ORDER GRANTING
PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT, IN PART

21 Before the Court is Plaintiff Trust Funds' Motion for Summary Judgment, 22 ECF No. 14. The motion was heard without oral argument. Plaintiffs are 23 represented by Jeffrey Maxwell and Robert Bohrer. Defendant is represented by 24 Michael Church and Melody Farance.

25 This case is governed by section 301 of the Labor Management Relations
26 Act (LMRA), and section 515 of the Employment Retirement Income Security Act 27 (ERISA). Section 301 is a jurisdictional statute, under which "[s]uits for violation 28 for contracts between an employer and a labor organization representing

ORDER GRANTING PLAINTIFF'S MOTION FOR SUMMARY
JUDGMENT, IN PART ~ 1

1 employees in an industry affecting commerce” are permitted. 29 U.S.C. § 185.
2 Soon after passage of the LMRA, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that § 301 3 authorized the federal courts to develop a federal common law of Collective 4 Bargaining Agreement interpretation. See Textile Workers Union v. Lincoln Mills, 5 353 U.S. 448, 451 (1957). As a result, federal common law preempts the use of 6 state contract law in Collective Bargaining Agreement interpretation and 7 enforcement. Local 174, Teamsters of Am. V. Lucas Flour Co., 369 U.S. 95, 103-8 04 (1962); Cramer v. Consolidated Freightways, Inc., 255 F.3d 683, 689 (9th Cir.
9 2001).

10 Section 515 is codified at 29 U.S.C. § 1145, which provides:

11 Every employer who is obligated to make contributions to a 12 multiemployer plan under the terms of the plan or under the terms of 13 a collectively bargained agreement shall, to the extent not 14 inconsistent with law, make such contributions in accordance with 15 the terms and conditions of such plan or such agreement.

16 MOTION STANDARD

17 Summary judgment is appropriate if the “pleadings, depositions, answers to 18 interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any,” show 19 there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and the moving party is entitled to 20 judgment as a matter of law. Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 324 (1986); 21 Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c). There is no genuine issue for trial unless there is sufficient 22 evidence favoring the non-moving party for a jury to return a verdict in that 23 party’s favor. Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 249 (1986). The 24 moving party has the initial burden of showing the absence of a genuine issue of 25 fact for trial. Celotex, 477 U.S. at 325. If the moving party meets its initial burden, 26 the non-moving party must go beyond the pleadings and “set forth specific facts 27 showing that there is a genuine issue for trial.” Id. at 324; Anderson, 477 U.S. at 28 250.

1 In addition to showing there are no questions of material fact, the moving 2 party must also show it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Smith v. Univ. of 3 Wash. Law School, 233 F.3d 1188, 1193 (9th Cir. 2000). The moving party is 4 entitled to judgment as a matter of law when the non-moving party fails to make a 5 sufficient showing on an essential element of a claim on which the non-moving 6 party has the burden of proof. Celotex, 477 U.S. at 323. The non-moving party 7 cannot rely on conclusory allegations alone to create an issue of material fact.
8 Hansen v. United States, 7 F.3d 137, 138 (9th Cir. 1993).

9 When considering a motion for summary judgment, a court may neither 10 weigh the evidence nor assess credibility; instead, “the evidence of the non-11 movant is to be believed, and all justifiable inferences are to be drawn in his 12 favor.” Anderson, 477 U.S. at 255.

13 BACKGROUND FACTS

14 On July 1, 2009, Defendant Spokane Commercial Roofing and United 15 Union of Roofers, Waterproofers, & Allied Workers, Local No. 189 (the “Union”), 16 entered into a one-year Master Labor Agreement that ended June 30, 2010.

17 On July 1, 2010, Defendant and the Union entered into a second one-year 18 Master Labor Agreement that ended June 30, 2011.

19 Defendant terminated its Master Labor Agreement with the Union in June, 20 2011. As a result of the termination, Carol Steiner Olsen conducted an exit audit.
21 She completed her audit on July 13, 2011. She found that Defendant owed the 22 Trust Funds $29,752.45, consisting of $24,528.40 in under reported/unpaid fringe 23 benefit contributions, $2,452.85 in liquidated damages, and $1,482.14 in interest 24 to the date of the audit. In addition, the auditor assessed $1,289.06 in audit fees.

