Case No. 16-1113RSM

ORDER GRANTING DEFENDANT U.S.
BANK'S MOTION TO DISMISS

26
27
28
I. INTRODUCTION

This matter comes before the Court on Defendant U.S. Bank's Motion to Dismiss Counts II, IV, and V against U.S. Bank, Dkt. #14. U.S. Bank moves under Rule 12(b)(6) to dismiss Plaintiffs' securities fraud and breach of fiduciary duty claims arguing that "this case is at its core a simple breach of contract dispute," that Plaintiffs have failed to plead the fraud

ORDER GRANTING DEFENDANT U.S. BANK'S MOTION TO DISMISS - 1

1 claims with sufficient specificity and particularity, and that U.S. Bank was not a seller of 2 securities. Dkt. #14 at 8-10. Plaintiffs oppose this Motion. The Court has determined that oral
3 argument is unnecessary. For the reasons set forth below, the Court agrees with U.S. Bank and 4 GRANTS its Motion with regard to Count II.

5 II. BACKGROUND¹

6
7 Plaintiffs are individual citizens and residents of the People’s Republic of China. Dkt.
8 #3 at 2. On or about April 16, 2012, Plaintiffs entered into an escrow agreement (“Master
9 Escrow Agreement”) with certain other Defendants; Defendant U.S. Bank was the “Escrow 10 Agent.” Id. at 3. The Master Escrow Agreement was intended to facilitate investment by and to 11 protect foreign persons like the Plaintiffs interested in potentially investing in Defendant
12 Quartzburg Gold, LP for the purpose of qualifying for the EB-5 U.S. immigration investor
13 program. Id. The Master Escrow Agreement contemplated that numerous Investors would 14 execute a Joinder to the Master Escrow Agreement (each an “Escrow Joinder”) and each place
15 at least $500,000 in escrow. Id. After the project was fully subscribed in this manner,
16 Quartzburg and the Plaintiffs would submit immigration petitions to the United States
17 Citizenship and Immigration Services (“USCIS”). Id. The Master Escrow Agreement allowed 18 for disbursements of the Investors’ escrowed funds only if certain conditions were met. Id. at 4.
19 Specifically, Section 4 of the Master Escrow Agreement provides: “Escrow Agent shall 20 disburse Escrow Funds at any time and from time to time, upon receipt of, and in accordance 21 with a Written Direction. . . .” Id. Plaintiffs allege that the Escrow Joinders “only allowed U.S.
22 Bank to disburse the [Plaintiffs’] escrowed funds to Quartzburg upon the approval of [a 23 Plaintiff’s] I-526 petition.” Id. Each Plaintiff subsequently executed an Escrow Joinder and

27

28 ¹ The following background facts are taken from Plaintiffs’ Amended Complaint, Dkt. #3, and accepted as true for purposes of ruling on this Motion to Dismiss.

1 deposited at least $500,000 in escrow with U.S. Bank as escrow agent (collectively, the 2 “Escrowed Funds”). Id. at 5. This occurred at a U.S. Bank branch in Salt Lake City, Utah. Id.
3 at 5-6, 13. Immigration petitions for each Investor and the project were then submitted to 4 USCIS. None of the Investors’ I-526 petitions were approved, and ultimately USCIS denied the 5 I-526 petitions, citing deficiencies with the Quartzburg project that did not comply with the 6 requirements of the EB-5 program. Id. at 6. Plaintiffs allege that Defendants Quartzburg and 7 Muroff “intended to fraudulently obtain the Escrowed Funds by asserting that the 8 Acknowledgements were actually Approvals,” and “requested that U.S. Bank release the 9 Investors’ Escrowed Funds on the basis of those Acknowledgements.” Id. Plaintiffs argue that 10 these requests to U.S. Bank did not conform to the requirements of the Master Escrow 11 Agreement. Id. at 6-7. Nevertheless, U.S. Bank disbursed the Investors’ Escrowed Funds to 12 Quartzburg after receiving Quartzburg’s disbursement requests. Id. at 7. Plaintiffs allege that, 13 at the time that it released the Escrowed Funds to Quartzburg, U.S. Bank knew or should have 14 known that Quartzburg’s disbursement requests did not comply with the requirements of the 15 Master Escrow Agreement and the Escrow Joinders. Id. Neither Quartzburg nor U.S. Bank
16 notified the Plaintiffs that Quartzburg had requested disbursements of their Escrowed Funds or 17 that U.S. Bank had disbursed the funds to Quartzburg. Id. Plaintiffs then requested that 18 Quartzburg and U.S. Bank return the Escrowed Funds; no funds have been returned. Id. at 8.
19
21
22

