ORDER DENYING RENEWED
MOTION FOR PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION AND
TEMPORARY RESTRAINING
ORDER AND DISMISSING
SECOND AMENDED
COMPLAINT WITH LEAVE TO AMEND

15
16 I. INTRODUCTION

17 This matter is before the court on pro se Plaintiff Kwai Ling Chan's third motion 18 for a preliminary injunction and temporary restraining order. (3rd Mot. (Dkt. # 10).) The 19 court has reviewed the motion and the remainder of the record and DENIES the motion.
20 In addition, the court has reviewed the second amended complaint and finds that it fails to 21 state a claim pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 8 and 12(b)(6). Accordingly, 22 the court DISMISSES Plaintiff's Second Amended Complaint. The court has previously

1 granted Plaintiff opportunities to amend its complaint in order to state a claim. (See 2 2/23/12 Order (Dkt. # 5); 4/13/12 Order (Dkt. # 8).) Plaintiff has failed to do so. The 3 court, therefore, finds that granting Plaintiff further opportunities to amend the complaint
4 would be futile. Accordingly, the court DISMISSES Plaintiff's Second Amended 5 Complaint (Dkt. # 9) without leave to amend.

6 II. BACKGROUND

7 On February 16, 2012, Plaintiff filed a complaint (Dkt. # 1) and a motion for a 8 preliminary injunction (Dkt. # 2). The complaint alleges that Defendants Chase Home 9 Loans, Inc. ("Chase") and Recontrust Company, N.A. ("Recontrust") are foreclosing on 10 the Plaintiff's property located at 13355 Prospector Ridge Road, SE, Monroe, 11 Washington ("the property"). (See Compl. (Dkt. # 1) at 1.) The complaint also alleges 12 that Plaintiff signed a note for a home loan with Chase on August 30, 2005, which was 13 secured by the property. (Id. ¶ 4.) The complaint further alleges that the note recited that 14 the Mortgage Electronic Recording System ("MERS") was a beneficiary of the note.
15 (Id.) The complaint alleges that three notices of sale were recorded with respect to the 16 property on October 4, 2010, February 16, 2011, and May 23, 2011, and that the property 17 was fraudulently sold and purchased by the Federal National Mortgage Association. (Id.
18 ¶¶ 10-12.) The complaint specifically alleges causes of action for quiet title and wrongful 19 foreclosure. (Id. ¶¶ 15-22.)

20 On February 23, 2012, the court issued an order dismissing the complaint based on 21 lack of subject matter jurisdiction, but with leave to amend. (Order (Dkt. # 5).) The 22 complaint alleges Plaintiff is a citizen of Washington and Recontrust is a Washington

1 corporation and did not allege a federal cause of action. (Id. ¶¶ 1-3.) Accordingly, the 2 court found that it lacked subject matter jurisdiction because neither diversity jurisdiction
3 nor federal question jurisdiction appeared on the face of the complaint. (See Order at 2-4 3.)

5 On March 6, 2012, Plaintiff filed an amended complaint which read Reconstituted 6 out of the complaint and alleged federal claims under the Truth in Lending Act (“TILA”), 7 15 U.S.C. § 1601, et seq., and the Real Estate Settlement and Procedures Act (“RESPA”), 8 12 U.S.C. § 2601, et seq. (See Am. Compl. (Dkt. # 6) ¶¶ 56-68.) The amended 9 complaint also altered the underlying factual allegations. Contrary to the allegations in 10 the initial complaint, the amended complaint alleges that Plaintiff entered into a loan 11 repayment and security agreement with respect to the property in 2007. (Id. ¶ 3.) The 12 amended complaint alleges that this refinanced loan required Plaintiff to repay the first 13 mortgage on the property. (See id.) The amended complaint also alleges variously that 14 the property is located in Monroe, Washington (id. ¶ 2), and that it is located in Clark 15 County, Nevada (id. ¶ 12). Contrary to the original complaint, the amended complaint 16 alleges that the property has not already been sold, but rather that Defendants “have 17 scheduled or will schedule a non-judicial sale.” (Id. ¶ 46.)