25 In October, 2013, Plaintiffs sent a demand letter seeking payment of 26 $22,654.84, based on the audit of Defendant’s payroll records from May 2010 27 through June 2011. Defendant did not pay the requested amount, and Plaintiffs 28 filed suit on November 14, 2014, requesting $24,528.40 in underreported/unpaid

1 fringe benefit contributions; $2,452.85 in liquidated damages; $1,492.14 in 2 interest to the date of the audit, and $1,289.06. In addition, Plaintiffs sought 3 prejudgment interest from the date of the exit audit report to present, as well as for 4 any additional amounts found owing.

5 THE MASTER LABOR AGREEMENT

6 The following pertinent provisions are contained in the Master Labor 7 Agreement in question:

8 The PREAMBLE, in SECTION 4 states:

10 SECTION 4. This is a collective bargaining agreement between 11 certain individual members of the Inland Empire Roofing 12 Contractors Association (referred to as the Employer), and the 13 United Union of Roofers, Waterproofers and Allied Workers Local 14 No. 189 (referred to as the Union), and shall constitute an agreement 15 to establish specific rules and regulations to govern wage scales and 16 working conditions of Journeyman Roofers, Waterproofers, 17 Registered Apprentices, Working Foremen, and Employees engaged 18 in the application and installation of material described in Article III.

17 Article VII of the Agreement covers the Pension Fund.

18 SECTION 1. The National Roofing Industry Pension Fund was 19 created pursuant to the terms of a certain Agreement and Declaration 20 of Trust dated July 7, 1996, as thereafter amended.

21 SECTION 2. Effective the 1st day of July, 2009 [2010], the Employer 22 shall make the appropriate contribution for each hour for which the 23 Employer is obligated to pay compensation to an employee covered 24 by this collective bargaining agreement to the National Roofing
25 Industry Pension Fund. Such hourly contributions shall be paid 26 commencing with the first hour of employment by the employer, 27 payable on or before the 10th day of the following month subject to 28 the above mentioned schedule.

27 SECTION 5. All payments to the Trust Fund shall be due on or 28 before the 10th day of the month next following the month of 1 employment for which contributions are due. Liquidated damages in 2 the sum of ten percent (10%) shall automatically be due and payable 3 on the 15th day of that month, together with interest at the rate 4 provided by statute on judgments in the State where the delinquency occurs.

5 SECITON 6 ... If the Employer is found to be delinquent through a 6 regular or special audit ordered by the Trustees, the Employer shall 7 be charged the full cost of such audit... The Trustees are hereby 8 given the power and authority to institute whatever legal proceedings 9 are necessary to enforced compliance with the provision of this 10 Article. Legal fees incurred by the Trustees in enforcing compliance with this Article shall be charged to the delinquent Employer.

11 SECTION 7. The contributions required by this Article shall accrue 12 with respect to all hours worked by any working foreman, 13 journeyman, or apprentice represented by the Union or for any 14 person doing work within the jurisdiction of the Union and said 15 contributions shall accrue with respect to all hours worked by 16 employees covered by the terms of the Agreement within or outside 17 the geographical jurisdiction of the Union, except that when work is 18 performed outside the union's jurisdiction where another fringe benefit fund of a similar kind exists and the Employer makes a contribution to that fund, the said Employer shall not be required to make a contribution to this fund.

19 ARTICLE XII provides the definitions of (1) Roofing Contractor; (2) 20 Working Foreman; (3) Journeyman; (4) Apprentice; (5) Crew; and (6) Irritable 21 Bituminous Roofer.

22 Section 8 of this Article provides: Only one member of the Employer firm 23 shall be permitted to work with the tools, regardless of the number of projects 24 being undertaken. Section 9 states that one Journeyman of the collective 25 bargaining union shall be classified as working foreman on each crew.

26 ARTICLE IV, Union Security, states as follows:

27 SECTION 1. Pursuant to and in conformance with Section 8(a) and 28 Section 8(b) 5 of the Labor Management Relations Action of 1947, it

1 is agreed that all employees coming under the terms of this 2 Agreement shall make application to join the Union within eight (8) 3 days following the date of employment or within eight (8) days 4 following the date of signing of this Agreement, whichever is the 5 later, and as a condition of continued employment, must maintain 6 membership in good standing for the life of this Agreement and any 7 renewal thereof.

