facts pursuant to LR 56.1(c). Previously, the Plaintiff had submitted the affidavit of James S. Gordon, Jr. and the affidavit of Eric Castelli in support of Plaintiff's motion to dismiss, or in the alternative, for summary judgment. In response, the Defendant has filed the declaration of James A. Bodie (hereafter the "Bodie Declaration"), which includes as an attachment Rule 26(a) disclosures filed by the Plaintiff in a prior lawsuit (the Rule 26(a) disclosures). The Defendant had also previously filed the declaration of Mr. Philip Huston. These documents currently form the entire factual basis for each of the respective parties' contentions before the court.

As the Defendant has made a habit of untimely filings throughout the course of this litigation¹, the Plaintiff hereby objects to any further filings by the Defendant attempting to alter, augment or add to the factual record now before the Court prior to the motion being heard October 12, 2005, and hereby respectfully moves the Court to strike any such filings.

Pursuant to LR 56.1(c), and based on the forgoing declarations and submissions, the Plaintiff hereby sets forth its statement of the facts.

P.O. Box 202 Richland, Washington 99352 Phone 628-0809 Fax (509) 628-2307 person. However, these concepts are easily grasped by the millions of people across the world who do, in fact, share email addresses, or who have, in fact, transferred them. Sometimes, these email addresses provide hints that they are shared. For example, one might reasonably expect that email addresses such as "Smithfamily@aol.com," "3kidsandadog@yahoo.com," and "JennyandDave@msn.com" were shared. In other instances, for example an email address such as "23skiddoo@hotmail.com," it might be unclear that the email addresses were shared. However, in ALL cases, spammers such as the Defendant are responsible for complying with the law related to commercial electronic mail, whether they know that a particular email address is shared or not, or whether they know that an email address has been transferred or not. And while the Defendant would like the Court to believe sorting this matter out is material to the Defendant's claims, it is not. The Defendant's claims fail as a matter of law whether the emails were received by Mr. Gordon, the Third Party Defendants, or both.

Plaintiff's Fact #7

In response to commercial emails purporting to offer free products, on or about September 1, 2003, Mr. Gordon requested to receive the free products advertised in these offers. Gordon Declaration, ¶ 8&9

The Defendant has not contested, and therefore has admitted this fact. Further, this fact is consistent with the Defendant's allegations at ¶ 8-14 of the Defendant's counterclaims and ¶ 15-21 of the Defendant's Third Party Claims as set forth in their amended answer.

28 JUDGMENT

Plaintiff's Fact #8

These submissions were made by visiting a website advertised in these emails, and entering an email address and other information into an online form. Mr. Gordon used the following email addresses james@gordonworks.com, faye@gordonworks.com, jamila@gordonworks.com, jay@gordonworks.com, jonathan@gordonworks.com, jamiia@gordonworks.com, jay@gordonworks.com, jonathan@gordonworks.com, emily@gordonworks.com Gordon Declaration, ¶ 9

The Defendant has not contested, and therefore has admitted this fact. Further, this fact is consistent with the Defendant's allegations that Mr. Gordon and the Third Party Defendant's signed up to receive email at various websites, as detailed in ¶ 8-14 of the Defendant's counterclaims and ¶ 15-21 of the Defendant's Third Party claims. Indeed, are the sole acts that the Defendant alleges formed any contract between any of the parties in the Defendant's counterclaims and third party claims.

Incongruently, at ¶ 20 and ¶ 47 of the Bodie declaration, the Defendant has now alleged, (for the first time), that Mr. Gordon "fraudulently misrepresented his identity to Impulse in violation of the terms and conditions of ("the Agreement") of the USA Gold Card Program (the "Program")." However, the Bodie declaration is the only place the Defendant has made any allegations related to a "contract" for a "USA Gold Card." Nowhere in the Defendant's answer, counterclaims, and third party claims is there any allegation that Mr. Gordon or any of the Third Party Defendant's ever entered into a "contract" for a "USA Gold Card." Instead, the Defendant's counterclaims and third party claims allege that Mr. Gordon and the Third Party Defendants "opted in to receive emails" at various websites. The Plaintiff hereby denies the allegation that the Plaintiff ever entered into a "contract" for a "USA Gold Card.", but even if this allegation is assumed to be true, it is irrelevant and immaterial to the Defendant's pleadings.

The "Scheme" referenced in the Bodie declaration is based on the formation of a contract for a "USA Gold Card," whereas the Defendant's counterclaims and third party claims are based on the mere act of "opting in" to receive commercial email in exchange for a free gift. As such, the "Scheme" referenced in paragraph 1 of both the Defendant's counterclaims and the Defendant's third party claims allege both facts and a legal theory entirely distinct from the "Scheme" referenced in the Bodie declaration.

Accordingly, while the allegations related to a "contract" for a "USA Gold Card" in the Bodie declaration are disputed, they do not raise any questions of material fact. The Defendant has not plead any claims concerning either the formation or breach of the alleged contract for a "USA Gold Card", and neither its existence and/or its breach is material to the counterclaims or third party claims set forth Defendant's pleadings.

What the Defendant has alleged is that Mr. Gordon agreed to receive the Defendant's commercial email (spam) when he signed up to receive free products (that never arrived) on various third party websites. Mr. Gordon admits he requested the products, but has specifically denied that he agreed to receive spam from the Defendant as a term or condition of any of these websites. The Defendant has not contested, or indeed even addressed this fact, as the only "contract"

JUDGMENT

The Defendant has contested this fact at paragraph 48 of the Bodie declaration wherein Mr. Bodie states that Mr. Gordon has "repeatedly provided Impulse with his express request to receive the emails at issue..." However, except for those documents included with the declaration of Mr. Philip Huston, the Defendant has not produced or even alleged the existence of a single document evidencing even a single instance of an "express request." Further, the Defendant has not produced or even alleged the existence of any terms and conditions at any of the websites Mr. Gordon did visit that contradict Mr. Gordon's assertion that none of them required his consent to receive emails from the Defendant. Accordingly, while the Defendant's counterclaims, third party claims, and paragraph 48 of the Bodie declaration contain allegations contrary to this fact, nowhere in the Defendant's evidence has the Defendant has set forth the existence of any fact that would supports those allegations. The Defendant has therefore admitted this fact.

Plaintiff's Fact #12

Almost immediately after Mr. Gordon had filled out the online forms which purported to offer free products, Mr. Gordon began to receive a torrent of commercial email from the Defendant at the email addresses Mr. Gordon had used to try to accept the offers for free prizes.
