlier, a litigant may appear pro se in any case that is properly within the jurisdiction of this court. There are three categories of cases that are most often filed by pro se litigants. They are as follows:

1. Cases alleging denial of civil rights under Title 42, United States Code, Section 1983;
2. Cases alleging employment discrimination under Title 42 United States Code, Section 2000(e); and
3. Cases filed by persons who are in jail or prison and who challenge their sentences or conditions of confinement.

E. HOW DO YOU START A NEW CASE?

File a Complaint: The plaintiff or person bringing the lawsuit to court must file a complaint. The complaint can be filed by hand-delivering it or mailing it to the clerk's office, Orrin G. Hatch United States Courthouse, Room 1.100, 351 South West Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah 84101. Whether you deliver or mail your complaint to the court, you must submit

(i) an original and one copy of the complaint, (ii) a completed cover sheet, a copy of which can be obtained from the clerk's office, and (iii) the $402 filing fee (unless you are proceeding in forma pauperis as discussed in sections I(G) and V of this guide). The complaint outlines a problem or reason for the suit, also known as a cause of action. This complaint is given a case number and assigned to a district judge.

Serve the Complaint: Each defendant or person whom the plaintiff claims is responsible for the problem must be notified of the lawsuit through a process that is specified under law. The responsibility for notifying each defendant rests with the plaintiff and is referred to as service of process. The provisions for service of process are described in Rule 4 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, If these service of process requirements are not followed correctly, the case can be dismissed for failure to effect proper service of process.

The defendant(s) can be notified by service of a summons. You can obtain the standard summons form from the clerk's office. After you complete this summons form, staff members of the clerk's office officially issue the summons; this means that an authorized court employee will sign the form and emboss it with the official seal of the court. The summons and complaint are then served on the defendant.

Detailed provisions on how to serve the defendant are contained in Rule 4 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. You should carefully review the rule to make sure that you are familiar with those provisions. The service of process requirements can be satisfied in one of three ways.

- 1. Personal Service: Here you direct someone else to deliver or serve a copy of the complaint and summons on the defendant(s). Such service can be performed by anyone who is over eighteen years of age and who is not a party in the case. Constables and private process servers will do this for a fee. The person who serves the summons must record on the back of the summons for his or her name, the name of the person who was served, and the date and time of service. This section of the summons form is referred to as the return of service, and if it is not completed, service of process is not complete. Rule 4 requires confirmation that service has been completed. Such confirmation or proof that the documents have been served on the defendant requires that the original summons form with the return of service completed be returned to the court and that a copy of the form be left with the defendant.
- 2. Waiver of Service: Rule 4 permits a defendant to waive personal service of process. That means the defendant agrees to respond to your complaint without being served with it. The clerk's office can provide you with a waiver form that you can mail to the defendant. If the defendant completes and returns the waiver, you will be spared the burden of personal service.
- 3. Service by the U.S. Marshal: If a judge approves your application for waiver of the requirement to pay the $402 case filing fee as described in Section V of this guide and screens the case for valid claims, it may order service by the U.S. Marshal's Service. If ordered by the court, a nonincarcerated party will be required to provide the clerk's office with a completed summons for each defendant. The clerk will then issue the summons and forward them to the U.S. Marshal for service, unless the court asks the defendant to waive formal service of the complaint. The court may ask defendants to waive service of the summons

After you file your complaint with the clerk's office, you have 90 days to serve a copy of it and the summons on the defendant(s). It is your responsibility to effect service; if you fail to do so within the 90 days, your case may be dismissed.

File and Serve the Response: Once the defendant(s) has been served with a copy of the complaint, the defendant(s) must file with the court an answer or some other response within a specified number of days. Under the rules governing service of process, each defendant is required to provide a copy of the response on the plaintiff.

Once each defendant has filed a response the case is considered at issue.

F. WHAT HAPPENS WHEN A CASE IS AT ISSUE?

When a case is at issue, any one of a number of different procedures may occur.

Referral to a Magistrate Judge: The district judge to whom the case is assigned may refer the case to a magistrate judge for assistance in managing it. To do so, the district judge signs an order of reference. Once a case has been referred to a magistrate judge, subsequent court proceedings may be conducted before that judge.

Filing of Motions and Objections: Either party-- the plaintiff or the defendant-- may request that the court take specific action related to the case. To do so, the party prepares a formal request or what is referred to as a motion. DUCivR 10-1 provides formatting instructions for motions and other papers. The party then signs the motion, submits it or files it with the clerk of court, and sends a copy to the opposing party. The opposing party may file an objection or a responsive pleading to the motion. This objection sets forth the reasons why the court should deny rather than grant the motion.

