No. CV 07-0411 RSM

DEFENDANT MENU FOODS'
MOTION TO STAY ALL
PROCEEDINGS

NOTE ON MOTION CALENDAR
MAY 4, 2007

Without Oral Argument

Defendant MENU FOODS moves this Court to stay all proceedings in this action pending a transfer decision by the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation ("JPML") pursuant to U.S.C. §1407 and pending a determination of class certification by the transferor court pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 23(d)(1). In support thereof, Defendant sets forth the following:

I. INTRODUCTION

Currently, there are at least fifty-seven (57) actions that seek relief for individuals who

DEFENDANT MENU FOODS' MOTION TO STAY ALL PROCEEDINGS – CV 07-0411 RSM -

1 purchased allegedly contaminated pet food from Defendant. Federal courts have original 2 jurisdiction over these state and common law based actions pursuant to the Class Action 3 Fairness Act of 2005. 28 U.S.C. §1332(d). Specifically, the pending cases allege that 4 Defendant sold contaminated pet food to the general public and individuals whose pets
5 consumed this pet food sustained injuries and/or death. The pending cases seek to certify a 6 class of United States' residents who purchased allegedly contaminated pet food and seek to 7 compensate them for all damages incurred as a result of Defendant's conduct. None of the 8 pending cases are advanced and no discovery has been conducted. The actions are currently 9 pending in the Western District of Washington, Eastern District of Tennessee, Northern 10 District of Illinois, Western District of Wisconsin, Western District of Arkansas, District of 11 New Jersey, Northern District of Florida, Southern District of Florida, District of Connecticut, 12 Central District of California, District of Rhode Island, District of Maine, Northern District of 13 California, District of Nevada, District of Idaho and Northern District of Ohio.

14 A. Pending MDL Motions

15 On March 30, 2007, three (3) separate motions for transfer and coordination or 16 consolidation pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1407 were filed by three (3) different plaintiffs.
17 Plaintiff Shirley Sexton filed the first MDL motion, seeking to transfer her case and numerous 18 other cases involving alleged injuries and/or death arising out of the purchase and/or 19 consumption of pet food manufactured by Defendant to the Central District of California. See 20 Plaintiff Sexton's MDL Motion attached hereto as Exhibit "A." Plaintiff Christina Troiano 21 filed the second MDL motion, seeking transfer to the Southern District of Florida. See 22 Plaintiff Troiano's MDL Motion attached hereto as Exhibit "B." Lastly, Plaintiffs Tom 23 Whaley, Stacey Heller, Toinette Robinson, David Rapp, Cecily and Terrance Mitchelle,

1 Suzanne E. Johnson, Craig R. Klemann, Audrey Komelius, Barbara Smith, Michelle Suggett
2 and Don James, filed their MDL motion to transfer the cases to the Western District of 3 Washington. See Plaintiff Whaley's MDL Motion attached hereto as Exhibit "C." On April 4 5, 2007, a fourth motion for transfer and coordination or consolidation was filed by Plaintiffs 5 Jayme Pittsonberger, David Carter and Jim Bullock, for transfer to the United States District
6 Court for the District of New Jersey. See Plaintiffs' MDL Motion attached hereto as Exhibit 7 "F." Defendant will be filing its MDL response on or before April 19, 2007, and is in 8 agreement that MDL consolidation is appropriate. On April 12, 2007, the Judicial Panel on 9 Multidistrict Litigation ("JPML") issued a Notice of Hearing Session for May 31, 2007 to 10 consider the MDL motions ("Collectively known as MDL 1850 - In re Pet Food Products 11 Liability Litigation). See April 12, 2007 Notice of Hearing Session attached hereto as Exhibit 12 "D."

13 B. Instant Case

14 On March 19, 2007, Plaintiff filed a products liability action in the Western District of 15 Washington, alleging that Plaintiff's pet sustained injuries and/or death as a result of the 16 purchase and/or consumption of pet food manufactured by Defendant. See Plaintiffs' 17 Complaint attached hereto as Exhibit "E." Defendant now respectfully requests this Court to 18 stay all proceedings pending a transfer decision by the JPML and a determination of class 19 certification by the transferor court.

