SEAN F. MCAVOY, CLERK

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT EASTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON

HOLLIE H.,

Plaintiff,

vs.

COMMISSIONER OF SOCIAL SECURITY,

Defendant.

No. 2:17-cv-00421-MKD

ORDER GRANTING PLAINTIFF'S
MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT AND GRANTING DEFENDANT'S MOTION FOR REMAND

ECF Nos. 17, 21

BEFORE THE COURT is Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment and Defendant's Motion for Remand. ECF Nos. 17, 21. The parties consented to proceed before a magistrate judge. ECF No. 4. The Court, having reviewed the administrative record and the parties' briefing, is fully informed. For the reasons discussed below, Plaintiff's Motion, ECF No. 17, is granted and Defendant's Motion, ECF No. 21, is granted.

ORDER - 1

1 JURISDICTION

2 The Court has jurisdiction over this case pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §§ 405(g); 3 1383(c)(3).

4 STANDARD OF REVIEW

5 A district court’s review of a final decision of the Commissioner of Social 6 Security is governed by 42 U.S.C. § 405(g). The scope of review under § 405(g) is 7 limited; the Commissioner’s decision will be disturbed “only if it is not supported 8 by substantial evidence or is based on legal error.” Hill v. Astrue, 698 F.3d 1153, 9 1158 (9th Cir. 2012). “Substantial evidence” means “relevant evidence that a 10 reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion.” Id. at 1159 11 (quotation and citation omitted). Stated differently, substantial evidence equates to 12 “more than a mere scintilla[,] but less than a preponderance.” Id. (quotation and 13 citation omitted). In determining whether the standard has been satisfied, a 14 reviewing court must consider the entire record as a whole rather than searching 15 for supporting evidence in isolation. Id.

16 In reviewing a denial of benefits, a district court may not substitute its 17 judgment for that of the Commissioner. Edlund v. Massanari, 253 F.3d 1152, 18 1156 (9th Cir. 2001). If the evidence in the record “is susceptible to more than one 19 rational interpretation, [the court] must uphold the ALJ’s findings if they are 20 supported by inferences reasonably drawn from the record.” Molina v. Astrue, 674

1 F.3d 1104, 1111 (9th Cir. 2012). Further, a district court “may not reverse an 2 ALJ’s decision on account of an error that is harmless.” Id. An error is harmless 3 “where it is inconsequential to the [ALJ’s] ultimate nondisability determination.”
4 Id. at 1115 (quotation and citation omitted). The party appealing the ALJ’s 5 decision generally bears the burden of establishing that it was harmed. Shinseki v.
6 Sanders, 556 U.S. 396, 409-10 (2009).

7 FIVE-STEP EVALUATION PROCESS

8 A claimant must satisfy two conditions to be considered “disabled” within 9 the meaning of the Social Security Act. First, the claimant must be “unable to 10 engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable 11 physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which 12 has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than twelve 13 months.” 42 U.S.C. §§ 423(d)(1)(A), 1382c(a)(3)(A). Second, the claimant’s 14 impairment must be “of such severity that he is not only unable to do [his or her] 15 previous work[,] but cannot, considering [his or her] age, education, and work 16 experience, engage in any other kind of substantial gainful work which exists in 17 the national economy.” 42 U.S.C. §§ 423(d)(2)(A), 1382c(a)(3)(B).

18 The Commissioner has established a five-step sequential analysis to 19 determine whether a claimant satisfies the above criteria. See 20 C.F.R. §§ 20 404.1520(a)(4)(i)-(v), 416.920(a)(4)(i)-(v). At step one, the Commissioner

1 considers the claimant's work activity. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(a)(4)(i), 2 416.920(a)(4)(i). If the claimant is engaged in "substantial gainful activity," the 3 Commissioner must find that the claimant is not disabled. 20 C.F.R. §§ 4 404.1520(b), 416.920(b).

