Defendants.

No. 2:16-cv-00142-SAB

ORDER GRANTING DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

Before the Court is Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment, ECF No. 69. The Court held a hearing on the motion on September 26, 2018. Kevin Roberts¹ and Stephanie Faust appeared on behalf of Plaintiff, and Valerie Holder appeared on behalf of Defendants. The Court took the matter under advisement.

After careful consideration of the parties' briefing and oral presentation, the Court grants Defendants' motion.

ORDER GRANTING DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR SUMMARY
JUDGMENT ^ 1

1 STATEMENT OF FACTS

2 In June 2007, Plaintiff John Adrain purchased the home located at 3510 N.
3 Indian Bluff Road, Spokane, Washington (the "Property"), with help from a loan
4 issued by Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. ("Wells Fargo"). Wells Fargo issued the loan in 5 the amount of $652,000 at a fixed interest rate of 6.625 percent. When interest
6 rates dropped, Plaintiff sought to modify his loan.

7 On April 11, 2012, Wells Fargo notified Plaintiff that investor restrictions
8 on his loan prohibited Wells Fargo from modifying the loan or otherwise reducing 9 the agreed-upon interest rate. Wells Fargo also informed Plaintiff that the investor
10 on his loan did not participate in the Home Affordable Modification Program
11 ("HAMP"). Plaintiff claims that during the months that followed, Wells Fargo 12 contacted Plaintiff offering numerous conflicting statements as to his eligibility for 13 HAMP.

14 Finally, on November 1, 2012, Plaintiff stopped making his monthly 15 mortgage payments.

16 On March 10, 2015, Quality Loan Service Corporation of Washington
17 ("QLS")² mailed a Notice of Default to Plaintiff. The Notice informed Plaintiff
18 that his loan was due for payment from November 1, 2012 through March 25,
19 2015, and that Plaintiff was delinquent in the amount of $121,535.40. The Notice 20 also informed Plaintiff that he was eligible for foreclosure mediation. The 21 following day, Plaintiff's representative submitted a Referral to Foreclosure 22 Mediation Form, and the Washington State Department of Commerce referred the 23 parties to foreclosure mediation. The Department of Commerce assigned Linda 24 Pehlke, of Fulcrum Institute Dispute Resolution Center, as the mediator.

25 _____
26 ² Plaintiff and Defendant QLS entered into a Stipulation of Nonparticipation, ECF
27 No. 4-1 at 88, whereby QLS agreed not to participate in the action, and agreed to 28 be bound by any Order or Judgment regarding the Property and Deed of Trust, provided that such Order or Judgment is for nonmonetary relief only.

ORDER GRANTING DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR SUMMARY
JUDGMENT ^ 2

1 Foreclosure mediation proved to be unsuccessful. And while the parties did
2 not reach an agreement, Mediator Linda Pehlke certified that the parties mediated
3 in good faith.

4 Following the failed foreclosure mediation, QLS recorded a Notice of 5 Trustee's Sale and scheduled a foreclosure sale of the Property on May 6, 2016.
6 On March 30, 2016, Plaintiff filed suit in Spokane County Superior Court seeking 7 damages and injunctive relief to prevent the foreclosure sale of the Property. The 8 Spokane County Superior Court granted Plaintiff's request and enjoined
9 Defendants from proceeding with any sale of the Property. Defendants removed 10 the case to this Court on May 4, 2016.

11 Plaintiff alleges that Wells Fargo's conduct in response to Plaintiff's 12 attempts to refinance and obtain a loan modification improperly placed him in 13 default and foreclosure of the Property. He brings claims under the Washington
14 Consumer Protection Act ("CPA"), Wash. Rev. Code § 19.86.020, the common 15 law tort of negligent misrepresentation, and the Foreclosure Fairness Act ("FFA"),
16 Wash. Rev. Code § 61.21.163.

