Case No.: CV-04-5125-FVS

THIRD-PARTY DEFENDANT'S
FIRST AMENDED ANSWER AND
AMENDED COUNTERCLAIMS
AGAINST THIRD-PARTY
PLAINTIFF

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

TO: Clerk of the Court
AND TO: Floyd E. Ivey, Attorney for Third-Party Plaintiff
AND TO: Peter J. Glantz and Sean A. Moynihan

Introduction

2 The undersigned's amended complaint is necessitated by continued research into 3 Impulse's business operations, online relationships, and the various violations of 4 law that are being uncovered. For example, I have added "Cyberstalking" as a
5 cause of action along with the "intentional infliction of emotional distress".

7 As Impulse has not answered my counterclaims, I understand that I will be allowed
8 to amend these counterclaims without obtaining leave of the Court to do so.

9 Exhibits in documents filed by me with this Court, e.g. my Declaration and 10 Response to Impulse..., my Response to Impulse's Motion to Dismiss, my Answer
11 Affidavit Counterclaims, and my Motion for Injunction demonstrate that Impulse 12 knew of plaintiff and third party defendants' desire to stop receiving emails from 13 Impulse and its partner, Commonwealth Marketing Group, Inc. (CMG) as of 14 October 21, 2003. Added to these documents is the internal "opt-out" form, which 15 states that the email address at "gordonworks.com" that bears my name opted out
16 of all email offers on March 22, 2004. Exhibit 1 However, I received email from 17 Impulse through March of 2006 – over 15 additional emails. All emails that were 18 sent subsequently were sent in contravention to the internal policy of Impulse as 19 well as the written demands of CMG. These Impulse emails violated state and 20 federal laws designed to curb the assault of junk email or spam.

21 Impulse's attorney, David Klein sent a letter to John Fonzo (counsel for CMG) on 22 behalf of Impulse, dated February 3, 2004, assuring CMG of Impulse's compliance
23 with all laws. This acknowledgement by Klein puts these parties in an untenable
24 position in terms of any re-assertion of Impulse's counterclaims. If Impulse 25 continues to assert the validity of its counterclaims, its owners and managers will

1 perjure themselves by claiming that one or all of its claims is/are true, because they
2 now know that I/we know that Impulse was well aware of plaintiff's desire to stop
3 receiving emails from CMG and Impulse by October 2003. Any statement to the 4 contrary regarding Impulse's false claims puts Impulse in the position of lying to 5 this Court and would also put the attorneys for Impulse in the position of suborning
6 perjury - if they allow Impulse to continue to proffer the discredited claims.

7 Therefore, I am requesting that this Court reconsider my motion to dismiss all
8 Impulse's claims against me under FRCP 12(b)(6)(c) and/or Rule 56 as Impulse's
9 claims are futile. There is no possibility that a jury would sustain the fiction that I
10 participated in a scheme to defraud Impulse when Impulse committed to (in 11 writing) suppressing all emails to "gordonworks.com" domain and all email
12 campaigns were (then and now) entirely within its power to control or to stop.

13 Although Impulse's claims fail to state a claim for which relief can be granted, I
14 am providing the following amended counterclaims as I believe that I have 15 legitimate causes of action against Impulse.

16 17 Answer to Complaint

18 My answer and affirmative defenses to Impulse's counterclaims remain
19 unchanged. However, I have amended/appended some of my claims.

20 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

21 After additional research into the intimidation tactics used by Impulse, I am
22 amending this claim to reflect the Washington State statute which prohibits the 23 intimidation of witnesses – RCW 9A 72.110 (1)(a).
24
25

1 Impulse requested additional months of time for discovery to depose and otherwise
2 obtain discovery from third parties. This disingenuous request has been squandered
3 by Impulse as it has allowed six months to pass without doing what it informed the 4 Court that it would do. Its lawsuit can now be seen to have no other conceivable
5 result except to intimidate, to harass, and to inflict emotional distress on me.