5 If the claimant is not engaged in substantial gainful activity, the analysis 6 proceeds to step two. At this step, the Commissioner considers the severity of the 7 claimant's impairment. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(a)(4)(ii), 416.920(a)(4)(ii). If the 8 claimant suffers from "any impairment or combination of impairments which 9 significantly limits [his or her] physical or mental ability to do basic work 10 activities," the analysis proceeds to step three. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(c), 11 416.920(c). If the claimant's impairment does not satisfy this severity threshold, 12 however, the Commissioner must find that the claimant is not disabled. 20 C.F.R.
13 §§ 404.1520(c), 416.920(c).

14 At step three, the Commissioner compares the claimant's impairment to 15 severe impairments recognized by the Commissioner to be so severe as to preclude 16 a person from engaging in substantial gainful activity. 20 C.F.R. §§ 17 404.1520(a)(4)(iii), 416.920(a)(4)(iii). If the impairment is as severe or more 18 severe than one of the enumerated impairments, the Commissioner must find the 19 claimant disabled and award benefits. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(d), 416.920(d).

1 If the severity of the claimant's impairment does not meet or exceed the 2 severity of the enumerated impairments, the Commissioner must pause to assess 3 the claimant's "residual functional capacity." Residual functional capacity (RFC), 4 defined generally as the claimant's ability to perform physical and mental work
5 activities on a sustained basis despite his or her limitations, 20 C.F.R. §§ 6 404.1545(a)(1), 416.945(a)(1), is relevant to both the fourth and fifth steps of the 7 analysis.

8 At step four, the Commissioner considers whether, in view of the claimant's 9 RFC, the claimant is capable of performing work that he or she has performed in 10 the past (past relevant work). 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(a)(4)(iv), 416.920(a)(4)(iv).
11 If the claimant is capable of performing past relevant work, the Commissioner 12 must find that the claimant is not disabled. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(f), 416.920(f).
13 If the claimant is incapable of performing such work, the analysis proceeds to step 14 five.

15 At step five, the Commissioner considers whether, in view of the claimant's 16 RFC, the claimant is capable of performing other work in the national economy.
17 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(a)(4)(v), 416.920(a)(4)(v). In making this determination, 18 the Commissioner must also consider vocational factors such as the claimant's age, 19 education and past work experience. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(a)(4)(v), 20 416.920(a)(4)(v). If the claimant is capable of adjusting to other work, the

1 Commissioner must find that the claimant is not disabled. 20 C.F.R. §§ 2 404.1520(g)(1), 416.920(g)(1). If the claimant is not capable of adjusting to other 3 work, analysis concludes with a finding that the claimant is disabled and is 4 therefore entitled to benefits. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(g)(1), 416.920(g)(1).

5 The claimant bears the burden of proof at steps one through four above.
6 Tackett v. Apfel, 180 F.3d 1094, 1098 (9th Cir. 1999). If the analysis proceeds to 7 step five, the burden shifts to the Commissioner to establish that (1) the claimant is 8 capable of performing other work; and (2) such work “exists in significant 9 numbers in the national economy.” 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1560(c)(2), 416.960(c)(2); 10 Beltran v. Astrue, 700 F.3d 386, 389 (9th Cir. 2012).

11 ALJ’S FINDINGS

12 On September 16, 2013, Plaintiff applied for Title II disability insurance 13 benefits and Title XVI supplemental security income benefits, alleging disability 14 beginning December 1, 2006. Tr. 287-302, 345, 353. Benefits were denied 15 initially, Tr. 211-16, and upon reconsideration. Tr. 223-27. Plaintiff appeared for 16 a hearing before an administrative law judge (ALJ) on September 16, 2016. Tr.
17 79-107. On November 1, 2016, the ALJ denied Plaintiff’s claims. Tr. 17-36.

18 At step one, the ALJ found Plaintiff met the insured status requirements 19 through September 30, 2013 and had not engaged in substantial gainful activity 20 since December 1, 2006, the alleged onset date. Tr. 22. At step two, the ALJ

1 found Plaintiff has the following severe impairments: depressive disorder, 2 posttraumatic stress disorder and marijuana abuse. Tr. 22. At step three, the ALJ
3 found that Plaintiff does not have an impairment or combination of impairments 4 that meets or medically equals the severity of a listed impairment. Tr. 23. The 5 ALJ then concluded that Plaintiff has the RFC to perform a full range of work at 6 all exertional levels with the following nonexertional limitations:

7 She can understand, remember and carry out simple routine and repetitive 8 tasks/instructions; she can maintain attention and concentration for two-hour 9 intervals between regularly scheduled breaks to avoid stress. She can 10 tolerate a predictable environment with no changes in work routine; no 11 judgment or decision making; no fast [sic] paced production work; no 12 interaction with the public; only brief and superficial (defined as non-13 collaborative) interaction with coworkers; no more than small groups of 14 familiar coworkers; she can deal with things rather than people.

