WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

MICHAEL B. FULLER,	)
	)	CASE NO. C15-1837RSM
Plaintiff,	)

v.	)	ORDER GRANTING DEFENDANTS'
	)	MOTION TO DISMISS
SEATTLE POLICE DEPARTMENT, et	)
al.,	)
Defendants.	)

This matter comes before the Court on Defendants' Motion to Dismiss for Failure to Prosecute, Dkt. #26. Plaintiff Michael B. Fuller's original Complaint was filed on December 2, 2015. Dkt. #4. On December 3, 2015, the Court issued an Order for Amended Complaint, stating that Plaintiff's Complaint was "difficult or impossible to follow due to a lack of punctuation and clear subject matter." Dkt. #5 at 1. On December 23, 2015, Plaintiff filed an Amended Complaint. Dkt. #6. Several Defendants have made an appearance and at least one Answer has been filed. See Dkt. ## 8, 9, 11. On March 23, 2016, the Court issued an Order regarding initial disclosures and joint status report, with several due dates. Dkt. #12. On April 20, 2016, Plaintiff filed a Motion for Extension of Time. Dkt. #13. The Court denied this

1 Motion, finding that it suffered “from the same deficiencies as Plaintiff’s pleading” and that it
2 was unclear what deadline Plaintiff was requesting be extended. Dkt. #14 at 2. The Court
3 urged the parties to work together to resolve discovery issues. On May 23, 2016, the parties
4 submitted a standard Joint Status Report. Dkt. #16. On June 30, 2016, Plaintiff filed a
5 Response to the Joint Status Report suffering from the same prior deficiencies as Plaintiff’s
6 pleading and apparently seeking no relief from the Court. Dkt. #18. This Response addresses
8 Defense counsel Derek Casey Chen thusly:

9           Derek C. Chen WSBA #49723 Extraordinary Abuse, Abusive,
10           Moral Turpitude.... Derek C. Chen, Revelation 2 Verse 2. I know
11           thy works and thy labour and thy patience, and how thou canst not 12           bear them which are evil and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars.

13 Dkt. #18 at 2. This Response proceeds to connect the Defendants’ law firm Keating Bucklin &
14 McCormack, Inc., P.S., with “Asians Chinese Regime... Communist Control Act August 24,
15 1954...” Plaintiff later writes, in a rambling and incoherent passage, “Asians or smart they can
16 learn very stupid Chinese student democrats gave secret documents to the enemies spies
17 demons from Asians, Chinese, Credo regime Derek C. Chen...” Id. at 4. The Court notes that 18 this type of language was found in the original Complaint. See Dkt. #4.
19

20           On July 9, 2016, Plaintiff moved to consolidate this case with two other cases, Lewis v.
21 English, Case No. 15-345-TSZ and Tahir v. English, Case No. 15-1819-MJP. Dkt. #21. On 22 November 23, 2016, Defendants filed the instant Motion to Dismiss. Dkt. #26. Plaintiff has 23 failed to file a Response.
24

25           Defendants move to dismiss under Rule 41(b), arguing that “[t]he few times Plaintiff
26 has communicated with Defendants, the substance of the documents was wholly unrelated to 27 this case,” that “Plaintiff’s other correspondence is a mixture of racially insensitive remarks
28

1 against different ethnicities and races, random legal statutes that are inapplicable to this lawsuit,
2 and conspiracy theories,” and that “Plaintiff filed his complaint almost one year ago and has not
3 filed or done anything substantive to advance his case.” Dkt. #26 at 1-2.

4 In addition to the above facts, Defendants add that they sent Plaintiff discovery on May 5 25, 2016, but have never received a response. Dkt. #27 at ¶ 2. Defendants state that they have
6 sent Plaintiff several letters regarding discovery, only to receive correspondence from Plaintiff
7 as described in the preceding paragraph. See Dkt. #26 at 3. Defendants state that they have 8 received no discovery requests from Plaintiff. Id. Defendants argue that “[i]t has now been
9 eleven months since Plaintiff formally initiated this litigation,” and that “[t]hroughout this time,
10 Plaintiff has used the litigation as a forum for his political, social, and activist views, but has 11 not sought to progress the case at all.” Id.