23 On December 3, 2015, Plaintiffs filed the instant lawsuit in the United States District
24 Court for the District of Utah. See Docket. Plaintiffs bring the following causes of action:
25 Count I, Breach of Contract and Duty of Good Faith and Fair Dealing; Count II, Breach of 26 Fiduciary Duty; Count III, Conversion/Monies Had and Received; Count IV, Federal Securities
27
28

1 Fraud; Count V, State Securities Fraud. See Dkt. #3. On July 11, 2016, the Utah Court granted
2 a Motion to Transfer Venue and transferred to the Western District of Washington. Dkt. #30.

3 The instant Motion to Dismiss was originally filed in the Utah Court on April 12, 2016,
4 but after the transfer it was renoted to be considered by this Court on September 29, 2016,
5 without the need for additional briefing. See Dkt. #55. On September 27, 2016, the Court
6 granted a Stipulated Motion to Dismiss Counts IV and V of the Amended Complaint against 7 U.S. Bank, thereby limiting the instant Motion to a discussion of Count II. Dkt. #54.
8

9 III. DISCUSSION

10 A. Legal Standard

11 In making a 12(b)(6) assessment, the court accepts all facts alleged in the complaint as 12 true, and makes all inferences in the light most favorable to the non-moving party. Baker v.
13 Riverside County Office of Educ., 584 F.3d 821, 824 (9th Cir. 2009) (internal citations omitted).
14 However, the court is not required to accept as true a “legal conclusion couched as a factual
15 allegation.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (quoting Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 16 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)). The complaint “must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as 17 true, to state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.” Id. at 678. This requirement is met 18 when the plaintiff “pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference 19 that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Id. The complaint need not include 20 detailed allegations, but it must have “more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic
21 recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.” Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555. Absent
22 facial plausibility, Plaintiff’s claims must be dismissed. Id. at 570.
23
25

26 B. Breach of Fiduciary Duty Claim

27
28

1 U.S. Bank argues that Plaintiffs’ claim for breach of fiduciary duty “is entirely
2 duplicative of their breach of contract claim” and that it otherwise fails to state a claim. Dkt.
3 #14 at 37. U.S. Bank argues that an alleged injury flowing from a relationship involving a
4 contract is remediable in tort only if the injury is traceable to a “breach of a tort law duty of care
5 arising independently of the contract.” Id. at 37-38 (citing Eastwood v. Horse Harbor Found.,
6 Inc., 170 Wn.2d 380, 394, 241 P.3d 1256, 1264 (2010); Anapoell v. Am. Express Bus. Fin.
7 Corp., No. 2:07-CV-198-TC, 2007 WL 4270548, at *6 (D. Utah Nov. 30, 2007)). According to 8 U.S. Bank, Plaintiffs’ claim for breach of fiduciary duty “does not state a claim because their 9 allegations do not identify, or provide any factual basis for finding, a fiduciary duty independent
10 from the parties’ contract.” Id. at 39. U.S. Bank argues that the fiduciary duty claim is identical 11 and duplicative of the contract claim, and that “Plaintiffs allege no connection between 12 themselves and U.S. Bank other than that they deposited funds into an escrow account at U.S.
13 Bank under the terms of an Escrow Agreement.” Id. U.S. Bank argues “to the extent Plaintiffs 14 attempt to contend that U.S. Bank somehow had some duty beyond the scope of the Escrow 15 Agreement, any such contention would be contrary to the terms of the agreement” because 16 “[t]he Escrow Agreement expressly provided that U.S. Bank undertook ‘to perform only such 17 duties as are expressly set forth herein and no duties shall be implied,’ and that U.S. Bank ‘shall 18 have no implied duties or obligations.’” Id. at 39 n.12 (citing Dkt. #3-1 at 7). U.S. Bank cites
19 to several cases with similar fact patterns where the Court denied tort claims where a contract
20 covered the duties between the parties. See, e.g., id. at 38 n.11 (citing Salt Lake City Corp. v.
21 ERM-West, Inc., 984 F. Supp. 2d 1156, 1162 (D. Utah 2013) (dismissing tort claims against 22 agent on motion to dismiss because the alleged breach of the standard of care was coextensive 23 with the alleged breach of contract and the alleged tort duties were “expressly provided for” in
25
26
27
28