18 On April 5, 2012, Plaintiff filed a second motion for preliminary injunction and 19 also included a request for a temporary restraining order. (2nd Mot. (Dkt. # 7).) The 20 motion states that Plaintiff was served with a Notice of Trustee’s Sale scheduling the 21 foreclosure sale for March 27, 2012 at 10:00 a.m. (Id. at 5.) However, attached to 22 Plaintiff’s second motion is the first page of a Notice of Trustee’s Sale that states that a

1 public auction with respect to the property is not scheduled until May 11, 2012. (Id. at 2 10.) Although Plaintiff filed only the first page of this document (see id.), the court has 3 taken judicial notice of the entire document which was recorded as an official public 4 record in the Snohomish County Auditor's Office on February 7, 2012 under instrument 5 number 201202070369.¹ The Notice of Trustee's Sale indicates that as of February 2, 6 2012, Plaintiff was in default of the deed of trust in an amount of $16,635.47.

7 On April 13, 2012, the court denied Plaintiff's motions for preliminary injunction 8 and temporary restraining order. (Dkt. ## 2, 7.) The court also dismissed all of 9 Plaintiff's claims in the amended complaint under Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 8 and 10 12, but granted Plaintiff leave to amend. (See generally 4/13/02 Ord.) On April 30, 11 2012, Plaintiff filed a second amended complaint (Dkt. # 9), and renewed the motion for 12 preliminary injunction and temporary restraining order for a third time (Dkt. # 10).
13 Plaintiff asserts in the motion that a foreclosure sale on the property is presently set for 14 May 11, 2012. (3rd Mot. at 2.) The second amended complaint once again asserts that 15 the property is located in Monroe, Washington and omits any reference to Nevada as the 16 property's location. Contrary, however, to allegations in the original or amended 17 complaints, the second amended complaint alleges that the current loan originated in 18 2002, and that the deed of trust was filed on November 22, 2002. (2nd Am. Compl. (Dkt.
19 # 9) ¶¶ 16-17.) These factual allegations are at variance with the allegations in the 20 original complaint, which placed the date of the transaction on August 30, 2005 (Compl.

21
22 ¹ In its April 13, 2012 Order, the court took judicial notice of the entire document
(4/13/12 Ord. (Dkt. # 8) at 4 n.1.), and it does so here again.

¶ 4), as well as the allegations in the amended complaint, which placed the date of the transaction in 2007 (Am. Compl. ¶ 3). In any event, like its predecessors, the second amended complaint is replete with legal conclusions, but sparse with respect to specific factual allegations. In this order, the court once again considers not only Plaintiff's pending motion for preliminary injunction and a temporary restraining order, but also analyzes the adequacy of Plaintiff's second amended complaint.

III. ANALYSIS

A. Standards for Preliminary Injunction or Temporary Restraining Order

In order to obtain a temporary restraining order or a preliminary injunction, Plaintiff must establish (1) a likelihood of success on the merits, (2) a likelihood of irreparable harm in the absence of preliminary relief, (3) that the balance of equities tips in Plaintiff's favor, and (4) that an injunction is in the public interest. Winter v. Natural Res. Def. Council, 555 U.S. 7, 20 (2008). In addition, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals has stated that the "serious questions" version of the Ninth Circuit's sliding scale test survives the Supreme Court's decision in Winter when it is applied as part of the four element Winter test. Thus, "'serious questions going to the merits' and a balance of hardships that tips sharply towards the plaintiff can support issuance of an injunction, so long as the plaintiff also shows a likelihood of irreparable injury and that the injunction is in the public interest." Alliance for the Wild Rockies v. Cottrell, 632 F.3d 1127, 1135 (9th Cir. 2011). As discussed below, like Plaintiff's amended complaint (see generally 4/13/12 Order), Plaintiff's second amended complaint cannot survive under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8 and 12(b)(6), and therefore, the court cannot conclude that Plaintiff

1 has met the requirement of demonstrating that he is likely to succeed on the merits or that 2 he has raised serious questions going to the merits. Accordingly, the court DENIES 3 Plaintiff's third motion for preliminary injunction and temporary restraining order.