Motion Review: The district or magistrate judge may schedule hearings to provide the parties with an opportunity to argue the motion and the objections. Or the judge may decide a hearing is unnecessary and rule on the motion by issuing a written order that either grants, denies, or partially grants and partially denies what the motion sought.

Dispositive vs. Nondispositive Motions: Motions fall into two broad categories: dispositive and nondispositive. Dispositive motions, if granted, dispose of the case; nondispositive motions, if granted, affect the case but do not dispose of it. District judges have the authority to rule on both kinds of motions; magistrate judges are authorized to rule only on nondispositive motions.

Magistrate Judge Report and Recommendation: Where the case has been referred to a magistrate judge and one of the parties files a dispositive motion, the magistrate judge is authorized to prepare a written report and recommendation, essentially a recommendation that the motion be either granted or denied and stating the reason why. This report and recommendation then is forwarded to the district judge assigned to the case, and copies are sent to the parties. As a party, you have a certain number of days within which to file objections to the report and recommendation. All objections that are received within the specified time are forwarded to the district judge. The district judge will then issue an order that adopts, rejects, or adopts in part and rejects in part the magistrate judge's report and recommendation. Where the judge's order dismisses the complaint and the cause of action, the clerk of court will prepare and enter a judgment in the case. Such judgment is final and can be appealed only to the Tenth United States Circuit Court of Appeals located in Denver, Colorado.

G. WHAT COURT FEES AND COSTS ARE YOU REQUIRED TO PAY?

The fee for filing a complaint and opening a civil case in any U.S. District court is $402. This may be paid by cash, check, or credit card. A list of the fees charged by the court for various services and materials is attached to this guide as Appendix A and is also available in the clerk's office. If you are unable to pay the filing fee, you may apply to waive the fee or for an installment payment plan. This is called in forma pauperis, which is Latin for "in the form of a pauper." Please refer to section V of this guide for additional information about waiving the filing fee.

Waiver of the filing fee by the magistrate judge does not automatically waive the other costs associated with pursuing or litigating your case. If, for example, you need copies of original documents in your case file, the clerk's office is required to charge the standard rate of $.50 per page. Service of your complaint on the other parties will entail additional costs, which the court may waive as part of your request to proceed in forma pauperis. Other expenses you will incur include the cost of (i) preparing the papers you file with the court, and (ii) mailing or hand-delivering a copy of each paper to the opposing party to satisfy the requirements of service.

H. HOW DO YOU SUBMIT DOCUMENTS TO THE COURT?

Case-related documents that ask the court to take specific action are referred to as motions or pleadings. If, for example, you want to ask the court to take an action, such as appointing an attorney, you must do so by means of a written motion. A motion should be supported by a summary of the law supporting the motion called a memorandum and/or by an affidavit or declaration of the movant that provide the court with facts that support the granting of the motion. In preparing a motion, you should follow the same general format as the sample motion attached to this guide as Appendix E. In preparing motions, you should be as specific as possible about the order or the action you would like the court to take.

As a matter of policy, the court requires parties to submit or file an original with the clerk of court. Clerk's office staff will stamp the filing date on each document received. Pro Se parties may file documents with the court in person or by mail. Parties may also ask the court for permission to file and receive notice by email. A form motion, application, and proposed order for email notification and filing is available on the pro se page of the court's website.

For purposes of filing in person, the clerk's office is located in Room 1.100 of the United States Courthouse on the corner of Fourth South and West Temple. The telephone number for the clerk's office is (801) 524-6100. The office is open to the public from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, except on federal holidays. As noted, pleadings also may be mailed to the clerk's office.

The mailing address for the clerk's office is:
United States District Court,
Orrin G. Hatch Courthouse
Office of the Clerk
351 S West Temple, Room 1.100
Salt Lake City, Utah 84101

You should retain a copy of all pleadings and other documents you file with the court for your own use. When you file pleadings in person, plan to bring your personal copy with you so staff of the clerk's office can stamp it. By doing so, your records will reflect the filing date of the original. If you mail your pleading and wish to have your copy stamped, you should enclose a third copy and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. The clerk's office will return your copy stamped by the court.

Note: When you file a document with the court, you also must mail or deliver a copy to the attorney of the opposing parties, or, if they don't have an attorney, to the party individually.

Each document you file must include a certificate of service that states the date that you mailed or delivered a copy of the pleading to the opposing parties. A sample form for a certificate of service is attached to this guide as Appendix C.