1 the contract); Wakefield Kennedy, LLC v. Silverleaf Fin. 9, LLC, No. 11-cv-00604-DN-EJF, 2 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 30070, at *14-15 (D. Utah Mar. 7, 2014) (dismissing negligence and
3 breach of fiduciary duty claims against escrow agent because they were not based on duties
4 independent of the contract); Stewart Title Guar. Co. v. Summit Escrow & Title Agency, LLC,
5 No. 2:11-CV-1061TS, 2012 WL 2368214, at *3 (D. Utah June 21, 2012) (dismissing tort claim
6 against agent on motion to dismiss because it was “indistinguishable from the parties’
7 contractually created duties”); Anapoell, 2007 WL 4270548, at *6 (dismissing tort claims that 8 were “part and parcel” of the rights set forth in the contract)). U.S. Bank requests that this 9 claim be dismissed with prejudice. Id. at 10.

11 In Response, Plaintiffs argue that the Court should apply Utah law, and that under Utah
12 law the fiduciary duty at issue existed independent of the Escrow Agreement. Dkt. #23 at 4-5.
13 Plaintiffs argue that the Escrow Agreement cannot limit “a bank’s duty to act in good faith and 14 exercise ordinary care.” Id. at 6 (citing Utah Code Ann. § 70A-4-103 (“[T]he parties to the 15 agreement may not disclaim a bank’s responsibility for its lack of good faith or failure to 16 exercise ordinary care, or limit the measure of damages for the lack or failure.”); RCW §
17 62A.4.103; Arrow Indus. Inc. v. Zions First Nat’l Bank, 767 P.2d 935, 937-38 (Utah 1988);
18 Travelers Cas. & Surety Co. v. Wash. Trust Bank, 86 F. Supp. 3d 1148, 1161 (E.D. Wash.
19 2015)). Plaintiffs also argue that as an escrow agent, U.S. Bank owed a fiduciary duty under 20 law independent of the contract. Id. at 6-7 (citing Cooper Enters. PC v. Brighton Title Co., 21 2010 UT App 135, ¶ 11 & n.4, 233 P.3d 548; New W. Fed. Sav. & Loan Assn. v. Guardian Title
22 Co. of Utah, 818 P.2d 585, 589-90 & n.5 (Utah Ct. App. 1991) (holding that escrow agent owed 23 duties to party independent of contract)).
24
25
26
27
28

1 On Reply, U.S. Bank argues that “[w]hile Plaintiffs cite a variety of cases generally
2 discussing duties, none of them actually address the issue here, where a relationship arises
3 entirely from contract, the alleged tort duty is completely coextensive with a contractual duty,
4 and the allegations of tortious conduct are the same as the allegations supporting the breach of 5 contract claim.” Dkt. #29 at 17. U.S. Bank fails to address Plaintiffs’ arguments or legal 6 citations in any detail, and argues that Plaintiffs fail to address its cited cases. Id.
7