20 II. SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

21 A stay of all proceedings in this action pending a transfer decision by the JPML and a 22 determination of class certification by the transferor court is necessary to promote judicial 23 economy and avoid undue prejudice to the parties. Due to the pending MDL motions and

1 pending motions for class certification, a stay of proceedings in this case is necessary and 2 appropriate to further the interests of judicial economy. This Court should not unnecessarily 3 use its resources and time to supervise pre-trial proceedings and make rulings in a case, which 4 may shortly be transferred to another district court and/or judge for further pre-trial 5 proceedings. Additionally, since all the actions are in the beginning stages of litigation and 6 the Judicial Panel will be hearing the MDL motions on May 31, 2007, no prejudice or 7 inconvenience will result from entry of a stay. See Exhibit "D." On the other hand, absent a 8 stay, Defendant will be substantially prejudiced if it is required to duplicate efforts and 9 expend significant resources defending multiple cases in jurisdictions around the country. For 10 the reasons herein stated, Defendant respectfully moves this Court for an order staying all 11 proceedings in this case pending a transfer decision by the JPML and a determination of class 12 certification by the transferee court.

13 III. ARGUMENT

14 Numerous courts have stayed proceedings pending determinations by the MDL Panel 15 of the appropriateness of coordination under Section 1407. See, e.g., Gonzalez, v. American 16 Home Products, Corp., 223 F.Supp.2d 803 (S.D.Tex. 2002); U.S. Bank, Nat'l Ass'n v. Royal
17 Indem. Co., 2002 WL 31114069 (N.D. Tex. Sept.23, 2002); Moore v. Wyeth-Ayerst
18 Laboratories, 236 F.Supp.2d 509, 511 (D. Md. 2002); Kohl v. American Home Prods. Corp., 19 78 F. Supp. 2d 885 (W.D. Ark. 1999); Republic of Venezuela v. Philip Morris Companies, 20 Inc., et. al., 1999 WL 33911677 (S.D. Fla. 1999); Rivers v. The Walt Disney Co., 980 F. Supp.
21 1358 (C.D. Cal. 1997); American Seafood, Inc. v. Magnolia Processing, 1992 WL 102762
22 (E.D. Pa. May 7, 1992); Arthur-Magna, Inc. v. Del-Val Fin Corp., 1991 WL 13725 (D. N.J.
23 Feb. 1, 1991); Rosenfeld v. Hartford Fire Ins. Co., 1988 WL 49065 (S.D. N.Y. May 12,

1 1988); Portnoy v. Zenith Laboratories, 1987 WL 10236 (D.D.C. Apr. 21, 1987). It is 2 “incidental to the power inherent in every court to control the disposition of the cases on its 3 docket with the economy of time and effort for itself, for counsel, and for litigants.” Landis v.
4 North American Co., 299 U.S. 248, 254 (1936). Guided by the “policies of justice and 5 efficiency,” this Court should exercise its discretion to stay all further proceedings in this 6 action pending the MDL Panel’s action. Boudreaux v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 1995 WL
7 83788, *1 (E.D. La. Feb. 24, 1995).

8 When considering a motion to stay, the Court typically considers three factors: (1) 9 potential prejudice to the non-moving party; (2) hardship and inequity to the moving party if 10 the action is not stayed; and (3) the judicial resources that would be saved by avoiding 11 duplicative litigation if the cases are in fact consolidated. Rivers, 980 F.Supp. at 1360. In the 12 case sub judice, each enumerated factor favors a stay. Thus, this Court should stay all 13 proceedings pending a transfer decision by the Judicial Panel and a determination of class 14 certification by the transferor court.

15 A. Judicial Economy Mandates a Stay Pending a Transfer Decision by the Judicial 16 Panel and Determination of Class Certification

17 Considerations of judicial economy weigh heavily in favor of a stay. First, the express 18 language of 28 U.S.C. §1407 provides that civil actions may be transferred for coordinated or 19 consolidated pretrial proceedings to “promote the just and efficient conduct of such actions.” 20 28 U.S.C. §1407. Second, it is well settled that in the class action context that when similar 21 actions are proceeding in different courts, courts may stay proceedings pending the outcome 22 of the other case. Wright, Miller & Kane, Federal Practice and Procedure: Civil 3D §1792 23 (2005); Knearem v. Bayer Corp, 2002 WL 1173551, 1 (D. Kan. 2002) (granted motion to stay to purported class action which was one of more than two hundred pending federal cases,

1 nearly half of which were purported class actions). Here, a stay of proceedings pending a 2 transfer decision by the MDL and class certification is necessary and appropriate to achieve 3 the judicial economies that underlie §1407 and class actions.