I. HOW DO YOU OBTAIN INFORMATION ABOUT THE STATUS AND PROGRESS OF YOUR CASE?

The clerk's office maintains an automated record or docket for every case. This docket is a chronological summary of all significant events in the history of the case. For example, each time you file a pleading or appear for a hearing, an entry summarizing the event is added to the case docket. You may review the docket on the public access terminals located in the public review area in the clerk's office. Alternatively, if you have a personal computer (PC) and modem with communications software, by registering with the court you can dial up the court's automated PACER system and review your case docket directly on your PC; note that use of this capability is billed at $.10 per page for viewing and use of it requires that you register with PACER by calling (800) 676-6856 or (210) 301-6440 and obtain a password. If you wish to have a paper copy of your docket, staff of the clerk's office will provide it for you at $.50 per page. Staff of the clerk's office also can provide you with basic docket information over the telephone.

It is important that you realize that staff of the clerk's office do not know and cannot provide you with the reasons for a judge's decision. Nor is the clerk's office in a position to know when a judge will respond to a motion or issue a ruling in a case. The judge's personal staff -- the secretary or a law clerk -- can respond to specific questions regarding scheduling.

J. IS IT POSSIBLE FOR YOU TO SPEAK DIRECTLY TO A JUDGE OR MEMBER OF HIS PERSONAL STAFF ABOUT YOUR CASE?

As a party appearing pro se, you are prohibited from all private or ex parte communication with the judge to whom your case is assigned. Ex parte communication occurs when one of the parties to a lawsuit exchanges information with the assigned judge (i) without the opposing party being present or (ii) without the knowledge and consent of the opposing party. With few exceptions, because of this prohibition a judge will refuse to speak or otherwise communicate ex parte with any party to a case that is assigned to him. Any communication between the assigned judge and a pro se litigant should be in writing, and a copy of the communication should be sent either to the opposing party or that party's attorney. For example, a party appearing pro se should send to the opposing party a copy of any letter sent to the judge. Moreover, the letter to the judge should indicate that a copy has been sent to the opposing party. As noted above, telephone or personal contact with the judge's personal staff should be limited to specific scheduling inquiries.

SECTION II: PROCEDURE FOR FILING A CIVIL RIGHTS ACTION UNDER TITLE 42 UNITED STATES CODE, SECTIONS 1983 AND 1985

One type of action frequently filed by pro se litigants is alleged denial or violation of an individual's civil rights. In a civil rights complaint, a pro se plaintiff is alleging that his or her constitutional rights or privileges or immunities have been violated. The federal law under which a civil rights claim arises is 42 U.S.C. Sections 1983 and 1985.

As noted earlier in this guide, to file an action in this court you first must prepare a complaint. Most complaints filed by pro se litigants involve alleged violations of civil rights. To assist pro se litigants with the process of filing a federal civil rights complaint, the clerk's office has prepared an information packet called Information for Filing a Civil Rights Complaint Under 42 United States Code Sections 1983 and 1985. That packet includes a sample complaint form that you should use as a guide when you prepare your complaint; the packet is available at the clerk's office. Your complaint should be either typed or handwritten. In either case, you should make certain that your complaint can be easily read by the judge.

SECTION III: ACTIONS BROUGHT BY PRISONERS APPEARING PRO SE

Persons who are confined or incarcerated in a jail or a prison occasionally file pro se actions with the court. These actions fall into three general categories.

A. Appeal of Sentence: This is a criminal action in which a prisoner submits an appeal to have a higher or superior court review the punishment or sentence that the trial court imposed. If a person was sentenced by a judge from the United States District Court for the District of Utah, an appeal is made to the Tenth United States Circuit Court of Appeals which is located in Denver, Colorado. An appeal to the Tenth Circuit is made by filing a notice of appeal with the clerk of the court in Salt Lake City. Appeals to the Tenth Circuit are governed by the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure, which set forth specific time deadlines for filing an appeal. See section I(C) for information on where you can review those rules.

B. Writ of Habeas Corpus: In this type of action, the prisoner applies or petitions this court for a writ of habeas corpus; this is, in essence, an action that challenges the constitutionality of the confinement and seeks to have the sentence vacated or dismissed.

Both of these actions are established by federal law. If you are in state custody, having been sentenced by a state court judge, you may file a petition under 28 U.S.C. § 2254. If, alternatively, you are in federal custody, having been sentenced by a federal judge, you may file a motion to vacate sentence under 28 U.S.C. § 2255. The office of the clerk has prepared separate information packets, complete with the required forms, for these two types of actions. To obtain a copy of either packet, you should contact the office of the clerk. Note: Section 2254 and 2255 proceedings are governed by special rules called Rules Governing section 2254 and 2255 Proceedings. It is the petitioner's responsibility to become familiar with those rules. See section I(C) for information on where you can find those rules.

