Information concerning copyright in photographs

When to Use Form J. Form J is appropriate for unpublished and published photographs.

What is a "Photograph"? This category (Class J) includes photographic prints and filmstrips, slide films, and individual slides.

Reproductions. Reproductions of photographs prepared by photolithography and other mechanical processes are generally regarded as "prints" rather than "photographs" and, when published, should be submitted for registration on Form K.

Contributions to Periodicals. When a photograph is first published with a separate copyright notice in a magazine or newspaper, it is regarded as a "contribution to a periodical," registrable on Form BB.

Duration of Copyright. Statutory copyright begins on the date the work was first published, or, if the work was registered for copyright in unpublished form, copyright begins on the date of registration. In either case, copyright lasts for 28 years, and may be renewed for a second 28-year term.

Unpublished photographs

How to Register a Claim. To obtain copyright registration, mail to the Register of Copyrights, Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. 20540, one complete copy of the photograph, an application on Form J, properly completed and signed, and a fee of $6. Deposits are not returned, so do not send your only copy.

Procedure to Follow if Work Is Later Published. If the photograph is later reproduced in copies and published, it is necessary to make a second registration, following the procedure outlined below. To maintain copyright protection, all copies of the published edition must contain a copyright notice in the required form and position.

Published photographs

What is "Publication"? Publication, generally, means the sale, placing on sale, or public distribution of copies. Unrestricted public exhibition of a photograph may also constitute publication.

How to Secure Copyright in a Published Photograph:

1. Produce copies with copyright notice.
2. Publish the work.
3. Register the copyright claim, following the instructions on page 1 of this form.

symbol ©, accompanied by the name of the copyright owner. The year date of publication may be included in the notice, but normally it is not required unless the work could also be regarded as a "book."

Alternative Form of Notice. As an alternative, the notice for photographs may consist of the symbol ©, accompanied by the initials, monogram, or mark of the copyright owner, provided the owner's name appears on some accessible part of the copies.

Universal Copyright Convention Notice. Use of the symbol © with the name of the copyright owner and the year date of publication may result in securing copyright in countries which are parties to the Universal Copyright Convention which protection might not be obtained by use of either of the alternative forms of notice. Example: © John Doe 1972.

NOTE: If copies are published without the required notice, the right to secure copyright is lost and cannot be restored.