12 Defendants argue that, pursuant to FRCP 41(b), a defendant may move to dismiss a 13 lawsuit against it if the plaintiff fails to prosecute or comply with the court rules or a court
14 order. Dkt. #26 at 3 (citing Malone v. U.S. Postal Service, 833 F.2d 128, 130 (9th Cir. 1987)).
15 Defendants argue that pro se litigants are held to the same procedural rules as those parties
16 represented by counsel. Id. (citing King v. Atiyeh, 814 F.2d 565, 567 (9th Cir. 1987)).
17 Defendants cite to Al-Torki v. Kaempfen, 78 F.3d 1381, 1384 (9th Cir. 1996) for factors to be 18 considered by the Court in ruling on a motion to dismiss for lack of prosecution. Id. at 4.
19 These factors are “(1) the public’s interest in expeditious resolution of litigation; (2) the court’s
20 need to manage its docket; (3) the risk of prejudice to the defendants; (4) the public policy
21 favoring disposition of cases on their merits and (5) the availability of less drastic sanctions.”
22 Al-Torki, 78 F.3d at 1384. There must also be a showing of unreasonable delay. Id.

1 With regard to the first factor, Defendants argue that, as a public entity, they operate
2 “on a budget funded by taxpayer dollars.” Dkt. #26 at 4. With regard to the second factor,
3 Defendants highlight the above efforts by Plaintiff to frustrate the proceeding of this matter
4 while simultaneously refusing to participate in discovery. Id. With regard to the third factor,
5 Defendants argue that there is a risk of prejudice in simply having this case hanging over them,
6 and that they are prejudiced by the delay in seeking discovery. Id. at 5. With regard to the 7 fourth factor, Defendants argue that “[a]lthough this factor favors not dismissing the case, a
8 court may reasonably and correctly find it is not enough to support finding in Plaintiff’s favor
9 when it is outweighed, as it is here, by the other four factors weighing in favor of dismissal.”
10 Id. (citing Yourish v. California Amplifier, 191 F.3d 983, 992 (9th Cir. 1999)). With regard to 11 the fifth factor, Defendants argue that there is no indication that less drastic sanctions would 12 have any effect and therefore dismissal without resorting to other sanctions is proper. Id.
13 Defendants again highlight the fact that Plaintiff’s involvement in this case has repeatedly been 14 to send “hateful and malicious statements against Defendants, their counsel, and arbitrary 15 public and private figures.” Id. at 6. Defendants argue that Plaintiff’s pending Motion to 16 Consolidate is not an attempt to prosecute but to further delay this case. Id.
18
19

20 The Court begins its analysis by noting that the party opposing a motion shall, within 21 the time prescribed in Local Rule 7(d), file and serve on each party a brief in opposition. LCR
22 7(b)(2). “Except for motions for summary judgment, if a party fails to file papers in opposition
23 to a motion, such failure may be considered by the court as an admission that the motion has 24 merit.” Id. In this case, Plaintiff’s failure to respond to the instant Motion is interpreted by the 25 Court as an admission that the Motion has merit. The Court will therefore accept all of the 26 factual statements submitted by Defendants as true for purposes of ruling on this Motion. The 27
28

1 Court has no reason to doubt Defendants' assertions of the communications they have and have
2 not received from Plaintiff.

3 The Court has reviewed the record and agrees with Defendants. Under the Al-Torki
4 factors, the Court first finds that Defendants have met their burden of presenting evidence that
5 Plaintiff has frustrated the public's interest in expeditious resolution of this litigation as well as 6 this Court's need to manage its docket with the above meritless filings and correspondence and 7 by refusing to participate in discovery. Although the risk of prejudice to Defendants is 8 relatively small, the public policy in favor of disposition of cases on their merits remains
9 strong, and there are less drastic sanctions, the Court finds that these factors tip in favor of 10 dismissal given the entire record including the Court's prior Order requiring Plaintiff to amend 11 his initial Complaint and Plaintiff's "hateful and malicious statements against Defendants, their 12 counsel, and arbitrary public and private figures." The Court further finds that Defendants have 13 made a strong showing of unreasonable delay despite the outstanding discovery deadline in this
14 case. The Court agrees that the pending Motion to Consolidate is not an attempt to prosecute
15 but to further delay this case. Dismissal is therefore warranted.

19 Having reviewed the relevant briefing, the declarations and exhibits attached thereto,
