SEAN F. McAVOY, CLERK

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON

PHAT N STICKY, LLC,

Plaintiff,

v.

TOP SHELF LED, INC.,

Defendant.

No. 2:22-CV-00071-SAB

ORDER DENYING PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO REMAND

Before the Court is Plaintiff's Motion to Remand, ECF No. 6. The motion was considered without oral argument.<sup>1</sup> Plaintiff is represented by Gabriel Saade. Defendant is represented by Matthew Wojcik and Thomas Stratton.

Having reviewed the briefing and the applicable case law, the Court denies Plaintiff's motion.

Factual Background

Plaintiff Phat N Sticky, LLC is a producer-processor of cannabis. Plaintiff had its principal place of business in Spokane Valley, Washington. Defendant Top <sup>1</sup> Plaintiff's Motion to Remand is presently set for oral argument on June 24, 2022 at 10:30 a.m. ECF No. 14. However, after reviewing the briefing, the Court has determined that oral argument is not warranted and thus proceeds on the motion. LCivR 7(i)(3)(B)(iii).

ORDER DENYING PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO REMAND # 1

1 Shelf LED, Inc. is a California corporation that manufactures and sells commerce
2 lighting solutions, such as lamps and its accessories/fixtures.

3 In 2019, Plaintiff purchased products from Defendant, including Master
4 Pursuit: Grower’s Choice MP HPS System; Master Pursuit: Grower’s Choice MP
5 CMH System; HPS Bulb 1210, MH Bulb 1228; and/or Gavita Fixture 277 (“the 6 Light Products”). Plaintiff states that it installed Defendant’s Light Products at its 7 business premises in accordance with Defendant’s instructions.

8 However, on September 14, 2019, Plaintiff states that Defendant’s Light
9 Products self-ignited and/or imploded and/or exploded, resulting in a fire that 10 burned down Plaintiff’s facility, equipment, and cannabis products. Plaintiff
11 alleges that this fire occurred because of defects in Defendant’s Light Products;
12 Defendant misled its customers about the safety/effectiveness of its Light Products;
13 Defendant failed to adequately warn and instruct its customers about the dangers of 14 its Light Products; and Defendant knew that its Light Products were not safe for 15 their intended use.

16 Procedural History

17 Plaintiff filed its Complaint in the Spokane County Superior Court on 18 December 14, 2021. ECF No. 1-1. Plaintiff asserted claims for negligence; strict 19 liability under the Washington Product Liability Act; negligence under the 20 Washington Product Liability Act; and breach of warranty. Id.

21 Defendant removed the Complaint to this Court on April 14, 2022. ECF No.
22 1. Defendant filed a Motion to Dismiss on April 19, 2022. ECF No. 5.

23 Plaintiff filed the present Motion to Remand on April 27, 2022. ECF No. 6.
24 Plaintiff filed a Motion for Sanctions as part of its response to Defendant’s Motion
25 to Dismiss on May 10, 2022. ECF No. 11.

26 Discussion

27 Plaintiff argues that the Court should remand this case to Spokane County
28 Superior Court because Defendant’s removal was untimely. Plaintiff filed its

1 Complaint on December 14, 2021, yet Defendant did not file its Notice of Removal
2 until April 14, 2022. Thus, Plaintiff argues removal was untimely under 28 U.S.C.
3 § 1446(b)(1), which states that a defendant must file a notice of removal within 30
4 days of receiving the initial pleading.

5 Defendant in response argues that Plaintiff’s Complaint did not contain 6 sufficient information for Defendant to know whether the case was removable to 7 federal court. Specifically, Defendant states that it did not receive information
8 supporting the existence of complete diversity until March 17, 2022—thus,
9 Defendant argues that the removal was timely because Defendant filed its Notice
10 of Removal on April 14, 2022, within 30 days of the date where it “may first be 11 ascertained that the case is one which is removable.” 28 U.S.C. § 1446(b)(3).

12 The Court denies Plaintiff’s Motion to Remand. The Ninth Circuit has stated 13 that the requirement that a defendant remove a case to federal court 30 days after 14 receiving the initial pleading “only applies if the case stated by the initial pleading
15 is removable on its face.” Harris v. Bankers Life & Cas. Co., 425 F.3d 689, 694
16 (9th Cir. 2005). However, if the defendant instead receives an “indeterminate 17 pleading,” where it is unclear whether the case is removable, the Ninth Circuit has 18 found the 30-day deadline does not apply. Id. The Ninth Circuit has also declined
19 to impose a burden on the defendant to investigate the necessary jurisdictional
20 facts within the first 30 days of receiving an indeterminate pleading—it reasoned 21 that, if the 30-day window under § 1446(b)(1) were “to apply to all initial 22 pleadings unless they clearly reveal that the case is not removable, defendants
23 would be faced with an unreasonable and unrealistic burden to determine 24 removability within thirty days of receiving the initial pleading.” Id. at 693–94.

