 DEFENDANT'S MOTION FOR

 DEFENDANT'S STATEMENT OF

 DEFENDANT'S CROSS MOTION FOR 27 SUMMARY JUDGMENT

1 COMES NOW the Plaintiff, James S. Gordon, Jr., and hereby objects to 2 Defendant's motion for an extension allowing the Defendant to file another
3 "Statement of Facts," and requests to be heard on this objection via telephonic 4 argument.

6 Briefly, the Defendant should not be given another opportunity to file a 7 "statement of facts" because it has already filed its statement of facts, see dkt. 109
8 beginning at page 4. In bringing this motion, the Defendant is attempting to get a 9 "second bite at the apple," because its first filing was so grossly deficient that the 10 Court is certain to dismiss the Third Party Defendants, as the Plaintiff has requested 11 in its motion for summary judgment. This will frustrate the Defendant's strategy of 12 suing the Plaintiff's friends and family as retribution against the Plaintiff for 13 bringing this action. Thus, the Defendant is asking the court to allow it to file yet 14 another "statement of facts" to give it yet another opportunity to shore up its 15 opposition to the Plaintiff's motion. The Court should not allow the Defendant 16 endless opportunities to pursue this strategy.
17
19

21 Couching the Defendant's motion to file yet another "statement of facts" in 22 the context of Defendant's "cross-motion" for summary judgment is simply a ruse,

1 as can be seen by examining the substance of the Defendant's "cross-motion for 2 summary judgment." The Defendant's "cross-motion" presents a pure question of 3 law, in which no facts are needed for the Court to render its decision. The 4 Defendant has simply asked the Court to interpret a statute. The Defendant's
5 "cross-motion" for summary judgment merely asks the Court to rule (incorrectly)
6 that liability under RCW 19.190.010 is limited to "an "electronic mail address and 7 not an internet domain name." Dkt. 87, pg. 25. (internal quotations omitted.) The 8 plain language of the statute is all that is needed to demonstrate that the Defendant
9 is mistaken, and no "facts" are necessary or even relevant for the Court to reach that 10 conclusion. In any event, even if the Defendant wants to argue that there are facts
11 that bear on this question, the Defendant has already had the opportunity to file 12 such facts, and in fact has actually filed a statement of facts. see dkt. 109 beginning 13 at page 4. If the Defendant failed to include facts in its' own filing that bear on its 14 own motion, the Court should not penalize the Plaintiff! The Court should deny the 15 Defendant's the opportunity to file yet another "statement of facts" as such a filing
16 would plainly be unfair to the Plaintiff.

1 procedurally unfair to the Plaintiff and even more unfair to the Third Party
2 Defendants. The Plaintiff notes that the Defendant, as has been its past practice,
3 has noted its motion well outside the boundaries of LR 7.1(h), in this instance on a 4 single day's notice. The Plaintiff received notice of this motion purely as a result of 5 the Plaintiff's counsel being notified by the Court's CM/ECF system. The Plaintiff
6 notes that none of the Third Party Defendants are registered with the CM/ECF
7 system. Assuming that the Defendant did not serve each of these individuals 8 personally, it is highly likely that none of them have been given actual notice of this 9 motion, and it is a certainty that neither the Plaintiff nor any of the Third Party
10 Defendants were given notice as is required under FRCP 6(d). For that reason 11 alone, the Defendant's motion should be denied. Indeed, the Court should inquire 12 what steps, if any, the Defendant took to insure actual notice was given to the Third
13 Party Defendants, and should not entertain this motion unless they were in fact 14 given notice. In either event, the Plaintiff hereby requests a telephonic oral 15 argument to give the Plaintiff the opportunity to explain its objection to the court in 16 greater detail than allowed by the compressed schedule dictated by the Defendant's 17 motion.

1 Finally, if the Court is inclined to allow the Defendant to file yet another
2 “statement of facts,” the Court should insure that the Defendant’s aren’t using it to 3 present more argument related to the Plaintiff’s motion. The Court should do so by 4 insuring that this second statement of facts is strictly limited to those facts which 5 bear on the Defendant’s “cross-motion” for summary judgment. The Court should 6 accomplish this by bifurcating the Defendant’s motion, so that it is heard after the 7 Plaintiff’s motion, and not allow this second statement of facts to be entered into 8 the record until that time. Alternatively, as part of its order, the Court should make 9 it a condition that the Defendant is prohibited from using any “facts” in its’ second 10 statement to oppose the Plaintiff’s motion. The Defendant’s second statement of 11 facts should be strictly circumscribed to include only those that are relevant to the 12 Defendant’s cross motion for summary judgment, and any new “facts” used in it’s 13 opposition to the Plaintiff’s motion should be stricken.