4 B. Standards for Sua Sponte Dismissal

5 Under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6), a court may dismiss a complaint 6 for "failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted[.]" Fed. R. Civ P. 12(b)(6).

7 To survive dismissal, "a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as 8 true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.'" Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S.
9 662, 678 (2009) (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)).

10 The tenet – that this court must accept as true all of the allegations contained in the 11 complaint – "is inapplicable to legal conclusions." Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 679. A complaint 12 must be pled in such a fashion as to demonstrate the plaintiff's entitlement to relief. This 13 requires "a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to 14 relief." Fed. R. Civ. P. 8. While Rule 8 does not require detailed factual allegations, it 15 demands more than "labels and conclusions" or a "formulaic recitation of the elements of 16 a cause of action." Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678 (quoting Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555).

17 "Threadbare recitals of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory 18 statements, do not suffice." Id. (citing Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555). Rather, "[a] claim has 19 facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw 20 the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged." Id.
21 (citing Twombly, 550 U.S. at 556). Where the claims in a complaint have not crossed the 22

1 line from conceivable to plausible, plaintiff's complaint must be dismissed. Twombly, 2 550 U.S. at 570.²

3 Further, Plaintiff has alleged numerous claims grounded in fraud. (See 2nd Am.
4 Compl. ¶¶ 47-55, 73-79, 83-96.) Plaintiff's fraud claims are governed by the heightened 5 pleading standard of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 9(b), which requires that, in 6 alleging fraud or mistake, "a party must state with particularity the circumstances 7 constituting fraud or mistake." Fed. R. Civ. P. 9(b). To sufficiently allege the 8 "circumstances constituting fraud," a plaintiff must include the "who, what, when, where, 9 and how" of the misconduct charged. Ebeid ex rel. United States v. Lungwitz, 616 F.3d 10 993, 998 (9th Cir.2010).

11 Finally, "[a] trial court may dismiss a claim sua sponte under Rule 12(b)(6)." 12 Omar v. Sea-Land Serv., Inc., 813 F.2d 986, 991 (9th Cir. 1987). "Such dismissal may 13 be made without notice where the claimant cannot possibly win relief." Id.; see also 14 Sparling v. Hoffman Constr. Co., 864 F.2d 635, 638 (9th Cir. 1988) (trial court may sua 15 sponte dismiss for failure to state a claim without notice or an opportunity to respond 16 where the plaintiff "cannot possibly win relief") (alteration, citation and internal 17 quotations omitted); Shoop v. Deutsche Bank Nat. Trust Co., No. 10-16440, 2012 WL 18 32137, at *1 (9th Cir. Jan. 6, 2012) (unpublished) (holding that district court did not err in 19 sua sponte dismissing pro se complaint arising out of foreclosure proceedings).

22 ² The court liberally construes pro se pleadings. See Eldridge v. Block, 832 F.2d 1132, 1137 (9th Cir. 1987).

1 C. Plaintiff's Claims

2 In its prior order dismissing the amended complaint with leave to amend, the court
3 instructed Plaintiff that any second amended complaint “must plainly and clearly state 4 how each named defendant has injured [Plaintiff], and it must allege specific facts to 5 Plaintiff’s claims as opposed to mere legal conclusions.” (Ord. (Dkt. # 8) at 22.) Despite 6 this clear direction, Plaintiff’s second amended complaint, like Plaintiff’s amended 7 complaint, is filled with conclusory legalese under which Plaintiff cannot win federal 8 relief from a state nonjudicial foreclosure proceeding. In some instances, Plaintiff has 9 simply restated claims that the court previously dismissed without fixing the problems 10 identified by the court. As discussed below, the court once again dismisses each of 11 Plaintiff’s claims.