25 Here, Plaintiff’s Complaint stated “Plaintiff, PHAT N STICKY, LLC, is a
26 domestic limited liability company, with its principal place of business at 2611 N
27 WOODRUFF RD., STE A., SPOKANE VALLEY, WA 99206-4138.” ECF No. 1-28 1 at 2. Plaintiff’s Complaint also stated “Plaintiff is a WA i502 producer-processor,

1 farming top shelf cannabis in Washington State . . . The state-of-the-art growing
2 facility and perfected growing techniques executed by Plaintiff’s amazing team
3 have resulted in Plaintiff’s parent company becoming one of the largest producers
4 in the state of Washington.” Id.

5       However, for the purposes of determining diversity jurisdiction, “an LLC is 6 a citizen of every state of which its owners/members are citizens.” Johnson v.
7 Columbia Properties Anchorage, LP, 437 F.3d 894, 899 (9th Cir. 2006). This is in 8 contrast to a corporation, which is a citizen of (1) the state where its principal place
9 of business is located; and (2) the state in which it is incorporated.” Id. Thus, when 10 a complaint only includes allegations regarding an LLC’s residency and/or 11 principal place of business, this counts as an indeterminate pleading that is 12 insufficient to support whether diversity jurisdiction exists. See Harris, 425 F.3d at 13 693 (“Harris’ state court complaint did not allege Brown’s current citizenship, only 14 his past residence. Indeed, it is not uncommon for a state court pleading to omit the 15 necessary facts needed to determine diversity.”); see also Buschman v. Anesthesia 16 Bus. Consultants LLC, 42 F. Supp. 3d 1244, 1248 (N.D. Cal. 2014) (finding that 17 the notice of removal was insufficient to support diversity jurisdiction because the 18 defendant only included information about the LLC’s residency and principal place
19 of business and not information on the citizenship of each of the LLC members).

20       Here, after receiving Plaintiff’s indeterminate pleading, Defendant’s counsel
21 contacted Plaintiff’s counsel by email on February 8, 2022 to inquire about the 22 citizenship of Plaintiff’s members. ECF No. 2, Exhibit 1 at 13. Defendant’s 23 counsel specified that the purpose for inquiring about this topic was to determine 24 whether there was diversity. Id. at 11.

25       On March 8, 2022, Plaintiff’s counsel replied to Defendant’s counsel, stating 26 “our office has confirmed that each member of Phat N Sticky, LLC, is a resident of 27 the State of Washington.” Id. at 9. However, on March 11, 2022, Defendant’s 28 counsel responded, stating that “It is not sufficient to state that each member of

1 Phat N Sticky, LLC is a resident of the State of Washington. We require a
2 statement . . . that each member of Phat N Sticky, LLC was a citizen of the State of 3 Washington at the time of the filing of the complaint and presently. This is 4 required to establish diversity for removal to federal court.” Id. at 7.

5 On March 17, 2022, Plaintiff’s counsel sent over answers to Defendant’s
6 Interrogatories, confirming that each member of Phat n Sticky, LLC was a citizen
7 of the State of Washington. ECF No. 2, Exhibit 2.

8 Based on the Ninth Circuit’s decisions in Harris and Johnson, because 9 Plaintiff’s Complaint did not include information regarding the citizenship of each 10 of its members, Plaintiff’s Complaint was an indeterminate pleading for the 11 purposes of diversity jurisdiction. Additionally, Defendant did not receive 12 information regarding the citizenship of Plaintiff’s members until March 17, 2022, 13 at which point its 30-day period for removal began. 28 U.S.C. § 1446(b)(3). Thus, 14 because Defendant filed its Notice of Removal on April 14, 2022, removal was 15 timely—therefore, the Court denies Plaintiff’s Motion to Remand.<sup>2</sup>

18 _____
19 <sup>2</sup> Plaintiff argues that Defendant “was aware or should have been aware” that the 20 case was removable because, under Washington law, a business entity cannot 21 obtain a marijuana license unless all members of the business entity have resided in 22 Washington for at least six months prior to applying for the license. ECF No. 6 at 3
23 (citing Wash. Rev. Code § 69.50.331(b) and Wash. Admin. Code 314-55-020).
24 However, this argument (1) contravenes the Ninth Circuit’s rule in Harris that the 25 30-day window from the time of receipt of the initial pleading only applies if the 26 complaint is removable on its face, not just that it contains a clue about 27 removability; and (2) still ignores the distinction between residency and citizenship
28 for the purposes of diversity jurisdiction

1 Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED:

2 1. Plaintiff's Motion to Remand, ECF No. 6, is DENIED.

3 IT IS SO ORDERED. The District Court Clerk is hereby directed to enter
4 this Order and provide copies to counsel.

5 DATED this 9th day of June 2022.