8 SECTION 2. In the event a regular member of a crew does not 9 report for work on a regularly scheduled shift, the Employer shall be 10 permitted to hire a temporary replacement, and that individual shall 11 be allowed to finish that job without having to join the Union, job 12 length limited to seven (7) days.

13 THE PARTIES' ARGUMENTS

14 Plaintiffs are seeking summary judgment as a matter of law with respect to 15 the following employees: (1) Douglas Olinger; (2) William Williams; (3) Allen 16 Battle; (4) Brenton Peterson; (5) Christopher Stebbins; (6) Kent Tollefsen; and (7) 17 David Olinger.

18 Defendant asserts that questions of material fact exist which precludes 19 summary judgment. Specifically, Defendant makes the following arguments: (1) 20 Plaintiffs are relying on inadmissible evidence to prove the amounts owing; (2) 21 Questions of fact exist regarding Brenton Peterson and Christopher Stebbins and 22 whether they were temporary replacements; (3) Questions of fact exist regarding 23 Kent Tollefson and whether he only weeded and raked the shop yard (4)
24 Questions of fact exist regarding David Ollinger and whether Defendants properly 25 selected him as the one employee to perform bargaining unit work without having 26 to pay contributions on his work, as permitted by the Master Labor Agreement, 27 Article XII, Section 8; (5) The amount of requested damages of $24,528.50 is 28 inconsistent with the amount set forth in Plaintiff's original demand and (6)
Questions of fact remain regarding Defendant's affirmative defense of laches.

1 ANALYSIS

2 1. Admissibility of Payroll Audit Report

3 Based on the Declaration of Carol Steiner Olsen, ECF No. 25, the Court 4 finds that the personal knowledge prong required by the Federal Rules of 5 Evidence has been met. As such, the Payroll Audit Report, as well as the 6 spreadsheets created by Jodi Weaver, can be considered by the Court.

7 2. Douglas Olinger, William Williams, and Allen Battle

8 Defendant has not challenged or presented any argument with respect to 9 Douglas Olinger, William Williams, and Allen Battle. Accordingly, the Court 10 grants Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment with respect to these employees.

11 3. Brenton Peterson and Christopher Stebbins

12 It is undisputed that Brenton Peterson and Christopher Stebbins were 13 temporary employees, and not union members.

14 Defendant maintains that because the Master Agreement requires employees 15 to join the union after 8 days of working, and these individuals never joined the 16 union, they are not employees covered by this agreement. Defendant also argues 17 that the Master Agreement distinguishes employees from temporary replacements, 18 because Working Foremen and Journeymen are defined as employees, whereas a 19 temporary replacement is referred to as an "individual."

20 Defendant reads the Agreement to only apply to "Journeyman Roofers, 21 Waterproofers, Registered Apprentices, Working Foremen, and Employees 22 engaged in the application and installation of material described in Article III of 23 the Agreement." This statement is contained in Section 4 of the Preamble. Because 24 temporary replacements are referred to as an "individual" in Article IV, UNION
25 SECURITY, Defendant asserts that temporary replacements are not employees 26 covered by the Agreement.

27 Defendant's reading of the Master Labor Agreement does not comport with 28 general contract interpretation principles. Under federal common law, this court

1 looks to “general principles for interpreting contracts. Klamath Water Users Prot.
2 Assoc. v. Patterson, 204 F.3d 1206, 1210 (9th Cir. 1999). The Court examines the 3 terms of the contract as a whole, giving them their ordinary meaning.

4 Defendant’s argument ignores the other provisions of the Agreement, 5 specifically, those provisions that provide for the payment of the funds. Article 6 VII, Section 2, states that “the Employer shall make the appropriate contribution 7 for each hour for which the Employer is obligated to pay compensation to an 8 employee covered by this collective bargaining agreement to the National Roofing 9 Industry Pension Fund.” Section 7 states, “[t]he contributions required by this 10 Article shall accrue with respect to all hours worked by any working foreman, 11 journeyman, or apprentice represented by the union or for any person doing work 12 within the jurisdiction of the Union and said contributions shall accrue with 13 respect to all hours worked by employees covered by the terms of the Agreement 14 ...” (emphasis added).

15 The fact that the Agreement contemplates and permits temporary 16 replacements indicates that temporary replacements are employees covered by the 17 collective bargaining agreement. Defendant cannot credibly argue that temporary 18 replacements are not covered by the terms of the agreement, when the Agreement 19 has provisions that specifically address “temporary replacement.”