6 7 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

8 I have submitted two emails from Impulse which show the material falsity of the 9 headers. This delineation of violations in these emails should meet the heightened
10 pleading requirement for an allegation of fraud. Further, I have obtained more
11 evidence of fraud as Impulse uses a number of falsely registered domain names to 12 stay one step ahead of regulators. I will produce evidence for a jury that the 500+ 13 domains (each one of these domains is similar to a real estate sub-division which 14 can contain tens, hundreds or thousands of housing units) that Impulse has used in 15 the last 15 months to send spam are owned and or controlled by Impulse, illegally
16 registered entities, pornographers, and/or counterfeit drug operations.

17 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

18 RCW 4.24.510 – unchanged

19 20 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

21 Impulse has admitted to buying and selling “personally identifying information”
22 for profit. RCW 9.35 expressly prohibits the misuse of personally identifying 23 information – including electronic mail addresses. I can show that Impulse has 24 caused addresses of third parties to be exchanged among the 500+ domains
25

1 referenced above – without my permission and in violation of this state’s statute
2 against identity theft.

3 FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

4 I have provided evidence to this Court that Impulse knew of the anti-harassment
5 action of plaintiff – thus it was apprised of the annoyance its emails were causing –
6 these emails have continued for over two years after its initial notification.

7 SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

9 Chapter 19.170 RCW - Unchanged

10 SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

11 RCW 9A.08. et seq outline general requirements for culpability. Under RCW
12 9A.08.010(1)(b)(c)(d)., Mssrs. Goldstein, Greenstein, Huston, and Adamson, at a 13 minimum, are culpable for the civil and criminal activities specified in this 14 amended counterclaims document. As evidenced in documents submitted to this 15 Court, these four men (with full knowledge of the lawsuit and demands of plaintiff 16 and third parties) acted willfully, recklessly, and in a criminally negligent manner 17 in terms of the prosecution of this lawsuit and the continued harassment and 18 Cyberstalking of the undersigned in this action.

19
20 Impulse Marketing Group, Inc., a Nevada corporation bears corporate liability
21 under RCW9A.08.030(2)(a)(b)(c)(3)(4). The totality of the acts in these amended 22 counterclaims represent a criminal conspiracy by the named individuals and the 23 corporation under RCW9A.28.040(1). As a result of this criminal conspiracy, 24 Impulse should be barred from conducting business in Washington State under the 25 referenced statute as a matter of law.

EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTIONRCW 9A.60.040 - Unchanged*NINTH CAUSE OF ACTION

Cyberstalking – RCW 9.61.260(1)(a)(b)(4)(5). If one is to believe what Impulse has written since 10/21/03, no email should have been sent to “gordonworks.com” after that date and certainly not later than attorney David Klein’s assurance to CMG on 2/3/04 that its client, Impulse was CAN-SPAM complaint. But hundreds of emails ensued, and Impulse’s owners and managers are responsible for these illegal and harassing emails – this is Cyberstalking. An example of the pornography sent by an Impulse marketing partner is attached as Exhibit 2 – a violation of (1)(a) of this statute.

- 1 1. Dismiss all claims against me by third-party plaintiff under Rule 12(b)(6)(c)
- 2 and/or Rule 56 as Impulse's claims are futile.
- 3 2. Sanction Impulse Marketing Group, its principals named in the caption
- 4 above, and its attorneys for the waste of judicial resources under Rule 11.
- 5 3. Award an amount equal to the sanction(s) referenced in No. 2 above to the
- 6 undersigned third-party defendant for the time and the intentionally inflicted
- 7 emotional distress caused by this lawsuit.
- 8 4. Award statutory damages of $500 for each email that was sent to my
- 9 personal domain, "jaykaysplace.com", damages are ongoing.
- 10 5. Enjoin Impulse and its marketing partners from sending email to any email
- 11 address wherein the recipient has not made an affirmative direct request for
- 12 Impulse's email offers at an Impulse owned and registered web site.
- 13 6. Grant third-party defendant such other and further relief as the Court deems
- 14 just and proper.