12 1. Counts I, II, IV, VI, VII, and VIII - Allegations Based on Fraud

13 In counts I (2nd Am. Compl. ¶¶ 47-52) and II (id. ¶¶ 53-55), Plaintiff alleges that 14 Defendants “committed fraud in the financing of the Property” (id. ¶ 48), and in 15 “misleading Plaintiff into believing that they were working on a loan modification when 16 they fraudulently foreclosed on the Property” (id. ¶ 54). In count IV (id. ¶¶ 73-79), 17 Plaintiff alleges the non-judicial foreclosure action against the property is fraudulent 18 because “[n]one of the defendants are entitled to enforce the instrument.” (Id. ¶ 74.) In 19 count VI (id. ¶¶ 83-89), Plaintiff alleges “fraudulent assignment” of the note based on the 20 role of Defendant Mortgage Electronic Registration System (“MERS”) in the transaction
21 (id. ¶ 84), and the existence of “ROBO-SIGNING” procedures (id. ¶88). In count VII 22 (id. ¶¶ 90-93), Plaintiff alleges “notary fraud” by “signing documents known by the

1 Defendants to be fraudulent.” (Id. ¶ 91.) Finally, in count VIII (id. ¶¶ 94-96), Plaintiff
2 alleges that “Defendant purported to file a Notice of Default in with the Snohomish 3 County Recorders Office, which was fraudulent” (Id. ¶ 95.)

4 First, to the extent that Plaintiff’s claims for fraud arise out of the role allegedly 5 played by MERS, the court previously rejected this argument when it dismissed 6 Plaintiff’s amended complaint. (See 4/13/12 Order at 21-22 (citing Vawter v. Quality
7 Loan Serv. Corp. of Wash., 707 F. Supp. 2d 1115, 1125-26 (W.D. Wash. 2010);
8 Daddabbo v. Countrywide Home Loans, Inc., No. C09–1417RAJ, 2010 WL 2102485
9 (W.D. Wash., May 20, 2010); Moon v. GMAC Mortg. Corp., No. C08–969TSZ, 2008
10 WL 4741492 (W.D. Wash. Oct. 24, 2008).) Nothing in Plaintiff’s second amended 11 complaint alters the court’s prior analysis.

12 Further, the court has reviewed the allegations in Plaintiff’s counts arising out of 13 allegations of fraud and concludes that they do not meet the heightened pleading 14 standards of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 9. Specifically, Plaintiff fails to include the 15 “who, what, when, where, and how” of the misconduct charged. Ebeid ex rel. United 16 States v. Lungwitz, 616 F.3d 993, 998 (9th Cir. 2010). Plaintiff’s allegations do not 17 include any specific information about the identity of who made the fraudulent statements 18 or committed the fraudulent acts at issue, when or where the statements or acts occurred, 19 how the statements were made or the acts were committed with relation to Plaintiff’s 20 circumstances, or how Defendants may have known of the falsity of the allegedly 21 fraudulent statements or acts.

1 Plaintiff also fails to meet the requirements to plead fraud under Washington law.

2 The elements of fraud are well established in Washington. They are:

3 (1) A representation of an existing fact, (2) its materiality, (3) its falsity, (4) 4 the speaker's knowledge of its falsity or ignorance of its truth, (5) his intent 5 that it should be acted on by the person to whom it is made, (6) ignorance 6 of its falsity on the part of the person to whom it is made, (7) the latter's 7 reliance on the truth of the representation, (8) his right to rely on it, [and] 8 (9) his consequent damage.

9 Kirkham v. Smith, 23 P.3d 10, 13 (Wash. Ct. App. 2001). Washington law also requires

10 Plaintiff to plead the circumstances constituting fraud with particularity. See, e.g.,

11 Haberman v. Wash. Pub. Power Supply Sys., 744 P.2d 1032, 1069 (Wash. 1987). “A 12 complaint adequately alleges fraud if it informs the defendant of who did what, and 13 describes the fraudulent conduct and mechanisms.” Id. In the present case, Plaintiff does

14 not allege the foregoing required elements with the requisite level of particularity. While 15 a broadly worded complaint may be enough, at this stage, to support some causes of 16 action, it is certainly not enough to support claims based on fraud. The court, therefore,