20 Additionally, in support of their motion, Plaintiff submitted the Declaration 21 of Gregg Giles, who is an Administrator with Welfare & Pension Administration 22 Service, Inc (WPAS). WPAS provides administrative services to employer’s trust 23 funds. As part of his duties, he is familiar with the Master Labor Agreement at 24 issue in this case. In his Declaration, he specifically stated:

25 Fringe benefit contributions are collected for all employees
26 performing covered work for a sponsoring employer under the Master 27 Labor Agreement, regardless of union status. Fringe benefit 28 contributions are also collected for all employees performing covered work, whether they are full-time, part-time, temporary, or 1 subcontractors.

2 ECF No. 16.

3 Defendant has not provided any evidence to challenge Mr. Giles'
4 statements, other than to rely on its arguments interpreting the Master Labor 5 Agreement.

6 Accordingly, the Court grants Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment 7 with respect to employees Brenton Peterson and Christopher Stebbins.

8 4. Kent Tollefsen and David Olinger

9 Questions of fact exist regarding whether Kent Tollefsen and David Olinger 10 performed work covered by the Master Labor Agreement.

11 5. Laches Defense

12 Defendant argues that questions of fact exist regarding whether it can 13 prevail on its affirmative defense of laches.

14 In § 301 actions under the LMRA, the statute of limitations is to be 15 determined, as a matter of federal law, by reference to the appropriate state statute 16 of limitations. Int'l Union, United Auto., Aerospace & Agr. Implement Workers of 17 Am. (UAW), AFL-CIO v. Hoosier Cardinal Corp., 383 U.S. 696, 704-05 (1966).

18 The statute of limitations for breach of contract in Washington is 6 years.

19 In ERISA actions, the Ninth Circuit has held that trust funds in Washington state 20 have a six-year statute of limitations to bring an enforcement action to collect 21 delinquent fringe benefit contributions. Pierce County Hotel Employees and 22 Restaurant Employees Health Trust v. Elks Lodge, B.P.O.E. No. 1450, 827 F.2d 23 1324, 1328 (9th Cir. 1987).

24 Where the Court looks to state law for the statute of limitations, it also looks 25 to state tolling laws as well. Board of Regents of Univ. of State of N.Y. v. Tomanio, 26 446 U.S. 478, 483 (1961). Laches is an equitable remedy that applies when a 27 party: (1) had knowledge of facts constituting a cause of action or a reasonable 28 opportunity to discover these facts; (2) there was an unreasonable delay in

1 commencing the action; and (3) the delay caused damage to the other party. In re 2 Anderson, 134 Wash. App. 111, 118 (2006). In ordinary circumstances, the 3 doctrine of laches should not be employed to bar an action short of the applicable 4 statute of limitations. Auve v. Wenzlaff, 162 Wash. 368, 374 (1931). A court is 5 generally precluded, absent highly unusual circumstances, from imposing a shorter 6 period under the doctrine of laches than that of the relevant statute of limitations.
7 Brost v. L.A.N.D., Inc., 37 Wash. App. 372, 375 (1984). The purpose of the 8 doctrine of laches is to prevent injustice and hardship. Id.

9 Here, Defendant's assertion that it has been prejudiced by Plaintiffs' delay 10 in making their demand is not well-taken. At the minimum, Defendant knew or 11 should have known about the six-year statute of limitations for claims under 12 section 301 and section 515. Defendant has not shown that Plaintiffs' two-year 13 delay in issuing its demand letter was unreasonable. No reasonable trier of fact 14 would find that Defendant could meet its burden of proving the defense of laches.

15 6. Conclusion

16 No questions of material fact exist and Plaintiffs are entitled to judgment as 17 a matter of law with respect to the claims for reimbursement for fringe benefits for 18 employees Douglas R. Olinger; William C. Williams; Allen Battle; Brenton 19 Peterson; and Christopher Stebbins. Questions of material fact exist for employees 20 Kent Tollefsen and David Olinger. No questions of material fact exist regarding 21 whether Defendant can rely on the affirmative defense of laches. No reasonable 22 trier of fact would conclude that a two-year delay was unreasonable, or that the 23 six-year statute of limitations failed to put Defendant on notice that it should keep 24 its employment records for more than two years.

25 Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED:

26 1. Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment, ECF No. 14 is GRANTED, 27 in part.