18 Summary judgment is appropriate if the evidence, when viewed in the light 19 most favorable to the non-moving party, shows that there is no genuine issue as to 20 any material fact. Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(a). The moving party has the initial burden of 21 establishing the absence of a genuine dispute of material fact. Celotex Corp. v.
22 Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 322 (1986). If the moving party satisfies this burden, the 23 non-moving party "must go beyond pleading and identify facts which show a 24 genuine issue for trial." Cline v. Indus. Maint. Eng'g & Contracting Co., 200 F.3d
25 1223, 1229 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing Celotex Corp., 477 U.S. at 323-24). "[A] party 26 opposing a properly supported motion for summary judgment may not rest upon 27 the mere allegations or denials of his pleadings, but . . . must set forth specific

1 facts showing there is a genuine issue for trial.” Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc.,
2 477 U.S. 242, 248 (1986) (internal quotation marks omitted). “[T]here is no 3 genuine dispute of material fact unless there is sufficient evidence favoring the 4 non-moving party for a jury to return a verdict for that party. If the evidence is 5 merely colorable, or is not significantly probative, summary judgment may be 6 granted.” Anderson, 477 U.S. at 249-50 (internal citations omitted).

7 DISCUSSION

8 I. Washington Consumer Protection Act

9 The CPA prohibits “[u]nfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive
10 acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce.” Wash. Rev. Code § 11 19.86.020. To prevail on a CPA claim, a plaintiff must prove (1) an unfair or 12 deceptive act or practice; (2) occurring in trade or commerce; (3) affecting the 13 public interest; (4) injury to a person’s business or property; and (5) causation.
14 Panag v. Farmers Ins. Co. of Wash., 166 Wn.2d 27, 37 (2009). “Failure to satisfy 15 even one of the elements is fatal to a CPA claim.” Sorrel v. Eagle Healthcare, Inc., 16 110 Wn. App. 290, 298 (2002). Plaintiff’s CPA claim fails for a number of 17 reasons.

18 (1) Unfair or Deceptive Act.

19 First, Plaintiff fails to identify any unfair or deceptive act on the part of 20 Wells Fargo. An unfair or deceptive act or practice need not be intended to 21 deceive; it need only have “the capacity to deceive a substantial portion of the 22 public.” Hangman Ridge Training Stables, Inc. v. Safeco Title Ins. Co., 105 Wn.2d 23 778, 785 (1986). A “knowing failure to reveal something of material importance is 24 ‘deceptive’ within the CPA.” Indoor Billboard/Washington, Inc. v. Integra
25 Telecom of Wash., Inc., 162 Wn.2d 59, 75 (2007). “Deception exists if there is a 26 representation, omission or practice that is likely to mislead a reasonable 27 consumer.” Panag, 166 Wn.2d at 50. “Whether an action constitutes an unfair or

1 deceptive practice is a question of law.” Columbia Physical Therapy, Inc., P.S. v.
2 Benton Franklin Orthopedic Assoc., P.L.L.C., 168 Wn.2d 421, 442 (2010).

3 In this case, Plaintiff claims Wells Fargo engaged in an unfair or deceptive
4 act in the following ways: Wells Fargo’s requests for duplicative documents and 5 misleading communications during Plaintiff’s attempts to modify his loan, Wells
6 Fargo’s conduct during the foreclosure mediation process, and Wells Fargo’s
7 alleged failure to notify Plaintiff of changes made to the Security Instrument on 8 his loan.

9 Wells Fargo’s conduct in response to Plaintiff’s requests for a loan
10 modification do not constitute an unfair or deceptive practice because there is no 11 evidence to suggest these actions have “the capacity to deceive a substantial 12 portion of the public.” Hangman, 105 Wn.2d at 785. Plaintiff claims that when he 13 began the loan modification process, Wells Fargo would request Plaintiff to 14 submit additional documents. Plaintiff claims he would submit the documents, 15 only to have Wells Fargo request the same documents he submitted previously.
16 Plaintiff also claims he received conflicting correspondence about his eligibility
17 for HAMP, leading Plaintiff to believe he was, in fact, HAMP eligible.

18 The evidence shows these were private communications between Wells
19 Fargo and Plaintiff about a mortgage loan issued to Plaintiff. There is no evidence 20 to suggest this conduct has “the capacity to deceive a substantial portion of the 21 public.” Hangman, 105 Wn.2d at 785.

22 Plaintiff also claims Wells Fargo’s alleged failure to mediate in good faith
23 constitutes an unfair or deceptive act. The Washington Foreclosure Fairness
24 Program outlines the procedures, duties, and responsibilities of the parties
25 engaging in foreclosure mediation. See generally Wash. Rev. Code § 61.24.163.