17 DISMISSES Plaintiff's claims (including counts I, II, IV, VI, VII, and VIII) arising out of 18 allegations of fraud.

19 2. Count III – RESPA

20 Although the court dismissed Plaintiff's claim under RESPA in its April 13, 2011

21 order (4/13/12 Order at 15-16), Plaintiff has reasserted a claim under RESPA in its

22 second amended complaint. (2nd Am. Compl. ¶¶ 56-72.) In the amended complaint, Plaintiff alleged that Defendants “gave, provided or received a hidden fee or thing of value for the referral of settlement business, including but not limited to, kickbacks,

1 hidden referral fees, and/or loan origination fees and YSP [yield spread premiums].” 2 (Am. Compl. ¶ 67(b).) Plaintiff also alleged that defendants “charged fees in excess of 3 the reasonable value of goods provided and/or services.” (Id. ¶ 67(d).) Plaintiff was 4 apparently claiming a violation of RESPA under 12 U.S.C. § 2607, which prohibits 5 kickbacks and unearned fees. Plaintiff reasserts similar allegations in the second 6 amended complaint (see 2nd Am. Compl. ¶¶ 56-63). In addition, Plaintiff also asserts a 7 claim under RESPA that Defendants failed to respond to a “qualified written request” for 8 information relating to the servicing of a loan. (Id. ¶¶ 64-72.)

9 Unfortunately, Plaintiff has failed to resolve the grounds upon which the court 10 originally dismissed this claim. As noted in the court’s prior order, the statute of 11 limitations under RESPA is either one-year or three-years depending on the violation.
12 (See 4/13/12 Order at 15-16 (citing 12 U.S.C. § 2614).) In the latest version of Plaintiff’s 13 complaint, Plaintiff alleges that the loan transaction at issue occurred in 2002. (2nd Am.
14 Compl. ¶ 17.) Thus, the portion of Plaintiff’s RESPA claim concerning kickbacks and 15 unearned fees that arise out of the loan origination are therefore barred by the statute of 16 limitations.

17 In addition, Plaintiff’s RESPA claim is also subject to dismissal due to insufficient 18 factual allegations. Although Plaintiff’s RESPA allegations are governed by the general 19 pleading standards of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8 and not the heightened standards 20 of Rule 9, Plaintiff has failed to allege sufficient factual content to meet even the more 21 liberal Rule 8 standard. It is not the length of the allegations that is the test, but rather 22 whether Plaintiff has plead sufficient factual content to allow the court to draw the 1 reasonable inference that Defendants are liable for the alleged claim. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 2 679 (citing Twombly, 550 U.S. at 556). Plaintiff does not allege which fees were 3 excessive or predatory, or which fees or finances charges were not correctly disclosed.

4 Plaintiff allegations concerning Defendants’ alleged failure to respond to a “qualified 5 written request” is replete with a list of the statutory requirements, but nearly devoid of 6 any underpinning factual allegations. As noted in its prior order, the court is not required
7 to credit mere legal conclusions. (4/13/12 Order at 16 (citing Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678; 8 Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555).) Stripped on the legal conclusions, there are insufficient 9 factual allegations to support Plaintiff’s RESPA claim. Accordingly, the court 10 DISMISSES this claim.

11 3. Count V – Fair Debt Collection Practices Act

12 Plaintiff’s sole allegation specifically in support of his claim under the Fair Debt 13 Collection Practices Act (“FDCPA”), 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692 et seq., is that “Defendants [sic] 14 filing of a Notice of Default and Election to Sell Under [sic] the Deed of Trust without 15 duly assigned authorization to do so put them in direct violation of the Fair Debt 16 Collection Act [sic].” (2nd Am. Compl. ¶ 81.) The second amended complaint alleges 17 no facts showing Defendants to be debt collectors within the meaning of the FDCPA.

