RESETTING CERTAIN DISCOVERY
AND MEDIATION DEADLINES

NOTE ON MOTION CALENDAR:

STIPULATION

The Parties to this action, by and through their undersigned counsel, jointly request that the Court modify the Amended Order Setting Trial Date and Related Dates (dkt #183) to extend certain discovery deadlines and the mediation deadline in light of developments in this case.

First, the parties would like to extend the settlement conference deadline by one day, i.e., from February 28, 2018 to March 1, 2018, to accommodate mediator Jed Melnick's schedule. Second, the parties would like to extend the discovery cutoff and expert discovery deadlines due to practical and logistical issues associated with preserving testimony for trial from third party witnesses and production of historic documents concerning events that occurred at a bank that no

1 longer exists. More specifically, the witnesses in this case are being asked to recall events and 2 interpret documents that occurred in 2007 and earlier. Many of the witnesses are unavailable for 3 trial, none work for Washington Mutual Bank at this time, the witnesses are spread across the 4 country, there are logistical issues associated with scheduling their depositions, and the 5 depositions are for trial testimony. Likewise, the FDIC-R has had logistical issues in locating and 6 producing historic documents, and it has obtained additional documents that it is currently in the 7 process of reviewing and producing relevant to certain witnesses. Accordingly, the parties need 8 additional time to complete its trial depositions, and experts will rely upon this testimony. The 9 parties have worked diligently to conduct eleven depositions (most of them in the past three 10 months) in South Carolina, Florida, Washington, and Wisconsin. Additional depositions are 11 scheduled in New York, London, Missouri, Texas and Oklahoma. The parties believe that they 12 can complete their work within the proposed deadlines, and they are focused on preparing the case
 13 for a trial in June.