26 The foreclosure mediation program guidelines require the mediator to send 27 a written notice of the time, date and location of the mediation session to the

1 borrower, beneficiary, and the Department of Commerce at least thirty days prior 2 to the mediation session. Wash. Rev. Code § 61.24.163(7)(b). The notice must 3 also contain “a statement that the parties have a duty to mediate in good faith and 4 that failure to mediate in good faith may impair the beneficiary’s ability to 5 foreclosure on the property or the borrower’s ability to modify the loan or take 6 advantage of other alternatives to foreclosure.” Id. § 61.24.163(7)(b)(iii). At the 7 conclusion of mediation, the mediator must send out a written certification to the 8 parties indicating, among other things, “whether the parties participated in 9 mediation in good faith.” Id. § 61.24.163(12)(d).

10 A mediator may find a party violated the duty to mediate in good faith for a 11 number of reasons, including:

12 (1) “Failure to timely participate in mediation without good cause;”

13 (2) “Failure of the borrower or the beneficiary to provide the documentation 14 required before mediation or pursuant to the mediator’s instructions;”

15 (3) “Failure of a party to designate representatives with adequate authority 16 to fully settle, compromise, or otherwise reach resolution with the borrower in 17 mediation;” and 18 (4) “A request by a beneficiary that the borrower waive future claims he or 19 she may have in connection with the deed of trust, as a condition of agreeing to a 20 modification, except for rescission claims under the federal truth in lending act[.]”

21 Id. § 61.24.163(10).

22 A party’s failure to mediate in good faith constitutes an unfair or deceptive
23 act in violation of the CPA. Wash. Rev. Code § 61.24.135(2).

24 The issue in this case is that Mediator Pehlke certified that the parties
25 mediated in good faith. Plaintiff argues that, despite this good faith certification, 26 the facts show Wells Fargo mediated in bad faith.

1 The statute is silent as to whether a party to the mediation can challenge a
2 mediator's certification of good faith. And Plaintiff fails to identify any authority
3 to suggest otherwise. See Sergeant v. Bank of Am., N.A., No. C17-5232 BHS, 2018
4 WL 1427345, at *4 (W.D. Wash. Mar. 22, 2018). Additionally, Plaintiff's
5 conclusory allegations that Mediator Pehlke was biased in her decision to issue a 6 good faith certification do not save Plaintiff's claim. See Anderson, 477 U.S. at 7 249-50 ("If the evidence is merely colorable, or is not significantly probative, 8 summary judgment may be granted.").

9 Finally, Plaintiff claims Wells Fargo engaged in an unfair or deceptive act
10 when it failed to notify him of a change to his Loan Servicer, and when it issued to 11 Plaintiff a loan with HAMP protections and later sold it to an investor who refused 12 to participate in HAMP. Both arguments lack any merit.

13 The Deed of Trust provides:

14 The Note or a partial interest in the Note (together with this Security 15 Instrument) can be sold one or more times without prior notice to Borrower.
16 A sale might result in a change in the entity (known as the "Loan Servicer")
17 ... If there is a change of the Loan Servicer, Borrower will be given written 18 notice of the change ...

19 ECF No. 79-52 ¶ 20. Plaintiff's argument fails because Wells Fargo has, at all 20 times, been the Loan Servicer of Plaintiff's loan. ECF No. 74 ¶ 4.

21 Moreover, the HAMP was created in 2009, two years after Plaintiff's loan
22 was issued. It cannot be said that Plaintiff's loan contained the protections of a 23 program that had not yet been created.

24 Thus, Plaintiff has failed to identify any unfair or deceptive act that is 25 actionable under the CPA.

26 (2) Affecting the Public Interest.

27 Plaintiff's CPA claim also fails because there is no evidence that any 28 alleged unfair or deceptive act or practice affects the public interest. A claimant may establish that the act or practice is injurious to the public interest because it:

JUDGMENT ^ 7

1 (1) Violates a statute that incorporates this chapter;

2 (2) Violates a statute that contains a specific legislative declaration of public 3 interest impact; or

4 (3) (a) injured other persons; (b) had the capacity to injure other person; or 5 (c) has the capacity to injure other persons.

6 Wash. Rev. Code § 19.86.093.

7 “Ordinarily, a breach of a private contract affecting no one but the parties to 8 the contract is not an act or practice affecting the public interest.” Hangman, 105 9 Wn.2d at 790. “[I]t is the likelihood that additional plaintiffs have been or will be 10 injured in exactly the same fashion that changes a factual pattern from a private 11 dispute to one that affects the public interest.” Id. (emphasis added).