15 Tr. 25.

16 At step four, the ALJ found Plaintiff was unable to perform her past relevant 17 work as a waitress and caregiver. Tr. 30. At step five, the ALJ found that 18 considering Plaintiff's age, education, work experience, and RFC, there are other 19 jobs that exist in significant numbers in the national economy that the Plaintiff can 20 perform such as industrial cleaner, warehouse worker/laborer stores, and garment 21 sorter. Tr. 31. The ALJ concluded Plaintiff has not been under a disability, as 22 defined in the Social Security Act, from December 1, 2006 through the date of the 23 decision. Tr. 31.

1 On October 23, 2017, the Appeals Council denied review, Tr. 1-6, making 2 the ALJ's decision the Commissioner's final decision for purposes of judicial 3 review. See 42 U.S.C. § 1383(c)(3); 20 C.F.R. §§ 416.1481, 422.210.

4 ISSUES

5 Plaintiff seeks judicial review of the Commissioner's final decision denying 6 her disability income benefits under Title II and supplemental security income 7 benefits under Title XVI of the Social Security Act. ECF No. 17. Plaintiff raises 8 the following issues for this Court's review:

- 9 1. Whether the ALJ properly weighed the medical opinion evidence;
- 10 2. Whether the ALJ properly evaluated Plaintiff's symptom claims; and
- 11 3. Whether the ALJ properly determined the RFC.

12 ECF No. 17 at 4-17.

13 DISCUSSION

14 A. Conceded Errors

15 Plaintiff contends the ALJ improperly weighed the opinions of Renee 16 Thompson, Psy.D., Bernard Currigan, D.O., Donna Veraldi, Ph.D., and John 17 Gilbert, Ph.D. ECF No. 17 at 4-12; see Tr. 447-56, 457-61, 82-90, 181-87, 195-99.
18 As a result of these errors, Plaintiff contends the ALJ improperly determined 19 Plaintiff's RFC. ECF No. 17 at 12. Defendant concedes the ALJ committed 20 reversible error in evaluating the opinion evidence and in formulating the RFC.

1 ECF No. 21 at 4. Specifically, Defendant concedes the ALJ selectively relied upon 2 portions of examining psychologist Dr. Thompson’s opinions and failed to discuss 3 her opinion that Plaintiff’s symptoms “significantly” affect functioning and will 4 make “sustaining gainful employment difficult.” ECF No. 21 at 6 (citing Tr. 456).
5 Furthermore, Defendant concedes the ALJ’s RFC permitted interaction with 6 coworkers, despite Dr. Thompson’s opinion that Plaintiff “will struggle” if 7 required to work around other people, she will have “difficulty” interacting with 8 coworkers and supervisors, and she can perform simple, repetitive tasks only if 9 “alone and isolated.” ECF No. 21 at 6 (citing Tr. 456). Defendant also concedes 10 the ALJ failed to consider the opinion of Dr. Currigan, who conducted a physical 11 consultative examination but concurred with Dr. Thompson’s evaluation of 12 Plaintiff’s ability to work around other people. ECF No. 21 at 7; Tr. 459. Finally, 13 although the ALJ assigned significant weight to the opinion of testifying medical 14 expert Dr. Veraldi, Defendant concedes the ALJ failed to consider Dr. Veraldi’s

1 entire opinion which questioned Plaintiff’s ability to sustain work given her severe 2 mental impairments. ECF No. 21 at 9; Tr. 82-90.