8 As an initial matter, the Court disagrees with U.S. Bank that Plaintiffs’ fiduciary duty
9 claim is “entirely duplicative,” on its face. Plaintiffs are asserting that the same actions of U.S.
10 Bank breached a contract and breached a fiduciary duty independent of the contract. Although 11 Plaintiffs do not assert the legal basis for this fiduciary duty in the Amended Complaint, such 12 legal analysis is not required in the pleading stage.
13

14 As a second matter, the Court is not convinced by Plaintiffs’ citations to cases and 15 statutes discussing “a bank’s duty to act in good faith and exercise ordinary care,” as this is not 16 the duty pled in Count II, and is explicitly discussed in Count I, which is not before the Court.
17 See Dkt. #3 at 8 (“Each contract also includes an implied duty of good faith and fair dealing.”).
18

19 The key question for the Court is whether, under Utah law, U.S. Bank owed an 20 independent fiduciary duty to Plaintiffs for this escrow transaction. Plaintiffs’ position is that 21 U.S. Bank acted as an escrow agent and therefore owed a statutory fiduciary duty to Plaintiffs.
22 Even if that were the case, the Escrow Agreement contains a forum selection clause, and the 23 fiduciary duty claim clearly relates to interactions between the parties that were otherwise 24 governed solely by that contract. The Utah Court in Wakefield Kennedy appears to have 25 explicitly addressed this situation, finding that “[t]he duties imposed on escrows by Utah Code
26 Ann. § 7-22-108 do not apply to any duties [the escrow agent] assumed under the Custody
27
28

1 Agreement because the Agreement is governed by Washington law.” 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS
2 30070 at *14; see also Utah Code Ann. § 7-22-108(2) (“All other assets or property received by 3 an escrow agent in accordance with an escrow agreement shall be maintained in a manner which 4 will reasonably preserve and protect the property from loss, theft, or damage, and which will 5 otherwise comply with all duties and responsibilities of a fiduciary or bailee generally.”) The 6 Utah Court went on to find that “no duties were argued to apply under Washington law, and if 7 such duties did apply, they would apply as implied terms of the agreement, not as independent
8 tort duties.” 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 30070 at 14-15. Similarly, Stewart Title found that 9 negligence claims that were “indistinguishable from the parties’ contractually created duties”
10 were not independent from a breach of contract claim and therefore barred by the economic loss
11 doctrine. 2012 WL 2368214, at *3. The Court finds these cases more applicable to the current 12 situation than those cases cited by Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs fail to address these cases, leaving the 13 impression that they are on point. The Court finds that any fiduciary duty owed by U.S. Bank
14 under Utah law was subsumed or otherwise part and parcel of the duties owed in the Escrow
15 Agreement. Accordingly, the Court finds that Plaintiffs’ Count II is duplicative, fails to state a 16 claim upon which relief can be granted, and therefore must be dismissed under Rule 12(b)(6).
17
19

20 C. Leave to Amend

21 Where a complaint is dismissed for failure to state a claim, “leave to amend should be 22 granted unless the court determines that the allegation of other facts consistent with the 23 challenged pleading could not possibly cure the deficiency.” Schreiber Distrib. Co. v. Serv-
24 Well Furniture Co., 806 F.2d 1393, 1401 (9th Cir. 1986). The Court finds that the legal 25 questions at issue above are based on the Escrow Agreement, the terms of which are not in 26
27
28

1 dispute, and that the deficiencies identified above are not fact-based and cannot possibly be
2 cured by Amendment. The Court will therefore dismiss this claim with prejudice.

3 IV. CONCLUSION

4 Having reviewed the relevant pleadings, the declarations and exhibits attached thereto,
5 and the remainder of the record, the Court hereby finds and ORDERS that Defendant U.S.
6 Bank's Motion to Dismiss, Dkt. #14, is GRANTED with respect to Count II and DENIED AS 7 MOOT with respect to Counts IV and V.² Plaintiffs' claim against U.S. Bank for Breach of 8 Fiduciary Duty, Count II, is DISMISSED with prejudice.