12 Factors indicating public interest impact in this context include: (1) Were 13 the alleged acts committed in the course of defendant’s business? (2) Did 14 defendant advertise to the public in general? (3) Did defendant actively solicit this 15 particular plaintiff, indicating potential solicitation of others? (4) Did plaintiff and 16 defendant occupy unequal bargaining position? Rush v. Blackburn, 190 Wn. App.
17 945, 969 (2015) (citing Hangman, 105 Wn.2d at 790-91). “Not one of these 18 factors is dispositive, nor is it necessary that all be present.” Hangman, 105 Wn.2d 19 at 791.

20 Plaintiff has failed to offer any evidence that would allow a reasonable jury
21 to find Wells Fargo’s alleged unfair or deceptive act affects the public interest.
22 The evidence shows this was a private dispute between Plaintiff and Wells Fargo
23 regarding the specific terms of his mortgage loan.

24 (3) Injury to Business or Property and Causation

25 Finally, there is no genuine dispute of material fact that any injury to 26 Plaintiff was proximately caused by Wells Fargo’s conduct. Plaintiff’s alleged 27 injuries are tied to his decision to stop making his monthly mortgage payments.

1 See Massey v. BAC Home Loans Servicing LP, No. C12-1314JLR, 2013 WL
2 6825309, at * 8 (W.D. Wash. Dec. 23, 2013) (“Any injuries associated with the 3 foreclosure proceedings, including the bankruptcy filing, ‘damage to [her] credit,’
4 and the alleged ‘loss of any equity in my home and the loss of my down payment,’
5 were caused solely by her own default.”); Babrauskas v. Paramount Equity
6 Mortg., No. C13-0494RSL, 2013 WL 5743903, *4 (W.D. Wash. Oct. 23, 2013
7 (finding no injury under the CPA because “plaintiff’s failure to meet his debt 8 obligations is the ‘but for’ cause of the default, the threat of foreclosure, any 9 adverse impact on his credit, and the clouded title”).

10 In sum, Plaintiff has failed to offer sufficient evidence that would allow a 11 reasonable jury to return a verdict in his favor on his CPA claim. As a result,
12 summary judgment in favor of Defendants is appropriate.

13 II. Negligent Misrepresentation.

14 Plaintiff’s negligent misrepresentation claim is based on Wells Fargo
15 allegedly providing conflicting information about Plaintiff’s eligibility for HAMP.
16 Washington law recognizes the tort of negligent misrepresentation. Haberman v.
17 Wash. Pub. Power Supply Sys., 109 Wn.2d 107, 161-62 (1987). To bring a claim 18 of negligent misrepresentation, a plaintiff must “provide by clear, cogent, and 19 convincing evidence that (1) the defendant supplied information for the guidance 20 of others in their business transactions that was false; (2) the defendant knew or 21 should have known that the information was supplied to guide the plaintiff in his 22 business transactions; (3) the defendant was negligent in obtaining or 23 communicating the false information; (4) the plaintiff relied on the false
24 information; (5) the plaintiff’s reliance was reasonable; and (6) the false
25 information proximately caused the plaintiff damages.” Austin v. Ettl, 171 Wn.
26 App. 82, 87 (2012).

1 Plaintiff's negligent misrepresentation claim fails for the same reason his 2 CPA claim fails: Plaintiff's alleged damages were proximately caused by 3 Plaintiff's decision to stop making his monthly mortgage payments, not Wells
4 Fargo's conflicting information about Plaintiff's HAMP eligibility. There being no
5 genuine dispute of material fact, summary judgment in favor of Defendants is 6 appropriate.

7 III. Foreclosure Fairness Act.

8 Plaintiff's FFA claim fails as a matter of law. The FFA is a subchapter of 9 the Deed of Trust Act ("DTA") and created the Foreclosure Mediation program
10 outlined above. Plaintiff's claim is that Wells Fargo failed to abide by the rules 11 governing foreclosure mediation.

12 Plaintiff's claim fails because one cannot bring a claim for damages for 13 violation of the DTA unless there has been a completed foreclosure sale. See Frias
14 v. Asset Foreclosure Serv., Inc., 181 Wn.2d 412, 422-23 (2014) (holding that 15 Washington "does not recognize an independent cause of action under the DTA
16 seeking monetary damages for alleged DTA violations absent a completed 17 foreclosure sale."). In this case, a foreclosure sale has not occurred. Thus,
18 summary judgment in favor of Defendants is appropriate.