3 Accordingly, in light of the ALJ’s error, the sole question before the Court is 4 the proper remedy.

5 B. Remand Standard

6 Here, the parties appear to agree that the appropriate remedy is remand for 7 additional proceedings. In her brief, Plaintiff requests the Court “reverse the ALJ’s 8 decision and remand the case for a supplemental hearing . . .” ECF No. 17 at 18.
9 Defendant’s Motion also seeks a remand for further proceedings and asks the 10 Court to “decline Plaintiff’s invitation to credit any evidence as true.” ECF No. 21 11 at 10. However, Plaintiff’s Motion did not advocate that the evidence be credited 12 as true and Plaintiff did not file a Reply. See ECF No. 17.

13 “The decision whether to remand a case for additional evidence, or simply to 14 award benefits is within the discretion of the court.” Sprague v. Bowen, 812 F.2d 15 1226, 1232 (9th Cir. 1987) (citing Stone v. Heckler, 761 F.2d 530 (9th Cir. 1985)).
16 When the Court reverses an ALJ’s decision for error, the Court “ordinarily must 17 remand to the agency for further proceedings.” Leon v. Berryhill, 880 F.3d 1041, 18 1045 (9th Cir. 2017); Benecke v. Barnhart, 379 F.3d 587, 595 (9th Cir. 2004) (“the 19 proper course, except in rare circumstances, is to remand to the agency for 20 additional investigation or explanation”); Treichler v. Comm’r of Soc. Sec. Admin.,

1 775 F.3d 1090, 1099 (9th Cir. 2014). However, in a number of Social Security 2 cases, the Ninth Circuit has “stated or implied that it would be an abuse of 3 discretion for a district court not to remand for an award of benefits” when three 4 conditions are met. Garrison v. Colvin, 759 F.3d 995, 1020 (9th Cir. 2014) 5 (citations omitted). Under the credit-as-true rule, where (1) the record has been 6 fully developed and further administrative proceedings would serve no useful 7 purpose; (2) the ALJ has failed to provide legally sufficient reasons for rejecting 8 evidence, whether claimant testimony or medical opinion; and (3) if the improperly 9 discredited evidence were credited as true, the ALJ would be required to find the 10 claimant disabled on remand, the Court will remand for an award of benefits.
11 Revels v. Berryhill, 874 F.3d 648, 668 (9th Cir. 2017). Even where the three 12 prongs have been satisfied, the Court will not remand for immediate payment of 13 benefits if “the record as a whole creates serious doubt that a claimant is, in fact, 14 disabled.” Garrison, 759 F.3d at 1021.

15 Defendant contends “the parties disagree on remedy,” ECF No. 21 at 2, 16 however both Motions contend further administrative proceedings would be useful 17 due to conflicts and ambiguities in the record. See ECF No. 17 at 18; ECF No. 21.
18 Plaintiff did not file a Reply and Plaintiff’s Motion does not contend the credit-as-19 true rule is satisfied. ECF No. 17. Indeed, as to the first element of the credit-as-20 true rule, administrative proceedings are generally useful where the record “has

1 [not] been fully developed,” Garrison, 759 F.3d at 1020, there is a need to resolve 2 conflicts and ambiguities, Andrews v. Shalala, 53 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 1995), 3 or the “presentation of further evidence ... may well prove enlightening” in light of 4 the passage of time, I.N.S. v Ventura, 537 U.S. 12, 18 (2002). Cf. Nguyen v.
5 Chater, 100 F.3d 1462, 1466–67 (9th Cir. 1996) (remanding for ALJ to apply 6 correct legal standard, to hear any additional evidence, and resolve any remaining 7 conflicts); Byrnes v. Shalala, 60 F.3d 639, 642 (9th Cir. 1995) (same); Dodrill v.
8 Shalala, 12 F.3d 915, 918, 919 (9th Cir. 1993) (same); Bunnell v. Sullivan, 947 9 F.2d 341, 348 (9th Cir. 1991) (en banc) (same). The parties agree conflicts and 10 ambiguities exist in the record. For example, Dr. Thompson opined Plaintiff’s 11 symptoms “significantly” affect functioning and will make “sustaining gainful 12 employment difficult”; Plaintiff “will struggle” if work requires her to be around 13 other people; she will “have difficulty” interacting with coworkers and supervisors 14 (especially men); and she can perform simple, repetitive tasks if “alone and 15 isolated.” Tr. 456. Dr. Gilbert, the reviewing state agency psychologist whom the 16 ALJ assigned great weight, opined Plaintiff could sustain work, despite noting 17 Plaintiff’s symptoms increase with stress and would interfere with her ability to 18 interact with people. Tr. 28-29, 185. Yet, Dr. Veraldi testified that the record was 19 ambiguous as to Plaintiff’s ability to sustain work. Tr. 85-86 (“To me, that would 20 be simple, routine, repetitive work, but of course the question is sustainability.