4 Defendant reasonably anticipates that the Judicial Panel will grant an MDL for the 5 following reasons. First, courts have consistently held that the Judicial Panel will transfer 6 cases to eliminate the possibility of inconsistent class determinations. In re CertainTeed
7 Corp. Roofing Shingle Prods Liab. Lit., 2007 WL 549356; In re Guidant Corp. Implantable
8 Defibrillators Prods. Liab. Lit., 398 F. Supp. 2d 1371 (Jud. Pan. Mult. Lit. 2005); In re Ford
9 Motor Co. Speed Control Deactivation Switch Prods. Liab. Lit. 398 F. Supp. 2d 1365 (Jud.
10 Pan. Mult. Lit. 2005); In re Roadway Exp. Inc. Employ. Pract. Lit., 384 F. Supp. 612 (Jud.
11 Pan. Mult. Lit. 1974). Absent a transfer of these cases to a single forum for coordinated and 12 consolidated pretrial proceedings, there is a substantial risk of inconsistent and/or conflicting 13 pretrial rulings on discovery and other key issues, such as class certification. Second, 14 discovery with respect to the Defendant's conduct in each of the actions proposed for 15 consolidation will be substantially similar and will involve the same and/or similar documents 16 and witnesses. Third, efficiency in the administration of justice will be served by 17 consolidation, because one judge rather than multiple judges can supervise all pretrial 18 proceedings and render rulings that are consistent. Fourth, based on the nationwide 19 distribution of Defendant's pet food, many additional cases may be filed before the statute of 20 limitations expires.

21 Absent a stay, the Court will lose the potential efficiencies that would be gained by 22 having pretrial issues, particularly with respect to issues of class certification, decided by a 23 single court. In Gonzalez v. American Home Products, Corp., consumers brought a product

1 liability action against manufacturers and distributors of phenylpropanolamine (PPA) to 2 recover for physical injuries sustained as a result of exposure to PPA. Gonzalez, 223
3 F.Supp.2d at 804. In granting defendants' motion to stay pending a decision of the MDL
4 Panel, the Court held that "[j]udicial economy and consistency of result dictate that this key 5 issue be decided once, not countless times." Gonzales, 223 F.Supp.2d at 805.

6 Like Gonzalez, the interests of judicial economy and consistency warrant a stay here.
7 Without a stay, this Court will be required to expend its time and resources familiarizing itself 8 with the intricacies and complexities of this complicated products liability litigation that may 9 be transferred to another court. Alternatively, if the Judicial Panel assigns the case to this 10 Court, each ruling and action taken by this Court may affect other cases without giving the 11 attorney handling those cases an opportunity to provide input to the Court. Clearly, if these 12 cases are not stayed, many issues particularly with respect to class certification, will have to 13 be revisited by the Court assigned to the cases by the Judicial Panel. Thus, the continuation of 14 this case will result in duplicative and unnecessary efforts by this Court and the parties if this 15 action proceeds forward before the Judicial Panel has an opportunity to rule.

16 Additionally, if a stay is not granted and this case proceeds forward, the Court's 17 rulings potentially could be reconsidered after coordination. "The pretrial powers of the 18 transferee court include the powers to modify, expand, or vacate earlier discovery orders." In 19 re Plumbing Fixture Cases, 298 F. Supp. 484, 489 (J.P.M.L. 1968). In Kohl v. American 20 Home Prods. Corp., a consumer brought a products liability action against manufacturers, 21 distributors and sellers of the pharmaceutical drugs, fenfluramine and phentermine, to recover 22 for injuries allegedly caused by the drugs. Kohl, 78 F. Supp. 2d at 887. In granting 23 defendants' motion to stay pending the transfer of the case to the MDL Panel, the Court held

1 that judicial economy would be best served if litigation was facilitated in the appropriate 2 forum. Kohl, 78 F. Supp. 2d at 888. “If the MDL motion is granted, all of the Court’s time, 3 energy and acquired knowledge regarding the action and its pretrial procedures will be 4 wasted.” U.S. Bank, 2002 WL 31114069 at *2.

5 This Court, like the district court in Kohl, should not expend its limited resources 6 “familiarizing itself with the intricacies of a case that would be heard [for pre-trial purposes] 7 by another judge.” Rivers, 980 F. Supp. at 1360. Moreover, this Court should abstain from 8 scheduling additional status conferences and/or issuing additional discovery orders because 9 “any efforts on behalf of this Court concerning case management will most likely have to be 10 replicated by the judge that is assigned to handle the consolidated litigation.” Id.
11 Furthermore, to avoid the risk of inconsistent substantive legal rulings, pretrial proceedings in 12 this matter and other actions should proceed in an orderly, coordinated fashion, as directed by 13 the single court selected by the Judicial Panel. Accordingly, a stay in this case is appropriate 14 as it will further the just and efficient conduct of this litigation.