18 “The FDCPA, by and large, regulates debt collectors.” Hedman v. Aurora Loan 19 Servs., No. 2:10-cv-01229-MCE-KJN, 2010 WL 3784170, at *2 (E.D. Cal. Sept. 27, 20 2010). “The term ‘debt collector’ means any person who uses any instrumentality . . . or 21 the mails in any business the principal purpose of which is the collection of debts, or who 22 regularly collects or attempts to collect . . . debts owed or due . . . another.” 15 U.S.C. §

1 1692a(6). It is well established that “foreclosing on a property pursuant to a deed of trust 2 is not the collection of a debt within the meaning of the FDCPA.” Duran v. Aurora Loan
3 Servs., No. 1:09cv0138 OWW DLB, 2009 WL 1110643, at *2 (E.D. Cal. Apr. 24, 2009);
4 see Miller v. Wells Fargo Home Mortg., No. CIV S-10-0284 GEB DAD PS, 2010 WL
5 3431802, at *7 (E.D. Cal. Aug. 31, 2010); Mansour v. Cal-Western Reconveyance Corp., 6 618 F. Supp. 2d 1184, 1182 (D. Ariz. 2009). Because the complaint, even when liberally 7 construed, alleges no facts showing Defendants to be debt collectors within the meaning 8 of the FDCPA, the court DISMISSES Plaintiff’s FDCPA claim. See Salazar v. Lehman
9 Bros. Bank, No. CV-10-0099-PHX-DGC, 2010 WL 3998047, at *4 (D. Ariz., Oct. 12, 10 2010) (dismissing FDCPA claim in the foreclosure context); Duran, 2009 WL 1110643, 11 at *2 (dismissing FDCPA claim asserted against defendant because its foreclosure 12 activities “did not fall within the terms of [the] FDCPA”).

13 4. Count IX – Quiet Title

14 Once again, Plaintiff asserts a claim for quiet title. (2nd Am. Compl. ¶¶ 97-98.)

15 As explained in the court’s prior order, to maintain an action for quiet title, Plaintiff must 16 first pay the outstanding debt on which the subject mortgage or deed of trust is based.

17 (4/13/12 Order at 20 (citing Thein v. Recontrust Co., N.A., No. C11-5939BHS, 2012 WL 18 527530, at *2 (W.D. Wash. Feb. 16, 2012) (citing Evans v. BAC Home Loans Servicing
19 LP, No. C10-0656 RSM, 2010 WL 5138394, at *3 (W.D. Wash. Dec.10, 2010)

20 (“Plaintiffs cannot assert an action to quiet title against a purported lender without 21 demonstrating they have satisfied their obligations under the Deed of Trust.”)); Treece v.

22 Fieldston Mortg. Co., No. 11–5981 RJB, 2012 WL 123042, at *6 (W.D. Wash. Jan. 17, 1 2012) (“[A] quiet title claim against a mortgagee requires that a mortgagor is the rightful 2 owner of the property, that is, that the mortgagor has paid an outstanding debt secured by 3 the mortgage.”.) In the second amended complaint, Plaintiff does not disclaim his 4 default, allege that he has cured his default, or allege that he is able to pay the amount 5 owed on the loan. The court concludes that the allegations underpinning Plaintiff’s claim 6 for quiet title in his second amended complaint are as defective as they were in his 7 amended complaint, and therefore DISMISSES this claim once again.

8 5. Count X – Injunctive Relief

9 Plaintiff has again asserted a claim for injunctive relief. (2nd Am. Compl. ¶¶ 99-10 101.) In its original order of dismissal, the court dismissed Plaintiff’s count for injunctive 11 relief because “a claim for ‘injunctive relief’ standing alone is not a cause of action.”
12 (4/13/12 Order at 7 (citing Jensen v. Quality Loan Serv. Corp., 702 F. Supp. 2d 1183, 13 1201 (E.D. Cal. 2010) (“A request for injunctive relief by itself does not state a cause of 14 action”); Henke v. ARCO Midcon, L.L.C., 750 F. Supp. 2d 1052, 1059–60 (E.D. Mo.
15 2010) (“Injunctive relief, however, is a remedy, not an independent cause of action.”); 16 Motley v. Homecomings Fin., LLC, 557 F. Supp. 2d 1005, 1014 (D. Minn. 2008) (no 17 independent cause of action for injunction exists).) Further, the court dismissed this 18 cause of action without leave to amend. (Id. at 9.) Accordingly, the court DISMISSES 19 this claim in Plaintiff’s second amended complaint, as well.
20
21
22