1 How much is she suffering from the PTSD symptoms? How much are they going 2 to interfere? How often is she having panic attacks? When I look at her treatment 3 records, there's a lot of listing of symptoms and yet, I'm not quite sure where she's 4 having them. It's just, it's really hard for me to tease that out.”). Dr. Veraldi also 5 noted that “I don't know that the record clearly answers” whether Plaintiff would 6 become so overwhelmed by stress that she could not sustain work, or whether 7 Plaintiff would be able to manage her symptoms. Tr. 89.

8 The Court concludes that the credit-as-true factors are not satisfied and that 9 remand for further administrative proceedings is warranted. The parties propose 10 slightly different remand instructions. Plaintiff proposes: “[t]he ALJ should be 11 ordered to reassess all of the evidence, receiving additional testimony regarding 12 Plaintiff's ability to perform other work, and reassess Plaintiff's RFC and ability to 13 perform sustained work activities, after developing the record by obtaining a 14 functional assessment from the treating physician or ordering a consultative exam.” 15 ECF No. 17 at 18. Defendant proposes the Court instruct the ALJ to: 1) “provide 16 Plaintiff an opportunity for a new hearing and to submit additional evidence in 17 support of her claim”; 2) “fully develop the medical record”; 3) “reevaluate the 18 medical opinions of record indicating the weight assigned to each opinion with 19 specific reasoning and citing the evidentiary basis for the conclusions”; and 4) 20 “reassess Plaintiff's maximum residual functional capacity and in doing so resolve

1 any conflicting findings, and if warranted, obtain supplemental vocational evidence 2 or otherwise comply with SSR 00-4p.” ECF No. 21 at 11.

3 The Court orders that on remand, the ALJ shall:

- 4 • Provide Plaintiff with the opportunity to submit additional evidence and for a new hearing;
- 5 • Reevaluate the medical opinions of record indicating the weight assigned 6 to each opinion with specific reasoning and citing the evidentiary basis for the conclusions;
- 7 • Review all of the evidence and determine whether further development of the record is necessary;
- 8 • Reevaluate Plaintiff’s residual functional capacity and if necessary, obtain 9 vocational evidence to reevaluate steps four and five of the sequential evaluation process in order to clarify the effect of the assessed limitations on Plaintiff’s occupational base; and
- 10 • Take any further action needed to complete the administrative record and to issue a new decision.¹

11 The Court finds that time is of the essence. Plaintiff has had to wait more 12 than five years for a proper adjudication of her application for benefits.

13 Accordingly, it is ordered that the Defendant shall conduct any further hearing in 14 this matter within 180 DAYS of the date of this Order, unless Plaintiff is unable to 15 proceed within the timeframe. See Soc. Sec. Admin. Hearings, Appeals and 16 Litigation Law Manual (HALLEX) §§ I-4-6-5 (articulating agency procedures for

17
18 ¹ In light of the Court’s remand instructions, it is unnecessary to address Plaintiff’s 19 remaining contention regarding the ALJ’s evaluation of Plaintiff’s symptom 20 claims.

5 CONCLUSION

6 Having reviewed the record and the ALJ’s findings, this court concludes the 7 ALJ’s decision is not supported by substantial evidence and free of harmful legal 8 error. Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED:

9 1. Plaintiff’s Motion for Summary Judgment, ECF No.17, is GRANTED.

10 2. Defendant’s Motion for Remand, ECF No. 21, is GRANTED.

11 3. The Court enter JUDGMENT in favor of Plaintiff REVERSING and 12 REMANDING the matter to the Commissioner of Social Security for 13 immediate calculation and award of benefits consistent with the findings of this 14 Court.

15 The District Court Executive is directed to file this Order, provide copies to 16 counsel, and CLOSE THE FILE.
