

1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

VOSK INTERNATIONAL CO.,

Plaintiff,

v.

ZAO GRUPPA PREDPRIYATIY OST
AND ZAO OST AQUA,

Defendants.

Case No. C11-1488RSL

ORDER DENYING MOTION
TO AMEND CASE SCHEDULE

I. INTRODUCTION

This matter comes before the Court on the “Motion for Order Amending Case Schedule” filed by Intervenor LTD. “Aqua-Life” (“Aqua Life”) (Dkt. # 53). Aqua-Life seeks a 90-day continuance of the deadlines set forth in the Court’s order setting the trial date and related deadlines, in part to provide additional time for the parties to complete discovery.

Having considered the parties’ memoranda, supporting documents, and the remainder of the record, the Court finds as follows:

II. DISCUSSION

This case arises out of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board’s (“TTAB”) rejection of Plaintiff Vosk International Co.’s (“Vosk”) applications to register three trademarks. Dkt. #1 at 3-6. Defendants Zao Gruppa Predpriyatij Ost and Zao Ost Aqua (collectively “Zao”) opposed the registration of the trademarks based on their own trademarks and the TTAB sustained Zao’s oppositions. Id. On April 12, 2010, Zao

ORDER DENYING MOTION
TO AMEND CASE SCHEDULE- 1

1 assigned its rights to the trademarks to Aqua-Life. Dkt. # 40 at 2. Aqua-Life is Russian
2 company that, like Zao, manufactures, bottles and sells non-alcoholic drinks. Dkt. # 16
3 at 6.

4 Under Rule 16(b), a party must show good cause to extend a case scheduling
5 order's deadline for completing discovery or for amending the pleadings. Fed. R. Civ.
6 P. 16(b)(4). Unlike Rule 15(a)'s more liberal standard that looks primarily to the bad
7 faith of the moving party and the prejudice to the opposing party, "[t]his standard
8 'primarily considers the diligence of the party seeking the amendment.'" Coleman v.
9 Quaker Oats Co., 232 F.3d 1271, 1294 (9th Cir. 2000) (quoting Johnson v. Mammoth 10 Recreations, Inc., 975 F.2d 604, 609 (9th Cir. 1992)). While prejudice to the party 11 opposing the modification might provide additional reasons for denying the motion, it is 12 not required to deny a motion to amend under Rule 16(b). Id. at 1295. "The district
13 court is given broad discretion in supervising the pretrial phase of litigation." Zivkovic
14 v. S. Cal. Edison Co., 302 F.3d 1080, 1087 (9th Cir. 2002) (quoting Johnson, 975 F.2d 15 at 607).

16 The Court is not convinced that Aqua-Life acted with sufficient diligence in 17 conducting the discovery it now seeks. Aqua-Life's broad request to extend the case
18 deadlines by 90 days fails to identify a particular need to conduct discovery or any other
19 reason why the Court's deadlines cannot be met. While it is true that Aqua-Life was not
20 a party to the litigation when the Court issued its case management order, that fact alone
21 does not justify altering the schedule on last minute motion. See id. (The district court's 22 five-month delay in issuing a written scheduling order was insufficient to justify
23 modifying the deadlines because plaintiff did not seek a modification of the scheduling
24 order until four months after the court issued the order.).

25 More importantly, Aqua-Life does not dispute that since intervening in October
26 2012, it has not propounded a single discovery request on Vosk. In fact, the only reason

1 stated for seeking an extension of the deadlines is to allow Aqua-Life to respond to
2 Vosk's document requests. Dkt. # 53 at 3. Notably, however, Vosk did not file a
3 motion to compel. Id. Furthermore, Aqua-Life informed Vosk early in the litigation
4 that it did not have any documents relevant to the dispute and it has not supplemented
5 this representation to suggest that it has since discovered relevant documents. Dkt. # 36-
6 1 at 4; Dkt. # 57 ¶ 5.

7 Contrary to Aqua-Life's argument, failure to comply with the rules of discovery
8 does not constitute good cause to modify the Court's deadlines. Moreover, Aqua-Life's 9 general request to "extend[] by 90 days the dates and deadlines contained in the Court's
10 May 31, 2012 Minute Order Setting Trial Date and Related Dates," filed on the final day
11 of discovery, see Dkt. # 32, does not suggest that Aqua-Life pursued discovery or a
12 continuance with diligence. While the Court is mindful of the challenges presented by 13 Aqua-Life's status as a foreign corporation, the Court finds telling Aqua-Life's failure to 14 take any steps to further its case during the seven months following its intervention.
15 Based on this undisputed record and Aqua-Life's failure to present a legitimate reason to 16 extend the trial date and related deadlines, the Court DENIES Aqua-Life's motion to 17 amend the case schedule. See Zivkovic, 302 F.3d at 1087 ("If the party seeking the 18 modification 'was not diligent, the inquiry should end' and the motion to modify should 19 not be granted.") (quoting Johnson, 975 F.2d at 609).

20 III. CONCLUSION

21 For all of the foregoing reasons, the Court DENIES Aqua-Life's motion to 22 amend the case schedule (Dkt. # 53).
23
24
25

1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26

DATED this 19th day of June, 2013.

Robert S. Lasnik
Robert S. Lasnik
United States District Judge