C. Prisoner Civil Rights: In this type of action, a prisoner challenges the conditions of confinement, or the way he or she is being treated in prison or jail. this type of action generally takes the form of a civil rights complaint. If you wish to file a civil rights complaint, you should ask the clerk's office for a copy of the information packet called Information for Filing a Complaint Under 42 U.S.C. Sections 1983 and 1985. That packet includes a sample complaint form that you should use as a guide when you prepare your complaint.

SECTION IV: EMPLOYMENT DISCRIMINATION CASES

Another type of action filed by pro se litigants is alleged employment discrimination. Prior to filing an employment discrimination complaint in federal court, the plaintiff is required to follow specific administrative procedures. Note: This is not a complete statement of the law on the administrative procedures to follow in an employment discrimination case. The procedures are complicated, and it is the pro se litigant's responsibility to make sure that all procedures are followed correctly and within the applicable time limit. If the requirements are not followed, your case may be dismissed.

A. PROCEDURES TO FOLLOW BEFORE THE COMPLAINT IS FILED:

If you wish to file an employment discrimination case in this court, you first must file your charges with the Anti-Discrimination Division of the Utah State Industrial Commission (UADD). In most cases, the UADD will review your charges and, barring complications, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) will issue to you a Notice of Right to Sue indicating that (i) the administrative process has been completed, and (ii) no further action will be taken on behalf of the EEOC. Once this notice is issued, you have a limited time period within which to file your lawsuit; failure to file a complaint in that time period will result in having your cause of action dismissed by this court. A Notice of Right to Sue is not issued where the charges allege employment discrimination based on age. However, not having such a notice will not prevent you from filing an employment discrimination complaint based on age.

The Notice of Right to Sue will indicate that you, as the litigant, have the right to request the court to appoint an attorney to represent you if, for financial reasons, you are unable to retain your own attorney. You should bear in mind that in this court, a request for appointment of an attorney will be considered only after a complaint has been filed and is pending before the court.

B. PREPARING THE COMPLAINT: To assist a party appearing pro se in filing an employment discrimination complaint, the office of the clerk has prepared an information packet called Information on Filing an Employment Discrimination Complaint. The packet is available at the clerk's office. The packet includes a sample complaint form to assist you in filing an employment discrimination complaint. You should make certain that your complaint is legible and can be easily read by the judge.

SECTION V: WAIVER OF FILING FEES

As is noted earlier in this guide, generally filing a case in this court requires the payment of a filing fee before the Clerk's office will open the case. If you are unable to pay the filing fee and are not incarcerated, you may file a Motion to Proceed In Forma Pauperis (Nonincarcerated Party) requesting that the court waive the fee. If you are incarcerated, you will need to file Motion to Proceed Without Prepaying Fees or Costs (Incarcerated Party) requesting permission to pay the filing fee and any costs to have the complaint served in installments. If you file the Motion to Proceed Without Prepaying Fees or Costs (Incarcerated Party), you must also attach a copy of your inmate account statement for the 6-month period just before you file your complaint.

The clerk's office will only accept your case without payment if your initial document (e.g., the complaint) is accompanied by the appropriate motion discussed above. A magistrate judge will review and rule on the motion and screen the case to make sure it is legally valid before the complaint can be served. Dismissal of the case can happen if the magistrate judge decides any of the following:

- the court lacks jurisdiction;
- the allegations of indigency are false;
- the complaint is frivolous or malicious;
- the complaint does not state a legal basis for which relief can be granted;
- or
- the complaint asks for damages from a defendant who is legally exempt from paying damages.

If the magistrate judge grants the motion to waive the fee or to make installment payments, your initial document(s) will be filed and docketed in the case as of the date the motion was granted. If the judge subsequently denies your motion or orders you to pay a reduced filing fee, you will be required to make the payment before the clerk will file the complaint in the case. If you fail to make the payment within the specified period of time, your case will be closed.

A copy of the motions discussed above is included in Appendix B, is available in the clerk's office, or on the court's website at <https://www.utd.uscourts.gov/usdc-forms>.

Please review DUCivR 3-2 for additional information about obtaining a waiver, a reduced filing fee, or an installment payment plan. Please contact the clerk's office at (801) 524-6100 with additional questions.

SECTION VI: REQUEST FOR APPOINTMENT OF COUNSEL

Pro se litigants may ask the court to appoint an attorney or counsel, for them in a civil case. The Court has a limited number of attorneys who accept cases on behalf of the Court. These attorneys serve pro bono, or without charge, to the pro se litigant. Pro se litigants have no right to be represented by court-appointed counsel, and the court has no obligation to appoint counsel. The court will appoint counsel only in a few select cases where having an attorney seems particularly appropriate or important. If you would like to request that the court appoint counsel to represent you in your lawsuit, you must file a "motion for appointment of counsel" form with the court. The form should be filed with the complaint. A copy of a motion for appointment of counsel is attached to this guide as Appendix D.