15 B. The Balance of Equities Weigh Heavily in Favor of a Stay as Plaintiff Will Suffer 16 No Prejudice, While Defendant Will Suffer Undue Hardship Absent a Stay

17 In addition to the waste of judicial resources inherent in proceeding with this matter 18 prior to a ruling by the Judicial Panel, the balance of the parties’ hardships strongly favors a 19 stay. In Moore v. Wyeth-Ayerst Laboratories, a patient who took a prescription diet drug 20 brought a products liability action against the drug manufacturer. Moore, 236 F.Supp.2d at 21 511. The court in that case held that the potential prejudice to the drug manufacturer 22 warranted a stay of proceedings pending the decision of Judicial Panel for transfer and 23 consolidation. Id. Specifically, the court held that “[c]entralization is...necessary in order to 1 eliminate duplicative discovery, prevent inconsistent or repetitive pretrial rulings...and 2 conserve the resources of the parties, their counsel, and the judiciary.” Id.

3 Defendant in the present action would be substantially prejudiced by duplicative
4 discovery and motion practice if a stay is not put in place. American Seafood, 1992 WL 5 102762 at *2 (holding that “[t]he duplicative motion practice and discovery proceedings 6 demonstrate that judicial economy and prejudice to the defendants weigh heavily in favor of a 7 stay”). Without a stay, Defendant may continue to be served with discovery requests, 8 deposition notices and various motions resulting in duplicative and costly responses and 9 replies being prepared multiple times in different jurisdictions. This burden is a clear, 10 definable hardship weighing in favor of staying this action until the MDL Panel renders its 11 decision.

12 A stay will not, however, unduly prejudice the Plaintiff in this matter. In Republic of 13 Venezuela v. Philip Morris Companies, Inc., et. al., The Republic of Venezuela sought 14 damages from the defendants due to, inter alia, costs allegedly incurred as a result of paying 15 for “medical care, facilities, and services” for Venezuelan residents injured as a result of the 16 use of tobacco. Republic of Venezuela 1999 WL 33911677, *1. The Court in granting 17 Defendant’s motion to stay held that “upon consideration of what effect a brief stay may have 18 on [Plaintiff], the Court finds that Plaintiff will not be prejudiced by the granting of a stay 19 pending the JPML’s decision.” Id.

20 Here, there has been no discovery in the case at bar or any of the pending actions.
21 Since all the actions are in the beginning stages of litigation, no prejudice or inconvenience 22 will result from transfer, coordination and/or consolidation. Any slight delay that Plaintiff 23 may experience in this case will be minimal and the prejudice to Defendant would far outstrip

1 any harm to Plaintiff. See Arthur-Magna, 1991 WL 13725 at *1 (noting that even if a 2 temporary stay can be characterized as a delay prejudicial to plaintiffs, there are 3 considerations of judicial economy and hardship to defendants that are compelling enough to 4 warrant such a delay). Indeed, if the Judicial Panel consolidates the cases into an MDL, all of 5 the parties - including the Plaintiff here - will benefit through increased efficiency and 6 coordinated pretrial case management. Further, Defendant is not asking this Court to stay the 7 proceedings indefinitely. The Judicial Panel will be hearing the MDL motions on May 31, 8 2007. See Exhibit "D." Defendant is only asking the Court to issue a stay while the transfer 9 decision by the Judicial Panel and determination of class certification is pending. As such, 10 any potential delay is outweighed by the potential efficiencies available in a coordinated MDL 11 proceeding. Therefore, the benefits of staying this proceeding far outweigh any minimal 12 inconvenience to the Plaintiff. Thus, the granting of a stay is necessary and appropriate.

13 IV. CONCLUSION

14 For all of the foregoing reasons, it is appropriate for this Court to exercise its sound 15 discretion to stay these proceedings pending the decision of the Judicial Panel and a 16 determination of class certification by the transferor court. A stay would further the interests 17 of judicial economy, and promote just and efficient conduct of this litigation, while denying a 18 stay would unnecessarily waste the efforts and resources of this Court and all parties.
19 Without the stay, Defendant will suffer undue hardship and inequity, and the purpose for 20 coordination and consolidation pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1407 will be undermined.

21 WHEREFORE, Defendant respectfully request this Honorable Court enter an Order 22 staying further proceedings, including but not limited to Defendant's obligation to file