1 6. Count XI – Breach of the Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair
2 Dealing

3 As the court explained in its first order of dismissal, the duty of good faith and fair 4 dealing is not “free-floating,” but “exists only in relation to performance of a specific 5 contract term.” (4/13/12 Order at 10 (citing Badgett v. Security State Bank, 807 P.2d 356, 6 360 (Wash. 1991).) The court dismissed this claim in Plaintiff’s amended complaint 7 because Plaintiff failed to show which terms of the contract give rise to the claim for 8 breach of the duty of good faith and fair dealing. (Id.) Plaintiff has re-alleged a claim for 9 breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing in its second amended 10 complaint (2nd Am. Compl. ¶¶ 102-105), but has failed to address the problem that was 11 the basis for the court’s first dismissal. Indeed, Plaintiff has now alleged that 12 “Defendants breached all [contractual] agreements with Plaintiff’s [sic] by failing to 13 observe the covenant of good faith and fair dealing thereunder” (2nd Am. Compl. ¶ 14 104.) This allegation is nothing more than a tautology. Further, nowhere in the second 15 amended complaint does Plaintiff identify the contractual provisions in the loan, deed of 16 trust, or other contract that Defendants have allegedly failed to perform. Accordingly, the 17 court once again DISMISSES this count for failure to state a plausible claim.

18 D. Leave to Amend

19 The court recognizes that leave to amend a defective complaint should be freely 20 granted “when justice so requires.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 15(a)(2). Plaintiff, however, has 21 already had two prior opportunities to amend his complaint – once to cure jurisdictional 22 deficiencies (see 2/23/12 Order), and once more to cure pleading deficiencies (see

1 4/13/12 Order). In his second amended complaint, Plaintiff either failed to cure the 2 deficiencies identified in the court's prior April 13, 2012 order, or asserted new, but 3 equally defective, claims. (See generally 2nd Am. Compl.; see supra § III.C.)

4 Before filing his second amended complaint, Plaintiff was advised of Federal Rule 5 of Civil Procedure 8's pleading requirements as recently interpreted by the Supreme 6 Court in Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555-56, and Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678. (See 4/13/12 Order at 7 6; see also id. at 22 ("Plaintiff is advised that the second amended complaint must plainly 8 and clearly state how each named defendant has injured him, and it must allege facts 9 specific to Plaintiff's claims as opposed to mere legal conclusions.")) Plaintiff has not 10 shown, and it does not otherwise appear to the court, that the deficiencies in the second 11 amended complaint can be cured through additional amendment. The court therefore 12 DENIES leave to amend the second amended complaint. See Salazar v. Lehman Bros.
13 Bank, No. CV-10-0099-PHX-DGC, 2010 WL 3998047, at *7 (D. Ariz. Oct. 12, 2010) 14 (denying leave to amend pro se complaint arising out of foreclosure action where 15 plaintiff had been advised of Rule 8's pleading requirements and had previous 16 opportunity to cure the pleading deficiencies, but had failed to do so) (citing Foman v.
17 Davis, 371 U.S. 178, 182, 83 S.Ct. 227, 9 L.Ed.2d 222 (1962) (leave to amend may be 18 denied as futile); Leadsinger, Inc. v. BMG Music Publ'g, 512 F.3d 522, 532 (9th Cir.
19 2008) (affirming denial of leave to amend where the complaint could not be saved by any 20 amendment)).

1 IV. CONCLUSION

2 Based on the foregoing, the court sua sponte DISMISSES Plaintiff's second 3 amended complaint (Dkt. # 9) without leave to amend. Because Plaintiff's second 4 amended complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, Plaintiff has 5 failed to establish a likelihood of success on the merits or serious questions going to the 6 merits of his claims. Accordingly, the court also DENIES Plaintiff's third motion for a 7 preliminary injunction and temporary restraining order (Dkt. # 10).
